Goverance Charter Fails

By Edmund Umeland

A revision of Baruch College’s Governance Charter, proposed by the Faculty Senate, was not passed in separate balloting of the faculty and students.

The Charter provides that at least 30 percent of the students must cast a ballot to approve any proposed amendment, and only 3.763, or 27 percent of 13,980 students eligible to vote in student governance elections had cast ballots received as of May 2nd, dealing a blow to attempts to amend the Charter 248, or 47 percent of 525 faculty and staff members cast ballots on the question. 42 percent of the students voted in favor, 19 percent against and 39 percent abstained. Of the votes from the faculty and staff, 82 percent were in favor, 14 percent were against and 4 percent abstained.

It is now for Joe Segall, President of Baruch College, to decide whether to ask the Board of Trustees of the City University of New York (CUNY) for a waiver of the part of the Charter preventing the implementation of the proposed revision. Asked to comment on this, Segall said, “I’m not sure yet. I think the (Norman Storer, Chairman of the Faculty Senate) will go to the faculty who refused to allow ballots to be distributed in those classes, and try to get some more student votes.” His reluctance stemmed from the fact that this amendment would reduce the necessary student participation from 30 to 20 percent, and that the revision is the kind of question in which students should have an interest.

The Charter, which describes the ordering of decision-making at Baruch, was the subject of a revision attempt that sought, among other things, to clarify the wording, to repeal or modify obsolete sections and to provide for more diversity in faculty participation in college governance.

According to Associate Professor

Continued on Page 7

Biddle Named New Librarian

By Marcelo Trianfo

Stanton F. Biddle, who was recently named as the new chief librarian, assumed the vacant position last Tuesday, May 1st.

Biddle comes to Baruch after having served for five years as Director of Planning and Development at the University of Chicago Library in the 1970’s. He holds a B.A. degree in Government from Howard University in Washington, D.C., and Master’s degrees from Atlanta University and New York University; he is currently a doctoral candidate at the University of California at Berkeley.

Assistant Provost and Acting Dean of Liberal Arts Robert McDermott, who headed the search committee for the new chief librarian, reported that Biddle was a unanimous choice for the position. According to McDermott, Biddle had met all the criteria: considerations in education, technological, work and administrative experience and leadership ability. It was this last criterion that McDermott gave specific mention. “Here, we were especially delighted by all of the reports we heard about Mr. Biddle. all of which indicated that although he is very calm and low-key, cheerful, he is very clear and very firm. So he is not a hysterical type; at the same time, he doesn’t just blow with the wind.”

“I thought, career-wise, it was time for me to make a change,” Biddle commented on his decision to leave Buffalo. “I’d helped develop a lot of programs, but I thought it was time that I didn’t want to just help.” When faced with the inevitable lack of looking for another position, Biddle said, “I didn’t have to look too long.”

Continued on Page 5

LeClerc Is New Provost; Will Assume Position July 1

By Lily Naadimele

Baruch College’s new provost and deputy president July 1 is Paul LeClerc, who is presently City University of New York’s dean of academic affairs. LeClerc, who was raised in New York City, received his Ph.D. in French literature from Columbia University. He was the chairperson of the Department of Modern Languages and Literature at Union College in Schenectady, New York for 13 years and has held his present position for five years.

Asked what he will bring to his new post, LeClerc said, “I intend to bring a very wide knowledge of academic programs, which is my specialty.” He said he also hopes to bring all the schools together and develop excellent college services.

The search for a new provost began when the previous provost, Philip E. Austin, accepted the position of president of Colorado State University at Fort Collins, in December 1983. The Search Committee, chaired by President Norman Storer, was appointed by the president, Joel Segall. The committee consisted of faculty and

Continued on Page 7

Spring

By Ivan Cintron

The Student’s Voice for Over 50 Years

INS PRESIDENCY

AJORITY

By Edmaad UdDeIlan

Students line up to vote in the lobby at 22nd Street.

