Student Government Workshop A Success

By KEVIN HOWARD DUBBOW

In beautiful Columbusville, New York at the Deer Park Farm Lodge, Student Personnel Services sponsored a "workshop for Day Session Student Government. The November 16-18 workshop featured skills in working together as well as how to activate change for Baruch.

Under the supervision of Mr. Ron Bruce, the workshop gave fifteen members of student government an opportunity to get to know their fellow senators better and to learn how to build a working Student Government. Mr. Bruce, Marcia Fitzgerald, Jim Perrone, Dean Irving Greer, Donna Sullo, James Johnson and Jose Rossy of SPS helped to make the experience a learning one and allowed the members of Council to learn what skills the SPS staff had to offer them.

Each participant was given a schedule of sessions, a notebook and a copy of James' Parliament Rules of Order. The schedule was planned by James Perrone and Marcia Fitzgerald of SPS and by Billy Fox, Deborah Daxon, and James Flanders of Student Government.

Session 1 was an orientation session that delved into the reasons why individual senators ran for student government and then had everyone share their reasons. The second session was a "Student Government and what is the role of the individual senator in the whole Student Government." Session 2 had three steps: one where everyone discussed the general: breaking into small discussion groups having the SPS staff come back and give feedback to the government through an interesting fish bowl process. A problem area which appropriately called DOG was the third session, in which you had to build a dog made up of many small pieces of colored cardboard squares. The whole group attempted and completed the task, then broke into smaller groups to discuss problem solving, which is a key concept for any legislative body.

The fourth session was designed for Senators to learn better use of Robert's Rules of Order through a mock meeting. Session five was discussion of the up and coming governance plan so Senators would know what it says and means. Session 6 was a wrap-up and a sharing of what was learned. Most Senators said they learned who they were. As people and this would help them to be more comfortable and constructive at Senate meetings as well as having learned and practiced speaking skills.

The workshop wasn't all cut and dried; there was plenty of fun of getting to know each other across a Senate table or members who were former Senators. They learned who the Senators were and---dried; there was—plenty of fun of learning. By KEVIN HOWARD DUBBOW
