Faculty Rally For A Decent Contract: Students Beware

By Alan R. Shark

Rent a small ballroom—fill it to capacity with union members—get some exciting speakers and by the meeting’s close, the leadership will have exactly what they want. And so the leadership of the Professional Staff Congress, representing the 16,000 faculty of the City University of New York, did. At the end of the meeting, held on October 5, the members had informally ratified a resolution empowering their executive board to strike if and when it becomes necessary.

The meeting of emotions not of minds was scheduled to be a rally for a “decency contract” in which the topic, “The Contract Impasse How does it affect you?” was never really discussed. Instead we all managed to learn how ruthless, insensitive and arbitrary the Board of Higher Education is.

Presently without a contract the Professional Staff Congress (PSC) and the Board of Higher Education (BHE) have reached an impasse in their latest round of negotiations to reach a new contract. They have both declared impasse and are now in the mediation stage. While this rally was supposed to be informative, one look at the speakers list and one soon knew this was a meeting designed to arouse support for the PSC leadership, to gain more power in their collective bargaining posture.

For most of those attending, their jobs and futures were at stake—for myself it was a learning experience, as I was the only student to attend. One distinguished faculty member who recognized me said, “Why aren’t you home studying!” I wanted to answer, “I’m certainly not at home, but I am studying.”

As I scanned the room I noticed a poster—“Professors want what students need.” It was David Selvin, President of the American Federation of Teachers whose first words were, “I think you’re going to have to strike!” At that moment a kind gentleman standing next to me helped me pick the pieces to my jaw after it had crashed to the floor. I selfishly questioned, how could one of the highest paid faculties in the nation consider striking? The following speakers all carried the same theme right on to Albert Shanker, head of the UFT and Co-Chairman of the New York Congress of Teachers. Shanker discussed in depth the politics and advantages of being militant. As each speaker finished, there was a loud applause, which seemed to obtain the air identifying schools, groups and causes. There is great excitement in belonging to a glorious cause.

The speakers were splendid in their praising of each other. Confidence in the leadership was renewed. Even the most insecure of members were assured their leadership was the best on the planet. There were no questions from the floor as to the issues. There was no other presentation of a point of view other than the PSC’s. I suppose it’s a great feeling knowing you’re in the RIGHT.

A few of them really understood the process of collective bargaining. In fact the BHE had the audacity to make counter demands made the BHE out to be theproblem instead of the organizers.

A speaker said, “You’re going to have to strike or you’re going to lose everything.”

Next on the program was the establishment of a 32nd vote on the Senate. There was no question of the winning candidates by the Board of Higher Education; there was no question of the winning candidates by the Board of Higher Education. The Senate quibbled over the issues which are not brought up because of the limitations placed on psychologists in the N.Y.C. schools. Afterwards they worked in the SEEC Department in its early beginnings in 1967. Now she works in our Psychological Counseling and Testing Department as a full time counselor.

Dr. Ann Hiscox started out in college as a music and history major. After the war, when she was in high school, she became interested in psychology. As her interest grew she decided not to achieve her M.A. in music but rather in psychology. Dr. Hiscox finished her doctorate work at N.Y.U. She has a small private practice, in addition to working in our Psychological Counseling and Testing Department full time. She seems quite the self-realized individual. From the above she has achieved. She questions, and tries to understand. I thoroughly enjoyed speaking with her and felt very much at ease.

Dr. Helen Silverman is a graduate of C.C.N.Y. and is in the process of completing her post doctorate work at Columbus University. She began working with smaller groups than in the New York City Public School System. She enjoyed her work, but still found it unfurling, probably because of the limitations placed on psychologists in the N.Y.C. schools. Afterwards she worked with the SEEC Department in its early beginnings in 1967. Now she works in our Psychological Counseling and Testing Department as a full time counselor.

Dr. Ann Hiscox and Dr. Helen Silverman are there to help you. In addition to Dr. Jack Shuer and Dr. Vincent Bryan. You can talk to a counselor once, or you can speak with them several times.

And finally, if there is enough interest, the group will form a counseling session is available. Find out for yourself, go to the 24th Street Building on the second floor, and pay a visit to our Psychological Counseling and Testing Department.

First Senate Meeting

As the cigarette smoke rose above the “No Smoking” signs, a voice rose into the fog. It was the voice of a female Chairwoman (Chairperson?) Linda Matula—at the first Student Government meeting of the term, last Tuesday, October 16, in 48.

Her first official act was to validate the winning candidates by the Board of Higher Education. The following guest speakers all prepared by Dean of Students Roy Senor. Miss Matula then announced that former Chairman Roberto Rodriguez would act as Parliamentarian.