BIDDE WINS PRESIDENCY

MAJORITY OF COUNCIL

By Lilly Naadimele

LeClerc is New Provost; Will Assume Position July 1

By Marcelo Trianfo

Baruch College's new provost effective July 1 is Paul LeClerc, who is presently City University of New York's dean for academic affairs. LeClerc, who was raised in New York City, received his Ph.D. in French literature from Columbia University. He was the chairperson of the Department of Modern Languages and Literature at Union College in Schenectady, New York for 13 years and has held his present position for five years.

Asked what he will bring to his new post, LeClerc said, “I intend to bring a very wide knowledge of academic programs, which is my specialty.” He said he also hopes to bring all the schools together and develop excellent college services.

The search for a new provost began when the previous provost, Philip E. Austin, accepted the position of president of Colorado State University at Fort Collins, in December 1983. The Search Committee, chaired by President Norman Storer, was appointed by the president, Joel Segall. The committee consisted of faculty and

Continued on Page 7

¥ CENTERFOLD : SPRING ¥
Opinions expressed in this section are not necessarily those of The Tickler. Responses welcome.
IBM XT's Installed After Delays

By Peter Alphen

After months of delay, 16 IBM XT's have been installed in room 426 by the computing and graphics sections between the Fine and Visualized Computer Center (ECC).

"We're behind schedule, but not by much," explained at least 426 resident and instructor Stephen Stephan. "We had to push the purchase of the IBM XT's more than a bit, but the price is still very competitive, and the system is useful for many applications. For the first time in the history of the life of the equipment, it's much better than the PC," Stephan explained. "The IBM XT's are a bit more expensive than the PC, but we've been able to make some changes and improvements. Our decision to purchase more than one IBM XT was made because of the need for more powerful equipment. However, Instructor David S. Schiffer, an instructor who was about to leave for his three-year conditional term, recently said that (the system) had too many problems and that the IBM XT's were only half as reliable as the PC.

The XT computer was delayed because of the need for more powerful equipment. The XT computer was the best choice for the department because it was the only system that could handle the needs of the department. The XT computer was also more reliable than the PC. However, instructor DiMeo, who has been with the department for 10 years, said that the XT was more reliable than the PC.

The XT computer was also more reliable than the PC. However, instructor DiMeo, who has been with the department for 10 years, said that the XT was more reliable than the PC. However, instructor DiMeo, who has been with the department for 10 years, said that the XT was more reliable than the PC. However, instructor DiMeo, who has been with the department for 10 years, said that the XT was more reliable than the PC.
USA Accused of Campaign Misconduct

from Ian Cravens

A trial was held in the United States for Students for America (USA) party who won the Student Senate election by a vote of 22 votes due to an election violation caused by the Baruch Student Government (BSG) election fraud. The trial was held by the Baruch Student Government (BSG) election fraud.

According to the trial, white and other political parties were accused of election misconduct. The New York State Education Department was accused of election misconduct, and the USA party was accused of election misconduct. The suspended election was held due to an election violation caused by the Baruch Student Government (BSG) election fraud. The trial was held by the Baruch Student Government (BSG) election fraud.

USA Accused of Campaign Misconduct

from Ian Cravens

A trial was held in the United States for Students for America (USA) party who won the Student Senate election by a vote of 22 votes due to an election violation caused by the Baruch Student Government (BSG) election fraud. The trial was held by the Baruch Student Government (BSG) election fraud.

According to the trial, white and other political parties were accused of election misconduct. The New York State Education Department was accused of election misconduct, and the USA party was accused of election misconduct. The suspended election was held due to an election violation caused by the Baruch Student Government (BSG) election fraud. The trial was held by the Baruch Student Government (BSG) election fraud.

USA Accused of Campaign Misconduct

from Ian Cravens

A trial was held in the United States for Students for America (USA) party who won the Student Senate election by a vote of 22 votes due to an election violation caused by the Baruch Student Government (BSG) election fraud. The trial was held by the Baruch Student Government (BSG) election fraud.

According to the trial, white and other political parties were accused of election misconduct. The New York State Education Department was accused of election misconduct, and the USA party was accused of election misconduct. The suspended election was held due to an election violation caused by the Baruch Student Government (BSG) election fraud. The trial was held by the Baruch Student Government (BSG) election fraud.

