Finkelman Speaks On Energy Problem

By BOB LIPSON

What is energetics and entropy, and where does it fit in American foreign policy in the Mideast, and the welfare of its citizens? Psychology Professor Jay Finkelman discussed this topic in his keynote lecture preceding a catered dinner for some thirty students at Hilltel, last Wednesday.

Professor Finkelman spoke in "general overall perspective of the "mild" energy crisis, energetics (ENERGY = COLOGY) is the term used for describing the trade off (delicate balance) maintained, and now, between in favor of being shat­tered, between methods of extracting sources of energy (oil, coal, etc.), and our environment. Energetics is the world's depiction proposed through its natural resources.

Semmerall his informal talk by proposing that the U.S. is in a scale crisis warranting urgent measures. He predicted that the U.S. will respond militarily only if Arab nation blackmail becomes serious.

On the home front, Finkelman said that the greatest threat to us in New York City was the massive breakdown in Con Ed's "Big Allis" generating plant on its Ravenswood, Queens site. It has the capacity to generate 1 billion watts or roughly 15% of our city's needs—when operating. If prolonged cold weather develops, he cautioned, we would be left with a 10% power reserve.

Finkelman believes that "there's a finite limit to which damage the Mideast crisis can do. Rabbi Basil Herring of Hilltel concurred, but added an ascerbic comment on the cocktail. Finkelman continued saying that the U.S., in his opinion, "will not yield to blackmail as . . . the F.B.I. doesn't make deals, either."

Seniors Issue Evaluation Of Bruse; Called Vague; P&B Process Starts Over?

Dean of Students Roy R. Senser has made the following evaluation of Mr. Ron Bruse of the Department of Student Personnel Services.

MEMORANDUM OF SUMMARY OF FALL EVALUATION CONFERENCE HELD ON TUESDAY, DECEMBER 11, 1973 WITH THE FACULTY MEMBER BEING REVIEWED, MR. RONALD W. BRUSE.

As Chairman of the Department and Dean of Students, I have evaluated Mr. Bruse for the period covered since his last evaluation which was in the late spring of 1973. Essentially however, it covered the fall semester, to date, for 1973. I told Mr. Bruse this was an unsatisfactory evaluation.

I pointed out to Mr. Bruse that there has been some improvement in his overall performance since the spring of 1973, but there was still room for more improvement in terms of informing his supervisor of what he was able to present to his responsibilities at the College. Mr. Bruse pointed out that he failed to come in on only four occasions, this semester. One time when his sister's family had some sort of crisis and once when he had a job interview. I also pointed out to him that he frequently appeared at the College when he was not scheduled to be here, which was somewhat discouraging to me and found his presence disruptive at least in the use of office space.

I noted there has been a continuing difficulty on his part in functioning within the hierarchy of the College. I pointed out that no one person subsumes policy at the College, and specifically within the Department of Student Personnel Services.

The first Governance Plan Hearings was scheduled to be held in room 4 North in the Main Building at 6 p.m. on Wednesday, December 5th, at 6:30 p.m. The hearing started with 200 members, Dear Dean of Faculties, Bill Monat, and Kevin Dubrow present. Dean Monat and Mr. Dubrow discussed the plan at length and by 6 p.m. three more students and one faculty member appeared. The students were Michael Verfel, Michael Gibbs, and Joyce Rosenburg with the faculty member being Ron Bruse. The small group withdrew where others were and went on discussing the plan. Charles Green, graduate student, then joined the group to make the total number of participants for the hearing seven.

Vote "NO"

This Wednesday, December 18th, the students of Baruch College will vote on the proposed governance charter. They will do so to determine whether or not the system that the administration, which wants to see the charter pass, believes is the best. The charter contains the by-laws and the distribution of duties and responsibilities of the various governing bodies and committees. It is important what they are voting on in the today. This is not the time to allow the administration to get their way.