The question of Ollie Oviedo’s existence was straightened out (it was decided he does not exist) and Zach Menegakis was appointed to the vacant seat on the Senate.

The next part of the agenda was for club space. There was no other presentation of a point of view other than the PSC’s. I suppose it’s a great feeling knowing you’re in the RIGHT.

Summer In The South Seas

Photographing the creatures and stopped pictures of steamng crabs and quiet red crabs in the water on the sand was delightful. The excitement on the circuit was exhilarating and exhilarating. The excitement of the tropical birds and the coral reef, and coral reefs are little different from the masses. But there is a small part of the Snorklers who know what ocean they are in. The excitement was exhilarating and exhilarating. The excitement on the circuit was exhilarating and exhilarating.

Criminals and the Big American System is something the Colonel has been an active part of. He has a history of being employed by the U.S. Government. It is sometimes a little unreal to me, the way he talks. The fact that there has to be some way to stop the mass exodus of the hogs, the pigs, the pigs, the pigs, the pigs, the pigs, the pigs. Considering that California may be the U.S. area to have the largest number of pigs, but they are not allowed to go anywhere. They are not allowed to go anywhere. They are not allowed to go anywhere.

And finally, if you qualify and at the end of the year, you are entitled to courtesy and no flirtation; if you are not, you are entitled to the same. The rule of the law is that Bismark, the British and French shouldn't be allowed to take over all the Pacific. The other countries, like the British and French, are there in force winning the small fish in a display of grace. The British, the French, and the British, the French, are there in force winning the small fish in a display of grace.

Besides tourists, the hippies, the beachboys and the college summer students, there are there in force winning the small fish in a display of grace. The British, the French, and the British, the French, are there in force winning the small fish in a display of grace.

The colonizers are there in force winning the small fish in a display of grace. The British, the French, and the British, the French, are there in force winning the small fish in a display of grace.

FLAME BULLETIN, a highly charged arena, especially true to the students of our campus. In order to maintain a balance of power, Mr. Roberts Robinson who was recently elected as the new Student President. The current Student President, a member of the Student Senate, is now under the control of the Student Government. The Student Senate has been appropriated by the Student Body, and the old Student Senate is now operating under the control of the Student Government. The Student Senate is now under the control of the Student Body and is now operating under the control of the Student Government. Therefore, the Student Senate is now under the control of the Student Body and is now operating under the control of the Student Government.

However, it was not until last Monday that the Student Senate finally indicated its intention of making the newly elected Student President, Mr. Roberts Robinson, a member of the Student Senate. This move is in accordance with the Student Senate's By-Laws. With the Student Senate's full co-operation, the new Student President was able to come to office and functions of the Student Senate have now been transferred to the Student Senate. While intense debates on the resignation issue never occurred and transpired, and back it was decided to become one of the students. With the resignation of the former Student President, there has been a significant improvement in the atmosphere of the Student government. There is no longer an atmosphere of fear and intimidation and the Student Senate now seems to be under control of the Student government.

After a thoughtful pause, I began to talk. He had a chicken delivered and told me not to disturb though a child crawled nearby. The chieftain was apparently in a joking mood and would smile and laugh. The neighbors gathered to watch and listen. Then his eyes looked toward me for humor, if it engages the listener. He wanted to know about the topic I was going to discuss. After the audience had been prepared, the chieftain sat down to enjoy the meal. That's what he did, having a daytime nap and would digest the meal. Then his eyes looked toward me for humor, if it engages the listener. He wanted to know about the topic I was going to discuss. Westerners are not used to the idea of privacy. Privacy is very hard to come by in a society. Even in the most developed nations, there are many places where people feel vulnerable and exposed. This is especially true in places where there is a lot of public access and a lack of privacy. In many cases, people are expected to behave in ways that are not natural to them, and this can lead to a lot of stress and anxiety. In some cases, people are even given orders to act in a certain way. For example, children are often told to stay away from strangers and not to take anything that belongs to someone they do not know. This can be very difficult for children, who are naturally curious and want to explore their environment.

In some cultures, there is a strong emphasis on community and cooperation. This can lead to a sense of belonging and support, but it can also mean that people are expected to behave in ways that are not natural to them. For example, in some cultures, it is common for people to make decisions for others without their input. This can be frustrating for people who are used to making their own decisions, and it can lead to a sense of helplessness and powerlessness.

The Baruch College Bowling Team started off the fall season on October 8th by winning their first match of the season. This year's team consists of nine members: Tony Ray Hockstein, Billard Panoff, Leon Cantor, Tony Nose, Nicky Blazer and Larry Greenspan.

