Baruch's arrows are pointing in the direction of downtown Brooklyn, with indications that between five and ten years from now Baruch College will be spread out on a new campus. Through recent interviews with Baruch's Vice-President for Academic affairs William Monat and the Director of Campus Planning Constantin Fakas, this information about Baruch's moving plans has been made available to TICKER. Mr. Monat explained that the site design for this campus was made on an approximately fifteen acre tract of real estate near the Long Island Railroad Atlantic Terminal. This area is part of an urban renewal project in a neighborhood of low and middle income housing, on the edge of a business district. Fort Greene is in the vicinity. The land is not yet cleared of existing structures and ownership of the site has not yet been transferred to the City University from the city. Money to finance the campus construction and designs will be provided by the State Dormitory Authority, if and when the governor authorizes the SDA to increase its funding commitments to the City University by a speculated $100-110 million. (The SDA is a bonding and building agent which sells bonds on the market and uses its funds to finance construction in the city and state university system.) Once this happens, architects will have to be hired, plans drawn, bids received, contracts let, construction commenced—this can be a long process or an expedient one, according to Mr. Monat.

An optimistic approach was taken by Campus Planning Director Fakas when he revealed that the process of preliminary planning, which usually takes from two to three years, was accomplished in less than six months with the cooperation of everyone involved. Fakas stated that the plan is expected to be submitted for approval by the Board of Higher Education at a meeting which will take place by the end of October. If the plan is approved, a book compiling all the information will be made public. Proposals included in the plan are related to the shape and system of allocation of the limited space within which the campus will be built. Architects have studied the effects the campus will have on community relations. In their designs of the campus, the architects and consultants have considered the needs of the college and the effects noise and air pollution may have on students and faculty. An attempt was made to give a feeling of openness. Circular articles into the campus will be easy due to the wide

(Continued on page 7)

There are powerful arguments which advocate the political neutrality of this newspaper, and we are confident that all candidates for office will agree with us on this point. Government elections, like other elections, are not based on vital ethical considerations; a few are special or self-serving. The former we have pondered with much care and deliberate sympathy. The latter we have quite freely ignored.

We cannot, however, editorially disapprove of the political reality which confronts us all as Day Session members of the Baruch College community. We cannot countenance this in good conscience and successfully maintain the policies and practices which have been the hallmark of TICKER for more than four decades.

Thus, for...

More On The Move

by BOB GUILANO

Director of Campus Planning Constantin Fakas announced last week that his office was implementing measures to alleviate overcrowded conditions at the college.

Effective immediately, all 8:30 a.m. classes in 360 Park Avenue student government (in this capacity as vice-chairperson) legally safe. Fire drills will be held this week on the campus. Students with procedures and emergency exits, should a fire occur.

Baruch is trying to obtain additional classroom space. Negotiations are in progress and an announcement of new space is expected within a few weeks.

Treasurer

For the Office of the Treasurer of Day Session Student Government we urge the election of Mr. Jake Jutkowitz.

This office requires of its occupant the highest sense of personal integrity, expertise, experience and apolitical virtue. This is particularly true as we all labor under one of the most ambiguous and cumbersome Constitutional processes of financial regulation and disbursement in the City University of New York.

In our view, Mr. Jutkowitz possesses each of these qualities in large measure.

Mr. Jutkowitz has served as editor of Lexicon '74, which was the first Baruch College yearbook to operate at a satisfactory profit. Mr. Jutkowitz is co-author of a far-reaching and innovative plan to revamp existing fee disbursement procedures.

In short, Mr. Jutkowitz fills the bill. Eminently...

We earnestly wish both Mr. Allan Fisher and Mr. Jake Jutkowitz their deserved victories in the elections tomorrow. And, finally...

Chairperson

For the Office of the Chairpersonship of the Day Session Student Government we urge the election of Mr. Allan Fisher.

We have carefully surveyed each one of the six candidates for this office. Our consideration has been a searching, thoughtful and time-consuming effort. And we have scrutinized each candidate on the criteria of substantive contributions to the Baruch College community; personal integrity and expertise; experience and apolitical virtue.

We recognize that substantive contributions to the Baruch College community indicate knowledge and experience of the college bureaucracy.

