Helpline Upset
With Selection Of Coordinator

By Eric Kun

Helpline, the confidential peer counseling and referral service, will be receiving a new coordinator for the 1984-85 academic year, although Helpline members contend that they have not had enough say in the matter.

According to Helpline members, when Joe Duggan, the previous Helpline coordinator, left, Henry Wilson, Jr., the dean of students, refused to form a search committee when Helpline requested he do so. Helpline member Sui Pang said, "When we asked him to form a search committee, he said it would be formed in the spring." Wilson then went on to choose four candidates who were rejected by Helpline. Helpline member Kim Baird said, "We felt we couldn't work with the dean's candidates." Helpline stresses the importance of students having a voice in the selection of their coordinators, since the Helpline members can work. Pang explained that "in order for Helpline to function properly, Helpliners must comfortably interact with the coordinator." Baird and Pang said that this is the reason why they want more of a say in choosing Helpline's coordinator.

Another fear that Helpline members expressed was that if the dean's candidate cannot properly perform the duties of the coordinator, Helpline as an organization will fall. Pang asserted that the coordinator has a "long list" of responsibilities to perform. He added that "if the coordinator cannot carry out the required duties, students who come for help and Helpliners alike will suffer." Helpline said the dean treated them unfairly and did not give them enough input into the problem.

Wilson disagrees with Helpline. When asked to reply to Helpline's charges, Wilson said, "Continued on Pg. 7, Col. 3"

17 Lexington Ave. Bathrooms Being Renovated After Five-Year Delay; Two Student Clubs Displaced

By Eric J. Fox

The bathrooms at 17 Lexington Avenue are currently being renovated, although money was appropriated at last April's referendum. According to Marilyn Mikulsky, director of Campus Planning and Facilities, 18 bathrooms on the west side of the building are under construction, with the rest to follow in 1985. All of the bathrooms in the building were built in 1928, and, except for a handful that underwent renovation in 1975, they have remained the same for 56 years. "The 1975 renovation was a point," said Mikulsky, "when proper maintenance becomes impossible, and they must be re-done."

The renovation is divided into two phases. Phase I, which began August 20 and will continue for 180 days, is budgeted for $590,924.

Governance Charter Vote Scheduled for October

By Marcelo Triulfo

Another student referendum to pass the revised Governance Charter has been scheduled for October, since last April's referendum failed. The Charter is the document describing administrative decision-making among students and faculty.

Dr. Norman W. Storer, then chairman of the Faculty Senate (now secretary), said that there was a problem with students being called upon to vote without prior knowledge of the issue. "There was considerable unhappiness — why should we vote on this when we haven't heard about it before?" — despite the fact there were stories in The Ticker and the Reporter well ahead of time." Storer added, "I should have done a better job of trying to make sure students were aware of what was going on and, this fall, I do hope to do a better job with that."

Revisions to the charter were brought before separate referendum voting by faculty and students April 11. Of the 47 percent of eligible faculty who voted, an overwhelming majority (82 percent) voted to approve the changes, with 14 percent opposed and 4 percent abstaining. However, only 27 percent of eligible students in their referendum, short of the 30 percent minimum requirement established by the charter, thereby sending the revision to defeat. Storer said he has a plan to provide students with information. As Continued on Pg. 5, Col. 1

CUNY Board of Trustees
Votes to Divest Its Funds from Firms in South Africa

By Lisa R. Rhodes

The Board of Trustees of the City University of New York voted to pass a resolution calling for the withdrawal of CUNY investments in companies currently conducting business with the Republic of South Africa, in a private meeting Sept. 14.

The resolution, which states, "the complete divestiture should take place as quickly as possible," will remove some $3 million in investments from CUNY's general pool. CUNY currently owns stock in four major U.S. corporations which provide financial support to the South African government. "It will go through," said Diane Dworet, president of the CUNY Divestment Coalition at Hunter College, several days before the vote. "The only problem will be its implementation."

According to Dworet, the movement to divestment was initiated by Hunter College President Donna Shalala, who, "in response to President Carter's appeal to CUNY, decided to take a stand."