USA Accused of Campaign Misconduct

from Ian Cravens

A trial was held in the United States for Students for America (USA) party who won the Student Senate election by a vote of 22 votes due to an election violation caused by the Baruch Student Government (BSG) election fraud. The trial was held by the Baruch Student Government (BSG) election fraud.

According to the trial, white and other political parties were accused of election misconduct. The New York State Education Department was accused of election misconduct, and the USA party was accused of election misconduct. The suspended election was held due to an election violation caused by the Baruch Student Government (BSG) election fraud. The trial was held by the Baruch Student Government (BSG) election fraud.

USA Accused of Campaign Misconduct

from Ian Cravens

A trial was held in the United States for Students for America (USA) party who won the Student Senate election by a vote of 22 votes due to an election violation caused by the Baruch Student Government (BSG) election fraud. The trial was held by the Baruch Student Government (BSG) election fraud.

According to the trial, white and other political parties were accused of election misconduct. The New York State Education Department was accused of election misconduct, and the USA party was accused of election misconduct. The suspended election was held due to an election violation caused by the Baruch Student Government (BSG) election fraud. The trial was held by the Baruch Student Government (BSG) election fraud.

USA Accused of Campaign Misconduct

from Ian Cravens

A trial was held in the United States for Students for America (USA) party who won the Student Senate election by a vote of 22 votes due to an election violation caused by the Baruch Student Government (BSG) election fraud. The trial was held by the Baruch Student Government (BSG) election fraud.

According to the trial, white and other political parties were accused of election misconduct. The New York State Education Department was accused of election misconduct, and the USA party was accused of election misconduct. The suspended election was held due to an election violation caused by the Baruch Student Government (BSG) election fraud. The trial was held by the Baruch Student Government (BSG) election fraud.

USA Accused of Campaign Misconduct

from Ian Cravens

A trial was held in the United States for Students for America (USA) party who won the Student Senate election by a vote of 22 votes due to an election violation caused by the Baruch Student Government (BSG) election fraud. The trial was held by the Baruch Student Government (BSG) election fraud.

According to the trial, white and other political parties were accused of election misconduct. The New York State Education Department was accused of election misconduct, and the USA party was accused of election misconduct. The suspended election was held due to an election violation caused by the Baruch Student Government (BSG) election fraud. The trial was held by the Baruch Student Government (BSG) election fraud.

USA Accused of Campaign Misconduct

from Ian Cravens

A trial was held in the United States for Students for America (USA) party who won the Student Senate election by a vote of 22 votes due to an election violation caused by the Baruch Student Government (BSG) election fraud. The trial was held by the Baruch Student Government (BSG) election fraud.

According to the trial, white and other political parties were accused of election misconduct. The New York State Education Department was accused of election misconduct, and the USA party was accused of election misconduct. The suspended election was held due to an election violation caused by the Baruch Student Government (BSG) election fraud. The trial was held by the Baruch Student Government (BSG) election fraud.

USA Accused of Campaign Misconduct

from Ian Cravens

A trial was held in the United States for Students for America (USA) party who won the Student Senate election by a vote of 22 votes due to an election violation caused by the Baruch Student Government (BSG) election fraud. The trial was held by the Baruch Student Government (BSG) election fraud.

According to the trial, white and other political parties were accused of election misconduct. The New York State Education Department was accused of election misconduct, and the USA party was accused of election misconduct. The suspended election was held due to an election violation caused by the Baruch Student Government (BSG) election fraud. The trial was held by the Baruch Student Government (BSG) election fraud.

USA Accused of Campaign Misconduct

from Ian Cravens

A trial was held in the United States for Students for America (USA) party who won the Student Senate election by a vote of 22 votes due to an election violation caused by the Baruch Student Government (BSG) election fraud. The trial was held by the Baruch Student Government (BSG) election fraud.

According to the trial, white and other political parties were accused of election misconduct. The New York State Education Department was accused of election misconduct, and the USA party was accused of election misconduct. The suspended election was held due to an election violation caused by the Baruch Student Government (BSG) election fraud. The trial was held by the Baruch Student Government (BSG) election fraud.

