Baruch And The Mideast War: An Analysis

The treacherous attack of the Arab nations upon Israel brought the most holy Jewish day to a screeching halt — calling for her sons to drop their "sifduw" and attack themselves with such peaceful objects as artillery, bombardier's bridges, and the soil of their homeland.

What can we do? How can we reply to the stabbings reports we hear — to the deadly car that has spread over our homes? We can rally: we can protest the slandering and unjust treatment of Jews — not since the beginning of time but NOW! We cannot donate, but give our very life source, our blood with the hope of restoring the life of some mother's child. If we're more devoted than most, and we are, then we can go to Israel and take the place of a soldier working on a kibbutz so they don't have to pick up a gun. Peel potatoes! to have been the national anthem of Israel — but even that in itself was very symbolic on that theme the rally was to have been over but no one would let it — as everyone continued to sing and dance around the flag. We would not be put down just as Israel won't. She just won't.

Hundreds of dollars were collected at their rally along with many other universities. Blood was being donated by many of our students. The number to call in order to donate is 5097120 — the Beth Israel Hospital Volunteers are needed at Shaare Zedek — (East 49th Street) Contact Robert Lomzner, (Chairman of Young Adults) — call 752-3133. Volunteers to go to Israel and work on "kibbutzim" (must be over 18) are being accepted — call 752-3182.

Lahav Discusses Mideast War

Thursday, November 8, The Hebrew Club (Lahav) presented a very stimulating discussion, with Michael Peri as main speaker. Peri, a broadcaster for a major network in Israel, is also a professor of business at Tel Aviv University and a visiting professor at Columbia University. Israel born Peri, who was positioned in the Sinai during the Oct. 6 Arab-Israeli War was able to give an eye-witness account of what happened on the battlefield and in other areas of Israel. A large turnout of about 85 students and faculty members showed up.

Peri, a self-proclaimed dove, elaborated on many aspects of the war. He claimed that this was a war of dignity for the Arabs, who still held regard whether they should win or lose, or how many would die, even if casualties would run into the thousands. Israel, on the other hand, has to have been the national anthem of Israel — but even that in itself was very symbolic on that theme the rally was to have been over but no one would let it — as everyone continued to sing and dance around the flag. We would not be put down just as Israel won't. She just won't.

INSIDE SPORTS

BY STU APLEFOLY

Keeping up with the kids or something? I can't take it any longer. Let's move on to the pros.

That's my boys. Tex, Don, and Eddie. Bradley, Monroe, Read, and those other kids. New hold we have! Early back-up, Where are Read and those kids? Isn't it time to move on? Isn't it time to move on? Isn't it time to move on?

A quick look at you, which is always fun. The New York Giants are in the Super Bowl, and Vancouver is in the Stanley Cup.

And when things started to really get you down you could always turn to the bookies and say, "Help me. I want to win some money." And when things started to really get you down you could always turn to the bookies and say, "Help me. I want to win some money." And when things started to really get you down you could always turn to the bookies and say, "Help me. I want to win some money."

Well, today we have Watergate and the Middle East. Both are hot topics, and I'm sure you'll agree that the Middle East is a hot topic.

Let's see how our favorite sports are doing.

The Giants are in the Super Bowl, and Vancouver is in the Stanley Cup. How can they be slumping now? Playoffs don't start until April 1.

I guess by now I've made my point. What, New York is lacking? It's all true! How can they be slumping now? Playoffs don't start until April 1.

Look for the Rangers to finally win the cup in a tough seven game battle with the Philadelphia Flyers.

At this late stage, I'll simply pick finalists: Super Bowl, J; should be a heart, it's the Bluejays vs. the Vikings. Final score: Bluejays 7, Vikings 1.

I'm as close to an idiot as the next guy, so if you have any other opinions drop a line off at the TICKER office. I'll print some of the better ones (along with my honest answers).