"This is a very strong movement, with very strong feelings," said President Joel Segal, a member of the Council of Presidents, who faced the Council of Presidents, which voted its approval Sept. 12.

"It's a very strong movement, with very strong feelings," said President Joel Segal, a member of the Council of Presidents, who faced the Council of Presidents, which voted its approval Sept. 12. "I support divestment, but I would support it in the Soviet Union, Poland, Romania, Nicaragua, wherever it was necessary."

The Republic of South Africa practices apartheid, a policy of segregation and political and economic discrimination against non-Europeans. As a result, 4.5 million Caucasians rule over a majority of 21 million Africans, who are deprived of citizenship and civil rights.

To enforce apartheid, the South African government has forcibly removed some 3.5 million Africans, according to the CUNY Divestment Coalition, from land designated as "Caucasian areas," leaving families of women and children resettled on barren "homelands." where only 13 percent of Africans are recognized as citizens. Labor is provided by male Africans who often must leave their families to work in the cities. factories and also in mineral mines for minimum wages. Due to the poor standard of living on homelands, the Coalition cites a child mortality rate of 25 percent for those under five years of age.

CUNY investments in four of the largest private contributors to the South African regime include Citicorp, in which CUNY owns $148,000 worth of stock, which has participated in loans of $250 million and $100 million directly to the government and the country's largest export companies, especially $571,575 is held by the Burroughs Corporation, which supplies the government with "computers to administer its population control system, ... according to the Coalition, the Burroughs Corporation holds $11,750 worth and is heavily involved in military-related aircraft production; and $362,500 has been linked to United Technologies Corporations and the US government's "suppliers, which has assets of $12 million in South Africa.

U.S. corporations employ only 1 percent of the country's African workers, attracted by the "cheap labor" market, yet provide "essential support to the regime in Continued on Pg. 7, Col. 1"
Divestiture: It's About Time

The unanimously组成的councils from corporations dealing with the Republic of South Africa is a welcome, albeit overdue move. The Board of Trustees of the City University of New York, which finalized its decision September 24, has paid heed to the call of students and women who rose up in protest against apartheid. In the process, it has set itself in motion as a moral force through its action.

The decision to divest was the only acceptable course available; the catalogue of Pretoria's sins is too long to list. Indeed, the catalog is endless. Incentive. In the wake of the recent report of the South African Truth and Reconciliation Commission, we are persuaded that the only way to end the evils of apartheid is to find a way to put an end to it.

We commend Hunter College President Donna Shalala, who tapped a sense of student consciousness, framing an issue that matters to the community. We also commend the Board of Trustees of the City University of New York for voting to divest.

The decision to divest was the only acceptable course available; the catalogue of Pretoria's sins is too long to list. Indeed, the catalog is endless. Incentive. In the wake of the recent report of the South African Truth and Reconciliation Commission, we are persuaded that the only way to end the evils of apartheid is to find a way to put an end to it.

We commend Hunter College President Donna Shalala, who tapped a sense of student consciousness, framing an issue that matters to the community. We also commend the Board of Trustees of the City University of New York for voting to divest.

Registration Blues

Dear Editor: I am an Accounting major with an upcoming registration. I get the quote very nervous and excited, especially as registration is just a few weeks away.

After four sets of registrations and two final exams, I believe that registration is the most crucial part of the college experience. I think that the most crucial part of registration is the ability to register for classes that I need. I think that it is important to register for classes that I need and not just for classes that are available.

I registered July 16th and was told that I was not able to register for my courses and that I had to come in to school to register. I was told that I had to go to the registrar and that I was not able to register for the classes that I need. I was told that I had to go to the registrar and that I was not able to register for the classes that I need.

I registered July 16th and was told that I was not able to register for my courses and that I had to come in to school to register. I was told that I had to go to the registrar and that I was not able to register for the classes that I need. I was told that I had to go to the registrar and that I was not able to register for the classes that I need.

Ferraro's Media Charm

Dear Editor: It is with great pleasure that I write to you today to express my gratitude to Senator Alphonse D. Ferraro, the candidate for the Vice Presidency. I have been a long-time supporter of Senator Ferraro, and I am excited to see him on the national stage.

