Changes Slated for Summer and Fall Registration

by Joyce Rosenblatt

Registration for the Summer Session and for the Fall Term is approaching, and some changes have been made in the registration process. For the summer session, registration will be from April 25 - July 14 only. If you have not filled out an application and received a registration packet prior to this time, you will have to register during the summer program period, and take your chances on courses being closed.

Students will no longer be able to register for a class that was not full before the registration area. They must pay this bill before June 8 and August 10 or they will be cancelled out of their registration. They will then have to register during the changeover program period, and take their chances on courses being closed.

You must have filled out an application prior to that date, and an application is required for registration. Those students who register for a conflict in order to change their programs will be reimbursed for the dropped credits, the student must be sure to take the course that he registers for a conflict in order to change his program. That means that a student cannot register for a class that was not full before the registration area. They must pay this bill before June 8 and August 10 or they will be cancelled out of their registration. They will then have to register during the changeover program period, and take their chances on courses being closed.

Music Major To Begin In Fall

The Music Department offers a new program of study leading to a B.A. with a major in music beginning in September 1973. The program is designed to provide a maximum of breadth in a study of music, while still preparing students for a career in the field of music or in other related fields.

The program includes a core of music courses from which the student will choose his major. The courses will cover the liberal arts in music, and are designed to provide a broad background in the field of music. The program also includes courses in music theory, music history, and music performance.

In addition to academic courses, the Music Department offers a wide range of extra-curricular activities, including a variety of musical groups and organizations, such as the Baruch College Orchestra, Choir, and Band. The program also includes a variety of music festivals and concerts, which provide opportunities for students to perform and gain experience in the field of music.

P.R.I.D.E. Hosts Successful Festival

by Joyce Rosenblatt

The Puerto Ricans for Progressive Development and Enlightenment presented their tenth Puerto Rican Festival on April 11. They began their Festival with the unveiling of the Puerto Rican flag and the singing of the Puerto Rican national anthem to the accompaniment of the Baruch College band. Following this, Maria Perez explained the Festival was designed to tell the Puerto Rican community about the Puerto Rican culture and its traditions. She introduced a group of dancers from PRIDE who performed a Latin dance. Next was a poetry reading with poems read in Spanish and English. PRIDE then presented Undercurrent, a Spanish version of Cinderella that was modified instead of wanting to go to a ball, dreams of being with a girl.

The play was followed by a Latin Dance in the Oak Lounge. The bodyguards hired by PRIDE was unable to handle the people and guests, and so the dance was canceled. PRIDE also hosted a dance with ice cream and fruits, which was a hit with the people and guests.

Students For Security

The need for a tight security system is becoming more necessary every year. This is especially true of the Student Center, where student organizations have their offices. Many of these offices have been burglarized while individual students have been robbed.

There are fewer students in the Student Center in the evening hours than during the day. Most of the robbers have occurred after 5 P.M., making security seem more necessary during these hours.

Several methods of security have been suggested. These include the checking of ID cards as people enter the Student Center, wearing the ID cards at all times, having security guards patrol the Center, and having students as guards.

TICKER favors the idea of using paid students to act as security guards. The other three alternatives only bring us one step closer to 1964.

John Jay College has been using the student guard system with much success. A team of four men patrols the Student Center and other buildings at night.

Each guard could be assigned to one floor of the Student Center with a uniformed security guard in charge. This guard would be a relatively young one, unlike the majority of the guards.

The entire Student Center with a uniformed security guard in charge.

Let me be clear, however, anytime
I play in a tournament, I try to do well. It's not just about the money, I love the competition and the people in the arena.

My philosophy of life is that one should be living in the moment, not dwelling on the past or worrying about the future.

Dear Editor,

There are no commonly people with whom you can talk about important matters. They are always too busy with their own problems and can't be bothered with others.

Yearns kindly,

Baruch had opening game jitters as the Knights runs were unearned, driving Flanders made his debut in the sixth. However, a two-run homer by Brook and Fairleigh-Dickinson of New Jersey set the stage for the game's opening. Everyone in the lineup can contribute, stated coach Ron Rizzi after the NYU games.

The inexperience of the tennis team continued to be a major factor, as Baruch dropped three matches last week to Hunter, Pratt, and NYU.

"We have been in most of the matches," notes coach Bob Biscone, "but we have lost out in the end because our lack of experience catches us up with us." Baruch lost its first four players from last year and has only three lettermen back.

In the NYU match Saturday the doubles team of Harvey Myssel and Joel Lane won its third straight. Lane also picked up a singles victory. However, in several other matches Baruch came up on the short end of 6-4 and 7-5 sets. Luis Estralla continued to play well but dropped his sets. With the Conference of the East match it took five hours to complete the day's activities.

Estrella did pick up a win against Hunter as did Myssel who dropped his first match of the season. Myssel and XLANE ALSO TOOK THEIR MATCH AS THE NUM-BER ONE DOUBLES TEAM. Estrella’s play was the highest of the east match. Traveling at the start, it raised to win in straight sets, 6-3, 6-3.

This afternoon the netmen have a Met Conference match with the Manhattan College at the Fleet Tennis Club in the Bronx.

Tomorrow they are at Pace, Friday home with St. Francis and Saturday visit Jersey City State.