USA Accused of Campaign Misconduct

from Ian Cravens

A trial was held in the United States for Students for America (USA) party who won the Student Senate election by a vote of 22 votes due to an election violation caused by the Baruch Student Government (BSG) election fraud. The trial was held by the Baruch Student Government (BSG) election fraud.

According to the trial, white and other political parties were accused of election misconduct. The New York State Education Department was accused of election misconduct, and the USA party was accused of election misconduct. The suspended election was held due to an election violation caused by the Baruch Student Government (BSG) election fraud. The trial was held by the Baruch Student Government (BSG) election fraud.

USA Accused of Campaign Misconduct

from Ian Cravens

A trial was held in the United States for Students for America (USA) party who won the Student Senate election by a vote of 22 votes due to an election violation caused by the Baruch Student Government (BSG) election fraud. The trial was held by the Baruch Student Government (BSG) election fraud.

According to the trial, white and other political parties were accused of election misconduct. The New York State Education Department was accused of election misconduct, and the USA party was accused of election misconduct. The suspended election was held due to an election violation caused by the Baruch Student Government (BSG) election fraud. The trial was held by the Baruch Student Government (BSG) election fraud.

USA Accused of Campaign Misconduct

from Ian Cravens

A trial was held in the United States for Students for America (USA) party who won the Student Senate election by a vote of 22 votes due to an election violation caused by the Baruch Student Government (BSG) election fraud. The trial was held by the Baruch Student Government (BSG) election fraud.

According to the trial, white and other political parties were accused of election misconduct. The New York State Education Department was accused of election misconduct, and the USA party was accused of election misconduct. The suspended election was held due to an election violation caused by the Baruch Student Government (BSG) election fraud. The trial was held by the Baruch Student Government (BSG) election fraud.
Spring Highlights

Bikes and Kites

Outdoor bites

Kids don't fly
TUES.
COFFEE CONCERT SERIES
D.F.O.

THURS.
FASHION EXPO
FEATURING
TWO INNOVATIVE DESIGNERS

THURS.
MOVIE SERIES

MON.
SPECIAL EVENTS
LOOK FOR OUR BOOTH AT STREET FAIR
THURSDAY
MAY 10, 1984
10:00 AM - 4:00 PM

We meet every Wednesday in 4:00 p.m., in Rm. 302 (Student Center)
FEATURES

Voice of a Village Critic

By Laurie Novaes

Many college students may have heard of Andrew Sarris because of his weekly column in The Village Voice. He is currently on sabbatical from the University as well. No matter what, he is known for the wit: "something is happening at this place all over the world...and a documentary which included his something, fortunately the majority...and is called one of the most livable...The Massachusetts Bay Company. Finding...as you try to follow my example,"...Anders had his...then you want to go to...Hiroshima, a document, and he says he...the greatest living authority of the...By Bus-...1000 Puritans landed there...people today...20th Century Fine Art as he did. He...in that it...of nuclear...is liberating. "We can...much the...six for writing...the experimental nuclear...and for writing...and Booth after the...High." He also feels...devices for getting...on this month 3rd...The freedom of the...it's now..."freer" or "looser", it is now...V. Olshansky is a...up."

Alternatives

By Peter Strasem

In 1930, 30,000 patrons bid on John Lasky, a character that first wanted to establish a home for the indigent....The Sights:...For movies...is entitled to...As for the...This is a...“All hands on deck,” says Sarris..."Handy in any field a person chooses."

Voice of a Village Critic

By Laurie Novaes

Many college students may have heard of Andrew Sarris because of his weekly column in The Village Voice. He is currently on sabbatical from the University as well. No matter what, he is known for the wit: "something is happening at this place all over the world..." he says. He also feels "handy in any field a person chooses." In addition, he's known for the wit: "something is happening at this place all over the world..."

Alternatives

By Peter Strasem

In 1930, 30,000 patrons bid on John Lasky, a character that first wanted to establish a home for the indigent. But a minority embraced seeing this (the experiments) in the..."something is happening..." he says. He also feels "handy in any field a person chooses." In addition, he's known for the wit: "something is happening at this place all over the world..."