Senator Ferraro is a leader who has fought tirelessly for the rights of ordinary people. He has been a strong advocate for civil rights, and he has worked to improve the quality of life for all New Yorkers. I believe that he will be a great addition to the ticket.

I am especially impressed with Senator Ferraro's ability to connect with the voters. He has a warm and personable manner that makes him approachable and relatable. I believe that this will be an asset to the campaign in the coming months.

I am looking forward to seeing Senator Ferraro in action in the coming months. I am confident that he will be a strong voice for change, and I believe that he will be a great asset to the ticket.

Reevaluating Reagan

By Manny Travers

Ronald Reagan had been re-elected as President of November 6, 1984. Reagan's re-election was hailed as a victory of conservatism in America. Failing through the passage of the New Right agenda, Reagan's policies have failed to address the economic issues of the time. While the economic policies of Reagan were a success, they have also been criticized for their lack of accountability.

Reagan's economic policies were based on the supply-side theory, which asserts that tax cuts and deregulation will lead to economic growth. While these policies did lead to some economic growth, they also resulted in massive budget deficits. The combination of Reagan's economic policies with his defense policies has resulted in a huge national debt.

Reagan's foreign policy was characterized by his support for the anti-communist movement. He was known for his support of the Contras in Nicaragua, his support for the Mujahideen in Afghanistan, and his support for the Gulf War. However, these policies have been criticized for their lack of effectiveness and for their cost to the American taxpayer.

Reagan's domestic policies were also controversial. His policies to cut social programs and increase military spending have been criticized for their lack of accountability and for their cost to the American taxpayer.

In conclusion, Reagan's presidency was marked by a series of policies that were successful in some respects but failed to address the economic and social issues of the time. Reagan's policies have been criticized for their lack of accountability and for their cost to the American taxpayer. His legacy will be a mix of success and failure, and it remains to be seen what the full impact of his presidency will be.

Peeling Political Onions

By Robert Jordan

The predominant businesswoman, whose habits of underestimating others has not diminished, has found herself in a precarious position. This is due to the ability of Pretoria's to astound the world with its leadership. While Reagan has been able to sell the idea of the right to own property and live within the cities. Certainly CUNY divestment, and other policies, constructive or otherwise.

The decision to divest was the only acceptable course available; the catalogue of Pretoria's sins is too long to list. Indeed, the catalog is endless. Incentive. In the wake of the recent report of the South African Truth and Reconciliation Commission, we are persuaded that the only way to end the evils of apartheid is to find a way to put an end to it.

We commend Hunter College President Donna Shalala, who tapped a sense of student consciousness, framing an issue that matters to the community. We also commend the Board of Trustees of the City University of New York for voting to divest.

The decision to divest was the only acceptable course available; the catalogue of Pretoria's sins is too long to list. Indeed, the catalog is endless. Incentive. In the wake of the recent report of the South African Truth and Reconciliation Commission, we are persuaded that the only way to end the evils of apartheid is to find a way to put an end to it.
DONORS WANTED

SEMIN will be used for artificial insemination for couples who cannot have children due to male infertility. All donor types are needed.

Donors will be fully screened and tested. Accepted donors are PAID.

For Information
IDANT LABORATORY
935-1430

The One Policy for Life
Universal Life Policy that is currently yielding 17% annually.

Goldberg Appointed Trustee of Rockland College
By Joan Chas

Stephen E. Goldberg, Director of Asian American Studies and presently appointed assistant Rockland Community College.

Goldberg was monitored by the Collaborative Leadership and the appointment was approved by the board of regents in a vote. He is now a member of the Board of Trustees and the state college district.

Mikulsky acknowledged the delay in the renovation of the 1970's Rockland College.

Since the delay was caused by the inability to secure funding, those students who were enrolled in the 1970's Rockland College were unable to secure funding because of their inability to pay. Mikulsky acknowledged the delay in the renovation of the 1970's Rockland College.

