To The Future

Another Appointment

Space At Last

Long Time Ago

Appointed the Banker

Instructors...
The World Of Music

By JAN KRAMER

The latest arrivals to hit the U.R. are Terry Terry's New Animals album and the latest album from the Animals, "Eighteen Months of Love." The Animals have been quite a hit over the past few years, with their unique blend of rock and roll and blues. "Eighteen Months of Love" is the Animals' first album since they disbanded in 1967, and it features some of their best-known songs, including "House of the Rising Sun."

The New Animals, on the other hand, are a more recent sensation. Their debut album, "The New Animals," was released in 1970 and features a blend of rock, pop, and psychedelic elements. The band is known for their energetic performances and their ability to mix different musical styles.

Both albums are worth checking out, and offer a glimpse into the diverse range of music that was popular in the 1970s.
Financial Aid Avenues are Open to Baruch Students

The following information has been prepared by the Financial Aid Office; included are only the highlights of the program. Some guidelines for financial aid have already been passed, but emergency situations will be handled individually. The Financial Aid Office is located on the third floor of the student center.

Several types of financial aid are available. These include merit scholarships, need scholarships, need grants, and employment programs. The various governmental benefits which may be available to students can be determined through the Financial Aid Office, a scholarship, loans, and a work-study program might be indicated. Financial planning is crucial in determining how to meet your expenses while in college. If you are interested in applying, visit the Office of Financial Aid to discuss specific requirements for participation in any program described here and to determine which forms of aid are best suited for your needs.

WHAT ARE YOUR NEEDS?

EXPENSES: A knowledge of expenses is essential. The Baruch College can be weighed against family and personal resources to determine whether additional sources of funds have to be found to meet educational costs. Be sure to allow for unforeseen expenses.

Office of Financial Aid

41 Lexington Avenue

New York, N.Y. 10016

The Community Council of Greater New York recognizes this as the average maintenance cost for a student living at home.

RESOURCES: After estimating the College expenses, the student and his family should consider the following types of resources which may be available to them:

1. Parental support from income, savings, and assets.
2. Personal self-supporting part-time employment.
3. Personal student savings, trusts, and bonds.
4. Summer work and part-time employment during the school year.
5. Student loans obtained through family, friends, or commercial institutions.
6. Scholarship grants offered by business, religious, educational, or professional-fraternal societies and organizations.

It is important that you determine the sources of assistance which will enable you to meet your expenses. The financial aid counselor is available to help you with this important task.

SCHOLARSHIPS, GRANTS, AND LOANS

1. BARUCH COLLEGE SCHOLARSHIPS

A number of non-teaching assistantships are available at Baruch College. These assistantships are available to students enrolled in the College for students in specific areas of study. Awards are made on the basis of need and academic achievement by the Scholarship and Selective Committees and the various academic departments of the College.

2. BARUCH COLLEGE LOANS

A number of non-teaching assistantships are available at Baruch College. These assistantships are available to students enrolled in the College for students in specific areas of study. Awards are made on the basis of need and academic achievement by the Scholarship and Selective Committees and the various academic departments of the College.

3. 2% BARUCH WORK-STUDY PROGRAM

The New York Higher Education Assistance Corporation grants loans up to $2,000 per year to undergraduate and graduate students enrolled in degree programs and carrying at least 6 credits a semester. The student may apply for maximum loans of $2,000 annually. Applicants must be enrolled at least half-time in a degree program and have a minimum semester grade point average of 3.0. The amount of the loan is based on the student's financial need. The Baruch College Financial Aid Office assists with necessary certification and processing of applications. Application forms may be obtained from the Office of Financial Aid.

4. PRIVATE AGENCY SCHOLARSHIPS

Private agencies offer scholarships to students. It is important to apply to these sources early in the academic year.

5. SCHOLARSHIPS FROM OTHER SOURCES

A number of non-teaching assistantships are available at Baruch College. These assistantships are available to students enrolled in the College for students in specific areas of study. Awards are made on the basis of need and academic achievement by the Scholarship and Selective Committees and the various academic departments of the College.

