SAULE’S RECEPTION
by Robert Tucci

A tea was given to honor Vigeo Saule of the art department, last Thursday, November 12. The works of art that are currently on exhibit in the Oak Lounge were created by Prof. Saule.

Prof. Saule explained that before he began to paint a picture he would think over the idea and format of the painting for a month or two. Though he spends much time planning and designing his paintings, he attempts to capture a spontaneous feeling while keeping the painting simple.

Saule has a definite style in his work of which one does not tire. A person can gaze at his paintings for as long as he likes, and continue to be fascinated.

The tea was judged a paper patch contest, which was being held in the Oak Lounge. For the winner he picked a bird sitting on top of a bottle. He said it was the most original and interesting subject.

The image-rumor mill at the University is carrying the story that the University budget request is in the neighborhood of $420 million. For those with short memories, last year's request was $270 million which is subsequently reduced by our prudent City and State fathers to $200 million. The City and State then respectively estimates of $32,000 and $20,000 opening freshmen under Open Admissions. The Governor has now raised the additional $50,000 been budgeted for, or the University's appropriations are short approximately 4-6 million dollars. But that's a problem for this year's budget.

Well, if any of you are out there listening, better get off the pot and plan ahead. Every student group has an interest in protecting the University's budget. For those who work for state legislative candidates during the two-week pre-election season, promises from them that they will do what they can to support the University's request. To SMS students: You escaped a tuition increase last year by the skin of your teeth. You are a very vulnerable group and low man on budget surgeons' list. Don't let the budget request continue to carry your contributions, your tuition, to support the rest of us at the City University. Grad students: Win that court case. On a day session. Day Nineteen. Jean-Louis 'D'Heilly, where are you? Ap point someone to lead the troops to Albany. The Center for the City University and CUNY Co-ordinating Committee must fight. On again. Somebody, please do something.

The information-rumor mill at the University is carrying the story that the University budget request is in the neighborhood of $420 million. For those with short memories, last year's request was $270 million which is subsequently reduced by our prudent City and State fathers to $200 million. The City and State then respectively estimates of $32,000 and $20,000 opening freshmen under Open Admissions. The Governor has now raised the additional $50,000 been budgeted for, or the University's appropriations are short approximately 4-6 million dollars. But that's a problem for this year's budget.

THE SEEDS

BE ACTIVE

Dean DISPENZER has made arrangements with the Physical Education Department to allow male students to participate in various activities on Wednesday evenings from 6:00 P.M. to 9:40 P.M.

In the large gymnasium—Instruction, practice and play in activities such as Basketball, Volleyball and Badminton.

In the Aux. gymnasium—Instruction and practice in Golf, Archery, Table Tennis, Bag-punching, Weight-lifting and Cycling.

In the Pool—Instruction for Non-swimmers and Beginners will be given from 6:00 P.M. to 8:45 P.M., and 8:00 to 8:45 P.M. for those who wish. Intermediate or Advanced ability, the instruction will be from 7:00 to 7:45 P.M., and 9:00 to 9:40 P.M.

All students participating in these Wednesday night activities must have a medical examination. Appointments may be made in the Medical Office, room 607 any evening after 6:00 P.M.

Bernard M. Baruch College has finally achieved varsity status in the athletic competition. The basketball team has a more than able coach, the hiring of Dick Butz, who achieved fame playing for the New York Knicks and the Baltimore Bullets.

There is our track coach, Harold Bogrow, who has coached our track team to third place in the Penn relays. This season with a full squad our track team is assured of more victories.

In seasons to come, Baruch College will also have varsity teams in baseball, golf, tennis, fencing and swimming. The student body has shown tremendous enthusiasm but we hope that if more would attend our games. We also have a very able group of girls, one that gives us moral support. Now don't forget, these teams are representing your school, so support them by joining or coming to the games.

A tea was given to honor Vigeo Saule of the art department, last Thursday, November 12. The works of art that are currently on exhibit in the Oak Lounge were created by Prof. Saule.

Prof. Saule explained that before he began to paint a picture he would think over the idea and format of the painting for a month or two. Though he spends much time planning and designing his paintings, he attempts to capture a spontaneous feeling while keeping the painting simple.
Baruch Night at the Electric Circus
November 25, 1970
9:00 P.M.

Artists:
H.J. Murphy and the Free Flowing Salt
Live Circus Acts
Magicians, Ragdoll, Juggler
Peter Ferrara and the Freaks

Price: $2.00
Purchase your tickets in the Lobby of the Student Center or Room 411 of the Student Center. All tickets must be bought in advance, by November 23rd.

