Albany Trip Planned To Protest Budget Cut

Next Tuesday 1000 Baruchians will join in a massive march on Albany to protest the planned budget cuts in the City University budget. Tickets for the trip are now available in the lobby of the Student Union and in the cafeteria. The tickets, with cost $1.50, include round trip transportation and a snack. They are on sale from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Tuesday, March 11, and Thursday, March 13.

The trips will fill excess of 90 million dollars from the City University budget. CUNY’s original request was for 270 million dollars. If the cuts are approved the evening, summer, and graduate divisions will be forced to cancel co-operative education there will be new admissions to CUNY in September; the SEEK and College Discovery programs will be eliminated, and several branches of the university will have to be closed.

Senator Brydges (Majority Leader) and Claude Shostal (an aid of Governor Rockefeller) proposed yesterday that the City University impose a tuition charge and merge the City University with the State University of New York. This proposal could have 5000 students attending Albany yesterday.

Claiming that CUNY will “have to rationalize some sort of merger with SUNY, Mr. Shostal explained: “Many people are vociferous in the direction of the free tuition policy at this time.” He also admitted that the budget cut will hurt CUNY but he claimed it would not destroy the University.

No tickets for Mr. Shostal was available when TICKER called to point out that graduate students and non-matricals in CUNY do pay tuition. This time the protestation at CUNY is $182, only $39 less than the $221 charged to students at CUNY. (These amounts are based on the total number of students at both institutions and are after deduction of scholar incentive payments.)

Jean-Louis d’Elly, Chairman of the Student Advisory Council of the City University for all students (which are sponsoring the march) said, “With the launching of the anti-budget cut drive by the students of the City University we have once again demonstrated our commitment to the ideals and operation. Our drive is being funneled through the traditional means of legislative communication. We are assured that these means of traditional communication will prove rewarding and effective. We are certain that the legislature will reverse the Governor’s cuts in the CUNY budget.”

Mr. d’Elly declared, “Our changing society must explain the basic belief of our government being questioned. As a result, there have been increases such as Columbia, Berkeley, etc. Our society must prove that the radicals of those universities were wrong. Our society must prove that democracy still works. Our society must prove that higher education for all people still exists.”

Buses for Albany will leave from each of the 17 campuses of the University at 8:00 a.m. on Tuesday. In addition to CUNY students, high school students will also seek to contact S.A.C. at 5th, 10th, and 15th E. Street by the free faculties to feed 10,000 students.

The program on Tuesday will include the rally to the steps of the Capitol, visits to members of the Legislature, classes taught by the best faculty free (all of whom are Baruch students) and speeches by the mayor, the senators, and the mayor.

Your Student Council, in record time last Thursday, defeated two motions, recommended the establishment of a Bernard Baruch Faculty Student Committee on Intercollegiate and Intramural Athletics, and approved the Charity Drives Committee report. The motion won by a vote of 21 to 15, with 4 members of the Student Council in attendance.

For those students who fail to order senior rings on the above specified dates, they may acquire them any time before March 18 in the College Store. A deposit of $3 will be taken at the time of purchase. Rings will be delivered at the end of March or early in April.

The Charity Drives Committee report was accepted. Seven drivers will be held this term.

Rings are on Sale Now Discount in Affect

Members of the classes of 1969 and 1970 will be able to order their senior rings on Wednesday, March 12 and Thursday 13 from ten o’clock to two o’clock in the lobby of the Student Center.

For those students who fail to order senior rings on the above prescribed dates, they may acquire them any time before March 18 in the College Store. A deposit of $3 will be taken at the time of purchase. Rings will be delivered at the end of March or early in April.

At the present time, Baruch College is engaging an industrial designer to create the new college mascot. The new design will be a pegasus, a winged horse which in mythology is said to have been created from the union of Medusa when slain by Perseus.

The second thing the jumers desire is to order the orders and wait until the next school year to receive the official rings. The ring company will have on sale Baruch seals and on the other side the New York University seal.

The Editor:
The letter is written in the name of the class of '79. It expresses the opinion of the class who were thinking of ordering the interim rings not too long ago. Many students have been road to higher education. It seemed to us that the slow, almost non-demanding that they be taken to the door was shut. He had never had, which were many; for he'd have the things that he had ever to put. On the day March 13, room 507, students attending Baruch of all Baruchians are needed. Editors, editors, business staff, are also needed. Writers, poets, playwrights, artists, painters, editors, and researchers are needed. Artists, photographers, reporters, and researchers are needed. Also special credit must be given to the department of Anthropology and Sociology.

Baruch Day Beats Eve. Cagers

Led by former Evening Session player Larry Anderson, the Baruch Day Session team defeated the Evening Session 89-59, in Hansen Hall, Friday night. It was the first time in four years that the Day squad had beaten the Evening team.

The Day five is 11-4 with one game left. While the loss dropped the Evening team's record to 4-4. The Day team beat the night squad in two categories in which the Evening team used to prevail. The winners hit consistently from outside while the Evening team couldn't hit from anywhere. Only Carl Banziger's long-range bomb kept the Evening five in the game. The rest of the team hit only 17% percent of its shots.

The Day team also won the battle of the backboards, having a 26-17 edge. Mark Stein had 15 rebounds, Anderson 13, and Kevin Planagan 11. The best for the Night team was Mike DeSauter's nine.

you would, particularly if you really are part of the "now" generation. "Your Own Thing" has tried to capitalize on the current fad in the greasepaint scene; present the seemingly freaked out younger generation as we really are, or what they think we are, moralistic, yet not so moralistic, full of values, yet having none, people dedicated to their ideologies, yet given half a chance and they too will sell out. Those are the plots involved, and if you are over thirty, its believable, cause that's what you'd like to believe. But if you're living your lifestyle this way, if you are a "now" person, if you are open towards everything, well then, this play fails miserably, because it doesn't say what you feel, it will only bring you down.

O.K., there is no real pertinent message to "Your Own Thing," but its enjoyable. There are times when its hysterical. When Orson, the manager of a rock group called The Four Apocalypse, falls in love with one that it destroys the lyrics of most of the songs, drag the show strongly, but its enjoyable.
