Procedures For Who's Who Nomination Follow Old Plan

The American History Department, which represents our school, is fighting the reclassification on several grounds and on several levels. It argued that:

1. The declaration of delinquency and reclassification in invalid because it is punitive and therefore unconstitutional. It cannot be proven that the due process safeguards required by the Constitution were not met in the present case.

The Justice Department, in recommending revocation, has collided with the Selective Service and its director, Lewis E. Hershey, who maintains that local boards have a right to reclassify “those who enroll in the service” as delinquents — an action that puts them at the head of the list of priorityfields.

Beyond the shadow of a doubt the most frightening experience for a high school senior is to find himself with a draft card in the mail. The list he had known is thrust into a society of closed out classes and cramped elevators; where everyone knows everyone else except him and all of his professors check attendance at each recreation hour.

On his return home, a strange change emerges: the freshman's answer to "Captain Nice", the Freeman Colloquium, or "Six-Weeks of Boot Camp Basic Training Newly Compiled Into Three Days at the Grant Hotel.

To The Future—A Talk Out

As we went to press we were informed of a series of joint student-faculty meetings to discuss the future of the Baruch College. While we have few details we understand that these meetings will be held at least twice a week and will discuss issues such as the role of the student and many more.

The length of these meetings is to be held every Thursday and Friday during the fall term. We hope that everyone will make every effort to attend these meetings. They are designed to address the needs of the students and many more.

Student Power—Baruch vs. Columbia

It now appears that the violence which shook the Columbia campus last spring may re-occur. It is now clear that the Black community will see the end of the Afro-American at the Bernard M. Baruch College. We as a people will see in the near future, the future of the Black community.

Regardless of your status the decisions made in higher education will affect you. It is important to attend these meetings and see what you can do.

The decision to consult students before making any decisions is a great step forward. It is important to keep the record straight and to make every effort to attend these meetings.

SEPTEMBER DATES IN THE STRUGGLE

September 3, 1968—Frederick Douglass escaped from slavery in Baltimore, Maryland.
September 19-20, 1884—In a series of battles around Charleston, South Carolina, in the American Civil War, captured Confederate artillery at New Market Heights, made a devastating 90-minute assault on Fort Gilmer, and helped end the Confederate counterattack on Fort Hampton. Twelve thousand Negro soldiers were among the 40,000 Negro troops of Union's victory in the Civil War.

What do we need is the Black community to live, laugh, and love. The Black community needs the help of the Afro-American at the Bernard M. Baruch College.

I'm back. Yes, Baruch students, the fact is that I'm not only back but once again I'm raring to go.

To those of you who are entering freshmen and those with whom I have talked, I must say that it may be I concede. The White Sox will not win the pennant.

So many things have occurred since this column last appeared on this page that I doubt whether many of us are the same people we were last May. I know I'm not. But through it all, I remain a White Sox fan and shall remain such as long as Chicago's number eight is worn by Pete Ward.

None of us are members of the Baruch School any longer, as we were in May. We now belong to the Baruch College. As a matter of fact, that is a great one, but the burden cannot be placed upon the administration's shoulders alone. Students, fraternities, house plans, sororities and student government must stand up and fight for this program Long get involved.