Buy tickets for all your friends
SENIOR CLASS PRESENTS
STUDENT—FACULTY

Games Day

Bring your own Chalk
Frizbees
Footballs
Rubber Balls
Bottle Caps
Anything else

Thursday 12:15
November 19, 1970
Meet in Student Center Lobby

Games:
Stoop Ball
Punch Ball
Stick Ball
Hopscotch
Skulley
or anything else

PRIZE: All winners be hugged by Steve Hornberger or Marsha Fitzgibbons or BOTH

THE ACCOUNTING SOCIETY

The Role of the Private Accountant

Thursday 12 Noon... Rm 1220

CLASS OF '72
CLASS MEETING
Thursday Nov. 19
12-2 Room 1013
To Discuss Projects
For The Fall 1970 Terms

CLUBBING

by Stephen Chaikind

Everyone has heard how terrific an effect on a group of salesmen a good advertising campaign can have. Well one high priced advertising executive, in respect to this fact, was not, after agreeing to an in-depth, by a salesman, interview, express regret. "So many things, things, things..." replied the salesman. "Oh, I thought you were me... salesmen... selling. What are you selling?" the advertising executive asked.

As the interviewer was about to explain the purpose of the interview, the advertising executive continued. "I thought you were sellers. No offense, but you're salesmen."

"Selling is part of the job..." the salesman begged. "But you're not..." the advertising executive responded. "Selling is part of the job. Are you..." the salesman asked. "Selling..." the advertising executive responded. "Selling is part of the job. Are you..." the salesman asked. "Selling is part of the job. Are you..." the advertising executive asked. "Selling is part of the job. Are you..." the salesman asked. "Selling is part of the job. Are you..." the advertising executive asked. "Selling is part of the job. Are you..." the salesman asked.

"Selling is part of the job. Are you..." the advertising executive asked.
"Selling is part of the job. Are you..." the salesman asked. "Selling is part of the job. Are you..." the advertising executive asked. "Selling is part of the job.
Are you..." the salesman asked. "Selling is part of the job. Are you..." the advertising executive asked. "Selling is part of the job. Are you..." the salesman asked. "Selling is part of the job. Are you..." the advertising executive asked. "Selling is part of the job. Are you..." the salesman asked.

"Selling is part of the job. Are you..." the advertising executive asked.
"Selling is part of the job. Are you..." the salesman asked. "Selling is part of the job. Are you..." the advertising executive asked. "Selling is part of the job.
Are you..." the salesman asked. "Selling is part of the job. Are you..." the advertising executive asked. "Selling is part of the job. Are you..." the salesman asked. "Selling is part of the job. Are you..." the advertising executive asked. "Selling is part of the job. Are you..." the salesman asked.

"Selling is part of the job. Are you..." the advertising executive asked.
"Selling is part of the job. Are you..." the salesman asked. "Selling is part of the job. Are you..." the advertising executive asked. "Selling is part of the job.
Are you..." the salesman asked. "Selling is part of the job. Are you..." the advertising executive asked. "Selling is part of the job. Are you..." the salesman asked. "Selling is part of the job. Are you..." the advertising executive asked. "Selling is part of the job. Are you..." the salesman asked.

"Selling is part of the job. Are you..." the advertising executive asked.
"Selling is part of the job. Are you..." the salesman asked. "Selling is part of the job. Are you..." the advertising executive asked. "Selling is part of the job.
Are you..." the salesman asked. "Selling is part of the job. Are you..." the advertising executive asked. "Selling is part of the job. Are you..." the salesman asked. "Selling is part of the job. Are you..." the advertising executive asked. "Selling is part of the job. Are you..." the salesman asked.

"Selling is part of the job. Are you..." the advertising executive asked.
"Selling is part of the job. Are you..." the salesman asked. "Selling is part of the job. Are you..." the advertising executive asked. "Selling is part of the job.
Are you..." the salesman asked. "Selling is part of the job. Are you..." the advertising executive asked. "Selling is part of the job. Are you..." the salesman asked. "Selling is part of the job. Are you..." the advertising executive asked. "Selling is part of the job. Are you..." the salesman asked.

"Selling is part of the job. Are you..." the advertising executive asked.
"Selling is part of the job. Are you..." the salesman asked. "Selling is part of the job. Are you..." the advertising executive asked. "Selling is part of the job.
Are you..." the salesman asked. "Selling is part of the job. Are you..." the advertising executive asked. "Selling is part of the job. Are you..." the salesman asked. "Selling is part of the job. Are you..." the advertising executive asked. "Selling is part of the job. Are you..." the salesman asked.

"Selling is part of the job. Are you..." the advertising executive asked.
"Selling is part of the job. Are you..." the salesman asked. "Selling is part of the job. Are you..." the advertising executive asked. "Selling is part of the job.
Are you..." the salesman asked. "Selling is part of the job. Are you..." the advertising executive asked. "Selling is part of the job. Are you..." the salesman asked. "Selling is part of the job. Are you..." the advertising executive asked. "Selling is part of the job. Are you..." the salesman asked.

