FOREIGN TRADE SOCIETY MEETS AT PIER 5

by Alan Lebenfeld

On Thursday, October 4, the Foreign Trade Society under the newly elected leadership of Bill Armmack, traveled down to Pier 5 in Brooklyn. Once assembled at the pier, the group of twenty-five students proceeded to tour the facilities of Farrell Lines. Besides the tour of the dock facilities, the students embarked on a lengthy tour on one of Farrell Lines' vessels, the "African Mercury," and all who attended came away with a better perspective of how international ocean shipping operates. After the complete tour of the dock and vessel, the gracious management of Farrell Lines treated our entire group to a superb lunch.

Some of the subjects which were emphasized during the visit were containerization, routing, cargo types, specifications of the particular types of cargo vessels, and generally how American textiles arrive to the many destinations in Asia served by Farrell Lines. The trip was both exciting and extremely educational for all those who attended.

WBMB IS COMING

by Joyce Greenwald

Come the end of October, Baruch is going to be filled once again with the heavy sound of our radio station WBMB. A lot of good things have been happening in the station and there are lots more to come. Previously in the Student Center at 22nd St., WBMB has now moved to the basement in 880 FAB to bigger and better quarters. There is now a brand new 50-watt transmitter; quite an improvement over the 35-watt one. WBMB plans to have a transmitter in every building with radio devices in the lounge with which students will be able to control volumes.

Now that they have such good plans, WBMB is going to do what the audience asks for. The people at the station are getting along great, and what the students feel about programming. They're aiming to please Baruchians, so if you have any suggestions please feel free to get in touch with them.

On another spectrum, there is a station that has just featured a show with Professor Larkin, who will interview prominent people from all over town once a week. Don't be surprised if you hear Bess Myerson or Governor Rockefeller having a chat with Professor Larkin some day.

Things in the future look bright for the station. These are just paid advertisements on the air. Now, what about WBMB? The schedule is as follows:

Latin, and whatever else the audience asks for. The people at the station are getting along great, and what the students feel about programming. They're aiming to please Baruchians, so if you have any suggestions please feel free to get in touch with them.
The main flaw in the film is about two characters who are never fully developed.

Despite its flaws, MEAN STREETS, Jan Troell's Swedish-American film, should be a winner—well, you know the story.* It stars Harvey Keitel, Scarpine, C. J. Ramone, and Johnazioni. And, if you just dig the music, then you'll love this movie.

John Schlesinger's brilliant story, with its own vignettes of defeat and dreams of victory, is a lovely so that they can escape their problems. It is a film that you can't help but love. Segal and Ozerov, who are here for the first time, are superb. And in this case, the critics have been right en masse.
On Behalf of Ron Bruse

For the first time in the history of Baruch College, the new Student Government will have the power to call a general meeting of the entire student body. This unprecedented move, which is a direct result of the hard work of the Dean of Students, Mr. Ron Bruse, and his staff, is a significant step forward in the democratization of student government.

Mr. Bruse began the process of democratization by holding a series of meetings with the Student Government officials. He encouraged them to take initiative and to work together to effect change. The new Student Government will be responsible for making decisions that affect the entire student body, and it is up to them to ensure that the voice of every student is heard.

Mr. Bruse has also made it clear that he is committed to the idea of a united editorial front. His unprecedented vote was that of the Dean of Students, Mr. Ron Bruse, and it did not give him the power to be the sole decision-maker. Instead, Mr. Bruse was not allowed to be the final arbiter of what happens on campus.

In the background is the story of Mr. Bruse's time at Baruch in the past few years. He has worked tirelessly to improve the campus environment, and he has always put the needs of the students first. His dedication to student welfare is evident in his actions, and he has always been a strong advocate for the student body.

The new Student Government will be the result of Mr. Bruse's hard work and dedication. He has laid the foundation for a new era of student government, and he is confident that the new Student Government will be able to build upon this foundation and to make even more progress.

Spiro got run over by a Ford?

Letters to the Editor

The Asian Students Association will conduct a GENERAL CLUB MEETING on Oct. 18, 1973 at 12:00 in Room 103 24TH BUILDING

A Martial Arts Film will be shown in the Audio-Visual Room.

Following the Meeting

PLEASE COME AND JOIN US!

The Foreign Trade Society is proud to announce the first issue of The Foreign Trade Newsletter, a bi-monthly publication, Society summarizing current trends in International Trade, in International Finance, and political policy.