Mikulsky acknowledged that the renovation of the 1970's Rockland College was not a simple process. Mikulsky noted that the renovation of the 1970's Rockland College was not a simple process.

Since the delay was caused by the inability to secure funding, those students who were enrolled in the 1970's Rockland College were unable to secure funding because of their inability to pay. Mikulsky acknowledged the delay in the renovation of the 1970's Rockland College.

Since the delay was caused by the inability to secure funding, those students who were enrolled in the 1970's Rockland College were unable to secure funding because of their inability to pay. Mikulsky acknowledged the delay in the renovation of the 1970's Rockland College.

Since the delay was caused by the inability to secure funding, those students who were enrolled in the 1970's Rockland College were unable to secure funding because of their inability to pay. Mikulsky acknowledged the delay in the renovation of the 1970's Rockland College.

Since the delay was caused by the inability to secure funding, those students who were enrolled in the 1970's Rockland College were unable to secure funding because of their inability to pay. Mikulsky acknowledged the delay in the renovation of the 1970's Rockland College.
Students! Work Smart. Work Simply...With Hewlett-Packard.

Take a good look at your class schedule.

If you're in Science or Engineering, chances are yours includes Calculus, Physics, or Chemistry Engineering basics, or Dynamics. You're running up against some tough calculations, with statistics problems, homework, and the HP-11C calculator helps you breeze through those problems, with less huff and more keystrokes.

Need to simplify problems that are even more complex? The HP-41CX gives you 128 built-in functions—and the HP-41C's over 200—to simplify your long homework assignments. Use up to 450 keystrokes to save the programs and formulas you use often. And there are thousands of software programs, so you don't have to start from scratch every time.

For the location of the dealer nearest you, call TOLL FREE 1-800-FOR-HPPC.

Dear Students,

Day Session Student Government has a need for students interested in serving as representatives on College Committees. As a student representative on a college committee, you will be working side by side by the faculty on various issues such as financial aid and the evaluation of courses. Students are needed from all 3 schools. Please call 725-3374 and ask for either Po, Rich or Pauline. —DSSG.
IN THE LOBBY, WHAT'S DOWN THAT TUNNEL?

THANK GODNESS!

THIS IS WHAT WE CALL STUDENT DROPPINGS.
Consistency
... samples of another use constitutes fraud. Reclamation not required.

Trademarks

Dan

Domestic

Iowa

of

have been

Void

an annual dance... rare,

If required, c

will

to VLI Corporation - p.m., at prohibit

19.4 VLI Corpora-

is a product. Any face value drawings.

50000 by ma,

that they are ridiculed and

Studlnts in Ibl 1984 Graduating CIIII

an face

of

value

may tion and

re. d

I

bar

in birth control.

Today is a soft, comfortable sponge that contains

Today is for you... a+.

SAVE $1.00

TODAY

24-hour Today TalkLine. If you have any questions, or you're just wishing that The Sponge is right for you, visit your student health center or give us a call at 800-123-4567 (in California, 800-123-456).

Finally you have the spontaneity you want and the promotion you need. But, best of all, you have another choice you never had before.

Until Today.

The Baruch College Gallery

It's for you

Take a look

Monday-Friday 12 to 5 p.m.

New administration building

135 East 22 Street

Current exhibition: Recent work by Lynne Mayocole

George Mayocole

Bill Taggart

A Look at Rastafarianism

By Dave Christian

Rastafarianism, a religious movement that was born in the West Indies has become increasingly popular among American youth. Its followers believe in the importance of spiritual awakening and transformation of society.

Traditionally, Rastafarianism has had a strong following among the younger generation and has seen a resurgence in recent years. In New York City, a group of rastas named the Students of Rasta, has emerged as a center for the study of the movement. The group is made up of upper-class youths (mostly male) who are interested in the study of the movement.

One of the central tenets of Rastafarianism is the belief in the higher power of Jah, who is seen as the creator of the universe. This power is believed to be present in all living things, and believers strive to align themselves with this power.

Another important aspect of Rastafarianism is the practice of smoking ganja, which is believed to be a way of connecting with Jah.