"Selling is part of the job. Are you..." the advertising executive asked.
"Selling is part of the job. Are you..." the salesman asked. "Selling is part of the job. Are you..." the advertising executive asked. "Selling is part of the job.
Are you..." the salesman asked. "Selling is part of the job. Are you..." the advertising executive asked. "Selling is part of the job. Are you..." the salesman asked. "Selling is part of the job. Are you..." the advertising executive asked. "Selling is part of the job. Are you..." the salesman asked.

"Selling is part of the job. Are you..." the advertising executive asked.
"Selling is part of the job. Are you..." the salesman asked. "Selling is part of the job. Are you..." the advertising executive asked. "Selling is part of the job.
Are you..." the salesman asked. "Selling is part of the job. Are you..." the advertising executive asked. "Selling is part of the job. Are you..." the salesman asked. "Selling is part of the job. Are you..." the advertising executive asked. "Selling is part of the job. Are you..." the salesman asked.
The flag fluttered in the wind, and the wind blew with the song of the birds. The leaves rustled underfoot, and the air was alive with the scent of freshly cut grass. The sun shone down upon the field, and the grass was bathed in golden light. The fresh, sweet smell of the earth filled the nostrils, and the sky was a vast expanse of blue.

Will the promise of the future, the reality of life, and even death itself exist? We must make the most of every moment. For in death, our memories live on, and we are forever young. In life, we must cherish every breath, for it is a precious gift.

The meetings problem is never resolved, and the cycle of life continues. If you have something to say, let your voice be heard. The Student Council meets every Thursday at 4:30, and your input is valued. We are all part of the Baruch community, and we must work together to make it a place where everyone feels welcome.

The bicest hands at Baruch are the ones that are raised, not lowered. The color of the sky is the color of hope. If you have a problem, bring it to the meetings. Your voice will be heard, and we will work together to find a solution.

At Baruch, we are a family. We support each other, and we thrive on the energy of our community. The Student Council is here to help, and we are always ready to listen. So come, share your thoughts, and let your voice be heard.
An Eye For An Ear

byGaryFrank

Emmaul Davis, The Waiting Room, Library, and Jazz Club. When you hear the music, you're in a world of your own. If you're not, you're in the wrong world. People who like to be there, they're going to be. The Waiting Room is a place where people come in to be entertained by food, drink, and music. The music is good, the food is good, and the people are good. There's a good vibe in the room, and it's a nice place to be. The Waiting Room is open daily from 11 AM to 11 PM.

Lampport Leaders

Announces Its Fall Sensitivity Workshop

Jan 22-Jan 25 1970

Applications are now Available in Room 314 of The Student Center

Get your picture in a new book

CHANGES '71

You're Bound To Be Noticed

Senior Projects

9:30-3:30 Mon-Sat., till 6:30 Thurs.

Korean Studies

9:30-11 Mon-Wed.,
11-12 Thurs.
President Nixon recently signed legislation which he described as "Giving us the means for a total war against crime." The us in his statement referred to Attorney General Mitchell, J. Edgar, et al. The president said that this bill would be a warning to those who engage in senseless acts of destruction, and that the administration would not tolerate these activities (sabotage of military and judicial buildings) any longer. After the bill was signed he handed it to Hoover and Mitchell and said, "Gentlemen, I give you the tools. You do the job."

The bill provides for the death penalty for anyone involved in a bombing or arson which results, accidently or otherwise, in a death. In addition it permits the F.B.I. to enter any college campus or school where a bombing or arson has occurred, whether the administration wants them there or not!

"The streets of America are in turmoil. The universities are filled with students rebelling and rioting. Anarchists seek to destroy our country. Russia is this year...Yes...danger from without and danger from within...Without order!...Without order!...Without order!...Without order!...Without order!...Without order!

Adolph Hitler 1932

The most significant part of the bill, is a section which permits federal judges to add 25 YEARS to the sentence of any convicted person they think is a "dangerous special offender." A "dangerous special offender" is anybody who has been convicted of two felonies, or anyone the judge considers to have "a pattern of criminal conduct." It also applies to anyone who the judge feels was part of a conspiracy to engage in a pattern of criminal conduct. What this comes down to, is that a judge can put anybody away for an extra 25 years without charging them with a specific new crime, and without a jury trial.

There are also provisions which will weaken existing safeguards against illegally attained evidence, and self-incrimination. Contempt of court provisions, which have been used in the past to sentence radical defendants to years in prison, have been stiffened.

It should be noted that this bill passed the Senate with only one dissenting vote.