Fire Laws Force Sale
Of Building To Baruch

The R.C.A. building will definitely be available for the Baruch College! Leo Hausman, president of the United Cerebral Palsy Foundation (U.C.P.), has announced that U.C.P. has agreed to sell the building to the State Dormitory Authority which is acting for the Baruch College. The decision was made in light of a fire department ruling which prohibits the use of all floors over the second by non-ambulatory persons; paralyzed victims are largely restricted to wheel chairs. The C.P. was also exerted by the Board of Higher Education when it insisted that the building would be sold to U.C.P. if it refused to sell.

Mr. Farrington, director of the State Dormitory Authority, told Ticker that lawyers representing Baruch and U.C.P. will meet today. Although the sale would not be specific as to a closing date, he hopes to have a "Christmas present" for Baruch.

Details could be obtained from .

Closes To Be Shortened For Convocation; Richie Havens To Be Followed By Beer Blast

This Thursday, December 19, will be THE big day of the semester at Baruch, starting at 11:30 with Convocation, featuring Richie Havens, and culminating with Jack Manuel's beer in the afternoon. A list of candidates' qualifications appears on page two.

The information was determined from the nomination petitions the candidates submitted. In all cases, those items about Baruch activities were included to a limit sales price. However, the City University Construction Fund, as per the December 2nd meeting, had indicated that it would pay U.C.P. $24 million to build the physical plant; the other with the physical plant; the other with the physical plant; the other with the physical plant; the other with the physical plant.

In order the action the Student Council directed to submit a members to enable them to go to the Lamport Leaders Workshop. It was decided that a letter be sent to Provost Thomas, to franchise out the Baruch College to a franchise, entertaining the highest bid; the initial contract to run one year. Representative Endorsements

The following endorsements for representatives have been made by The Ticker Endorsement Panel, more popularly known as "We Five." The decision to make endorsements was not an easy one. First, four of the five members of "We Five" are themselves running for office. Second, many of the candidates running were not known to the members of the panel and time did not permit interviewing all of the thirty nine candidates.

In a few cases there was disagreement amongst the panel members. In each of these cases the minority, while strongly disagreeing, did not feel he had enough information to submit a minority report. Instead the recommendations are printed as a recommendation by some.

For rather obvious reasons, we have refrained from commenting upon the qualifications of the four members of "We Five" who are running for representative positions.

Faculty Election — Vote UFCT

The bargaining agent for tenured faculty members is the City University and their vote is key in the election being held today and tomorrow. The two competing union groups are the United Federation of College Teachers (UFCT), which is basically affiliated with the American Federation of Teachers, and the Baruch Instructor's Union (BIU). The election was set up by the Board of Higher Education, each union must outdo the other in order to receive more benefits; friction between the opposing workers would be fostered. The B.I.U. has the advantage of being the only union for some 6000 non-tenured instructors of the City University. It is an elementary union in the study of man. It was difficult for some of us (including full professors) to do the other in order to receive more benefits. The B.I.U. would probably appreciate the competitive thrust even more.

We note that many eligible faculty members did not turn out for last week's Instructors election. We only hope that they all participate this time. The selection of a proper bargaining agent will affect every faculty member of the City University.
The celebration will be televised coast to coast on WABC-TV.

The assured acquisition of the RCA building would disallow the $500,000 which R.C.A. held from the State Dormitory. Therefore, feel that money can be used by management majors or other interested students. A letter to the chairman of the College Curriculum Committee asking for approval of the new major for 1969-70 can be written.

This year will be held in conjunction with the College Young Democrats of America.

There is prejudice at Baruch? Are Baruchians concerned? All last Thursday the Psychology Society presented a forum and discussion titled "Where is Prejudice?" Though the Forum did not garner a crowd of over 100, those who attended seemed to be interested. Everyone seemed to be present in order to find out more about prejudice and how to avoid it. Due to the small attendance the discussion did not continue as long as was expected. The discussion started off with little trouble and the students present were quite talkative. It was apparent that the topic was an interesting one.

"Where is Prejudice?" was originally conceived as the title of a new course offerable to psychology students. Due to the unavailability of an instructor during this fall term, the course was postponed. However, the students were quite interested in the topic and decided to continue the discussion. The Forum was held at the New York College Club and was attended by approximately 20 students.

The first session was held in the Student Center and was attended by approximately 20 students. The session was moderated by Mr. Hausman of U.C.E. and was titled "Where is Prejudice?" The discussion progressed very well and was quite interesting. The students were quite talkative and were able to express their opinions about the topic. The session was held from 5:00 P.M. to 6:00 P.M.

The second session was held in the Student Center and was attended by approximately 10 students. The session was moderated by Mr. Goldsmith of U.C.E. and was titled "Where is Prejudice?" The discussion progressed very well and was quite interesting. The students were quite talkative and were able to express their opinions about the topic. The session was held from 6:00 P.M. to 7:00 P.M.

The third session was held in the Student Center and was attended by approximately 10 students. The session was moderated by Mr. Hausman of U.C.E. and was titled "Where is Prejudice?" Baruch Faces Jersey City State
In First Game Of Tournament

By BURT HEAGLE

The Baruch College basketball team will meet Jersey City State on Dec. 26 in the opening game of the Newark College of Engineering Pre-College Holiday Invitational Tournament. The two teams will play at 12:00 with the winner of the game advancing to the semifinals. The St. Peter's College Freshman team will play at 2:00 and the winner of the game will play for first place on Dec. 28. If Baruch wins the game it will face the winner of the St. Peter's College Freshman game on Dec. 28 at 1:00. If Baruch loses the game it will play the loser of the game on Dec. 27 at 1:00.

Last year Baruch lost both games in the tournament bowing to the Newark College of Engineering. Baruch met and defeated Hunter Park Area in the semifinals, Baruch met and defeated Hunter Park Area in the finals. Baruch will enter the tournament with a similar roster of players, with a few replacements for starters. Last week Wolfe named Rob Pieper, a senior, as the replacement for start- er. The schedule picks up at the beginning of January when they meet the Queens JV, Hunter College and John Jay College within a month. They have a few experienced players. They have been playing well, although they have been reorganizing for three times as a week. They are scheduled to play Columbia Pharmacy last Thursday, but the tournament entered the game earlier in the week.