—Mr. Fisher forced the college Administration to accept responsibility when it had defaulted on the enforcement of Article 15 of the BHE by-laws. That particular article had to do with the equitable disbursement of your activity fees.

We recognize that previous positions attained, whether student governmental or otherwise, indicate the acceptability, faith and trust of others, be they peers or superiors.

—Mr. Fisher has served as president of the quietly impressive History Society and as an active member of the Student Activities Program Board.

We recognize personal initiative on (of course) its own merits.

—Mr. Fisher, a relative unknown in the elusively world of Day Session politics, has launched what we hope will be a successful initiative demonstrating his qualifications for the pinnacle office of our elective system.

We recognize that the degree of nonpartisanship both exhibited and attainable are satisfactory clues to the fairness and integrity with which the candidate will govern himself once in office.

—Mr. Fisher is an independent. He is not supported (nor, obviously, controlled) by any one of the politically powerful ethnic/ fraternal or academic student organizations. And that is a credential long lacking in the office. Mr. Fisher seeks.

And, to join Mr. Fisher, the...

Tomorrow

Tomorrow, Wednesday, October 16th, volunteers will canvass classes to ensure that the number of Day Session students voting rises above 30 percent.

President Wingfield has promised that he will not validate the election of plurality winners should we fail to poll that infamous figure.

That would be disastrous. Need we say more?

THE EDITORIAL BOARD
Carson Hosts Talk

The Veteran's Association of Baruch College invites you to the grand re-opening of the Student Center Auditorium. The event will feature a talk by Professor Emile Capouya, the noted scholar of the French Revolution. Capouya will discuss his research on Louis XVI and the events leading up to the fall of the monarchy. The talk will be followed by a Q&A session. The event is free and open to the public. Please join us on Wednesday, October 19th at 7:00 PM in the Student Center Auditorium. For more information, please contact the Veteran's Association at 212-357-2765.

Out of UNIFORM

The Committee To Foment Democracy Supports Lewis Tucker for Chairman

For the kind of Action we need!!!

VETS "UNITED WE STAND"

The following are Veterans who are seeking office:

Franklin Hendrik - Chairperson
Joseph O. Perez - Rep at Large
Gilroy E. Thomas - Junior

Meet & Hear Candidates

Meet & Hear Candidates Tues., Oct. 16 6:30 to 8:00 P.M.
In The Auditorium 23rd St. Bldg.

E.S.S.A. Election Comm.

Feuds & News

What To Do...

How to get past you...

Baruch College plays the role of a bank and similar financial institutions in the financial crisis of 1929, in the setting of a new play called "The Banker" by Steven Rosenberg. The play will be performed at the Baruch College Auditorium on October 28th at 8:00 PM. Tickets are $5.00 and can be purchased at the door. For more information, please contact the Baruch College Theater Department at 212-357-2765.

CAN YOU TUTOR IN ACCOUNTING?

THE ACCOUNTING SOCIETY NEEDS TUTORS

DO YOU NEED HELP IN ACCOUNTING?

ACCOUNTING TUTORS AVAILABLE

CONTACT: Accounting Society Room 306C 23rd Street
ALSO: We have a Walk-In Tutoring Program for accounting students on a temporary basis. Hours are Mon., Tues., Wed., & Fri., 1 - 2 PM; Thurs. 2 - 3 PM Room 306C.
LETTERS

Candidates Debate

by NANCY BOWKER and MICHAEL FISHER

To take their respective campaign to the campus, Thursday night the College Student Government held a debate scheduled for the election. The debate was attended by Michael Fishbein, the President of the Student Senate, and Richard Rodriguez, the President of the Junior Class.

The meeting of the three candidates, Alan Fisher, Paul Joseph and Michael Fishbein was held in the Main Building.

The candidates were given an opportunity to present their viewpoints on the major issues that affect the students of Baruch College.

The debate was moderated by Michael Fishbein and lasted for about forty minutes. The candidates were given ten minutes each to present their arguments.

The candidates answered questions from the audience and also addressed some of the concerns that were raised during the debate.

The debate was an opportunity for the students to learn more about the candidates and their viewpoints on the issues that affect them.