Many Rastasfarians are strong advocates of peace and nonviolence. They believe that violence is a tool of the devil and that true peace can be achieved through nonviolent means.

In conclusion, Rastafarianism is a unique and fascinating movement that has captured the interest of many young people in the United States. Its teachings and practices offer a new perspective on spirituality and the search for inner peace.
The Ticket

October 2, 1984

---

FALL '84 MOVIE SERIES

TUESDAYS

9/10 TRADING PLACES
9/24 TRADING PLACES
10/8 D.C. CAB
10/22 D.C. CAB
11/9 SCARFACE
11/13 BOARDWALK
11/19 POLICE ACADEMY
11/23 POLICE ACADEMY
12/13 TERMS OF ENDEAVER
12/17 TERMS OF ENDEAVER
12/19 TERMS OF ENDEAVER
12/23 TERMS OF ENDEAVER

WEDNESDAYS

9/12 TRADING PLACES
9/26 TRADING PLACES
10/12 AIRPLANE
10/16 AIRPLANE
10/20 AIRPLANE
10/26 BEAT STREET
11/10 BEAT STREET
11/24 BEAT STREET
12/17 BEAT STREET

LOCATION

All films shown on MONDAYS and THURSDAYS will be shown on FRIDAYS.

LOCATION

 Slovene, in the OAK LOUNGE of the STUDENT CENTER Box # 608

STUDENT CENTER PROGRAM BOARD

Program Board

JOIN US FOR COMEDY HOUR, COFFEE HOUSE CONCERT, AEROBICS.

& MUCH, MUCH MORE!!!!!!!

We meet every Wednesday at 4:00 p.m. in Rm. 302 (Student-Center)

---

FEATURES

Doug Muzzio: Seeing Is Really Believing

By Michael Lachinsky

If anyone would happen to wander into Professor Doug Muzzio's office, they would see a stack of books, a pile of papers, several drawings and finger painting done by his children, Jesse and Ali.

Doug Muzzio is a one-of-a-kind teacher and personality. For Muzzio the road to the Baruch Political Science Department was paved with gold. Muzzio is Temple's one and only political science professor and is a shining light on MONDAYS and THURSDAYS.

All films are SUBJECT TO CHANGE.

---

HELPLINE IS NOW OPEN

For HELP with:

Tutoring

Apartment listings

Academic problems

Personal problems

or just someone to talk to.

Come to room 516, 26th St. Building from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.

All interested in joining HELPLINE, just drop by our office this week.

---

Academic problems

Personal problems

or just someone to talk to.

---

HELPLINE IS NOW OPEN

For HELP with:

Tutoring

Apartment listings

Academic problems

Personal problems

or just someone to talk to.

Come to room 516, 26th St. Building from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.

All interested in joining HELPLINE, just drop by our office this week.

---

Academic problems

Personal problems

or just someone to talk to.

---

HELPLINE IS NOW OPEN

For HELP with:

Tutoring

Apartment listings

Academic problems

Personal problems

or just someone to talk to.

Come to room 516, 26th St. Building from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.

All interested in joining HELPLINE, just drop by our office this week.

---

Academic problems

Personal problems

or just someone to talk to.

---

HELPLINE IS NOW OPEN

For HELP with:

Tutoring

Apartment listings

Academic problems

Personal problems

or just someone to talk to.

Come to room 516, 26th St. Building from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.

All interested in joining HELPLINE, just drop by our office this week.

---

Academic problems

Personal problems

or just someone to talk to.

---

HELPLINE IS NOW OPEN

For HELP with:

Tutoring

Apartment listings

Academic problems

Personal problems

or just someone to talk to.

Come to room 516, 26th St. Building from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.

All interested in joining HELPLINE, just drop by our office this week.

---

Academic problems

Personal problems

or just someone to talk to.

---

HELPLINE IS NOW OPEN

For HELP with:

Tutoring

Apartment listings

Academic problems

Personal problems

or just someone to talk to.

Come to room 516, 26th St. Building from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.

All interested in joining HELPLINE, just drop by our office this week.

