Freshmen Conduct Experiment

One of the freshman orientation classes is a teaching and research aid in any manner the students desire, he said. Baruch College students are thus developing their own teaching and research projects by using the Pinto and their own research materials as a teaching and reference aid. This bridges the gap between classroom theory and marketing practice, he pointed out. The students will have the chance to enter one project from the department, carried out by a single class or a joint project for several classes, before February 1, 1971 in the National Library of Creative and Satisfactory Service, annual payments and job security provisions. This has been upheld in arbitration. In a number of cases where full-time lecturer have been deliberately converted to instructors so that disbursements they may have been removed from the union's jurisdiction.

Freshmen Project

The Pinto Project is for the Academic Department for a five-week period to be cooperation of College Marketing Corporation and as an educational service to Baruch College.

Pinto Project at Baruch

"The Pinto Project for the Academic Community" will soon get underway in the basketball and tennis teams. Bernard M. Baruch School of the City University of New York as a substitute Lecturer in 1951. He was the recipient of the award in 1962 and to Assistant Professor in 1970. He served in every phase of the regular coaching of the Department and in addition coached the athletic teams of the College in varsity soccer; varsity tennis; junior varsity; freshman and Baruch teams in basketball. When Baruch College was established, George was appointed Director of Intercolligate Athletics. He assumed the responsibility for the organization and administration of the basketball and golf teams and coached the Baruch College basketball team.

George Wolfe was an excellent teacher and coach. He won respect and admiration of students and faculty with warmth. He was interested in helping mold the character of his students. They learned the true meaning of scholarship from Wolfe.

George Wolfe is a dedicated teacher who gave freely of himself. He spent countless hours of his own time counselling his students or performing duties which would benefit the college.

George came to Baruch College with an athletic background in the Delta athletic teams. He won personal honors and citations as an outstanding player for his achievements in the world of amateur and professional athletics.

CONCRETE POETRY

In concrete poetry, the appearance of a poem is the same as its meaning. The form itself is the message, for form and content are one.

They can be made with a typewriter, or with transfer letters such as Prestype or Letraset.

These examples were made as a class exercise by the students of Art 131 (Advertising Layout).

Higher Education may not find it too easy to step on Baruch when it comes to decisions of building more classroom space or a campus in Brooklyn, or reducing the amount of students next spring and fall, or the raising of fees to over $120, or cutting Baruch funds to peanuts. It would give the BHE great pleasure to pass that proposed motion which would allow them to suspend any student without due process during any disturbance or protest when our Student Council was one of you elected like it was a popularity contest. Damn it—GIVE A GRAP AND WAKE-UP, before it’s too late. Good-night Agnew.

Any group that gives us 20,000,000 signatures on petitions is a threat to Democracy. This notion stands for chaos and violence and I don’t want a small minority of the older population spoiling it for the rest.

The President is going to be on television tonight: so is Ed Musky. The baton twirler and the man with an appropriate name and the facial characteristics of Gomer Fyle are both telling me who to vote for. At eleven o’clock Barry Gray has the three would-be senators. He deserves them. We’ve had them long enough.

The girl with the fat ankles just asked if she could vote for Basil Paterson. The answer is Goldberg and Paterson are a package deal, like the flowers at the Bar-Mitzvah. She doesn’t like Bar-Mitzvah. I don’t like Goldberg. Tomorrow Rocky and his friends vs. the Iceberg and the kindly colored fellow. I hope I oversleep.

Nov. 3 Tues. Today is Halloween again.

Nov. 9½

I couldn’t return my library books so I went to the Goldberg Headquarters in Manhattan on 5th and 23rd. When you enter there are desks with a gate in between and an old lady acting as unarmed armed guard. "What are you doing?" I am here from a schoolmates, Reader was allowed to enter without being frisked. I soon found a City College stands for chaos and violence and I don’t want a small minority of the older population spoiling it for the rest.
