Caribbean Program Getting Under Way; Students Still Able To Sign Up

The School of Liberal Arts and Sciences is making available to all Baruch College students for the first time an experimental interdisciplinary survey of the Caribbean, under the direction of Dr. Ronald J. Perusse, Professor of Political Science and Director of Inter-American Studies, Inter-American University. Dr. Perusse will be assisted by full Professors in the University whose specializations are in the fields of Sociology, Economics, and History.

The deadline for receipt of applications for the Baruch College Survey of the Caribbean is May 7. The three-credit course will be held in San Juan, Puerto Rico from August 7 through August 28, 1974. The $30 deposit is also required by May 7. Soon after filing-deadline date, students will receive their registration materials.

Student response to the offering of this program has been enthusiastic, and it is hoped those interested who have not yet completed their applications will do so at once. The number of actual applications received so far is twenty-five. The program can accommodate an additional twenty-five students.

Dean Brown's office has tried to answer all questions on an individual basis and will continue to do so. The following are answers to questions which have been frequently asked:

1. The course can be taken in addition to the maximum summer session load of nine credits.

2. Three semester hours of undergraduate electives credit will be granted after successful completion of the course.

3. The course includes 24 hours of lecture, field trips and a writing project and a final exam. Knowledge of the Spanish language is not required.

4. There are a limited number of scholarships available to bilingual students with advanced standing.

5. The enrollment in this course is not necessarily limited to Baruch College students. Any student in good standing in the City University of New York System can also apply.

6. The course syllabus will be available to enrolled students before the end of the current semester.

7. Information regarding the Hato Rey Motel and the location of the North-South center in San Juan, etc., will also be distributed at this time.

Application for the Course Appears on Page 9 of This Issue. Applications may also be secured from the Office of the Dean of Liberal Arts and Sciences.

On April 25 the Second Annual Honors Colloquium and Reception was held in the Faculty Lounge, 24th St. Building. The affair was planned to honor those students who have elected to enter advanced independent study and the instructors who have given over their time and competence to these students. Eight academic departments -- Psychology, History, Economics & Finance, Political Science, Statistics, Sociology, Marketing, and English -- were favorably represented.

Mr. David Rudolph (English), Chairman of the College Honors Committee, was host and leading raconteur at the festivities which included wine, cheese, and a good deal of "elitist" conversation.

The Honors Program is available to students majoring in the fields encompassed by the departments listed above. Standard requirements of good academic standing are vital for all plus specialized requirements set up for the individual departments. Those students in departments not presently conducting the Program are urged to lobby for its administration in their respective fields.

SEEK Scholarship Award Ceremony Ahead

On May 16, 1974, at 4:00 P.M., The Honorable Armando Montano will speak at Baruch College's Third Annual Awards Ceremony held by the SEEK Scholarship & Welfare Fund. Carl McCall, candidate for the State Senate in the 28th District, will also make remarks and present the awards. The Contemporary Gospel Choir of the High School of Music and Art will perform. The occasion will be held to honor SEEK students who have distinguished themselves academically.

The Fund was established through contributions of the faculty and staff of the Department of Compensatory Programs to provide scholarship awards and plaques to SEEK students who have outstanding scholastic averages and to inspire all other students toward academic excellence.

This year cash awards and plaques will be presented to three students with A averages and plaques to those who maintained a B average. Five additional students will be given special recognition for academic excellence.

My column last week on no intersession surely brought about consciousness. Students decided that if they complained, they would have to do some work to change things
and decided to accept no intersession next winter. Great going for collective apathy and while others are vacationing next year, I hope your absorbing all the learning you can in and out of

duced about and don't let any issue bar you from your non-task.

down one street during lunch time to enable students to enjoy free food, music, hots, acts,
carrying out the activity.

Street and sound permit problems were overwhelming this semester. As the pressure mounted, the feasibility of the event dwindled. Many, many, people

The Society would also like to thank Dean R. Senour, speaking for the College, and Judge F. Kelly, speaking for the Family Court, for their attempt to find an acceptable means of handling the situation.

The Society understands now the unreasonable attitude it acquired by trying to close down one street during lunch time to enable students to enjoy free food, music, hots, acts, and the opportunity to see Mayor Beame. We apologize to the community for the lack of results, and again thank all those who were involved.

THE WEEKEND—space is limited, so if you are interested in some fun for a weekend, get your application in soon.

NO SPRING DAY

This Wednesday's scheduled
Spring Day has been cancelled due to Baruch being unable to get Lexington Avenue between 22nd and 23rd Streets closed down. It's wonderful to have a neighbor that couldn't give a shit
about Baruch and won't allow us to get a permit (person is not connected to any stores in the neighborhood). I was also told that part of the blame lies with Dean Senour for not helping the group and really letting all concerned down.

The leadership of the Spring
Day Committee told me that the irrational lack of cooperation from Baruch Administration (with President Wingfield and Dean Senour being named specifically) led to the downfall. This means no music, food or partying for Baruch College and we don't even get a campus for one day a year.
