Mr. Edward James, who was suspended following the incident at the last Student Government meeting, when he hit Ms. Linda Pfaff, Chairman of Student Government, has been reinstated following his suspension. Mr. James also has been placed on social probation and is not allowed to hold a job in the Student Center. In addition, he has been banned from all student government meetings.

The following letter was sent to Mr. James by Dean of Students, Roy Simons:

September 27, 1973

Dear Mr. James,

I am writing this letter to inform you of your reinstatement. As of today, you are not to be present at Baruch College before October 31, 1973, except for one Math course on Wednesday, September 25, 1973. You are under 1 social probation as outlined in the letter below. You will be given a copy of the letter in your office so that you may personally review the conditions of your attendance at Baruch College.

Sincerely,

Dean of Students

History Society

Lecture on Soviet Union

by Bob Lipson

The History Society started its Fall series of lectures this past Thursday by hosting Fordham University Professor Bernice Rosenthal's discourse on "The Sexual Revolution in Russia:"

Professor Rosenthal divided her lecture into three periods. The periods ranging from the Bolshevik Revolution to 1928 from 1928 to 1953, and 1953 to the present. She also gave a pre-editing overview of Soviet women's liberation movement. The Society announced that this Thursday, October 11th, Professor

School of Education

To Hold Program Workshops

October 11 and 25, the School of Education will sponsor workshops for education majors to plan their programs. To be held between 12 P.M. and 2 P.M., the workshops will take place in the following locations: Room 114, 24th Street Building for elementary education majors, and Room 4 South in the Main Building for secondary education majors.

Prior to the workshops, all students should fill out worksheets available from your teachers, or from the Secretary on the tenth floor of the 315 Park Avenue South Building. These must be made out in duplicate. All information must be filled in or attendance program cannot be approved. It is to be completed and returned to the Secretary of Students' Affairs

Elections

Still Not Validated

Wingfield Decision

Expected Sometime This Week

As of yesterday, October 9, President Wingfield had not yet publicly announced his decision concerning the elections. The Education Committee was concerned that the President was not going to make his decision, as stated in the original schedule.

NOTICE TO ALL

STUDENTS

FOLLOW MONDAY'S SCHEDULE TODAY

The Chancellor of the City University of New York, Robert J. Kibbee, met with some Baruch students this past week. On Tuesday, October 2, the Chancellor visited the College as he does once a year. He confered with President Wingfield and other administrators, members of the faculty, and with students. At the meeting with students, the Chancellor listened to the grievances of the students. Among them were poor organization of the Compensatory Education programs, the lack of counseling for graduates, the high numbers of students being discharged from the college, and Baruch's poor building situation. The meeting included Brad Ferguson, editor of THE REPORTER; Bernard Galizia, Joe Rivera, Harry G. Ruben, Jake Satzstewits, Jose Gomez, Joel Sklarew, and Alma Brodsky, and students.

Question Of The Week

Do You Want To See The Student Government Elections Validated?

By Sharon Bronen

I think elections should be validated for the benefit of the students and the student body.

In The Streets

"Waiting"

By Kevin Howard-Dawkins

Being impatient, I was standing in the middle of the student street waiting for the Student Activities Committee to open the Audit Committee. I was late and I was getting nervous. I started to write a note to the President of the Student Activities Committee, asking him if he was going to open the Audit Committee.

How To Form Your Own Club

By Howard Notman

Many people might think it a simple matter to have a dance or to have a meeting, but it isn't. There are a lot of things to consider. First of all, you've got to have the initiative. You've got to have the idea. Then you've got to have the funds. You've got to have the permission. And then you've got to have the people to help you. And the most important thing is, you've got to have the support of the Student Government.

THE ELECTIONS

As Ticker goes to press, we find ourselves waiting for the President of Student Affairs to make his decision regarding the Student Government Elections. There are many who wish to see the election validated. However, there are many who believe that this election is a failure and that the Student Government should be abolished.

The elections were held on the date of the election, which was Thursday, October 14, 1971. The election was open to all students, and there were a total of 1,500 votes cast. The candidates who ran were:

President:
1. Patricia Reddic
2. Sarah Mitchell
3. James Chang
4. Elizabeth Lee

Vice President:
1. Donna Johnson
2. Richard Taylor
3. Thomas Brown
4. Linda Davis

The election results are as follows:

President:
1. Patricia Reddic - 550 votes
2. Sarah Mitchell - 450 votes
3. James Chang - 300 votes
4. Elizabeth Lee - 100 votes

Vice President:
1. Donna Johnson - 500 votes
2. Richard Taylor - 400 votes
3. Thomas Brown - 300 votes
4. Linda Davis - 200 votes

The election was certified by the Dean of Students, and the new Student Government will be sworn in on October 15, 1971.

SO, NOW WHAT?

As TICKER goes to press, we find ourselves waiting for the President of Student Affairs to make his decision regarding the Student Government Elections. There are many who wish to see the election validated. However, there are many who believe that this election is a failure and that the Student Government should be abolished.

BIO-MED FACTS

So You Can Be a Doctor in 6 Years, Eh?

by Richard Rodriguez

You may be a Ticker reader, a theatre student, and a music lover. But have you ever thought about being a doctor? The news may be bad for the medical profession because there is a critical shortage of doctors in this country. But there is good news for you. The National Institutes of Health have announced that a new medical school program will allow you to become a doctor in 6 years, instead of the traditional 8 years.

The program, called the "6-year medical school program," is designed to train students to become doctors in a shorter period of time. The program is open to students who have completed their undergraduate studies and are admitted to the program. The program will be offered at 60 medical schools across the country, and the first students are expected to graduate in 1980.

The program is not only shorter, but it is also more intensive. The students will be required to take more courses in the sciences, and their curriculum will be more rigorous. The medical school will be responsible for providing the necessary funds to support the program.

The new program will not only benefit students, but it will also benefit the medical profession. The shortage of doctors will be alleviated, and the quality of medical education will improve. The program will also attract talented students who are interested in pursuing a career in medicine.

So, if you are interested in being a doctor, but are concerned about the length of time it takes, consider the 6-year medical school program. It is a great opportunity to achieve your goal in a shorter period of time.

Cross-Country

The Baruch Cross-Country team, receiving little in the way of a challenge, overwhelmed the runners of York College on Sept. 29th in a meet at VanCortlandt Park. Baruch’s runners dominated the standings with seven of the top eight finishers.

Coming in first was Galon of York College with a combined time of 29:08. Places 2 through 8 were captured by Baruch runners. Here are the finishing times: Steve Tepper-second (30:26), Gerry Mortensen-third (31:48), Saulo Zayas-fourth (31:50), Hal Ramsay-fifth (32:26), Tony Chmura-sixth (33:02), Al Bolton-seventh (33:47), and Jeff Romahtz-eighth (36:17).

Track Coach Roy Chernock believes that the team could improve on their times. He suspects that the runners were not at their best because of the lack of a challenge from the York runners. Coach Chernock hopes to see more from the team as the competition kicks up.

Join Boosters

by Elizabeth Harrison

Are you interested in making new friends and having a good time? Instead of sitting in the cafeteria, drop in on the Boosters in Room 104B in the Student Center.

We are a social organization who are looking for enthusiastic and dedicated students to help out the school as well as yourselves. Next month, we will be sponsoring a dance for the school. This term we are planning bike rides, a trip to a winery, a ski trip, and many other things. If you find yourself with time on your hands, come over and see us sometime you won’t be disappointed.