When the administration told us that the charter was to be operated against their economic interests. But, in such a way that would have a legitimate reason for disregarding students voting on the fact that the government charter affirms that administration is of the college.

Any vote, why are students only the advisory group? The governance system continues to downgrade their role. And so students in the college's government include the students and themselves. His administration will be carried on the same process. The PKD process. Will students be listened to when they will? Who will be their group? Who are the students in the governance process.

TICKER urges students to vote "NO" on governance for this reason. And we will place with student body by "yes" action, un the vote and not vote for or against the charter.

Merry Christmas

Letters To The Editor

The Editor

December 10, 1973

I wish to address myself to the Board of Trustees of Baruch College. As President of the Eastern College Faculty Association of Baruch College, I wish to express the concern of the E.C.F.A., with regard to the Research Foundation's financing of the English Department's activities. It is my understanding that the majority of the Department's income has been composed of approximately $150,000 annually. While I have not had the opportunity to examine the financial records of the Department in detail, I am disturbed by the possibility of undue influence on the direction of the Department's work due to the financial relationship between the Research Foundation and the Department. Therefore, I would like to express to the Board of Trustees the concern of the E.C.F.A. with regard to this matter. Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

I am writing to express my concern about the English Department at Baruch College. As a member of the English Department, I have observed some disturbing trends in the way the Department is being run. In particular, I am concerned about the way in which the English Department is being used as a tool for the advancement of the Research Foundation's agendas. I believe that the English Department should be used to promote the interests of the students and the Faculty, rather than the Research Foundation.

Sincerely,

In The Streets

By KEVIN BOURNE DUBSON

The streets of Baruch College are once again filled with students, professors, and administration. The college is open for business, and the community is ready to get back to work.

The plan should be outlined in detail, and the administration should be held accountable for its actions. The students have a right to know what is happening in their college, and the administration should be transparent in its dealings with them.

Sincerely,

Commentary

BY MICHAEL FISHER

As a reader of the front page, I must say that I am a bit disappointed with the way it has been presented. The coverage was not as thorough as I would have liked.

I think that there needs to be a better understanding of the issues involved. I believe that more attention should be given to the concerns of the students and the faculty.

Sincerely,

5 School Records Set At USCGS Academy Meet
Freshman Tyrone Cunningham, garnering one second place finish and one third place finish with two school records in the process, highlighted the Statesmen victory over the U.S. Coast Guard Academy Invitational Track Meet on Dec. 11.

Cunningham, an Air Force cadet, placed second in the 60 yard dash with a time of 6.4 seconds—a school record—followed by freshman George Bailey at 6.4 and sophomore Carson Tait, last season's MVP, at 6.8 seconds.

Ty set his second school record by taking third place in the 60 yard high hurdles crossing the finish line in 8.6 seconds. Tait finished out of the money in the hurdles with a time of 8.2 seconds.

It was a good day for the distance runners as two school records were lowered in the one-mile and two-mile runs. Sophomore Gerry Mortensen set the mile record with a time of 4:39.0 and freshman Steve Topper set the two-mile mark coming across the finish line at 9:52.5.

The fifth record was set by the two-mile relay team. The record-setting time of 8:58.8 was a result of efforts by sophomore Frank D'amato (1st leg) and Topper (2nd leg), freshman Klaudia (3rd leg) and Mortensen (4th leg). The time outmatches combined for a time of 8:58.8 in the mile race. Baruch won the meet by 50 points over the Statesmen.

Baruch Attends D.C. Seminar
Burton Mitchell was selected to represent Baruch at a seminar in Washington, D.C. beginning November 27, 1973. Burton Mitchell is the Executive Committee of the Baruch Chapter of Beta Gamma Sigma. He is a senior at Baruch, graduating in June 1974 with a BBA degree in Accounting.

Mitchell is one of only 20 students nationwide to attend the 3-day seminar, sponsored by the United States Accounting Office of Commerce (GAP) and attempts primarily to acquaint the students with specific economic issues in government.