Candidates Debate

by NANCY BOWKER and MICHAEL FISHER

To take their respective campaign to the campus, Thursday night the College Student Government held a debate scheduled for the election. The debate was attended by Michael Fishbein, the President of the Student Senate, and Richard Rodriguez, the President of the Junior Class.

The meeting of the three candidates, Alan Fisher, Paul Joseph and Michael Fishbein was held in the Main Building.

The candidates were given an opportunity to present their viewpoints on the major issues that affect the students of Baruch College.

The debate was moderated by Michael Fishbein and lasted for about forty minutes. The candidates were given ten minutes each to present their arguments.

The candidates answered questions from the audience and also addressed some of the concerns that were raised during the debate.

The debate was an opportunity for the students to learn more about the candidates and their viewpoints on the issues that affect them.

Candidates Debate

by NANCY BOWKER and MICHAEL FISHER

To take their respective campaign to the campus, Thursday night the College Student Government held a debate scheduled for the election. The debate was attended by Michael Fishbein, the President of the Student Senate, and Richard Rodriguez, the President of the Junior Class.

The meeting of the three candidates, Alan Fisher, Paul Joseph and Michael Fishbein was held in the Main Building.

The candidates were given an opportunity to present their viewpoints on the major issues that affect the students of Baruch College.

The debate was moderated by Michael Fishbein and lasted for about forty minutes. The candidates were given ten minutes each to present their arguments.

The candidates answered questions from the audience and also addressed some of the concerns that were raised during the debate.

The debate was an opportunity for the students to learn more about the candidates and their viewpoints on the issues that affect them.

Candidates Debate

by NANCY BOWKER and MICHAEL FISHER

To take their respective campaign to the campus, Thursday night the College Student Government held a debate scheduled for the election. The debate was attended by Michael Fishbein, the President of the Student Senate, and Richard Rodriguez, the President of the Junior Class.

The meeting of the three candidates, Alan Fisher, Paul Joseph and Michael Fishbein was held in the Main Building.

The candidates were given an opportunity to present their viewpoints on the major issues that affect the students of Baruch College.

The debate was moderated by Michael Fishbein and lasted for about forty minutes. The candidates were given ten minutes each to present their arguments.

The candidates answered questions from the audience and also addressed some of the concerns that were raised during the debate.

The debate was an opportunity for the students to learn more about the candidates and their viewpoints on the issues that affect them.

Candidates Debate

by NANCY BOWKER and MICHAEL FISHER

To take their respective campaign to the campus, Thursday night the College Student Government held a debate scheduled for the election. The debate was attended by Michael Fishbein, the President of the Student Senate, and Richard Rodriguez, the President of the Junior Class.

The meeting of the three candidates, Alan Fisher, Paul Joseph and Michael Fishbein was held in the Main Building.

The candidates were given an opportunity to present their viewpoints on the major issues that affect the students of Baruch College.

The debate was moderated by Michael Fishbein and lasted for about forty minutes. The candidates were given ten minutes each to present their arguments.

The candidates answered questions from the audience and also addressed some of the concerns that were raised during the debate.

The debate was an opportunity for the students to learn more about the candidates and their viewpoints on the issues that affect them.

Candidates Debate

by NANCY BOWKER and MICHAEL FISHER

To take their respective campaign to the campus, Thursday night the College Student Government held a debate scheduled for the election. The debate was attended by Michael Fishbein, the President of the Student Senate, and Richard Rodriguez, the President of the Junior Class.

The meeting of the three candidates, Alan Fisher, Paul Joseph and Michael Fishbein was held in the Main Building.

The candidates were given an opportunity to present their viewpoints on the major issues that affect the students of Baruch College.

The debate was moderated by Michael Fishbein and lasted for about forty minutes. The candidates were given ten minutes each to present their arguments.

The candidates answered questions from the audience and also addressed some of the concerns that were raised during the debate.

The debate was an opportunity for the students to learn more about the candidates and their viewpoints on the issues that affect them.

Candidates Debate

by NANCY BOWKER and MICHAEL FISHER

To take their respective campaign to the campus, Thursday night the College Student Government held a debate scheduled for the election. The debate was attended by Michael Fishbein, the President of the Student Senate, and Richard Rodriguez, the President of the Junior Class.