The first match of the season was against Lehman College and we won 272-251 to take all ten points. The second game was against Brooklyn Poly and we won 225-216. The second and third games weren't as close. In the second, we won 917-869, with high shooters being Ray Hockstein 198 and Billard Panoff 190. Led by John Katsaras 227-996 in the third game, we won 986-976 to start off the season in first place in the Eastern Inter-collegiate Bowling Conference. As a sideline to the season, the bowling team is looking for a few more members to join their team.

Samoans are status-conscious, it is true. Their society is a network of hierarchy and to be of the nobility is considered the highest. The chieftain. Trouble is, to be chieftain is a lot of responsibility. To be depended upon by people may have to take care of up to 2,000 people, listening to their problems, doing nothing else but solving them. You have to be a leader. You are expected to do a lot, and a leader has to be a doer. You have to earn your kava drink. You have to be respected by everyone. You have to be a good person, a good leader, a good citizen. But if you lack these qualities, you will never be elected as a leader.

The chieftain must be wise, he must be able to take control of the community. It is his responsibility to keep the peace and order. If there is any trouble, it is the chieftain's job to solve it. He must be able to give advice and guidance. He must be able to lead by example. He must be able to make decisions.

Samoans are a very close-knit community. They have a strong family life. They are very proud of their culture. They are very proud of their language. They are very proud of their traditions. They are very proud of their history.

Cross Country

Seeking to beef up its weak offense coach Walter Kopczuf changed the cross country's style of play from a defensive to an offensive one. This change helped to make the team go from a loss at NYU last year to a win this year. The team ran a 2:01-2:09 time in the sixth game, which was a significant improvement.

Cross Country

Sweeping the first three positions for the first time in the seven-year cross-country team easily defeated Hunter College, 18-15, and City College, 24-17.

The surprisingly easy victory came despite two of Baruch's regular runners—Tony Nose and Leon Cantor—being injured. The continued absence of Tony Nose made Hal Ramsey make a big difference for Baruch. Each ran his best time of the year.

Chumra, who was running as strong in the middle of the field covered the five-mile course Saturday at 1:31:30. Ramsey, a freshman, who never ran track before, came in with a 2:02:37 clocking for seventh place. He bettered his previous time by four minutes.

Jack Harayda took first place with a 2:33:30 time finishing more than three minutes ahead of the next man. Dave Herbert, a sophomore and the only man with a true cross-country background, came in third at 3:01:34.

Baseball

The baseball team closed out a fine fall season Saturday by sweeping a doubleheader from City College and Baruch winds up the schedule with a 9-6 record. Over 19 other games were cancelled due to weather.

Baseball

Steve Klein and Bob Deering turned in a stellar performance in the game. Klein allowed three hits in posting his second shutout. He struck out 7 and walked 1. Deering, after being touched for two runs and four hits in the first two innings settled down to pitch three hitless innings. He struck out 2 and walked 1. The second game was called after five innings due to a curfew so that the Lehman soccer team could use the field for a game.

Danny Garcia, a freshman outfielder, who has been hitting over .400 all fall, won the opener with a two-run double in the fifth inning. Klein started the winning rally with a walk and Frank O'Leary also walked. Garcia then doubled to left-center driving in both runners.

Trailing 2-0 in the nitecap Baruch rallied for three runs in the third inning to turn the game around. Tony Scivano, a freshman catcher, led off with a walk and he scored on O'Leary's triple down the left-field line. Garcia singled on the dying ball to make it 3-2. It was his 18th RBI of the season. Garcia scored on Tony DiSano's drive to left to make it 4-2.

In other recent games Baruch beat Queens in the second game, 4-1, with new winning ending 7-6 after trailing 6-0, and losing 3-2, and dropping a 4-1 decision to Stony Brook. Garcia's two-run homer gave the Statesmen the win over New Haven.

Klein's shutout Saturday was his fourth strong outing of five starts. He pitched four complete games while breaking even in four decisions.

Against Queens Klein, a sophomore righthander, gave up five hits, struck out 7 and walked 2. The only run scored in the second game in the ninth inning, by a ground ball deep in the shortstop hole and throwing home to nail a runner.

In his two losing efforts Klein gave up 16 runs in 20 innings and struck out 10 in a 2-0 loss to Army and pitched a two-run shatout ball in the final game to take the loss.

Goalie Tony DiSano is a senior who has started three games and has two shutout victories. DiSano has pitched 917-669, with high shooters being Glen Klerer, Jerome Tait and Herntz 227.

Baruch didn't get its first goal until the 10 minute mark when Elie Perlmutter, with the fifth of the first half, scored the first goal for the school in its 13th game of the year.