---

Academic problems

Personal problems

or just someone to talk to.

---

HELPLINE IS NOW OPEN

For HELP with:

Tutoring

Apartment listings

Academic problems

Personal problems

or just someone to talk to.

Come to room 516, 26th St. Building from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.

All interested in joining HELPLINE, just drop by our office this week.

---

Academic problems

Personal problems

or just someone to talk to.

---

HELPLINE IS NOW OPEN

For HELP with:

Tutoring

Apartment listings

Academic problems

Personal problems

or just someone to talk to.

Come to room 516, 26th St. Building from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.

All interested in joining HELPLINE, just drop by our office this week.

---

Academic problems

Personal problems

or just someone to talk to.

---

HELPLINE IS NOW OPEN

For HELP with:

Tutoring

Apartment listings

Academic problems

Personal problems

or just someone to talk to.

Come to room 516, 26th St. Building from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.

All interested in joining HELPLINE, just drop by our office this week.

---

Academic problems

Personal problems

or just someone to talk to.

---

HELPLINE IS NOW OPEN

For HELP with:

Tutoring

Apartment listings

Academic problems

Personal problems

or just someone to talk to.

Come to room 516, 26th St. Building from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.

All interested in joining HELPLINE, just drop by our office this week.

---

Academic problems

Personal problems

or just someone to talk to.

---

HELPLINE IS NOW OPEN

For HELP with:

Tutoring

Apartment listings

Academic problems

Personal problems

or just someone to talk to.

Come to room 516, 26th St. Building from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.

All interested in joining HELPLINE, just drop by our office this week.

---

Academic problems

Personal problems

or just someone to talk to.

---

HELPLINE IS NOW OPEN

For HELP with:

Tutoring

Apartment listings

Academic problems

Personal problems

or just someone to talk to.

Come to room 516, 26th St. Building from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.

All interested in joining HELPLINE, just drop by our office this week.

---

Academic problems

Personal problems

or just someone to talk to.

---

HELPLINE IS NOW OPEN

For HELP with:

Tutoring

Apartment listings

Academic problems

Personal problems

or just someone to talk to.

Come to room 516, 26th St. Building from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.

All interested in joining HELPLINE, just drop by our office this week.
Music: Men Without Hats and Keith Jarrett

The song "Safety Dance" may be the best-known song by the Canadian band Men Without Hats, but there's more to the group than just this one hit. In the late 1970s and early 1980s, the band was a part of the new wave scene, blending punk and new wave influences with an 80s party vibe. Frontman Alan McCaughey and his bandmates were known for their energetic performances and distinctive sound, which was characterized by a mix of electronic and acoustic elements.

When they last toured in New York, they played at the Ritz, a venue on the same scale as the Ritz-Carlton. The audience was enthusiastic, with many people clapping along to the music. McCaughey, who was known for his energetic stage presence, was a noted scholar of T.S. Eliot? This captures the essence of what it means to be a part of the new wave scene.

The album that Men Without Hats released in 1984, "Neon Lights," was a departure from their previous work. The album featured a mix of electronic and acoustic elements, with McCaughey's nasal voice and the band's distinctive sound.

Keith Jarrett's recordings of standards (such as "Meaning of the Blues," "Child," and "As I Began to Say"") are a study in melodic virtuosity, with the pianist's ability to create a sense of space and time. In an effort to publicize the band, a commercial for the new album has been aired.

The concert of the summer of '84 did not remain hidden from the eyes of fans. Bruce Springsteen and his E Street Band pulled off another outstanding show at the Brendan Byrne Arena in June, and once again they proved it all right that they stand out above all others in the rock business. The ten-year-old boy, John Landis, has "seen the lights of rock and roll, and it is all true. Springsteen and his band play with an intensity that is rare in rock and roll. They are a force to be reckoned with, and their music is both powerful and emotional.

