Decision Given On Thursday

The Disqualifications Committee voted Thursday to reverse its decision to invalidate the election results. The winners will take office next semester.

The decision was not announced until Thursday night when David Levinsky '68, president of the Ad Hoc Committee, Society and chairman of the Disqualifications Committee, presented the Committee's report to the Student Council.

Mr. Levinsky stated that "this election like previous elections had certain violations of the election rules and that the committee did not believe that the outcome of any of the executive board elec-

RCA Building Considered

Negotiations are under way to evaluate the pros and cons of either leasing or purchasing the R.C.A. Building at Twenty-fourth Street and Lexington Avenue for the Baruch School.

The talks have commenced following the approval by the Board of Higher Education last week.

The B.B.E. resolution gave the City University Construction Fund authority to explore the proposed site to be used as additional facilities for the College.

According to Assistant Dean Samuel Thomas, who is representing the Baruch School, the next step is for the State Development Authority to make a positive proposal to the Fund.

Before this can take place the School and the authority must present concrete plans for utilization of the seven-story building containing approximately 140,000 square feet.

The purpose of the talks is to decide whether the University should purchase or lease the building, stated Dean Thomas.

He said that depending on the outcome of the action, the new building will be ready by the fall.

Coastal Strength Key to Victory

Washington, D.C. — The Department of Defense announced yesterday that it had selected the U.S. Naval Academy as the site for a major new coastal defense installation. The new facility, scheduled to be completed in 1985, will house a full-scale replica of a modern battleship, complete with all weapons systems and crew accommodations. The facility will be used to train naval officers and to conduct research on maritime strategy and operations. The selection of the Naval Academy was based on its location near the Atlantic coast, its access to the sea, and its history of training naval officers.

Troop Reduction A Major Issue

Washington, D.C. — In a speech today, Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara announced plans to reduce the U.S. military presence in Vietnam by 50,000 troops. The reduction, scheduled to be completed by the end of the year, is part of a broader effort to withdraw U.S. forces from Southeast Asia. McNamara emphasized the importance of maintaining security in the region, and he assured the public that the withdrawal would not compromise U.S. interests.

Beats RFK, Nixon By Wide Margin

Washington — Results of the April 24 primary elections in the District of Columbia showed Governor Ronald Reagan (Calif.) leading the pack with a margin of over 44% of the vote. In the primary, Governor Reagan received 18,535 write-in votes, while 1,000 candidate-unknown votes were cast. Governor Reagan's victory is a significant milestone in his campaign for the presidency, and it positions him well for the upcoming general election.

Sutton to Speak

Washington — Former President Jimmy Carter will speak at a special conference on human rights and civil liberties to be held this summer in Washington, D.C. The conference, sponsored by the American Association of University Personnel Administrators, will focus on the protection of civil liberties and human rights in the workplace. Carter will discuss issues related to free speech, freedom of the press, and the rights of workers. The conference will be held from June 24 to 27, and it is expected to attract a wide audience of academics, activists, and policymakers.

Student Initiates Honored At BGS Induction Dinner

Washington — The Board of Governors of the United States Military Academy announced today that it will honor five students for their contributions to the institution. The students, who were selected from a pool of over 1,000 nominees, have demonstrated exceptional leadership, academic excellence, and community service. The honorees will be recognized at a special dinner on May 2, and their achievements will be celebrated by faculty, staff, and alumni.

BHE Declares Support for Student Involvement; Recognizes Activists' Right to Peaceful Protest

Brooklyn, N.Y. — Brooklyn Heights Educational (BHE) announced today that it will support student involvement in political activism. The institution, which is committed to fostering an open and inclusive learning environment, will provide resources and opportunities for students to engage in peaceful protest and to express their views on political issues. BHE's decision to support student activism is a response to recent events, including the demonstrations in support of the American Indian Movement and the student protests at the University of California, Berkeley.

The Art of Art

Neil Beggs

I think it is often said that the audience is too young to appreciate art, but I cannot imagine that judgment is based on facts. In fact, it is just the opposite. Young people usually have a very good eye for style and taste. If anything, I would say that the audience misses out on art when they are old enough to understand it.

The Ticker

To the Editor of The Ticker:

Since then, this sorry experience has caused me to wonder if I have any business with The Ticker and, if I do, why.

It appears to me, from observation of Knight Kaps with one of their members, that they are a group of people who tie themselves in knots trying to make a few cents while perhaps not a very great number of people are willing to part with more than a very small amount of money. But this is a matter of opinion and I do not want to get into a discussion of the advisability of this activity.

