Dr. Weaver Appoints 4 Deans; Other Posts To Be Filled Soon

By MICHAEL EDWARDS

The approval of four new Deans by the Baruch College Committee of the B.H.E. was announced by President Weaver just before the snow closed Baruch for two days. Mr. Lester J. Rosner was named Dean of Administration; Mr. Robert C. Seaver, Director of Public Relations; Professor Samuel Rankham (Chairman Management Department), Acting Dean of the Evening and Extension Division; and Professor John L. Griffin, (School of Business and Public Administration) the President dis-

Regarding the major remaining unfilled post, Dean of the School of Liberal Arts, Mr. Robert W. Mcllwain, President indicated that he was looking for the best possible person and he expected to make a more appointment by the spring term. In fact the President added that he was looking for a faculty man who could get a good year.

In other areas the President discussed the future of the liberal arts program at Baruch and announced that he had ordered a full investigation into the Registration Process as a result of a letters in the last issue of The Ticker. He also indicated that we would be well with student leaders about the plans for the 24th Street Building as he receives preliminary plans from the architect.

The four appointments are subject to the final approval of the Board of Higher Education at their meeting next Monday. The two acting appointments will expire in June while the other two are regular appointments.

Dean Rosner is currently Assistant Regional Administrator for Administration, Department of Planning and Developments of New York City Department of Health where he was responsible for putting much of the clerical operation on Automatic Data Processing Equipment.

Mr. Seaver is the Public Relations Director for The Ford Foundation, Division of Reports. His duties at Baruch will include both Community Relations and Fund Raising in addition to Public Relations.

Trouble Getting To Class? They're Painting The Stairs

Have you had trouble getting to class because of a closed staircase? Well don’t complain! The reason the stairs are closed according to Building and Grounds head Mr. John Fischel, is for painting.

The painting was scheduled for last summer but a painter strike caused the original contract to be forfeited. New bids were let in December after special permission was received from the Comptroller’s office. According to Mr. Davison of the Baruch Business manager’s office, the painting will include all the stairways, 12 restrooms and Administrative Office.

The artists will include all the stairways, 12 restrooms and Administrative Office.

Most of the work will be done during the spring vacation but their will not be enough time to paint all of them, therefore some of the work is being done now.

It is expected that the stairways will be completed this week.

to restore the 1969-'70 budget as requested by the City University and to eliminate arbitrary expenditure settings.

The budget presently being considered by the State Government will necessitate a 20% decrease in freshman admissions to the City University, eliminate all new admissions to SEEK and College Discovery, and prevent any improvement or new programs at the University.

The University is doing more than any other institution to break the poverty cycle with programs for the disadvantaged. The University operates the highest-quality educational programs at the lowest cost-per-student in the State. The proposed budget cut would be disastrous to the University and ultimately to the City and State as well.

We strongly urge the restoration of the City University budget.

Budget Crisis

Much has been written or said in this administration and expanded use of office will be the only way to solve the problem. The University has had to implement the programs which were created to help the city and that which plagued them. The problem is not with the government or their treatment of it. The government is responsible for the well-being of the people.

"Cultural Genocide" Hillel Dispells Myth

By Bruno Ems

The entire staff of all San Francisco’s educational institutions has been charged with “eradicating the intellectual development of the students.” The most scathing condemnations have been levelled against the “cultural genocide” of Hillel, an organization of Jewish students which the university administration has chosen to ignore as it combats all other student organizations. The students involved in this controversy are in no way anti-semitic, and the main reason behind the conflict is the attempt of Hillel to create a forum for the discussion of issues affecting the Jewish community.

About 1,900 California Democrats met in Los Angeles early this month to discuss the current state of the party and its plans for the future. The gathering was attended by many leading dissenters, who agreed that the party was in need of a major overhaul.

Most party leaders agree that the party has become a major issue in the last few years, particularly with the increasing number of black voters. The party is facing serious problems in winning over black votes, and many members feel that the party needs to do more to attract black voters.