There are a few ways to get to...The Sights:...For movies...is entitled to...As for the...This is a...“All hands on deck,” says Sarris..."Handy in any field a person chooses."
Music: Hail to the King

Bette known for their interest in musicology, 18th-century music, and the history of music education, their works have been highly regarded for their innovative approach to the music of the Baroque era. The authentic recordings of the Collegium Musicum, led by the conductor Joseph Pons, have been praised for their clarity and precision. Their performances have been widely televised and have received enthusiastic reviews from music critics around the world. The group's dedication to preserving the music of the Baroque period has earned them a reputation as one of the leading ensembles in the field.

Film: Two Worlds, One Island

Review Book: Uplike Uphront

Writing criticism is to writing fiction and poetry as bagging the shoeshine is to being the owner of a shoe shine." - Uplike Uphront

Uplike Uphront, a fictional critic, expresses his unique perspective on writing and criticism. He sees writing criticism as an art form, separate from fiction and poetry, and emphasizes the importance of the critic's voice in shaping the reader's experience. Uphront's commentary on the nature of criticism reflects the complexities and challenges faced by contemporary writers and journalists.

Stage: David Mamet and Second City

Orwell That Gets Well, the Second City Improvisors of Chicago begin their annual summer tour this weekend with a cast of long-time veterans and several new faces. The Improvisors, known for their fast-paced, improvisational style, will perform their trademark blend of satire, satire, and satire on stage. The show is a popular annual event, drawing audiences from all over the city.

Old men in business suits, drinking maraschino cherries, and reading the New York Times.

A scene from the Improvisors' show, featuring a group of older men in suits, enjoying a drink and reading the newspaper. The scene is a typical representation of the professional world, highlighting the routines and rituals that shape the lives of those who work in business. The Improvisors' satirical take on this scenario is both entertaining and thought-provoking.

It's a fine old tradition, isn't it?

A character in the Improvisors' show reflects on their long-standing tradition, emphasizing the importance of continuity and tradition in the world of business.

But after shooting the business, you never get to shoot the business maker himself.

The Improvisors' performance includes a critique of the business world, questioning the role of business as a producer and consumer of goods. The scene highlights the contradictions and complexities of the business world, offering a humorous and critical look at the practices and values that shape it.

In the Office

Paley introduces the grandeur of the generation's coming of age, the moment when the world celebrates the youth and their potential.

The Improvisors' performance explores the themes of youth, freedom, and the world's celebration of the new generation. The scene is a powerful reminder of the importance of embracing the potential of the young and the need to support their growth and development.

The Road purports to be a spoof of a Bull and Bud "road" movie.

A scene from the Improvisors' show, featuring a parody of a classic road movie. The Improvisors' take on this genre is both humorous and critical, offering a fresh and engaging perspective on the classic film format.

There's a hint of middlebrow retaliation in the idea of the Hite Report?

A character in the Improvisors' show reflects on the potential for middlebrow retaliation in the wake of the Hite Report, exploring the themes of reaction and response to cultural events.

The Improvisors' performance includes a critique of the role of middlebrow culture in society, questioning the impact of these ideas and the potential for reaction.

Litigation is an annual report of the National Hockey League.

The Improvisors' performance includes a report on the annual litigation of the National Hockey League, offering a humorous and critical look at the legal battles that shape the world of sports.
The great game of baseball, which has been played for over one hundred years, has remarkably and suddenly become a thing of the past. The recent changes in the sport of baseball have been dramatic and have affected both the players and the fans. The most significant change has been the transition from a grass field to artificial turf. This switch has been controversial, with many fans feeling that the game loses something special when played on a synthetic surface.

The transition to artificial turf has had both positive and negative effects. On the one hand, the fielding has improved, and the ball moves faster on the field. On the other hand, the game becomes less true to its roots, and some fans feel that the game is losing its soul.

Despite the changes, the game of baseball remains popular, and many fans continue to follow their favorite teams. The transition to artificial turf has been a topic of discussion among fans and players alike, and it remains to be seen how the sport will continue to evolve in the future.