The meeting of the three candidates, Alan Fisher, Paul Joseph and Michael Fishbein was held in the Main Building.

The candidates were given an opportunity to present their viewpoints on the major issues that affect the students of Baruch College.

The debate was moderated by Michael Fishbein and lasted for about forty minutes. The candidates were given ten minutes each to present their arguments.

The candidates answered questions from the audience and also addressed some of the concerns that were raised during the debate.

The debate was an opportunity for the students to learn more about the candidates and their viewpoints on the issues that affect them.

Candidates Debate

by NANCY BOWKER and MICHAEL FISHER

To take their respective campaign to the campus, Thursday night the College Student Government held a debate scheduled for the election. The debate was attended by Michael Fishbein, the President of the Student Senate, and Richard Rodriguez, the President of the Junior Class.

The meeting of the three candidates, Alan Fisher, Paul Joseph and Michael Fishbein was held in the Main Building.

The candidates were given an opportunity to present their viewpoints on the major issues that affect the students of Baruch College.

The debate was moderated by Michael Fishbein and lasted for about forty minutes. The candidates were given ten minutes each to present their arguments.

The candidates answered questions from the audience and also addressed some of the concerns that were raised during the debate.

The debate was an opportunity for the students to learn more about the candidates and their viewpoints on the issues that affect them.

Candidates Debate

by NANCY BOWKER and MICHAEL FISHER

To take their respective campaign to the campus, Thursday night the College Student Government held a debate scheduled for the election. The debate was attended by Michael Fishbein, the President of the Student Senate, and Richard Rodriguez, the President of the Junior Class.

The meeting of the three candidates, Alan Fisher, Paul Joseph and Michael Fishbein was held in the Main Building.

The candidates were given an opportunity to present their viewpoints on the major issues that affect the students of Baruch College.

The debate was moderated by Michael Fishbein and lasted for about forty minutes. The candidates were given ten minutes each to present their arguments.

The candidates answered questions from the audience and also addressed some of the concerns that were raised during the debate.

The debate was an opportunity for the students to learn more about the candidates and their viewpoints on the issues that affect them.

Candidates Debate

by NANCY BOWKER and MICHAEL FISHER

To take their respective campaign to the campus, Thursday night the College Student Government held a debate scheduled for the election. The debate was attended by Michael Fishbein, the President of the Student Senate, and Richard Rodriguez, the President of the Junior Class.

The meeting of the three candidates, Alan Fisher, Paul Joseph and Michael Fishbein was held in the Main Building.

The candidates were given an opportunity to present their viewpoints on the major issues that affect the students of Baruch College.

The debate was moderated by Michael Fishbein and lasted for about forty minutes. The candidates were given ten minutes each to present their arguments.

The candidates answered questions from the audience and also addressed some of the concerns that were raised during the debate.

The debate was an opportunity for the students to learn more about the candidates and their viewpoints on the issues that affect them.

Candidates Debate

by NANCY BOWKER and MICHAEL FISHER

To take their respective campaign to the campus, Thursday night the College Student Government held a debate scheduled for the election. The debate was attended by Michael Fishbein, the President of the Student Senate, and Richard Rodriguez, the President of the Junior Class.

The meeting of the three candidates, Alan Fisher, Paul Joseph and Michael Fishbein was held in the Main Building.

The candidates were given an opportunity to present their viewpoints on the major issues that affect the students of Baruch College.

The debate was moderated by Michael Fishbein and lasted for about forty minutes. The candidates were given ten minutes each to present their arguments.

The candidates answered questions from the audience and also addressed some of the concerns that were raised during the debate.

The debate was an opportunity for the students to learn more about the candidates and their viewpoints on the issues that affect them.
The Audience Died

by Sharon Drisko

"Buried Alive," Mimi Post, the American propaganda of Israel’s Jews, is currently a phenomenon in the book market. The book has been praised for its clear and concise depiction of the Israeli-Palestinian conflict. However, the book has also been criticized for its one-sided view of the conflict. The debate continues.