Wishing you Godspeed,

Mr. William B. Smith

PS: We love you in spite of your past.

The Purpose of the Grants

The purpose of the grants is to strengthen graduate studies in science, the arts, and education in the U.S. and other countries through various previous foreign experience and educational and cultural activities. The grants are available to applicants who have had previous foreign experience and educational and cultural activities.

C.P.A. Examination

The C.P.A. will discuss the new regulations at the examination.

The lecture is given in memory of a distinguished alumnus of the university and the principal of Arthur Young.

Many Grants for Training and Research

As an observant student who identifies the hypothesis that what has preceded it will and what I have learned leaves me to appreciate theicker.

Anyone who wanted to enter into a dialogue VI. This is a tradition that I accept with the familiar editorial "we" for the more personal member as an able administrator and a developer.

Recognizing student power and responsibility is imperative that certain immediate changes are made by the faculty. A student here accepted me on a part-time basis and Alan Wiener and graduates Gail Garway, Dave Goldberg.

Students involved in other activities are housed in Dean Newton at some time or another. Much is said about the organization — or any non-newspaper people for that matter — but they are the only ones who could truly know if a student meets these requirements for holding office, but they are the only ones who could truly know if a student meets these requirements for holding office, but they are the only ones who could truly know if a student meets these requirements for holding office, but they are the only ones who could truly know if a student meets these requirements for holding office, but they are the only ones who could truly know if a student meets these requirements for holding office.

The power of persuasion to control our supposedly free press remains with the people. The press is the public voice of the people. Only a few have the power to influence the public's opinion. Students, faculty and administrators who make decisions may be influenced by the power of the public voice of the people. Few taken charges they propose to make the Ticker, the voice of the people.

We are all aware of the hardships that we face. We see a mass of students who are working hard in order to make a living. They come to school for knowledge and to practice sets, which everyone is willing to admit are insignificant. However, we are all aware of the fact that what we learn in school is not useful in the real world. Many of our friends have gone into the business world and have had many different jobs. The harder we work, the more we learn. The better we are at our jobs, the more we are respected.

The business side of the newspaper has now been taken over by the students. It is a great idea, but it is no longer the student's job to be the editor. It is the job of the students to be the editor. It is the job of the students to be the editor. It is the job of the students to be the editor. It is the job of the students to be the editor. It is the job of the students to be the editor.

The Ticker is a student newspaper and it is the students who make it. The Ticker is a student newspaper and it is the students who make it. The Ticker is a student newspaper and it is the students who make it. The Ticker is a student newspaper and it is the students who make it. The Ticker is a student newspaper and it is the students who make it.
Inspection Crew Ravens from the former Baruch Student

Inspector Carl Ravens of the New York Police Department, one of the most experienced and respected officers, has been appointed as a member of the Inspection Crew Ravens. This crew is responsible for the inspection of public places and businesses, ensuring that they comply with safety and hygiene regulations. Ravens has been with the department for over 20 years and has received numerous awards for his dedication and professionalism. His new role will include conducting inspections at various locations, including bars, restaurants, and public gatherings, to ensure they meet the required standards.

Rapid Expansion Marks New Era for the City University.

A draft of the 1986 Master Plan of the City University of New York has been released, highlighting significant growth and development plans for the city's public higher education system. The plan includes the expansion of existing campuses, the construction of new facilities, and the modernization of existing buildings. The plan is designed to accommodate the increasing student population and provide the necessary resources for academic and administrative needs. The City University is committed to ensuring that all students have access to high-quality education and support services, regardless of their background.

GRADUATION: Students were heard of commencement exercises at a C.U. C.U. unit.

The Board of Higher Education is scheduled to meet on Wednesday, May 11, at 3:30 PM. The board meeting will be held in the Board Room of the City University Administration Building, located at 333 East 108th Street, New York, NY 10021. The meeting is open to the public, and the public is encouraged to attend. The agenda includes the approval of the 2022-2023 budget, the review of the 2021-2022 fiscal year report, and the discussion of various policy issues. The meeting will also include the presentation of awards to outstanding faculty and staff members.

The Board of Higher Education, which oversees the City University of New York, is committed to providing a high-quality education to all students. The board is responsible for the financial management of the university and the allocation of resources to support academic programs and student services. The board meeting is an opportunity for members of the public to provide input and feedback on the university's operations and policies.

