Students Unite In Albany

By Jim Hedges

College students from the campuses of S U N Y and S U N Y at Albany last Tuesday in an effort to head off legislation which is passing in the State legislature which would drastically cut funds to both institutions.

At approximately 4:00 p.m. several thousand students marched through the streets of Albany to the State Capitol building where they assembled to listen to speakers representing all of the colleges involved. The upsurge of the demonstration was soon dampened; however, due to rising hopes as to the future. This is the first time that a student was heard in Albany.

Wingfield Urged To Oppose Shah's Repression

By STEVE MORITZ

This is an open letter to all the students of the City University of New York. It concerns recent events in Iran and is addressed to the office of the President, the Board of Trustees, and the Senate of the Teachers College.

The President of the United Nations, Hans Kelsen, has called for an International Conference on Human Rights. One of the main issues has been the situation in Iran. There have been widespread reports of arrests and torture of students and political dissidents. We are writing this letter to express our concern about the situation in Iran and to urge the City University to support the International Conference on Human Rights.

We believe that the United Nations should take a strong stand against the repression in Iran. We urge the City University to support the International Conference on Human Rights and to call for an end to the repression in Iran.

We ask that you consider signing this letter and sending it to the appropriate authorities. We also ask that you consider making a contribution to a human rights organization in Iran.

Sincerely,

By JEFFREY L. AMBROSTER

Mr. Ambroster's poetry appears here as "memories of her lovely face.

My only friends are fragments of past days,

But we are all alone in her place.

Again, I am in love with her face.

Everything is essential, she is

With my eyes and my mind my diaries are intrinsic.

To the love...

Military Recruiting Fraud

By BRUCE J. MEYERS
The most risky thing for a scout to do is to try to predict what will happen in the upcoming season. However, if we were to try to predict what will happen in the Eastern and Western Divisions, we might be able to determine the winners and losers in the American and National Leagues in 1976.

The key to success in the American League may be the ability to attract more young men to the U.S. Army. This is because the Army's recruiting efforts have been successful in attracting young men to the military, and the military's ability to attract young men has been growing in recent years.

The key to success in the National League may be the ability to attract more young men to the U.S. Navy. This is because the Navy's recruiting efforts have been successful in attracting young men to the military, and the military's ability to attract young men has been growing in recent years.

Overall, the American and National Leagues are expected to be very competitive in 1976, with both leagues having the potential to win their respective divisions. However, the key to success in both leagues will be the ability to attract more young men to the military.