NOTICE

Baruch College Counseling Division is currently forming small groups to help students with their personal and academic problems. The groups will meet weekly and will be facilitated by trained counselors. Participation is voluntary and confidential. To join a group, please contact the Counseling Division at ext. 8212.

Take Note

Student Activities Office: Room 307 in the Student Center. Please visit the office or call ext. 8212 for more information.

Unhappily, Ticker has been forced to raise its advertising rates. Interested members and groups of Baruch College are urged to obtain a copy of the new rates at the Ticker office. Room 307 in the Student Center.
African Action Association Supports Tucker for Chairman!! Why?

The membership of our organization feel that Mr. Tucker is the only candidate ready, willing and able to effectively represent the student body. We feel that he will mesh all elements of the student council in a mature and intelligent fashion. Vote for responsible leadership, vote Tucker Chairman!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!

---

Carlos Montoya

World’s Foremost Flamenco Guitarist

In Concert

Mon. Oct. 21 7:30 P.M.

Auditorium - Main Building

Tickets Available At Information Desk, Student Center

Free To Baruch Students With I.D.

$1.00 To Baruch Faculty Staff, & Alumni

$2.50 To General Public

Sponsored By The Fine Arts Committee Of The Student-Faculty Program Board

---

Classified

Mike F. And Ralph S.

Lessons in Contemporary Spelling Available With Assistance at 1847, 360 Pas.

Love, Fran B.

Fran B. Can We Take It Pass/Fail? Love, Mike F. And Ralph S.

Dulcimer Lessons—Experienced Teacher Right Across Town from Baruch. Call A. Barsh 929-6595.

LBF: You’re Fantastic. I’m Growing in Love with You. I.

Beginning Thursday, October 10, and Every Thursday After, the "Rap and Knot" Club Will Meet. RM. 1750, 360 Pas.

From 11:30 AM To 1 PM With Prof. Claire Brody. All Welcome. Coffee Available.

Earn Big Money In Spare Time. Sell Business and Executive Gifts in Your Company and in Other Companies As Well for Profit. Information Call 268-3012.

Congratulations to John and Sandy Carielli on the Birth of Their 7 Lb. 9 Oz. Son Michael Paul (Col. Dept. 20th). Mike Sucher.

Baruch Faculty Women’s Committee Will Meet on Tuesday, October 15th at 3 P.M. In the North Lounge on the Second Floor of the Student Center.

All Transfer Students Majoring in the Teaching of English and Typewriting or in Office Management and Secretarial Studies Who Have Completed the Entire Sequence in Short Hand and Typewriting at a Community College Should Present Themselves for Evaluation Examination to Be Held in Room 1501, 23rd St. Building on Thursday, October 10 (Short Hand), 12 Noon, and Thursday, October 24 (Typewriting), 12 Noon. Please Ask for particulars at the Administrative Assistant’s Desk, Department of Education, 315 Park Ave. S., 10th Floor, On or Before October 7, 1974.

Congratulations! Thanks to the Person or Persons Involved in the Decision to Use the Freight Elevator—At 360 P.A.S.—To Take Students to Their Various Floors During Periods of Heavy Traffic. It Is Small Changes Like This That Make the Difference Between a Pleased and a Disgruntled Student Body. Christopher Niles.

Faculty, Staff & Students. If Anyone Is Interested in Having a Baruch International Student Attend Thanksgiving Dinner at His or Her Home, Please Contact R. Stolinsky, Coordinator, Foreign Student Affairs, RM. 1739, X 360 Pas., #725-7191.

Attention All Concerned Students! Due to Prejudices of “Higher Authority,” Dr. Carl Word, Only Black Psych Prop in Baruch, Who Has Enlightened Baruch Students for Three Years, May Be Fired for Carrying Out His Beliefs. All Concerned Students Who Would Like to Know More or Help Keep Him Come to RM. 427—24th St. Tues., Oct. 15, 12 Noon. Time Is of Essence.

Pottery From Spring 1974 Ceramic Courses Will Be Thrown Away Oct. 15.

Attention! Lib Arts, Eco Majors and All Students Interested in Banking Careers. Come to Oak Lounge—S.C. At 10:00 AM On Wed., Oct. 16.