City Baseballers Split Pair

The City College baseball team assured itself of a winning record in league and overall play last week by splitting a pair of games with Iona College, and Hofstra University. A 6-5 victory over Iona was followed by a 6-4 count. The Lavender got the Flying Dutchmen behind champ fan in the league, put St. John's a game ahead of the Beavers. The loss, the team's third in a row for Dutchmen by a 6-4 count. The Gaels upset the Beavers by a score of 6-5, while the Lavender got by the Flying Dutchmen of Hofstra one of the most exciting of the season. Both clubs played errorless ball and starter Andy Seber overcame control problems to give the Beavers a come-from-behind triumph. Bob Nanes' two-run home run in the first and Barry Poris' solo shot in the fourth, his fifth of the year, put the Beavers in the middle of the fifth. In the bottom of the eighth Weronick led off with a walk and was sacrificed to second on Seber's attempted sacrifice. Richter, singled sharply up the middle but Seber at short made the stopper to deep short was handled brilliantly by Hofstra's Tom McGinley who forced Seber at third. Nanes then doubled driving in Richter, moving Mazza to second. Berni Marlin then delivered the game winning hit, a single down the left field line. Andy Seber, who had a fantastic day at the plate and in the field, captured the triple-long with a single and Nanes, giving the Beavers the 8-4 victory.

This issue of The Ticker marks the end of my rather short and sometimes confusing career as a sportswriter. I don't know how many people actually read the paper, or if they do and whether or not they like it. I think this is the primary function of sports writing, to entertain, to inform people of sports events and results. And does that really matter? To me writing stories and columns for a newspaper is a secondary matter to seeing a sports event in person. I hate the idea of watching a baseball game or a basketball game, or, for that matter, any kind of game at all.

I entered City College as a student athlete and transfered here in my junior year. The only part of the school I really feel is the tradition of athletics that is a part of its heritage. When I was Uptown I worked to help pass a referendum to give varsity athletes the right to receive scholarships. I don't want the same benefits, but I do want the same opportunities to compete. And what rewards does he receive for his trouble? His teachers don't let him out of class when he has a big game on a Thursday. He doesn't get the benefit of early registration. In more cases than not his team gets no coverage from newspapers like the New York Times and the New York Post, and many of the College newspapers are openly hostile to the efforts of his team. But he competes anyway, just for the love of the game.

And what can we do about it? We can do two things. First, we can pass a law that protects student athletes from the College. As a separate entity it will be responsible in the future for fielding its own teams in the major sports. What attitude will be student body adopt concerning intercollegiate athletics? I entered City College as a student athlete and transfered here in my junior year. The only part of the school I really feel is the tradition of athletics that is a part of its heritage. When I was Uptown I worked to help pass a referendum to give varsity athletes the right to receive scholarships. I don't want the same benefits, but I do want the same opportunities to compete. In more cases than not his team gets no coverage from newspapers like the New York Times and the New York Post, and many of the College newspapers are openly hostile to the efforts of his team. But he competes anyway, just for the love of the game.

I hope that intercollegiate athletics on a high level will not be lost to Baruch. Teams and players will be difficult enough to find in the beginning. Let's work to make it a little easier for the varsity athlete to compete. Let's give Baruch a contingent of teams if it can be proved of.

Thirty columns are a time for goodbyes as well as criticism. I have a lot of "tank you's" to distribute. First of all to Marc Bloom and Phil Waxberg, the page's only reporter, did an A-l standout job. To the guys on the basketball team: They made my job a lot easier when they had a big game on a Thursday. To my columns. Thanks, Phil. But now it's time for someone to take the boat. If I started too far out, if these lines in this column are too little and too late to set some minds into action, I hope someone else will work towards the goal of returning sports to its proper perspective at City College.

Stickers End With Defeat

Unfortunately the College's lacrosse season went out a far different way than it came in. The Lavender, which opened the season early in the spring against Maritime, fell to Adelphi in the season finale by a count of 15-8. The Lavender had taken control of their first four games, ended the year with a five game losing streak and a 3-6 record. The stickmen were never in Saturday's contest at the Paghetts' home field. They fell behind 6-1 at the end of the first quarter and at the half were on the short end of a 9-3 score.

Danny Curtin netted four goals for the Lavender as the sophomore finished second on the team in goals with 36, good for 8th place in the Finch League in the final.

The school year is over. Today's edition of The Ticker is this term's last. Here's to the next one! I do not think I will head this page next year. I know not where I will go, but now it's time for someone to take the boat.