FSI: Helping others help themselves Room 1409
How to Form Your Own Club-Part II

By Howard Neuman

PART II is a refreshing selection of sensible suggestions for achieving your goals— had they not been written as if they were for the younger generation, you might have thought you'd been reading a book for a high school readership. Each chapter is concluded with an insight that makes you think of a new seminar the next time you visit a high school. It's a novel idea to maintain the viewpoint of an older generation on the younger generation, and this approach has been used successfully in this book. The author, Howard Neuman, has been a teacher for many years and has had a great deal of experience in working with students. His ideas are expressed in a straightforward manner, and the book is well-organized and easy to read. Overall, it's a worthwhile read for anyone interested in understanding the younger generation and their goals.
SPORTS SCENE

By STU APPLOFF

BASKETBALL

Last week a meeting was held by Coach Rosenberg as the first step towards preparing this fall’s JV and Varsity basketball teams for the upcoming season.

The purpose of the meeting was three-fold. First and foremost was the completion of eligibility cards. Coach Rosenberg stressed the point that the school’s first concern is for the student as a scholar rather than as an athlete. Only those players who retain grades acceptable to the school are allowed to continue to play for the team. There is no course for letting your education go to pot.

Another item on the agenda for the meeting was that of clearing all the prospective players medically. This year the JV players, 12 games and the Varsity 21, in health and condition will be of prime concern to the coaches.

Squares—The fourth item on the agenda was the selection of those players who will make up a 50-man JV team. This is the first year that Baruch will have a JV team, so Coach McDonald has his work cut out. Good luck to both him and his team.

The third item covered at the meeting was the mapping out of this week’s schedule. By this Wednesday the joint JV/Varsity squad must be down to 30 players. Then, by Friday the two separate squads must be down to 12 players each.

CROSS COUNTRY

Weekend before last Baruch raised its record to 2 wins and 1 loss by splitting a pair in a triangular meet at Van Cortlandt Park. The loss was at the hands (or feet) of New Paltz. The victory was over Maritime.

In the meet four Baruch runners achieved personal bests: Mortensen, Steve Tupper, Santo Zayas, and Hal Hanaway were clocked in 29:47, 30:27, 31:21 respectively.

Last week I wrote that a challenge might result in improved performances by the team. I believe that a marked improvement already has been shown.

Keep up the pace, guys. We’re with you.

THIS WEEK IN SPORTS

Soccer—This Wednesday, Oct. 17, Baruch entertains Kings Point in a MSC (Metropolitan Intercollegiate Soccer Conference) game at our home field which is located at 90th St. In Central Park. For the following Saturday (Oct. 20) the opponent is Brooklyn in a non-conference game at Brooklyn’s home field.

The Wednesday game begins at 3 P.M. The Saturday game starts at 11 A.M. For further details check with the Phys. Ed. staff.

Tennis—The match was the part of the annual meet in Brooklyn. The Baruch women won.

Bowling—The pins fly again this Saturday, Oct. 20, at Bowl-Mor Lanes. The keglers roll between 2 and 7 p.m.

If the price of sports is getting to you down then I’ve got a great idea for you. Why not head on out to one of the Baruch sports events going on throughout the city this week. The guys will be grateful for your support and, besides, you’ll get a kick out of it. As they say in one of those innocuous “commercials: “I’m Sure”.

Basketball Postscript: Just because the team meeting was last week doesn’t mean that you can’t still make the team. Even though there are returning members from last year’s squad there are still slots open on the Varsity. And don’t forget the newly augmented JV, too. Tryouts are being carried on at the armory on Lexington Ave. If you have any desires to make the team and feel you have the skills and know how to play college ball, then come on over to room 725 in the Main building and contact Coach Rosenberg or JV Coach McDonald.

...Until next week. PEACE.

Nov. 2
Is The Last Day
To Resign From Classes

George Kambouris

The National Honor Society in Psychology will hold its first meeting of the Fall Semester on Thursday, October 18th at 12:30 p.m.

in room 425 — 24th St. Bldg.

All Members Must Attend

New applicants are welcome

Psi Chi

TICKER STAFF MEETING

12:00, Thurs., October 18, Room 307F, S.C.

If you came to the first meeting, please attend.

If you want to join TICKER, you’re welcome too.

SQUARES

If you remove 4 sides of any of these squares from this geometric shape, there will remain 8 squares. Which ones?

---

The Political Science & Public Administration Society and the Departments of Political Science and Public Administration presents a forum on "Watergate, The Politics of Fear"

Come and hear your professors debate with students and other faculty members on the aspects of Watergate.

Date: October 18, 1973 — Time: 12-2

Place: Oak Lounge

REFRESHMENTS WILL BE SERVED