6. 2% BARUCH WORK-STUDY PROGRAM

The New York Higher Education Assistance Corporation grants loans up to $2,000 per year to undergraduate and graduate students enrolled in degree programs and carrying at least 6 credits a semester. The student may apply for maximum loans of $2,000 annually. Applicants must be enrolled at least half-time in a degree program and have a minimum semester grade point average of 3.0. The amount of the loan is based on the student's financial need. The Baruch College Financial Aid Office assists with necessary certification and processing of applications. Application forms may be obtained from the Office of Financial Aid.

7. GRADUATE STUDENT AID

A number of non-teaching assistantships are available at Baruch College. These assistantships are available to students enrolled in the College for students in specific areas of study. Awards are made on the basis of need and academic achievement by the Scholarship and Selective Committees and the various academic departments of the College.

8. VETERANS AID

Grants are available through the Veterans Administration. Grants are available to veterans who have served in the armed forces and who have received a discharge for service in the armed forces. The amount of the grant is based on the student's financial need. The Baruch College Financial Aid Office assists with necessary certification and processing of applications. Application forms may be obtained from the Office of Financial Aid.

9. 2% BARUCH WORK-STUDY PROGRAM

The New York Higher Education Assistance Corporation grants loans up to $2,000 per year to undergraduate and graduate students enrolled in degree programs and carrying at least 6 credits a semester. The student may apply for maximum loans of $2,000 annually. Applicants must be enrolled at least half-time in a degree program and have a minimum semester grade point average of 3.0. The amount of the loan is based on the student's financial need. The Baruch College Financial Aid Office assists with necessary certification and processing of applications. Application forms may be obtained from the Office of Financial Aid.

10. 2% BARUCH WORK-STUDY PROGRAM

The New York Higher Education Assistance Corporation grants loans up to $2,000 per year to undergraduate and graduate students enrolled in degree programs and carrying at least 6 credits a semester. The student may apply for maximum loans of $2,000 annually. Applicants must be enrolled at least half-time in a degree program and have a minimum semester grade point average of 3.0. The amount of the loan is based on the student's financial need. The Baruch College Financial Aid Office assists with necessary certification and processing of applications. Application forms may be obtained from the Office of Financial Aid.

11. 2% BARUCH WORK-STUDY PROGRAM

The New York Higher Education Assistance Corporation grants loans up to $2,000 per year to undergraduate and graduate students enrolled in degree programs and carrying at least 6 credits a semester. The student may apply for maximum loans of $2,000 annually. Applicants must be enrolled at least half-time in a degree program and have a minimum semester grade point average of 3.0. The amount of the loan is based on the student's financial need. The Baruch College Financial Aid Office assists with necessary certification and processing of applications. Application forms may be obtained from the Office of Financial Aid.

12. 2% BARUCH WORK-STUDY PROGRAM

The New York Higher Education Assistance Corporation grants loans up to $2,000 per year to undergraduate and graduate students enrolled in degree programs and carrying at least 6 credits a semester. The student may apply for maximum loans of $2,000 annually. Applicants must be enrolled at least half-time in a degree program and have a minimum semester grade point average of 3.0. The amount of the loan is based on the student's financial need. The Baruch College Financial Aid Office assists with necessary certification and processing of applications. Application forms may be obtained from the Office of Financial Aid.

13. 2% BARUCH WORK-STUDY PROGRAM

The New York Higher Education Assistance Corporation grants loans up to $2,000 per year to undergraduate and graduate students enrolled in degree programs and carrying at least 6 credits a semester. The student may apply for maximum loans of $2,000 annually. Applicants must be enrolled at least half-time in a degree program and have a minimum semester grade point average of 3.0. The amount of the loan is based on the student's financial need. The Baruch College Financial Aid Office assists with necessary certification and processing of applications. Application forms may be obtained from the Office of Financial Aid.

14. 2% BARUCH WORK-STUDY PROGRAM

The New York Higher Education Assistance Corporation grants loans up to $2,000 per year to undergraduate and graduate students enrolled in degree programs and carrying at least 6 credits a semester. The student may apply for maximum loans of $2,000 annually. Applicants must be enrolled at least half-time in a degree program and have a minimum semester grade point average of 3.0. The amount of the loan is based on the student's financial need. The Baruch College Financial Aid Office assists with necessary certification and processing of applications. Application forms may be obtained from the Office of Financial Aid.