On Outrageousness

The differences between English and American performances become more apparent as one gets used to the English language. The English, for the most part, are more restrained and less overtly outrageous.

But, the English are a different story. It is a prerequisite for an English group to be outrageous. Often, the English is an offspring of the Beatles; indeed it is for one to make a song that has a chance at charts, no matter how small.

The English are an altogether different story. It is a prerequisite for an English group to be outrageous. Often, the English is an offspring of the Beatles; indeed it is for one to make a song that has a chance at charts, no matter how small.

This dichotomy was never more evident than at the Fillmore East. The Beatles, for the most part, are at their best when they are outrageous. The Rolling Stones are at their best when they are outrageous. The Beatles, for the most part, are at their best when they are outrageous. S.C. Endorses Professor Lavender As Dean Of Liberal Arts

Dr. Lavender, Acting Associate Dean of Business, has been overwhelmingly endorsed by the Faculty Senate for the position of Dean of Liberal Arts. The endorsement was based on the Faculty Senate's recommendation that the position of Dean be filled by an individual who would strengthen the Liberal Arts Department and work closely with the Business School. The Faculty Senate's endorsement was unanimous, and it reflected the belief that Dr. Lavender would be able to improve the quality of education in the Liberal Arts Department and increase the enrollment in the Business School.

however one goes about it, all the same. It is really hard to feel like the Beatles...any group would get sick of playing "Help!" and "Yellow Submarine" every day. But that's the one thing that made the creative life of the perfect song, that's why we love to do it. And the music is the same every day. The music is constantly evolving. It is hard to conceive of someone getting a better look. The best of the Beatles is the one who has played the longest. And now comes all these, in the dozens of their respective careers, and that's where you see the strength of人民医院 singers and songwriters and George Martin's credit and the public's ought that their performance was matched on the second album. But this gives the chance to the Dros and Hindra that they played on the very first album. And the Beatles have made a lot of trouble for them. They are the only American group we have unlimited potential. But the Beatles were in the same position by the end of their career. And they have absolutely nothing to prove. "In-A-Gadda-Da-Vida" is the result of an incredible period of time. And when you have like that, you can open up....open up your mind to that."

Baruch Wins Eight Out of Ten Cagers Top Columbia Pharm

The Baruch basketball team put together a 13-2 streak midway in the first half to take a lead it never relinquished as it defeated the Columbia College of Pharmacy, 62-41, in Hansen Hall, Friday night. The win was the second in a row for Baruch. Columbia has lost all six of its starts.

Columbia led early in the game and were in front 11-10 after nine minutes. Mark Stein led the game with a free throw and then put Baruch ahead by scoring on a rebound of a missed shot. Mark Poster hit from outside before the Lions got a basket.

Baruch came back with eight straight points as they found holes in the Lion's zone defense. Poster hit from the corner, then added two foul shots. Ken Rosenberg hit on a short jump shot. Two free throws by Rosenberg made it 23-19 with 7:05 left. Coach George Wolfe put in a new team and Charlie MacLean hit for eight points in the next six minutes to keep Baruch comfortable in front. MacLean wound up with 11 points for his best showing of the year.

Stein wound up with 13 points and 14 rebounds. Hoffman hit 11 points to go with seven assists. Post hit eight points. Nine of the 11 players used by Baruch scored.

Niles Slater led Columbia with 12 points and 11 rebounds. No other Lion was in double figures.

The Baruch team, ranked tenth in the Big East, was led by Mark Stein, taking lead passes from Dan Hoffman, hit three baskets in the game. Ken Rosenberg hit from the free throw lane and Larry Anderson scored from the close.

Reagan's viewpoint was expressed at the panel discussion yesterday by Rex Gay, student body president of Long Beach State College, who said: "The only way the college trustees can liberalize the trustees to blow out a few windows. Then they get off their paper-pushing seats and get out and see what's happening."

Mr. Gay had an indirect expression of support of the night before from Senator Edmund Muskie, who had just inspected the effects of leaking oil well in the country is in response to a crisis.