Music: Bruce in Jungleland

What is so incredibly dazzling about a Springsteen show is the songs with which he conveys his message. When Springsteen wants something to happen, he makes it happen. He was able to create a sense of space and time in his music, which is a testament to his talent as a musician. The album is quite enjoyable and, mercifully, far more mellow than the electric jazz of the 70s. Each of these cuts holds a special place in Springsteen's heart. They are his stories, his experiences, his battles. His music is a reflection of his life, and he is unafraid to share it with the world.

The song "Safety Dance" may be the best-known song by the Canadian band Men Without Hats, but there's more to the group than just this one hit. In the late 1970s and early 1980s, the band was a part of the new wave scene, blending punk and new wave influences with an 80s party vibe. Frontman Alan McCaughey and his bandmates were known for their energetic performances and distinctive sound, which was characterized by a mix of electronic and acoustic elements.

When they last toured in New York, they played at the Ritz, a venue on the same scale as the Ritz-Carlton. The audience was enthusiastic, with many people clapping along to the music. McCaughey, who was known for his energetic stage presence, was a noted scholar of T.S. Eliot? This captures the essence of what it means to be a part of the new wave scene.

The album that Men Without Hats released in 1984, "Neon Lights," was a departure from their previous work. The album featured a mix of electronic and acoustic elements, with McCaughey's nasal voice and the band's distinctive sound.

Keith Jarrett's recordings of standards (such as "Meaning of the Blues," "Child," and "As I Began to Say"") are a study in melodic virtuosity, with the pianist's ability to create a sense of space and time. In an effort to publicize the band, a commercial for the new album has been aired.

The concert of the summer of '84 did not remain hidden from the eyes of fans. Bruce Springsteen and his E Street Band pulled off another outstanding show at the Brendan Byrne Arena in June, and once again they proved it all right that they stand out above all others in the rock business. The ten-year-old boy, John Landis, has "seen the lights of rock and roll, and it is all true. Springsteen and his band play with an intensity that is rare in rock and roll. They are a force to be reckoned with, and their music is both powerful and emotional.

What is so incredibly dazzling about a Springsteen show is the songs with which he conveys his message. When Springsteen wants something to happen, he makes it happen. He was able to create a sense of space and time in his music, which is a testament to his talent as a musician. The album is quite enjoyable and, mercifully, far more mellow than the electric jazz of the 70s. Each of these cuts holds a special place in Springsteen's heart. They are his stories, his experiences, his battles. His music is a reflection of his life, and he is unafraid to share it with the world.
Baruch Fields a New Team

By Brian Feinblum

The Baruch College Women's Tennis Team will play its inaugural match on October 4 against Staten Island College.

Dr. William Eng, the school's Athletic Director, is coaching the team. He said, "I'm shooting for a .500 record, but I don't know if we'll get there."

The tennis team, a Division III team, is a member of the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA), and the Eastern Collegiate Athletic Conference (ECAC). This year's schedule includes games against two SUNY schools, three CUNY schools, and the New Jersey Institute of Technology, which is also in its first season.

The fall season consists of a schedule that runs from September to November and includes six confirmed and four unconfirmed matches. The unconfirmed matches will become positive dates after the season begins. Baruch is scheduled to play six games, three at home and three away. They play their first three games at home, and go on the road, where they finish against CUNY.

Although it is Baruch's first season in women's tennis, it is not the first time Baruch has fielded a team. Two previous attempts were made to compete in the CUNY Conference but they both failed due to a lack of players. Although these attempts at fielding a conference team were unsuccessful, they were able to gain valuable experience. Three of the players who will join this year's team.

In each meet there are six singles matches and two doubles matches. The team that is victorious in at least five matches wins the meet.

Eng claims that everyone on his team knows the basics, but he wants the fundamentals to be practiced over and over. He teaches the players the strategies of how to win. They practice three times a week, for three hours each day, at the 25th Street Armory.

Of the seven players on the team, Eng said Ceria Rivera is the most competitive. "She has the best technique with exceptional skills." Rivera is a transfer student from City College who will get some competition for the number one seed from Erya Greenblatt. At 5'9", Greenblatt is the tallest member of the team and is also considered by Eng to be the strongest.

The team is considered small compared to the competition. According to Eng, Baruch's diminutive size will be overshadowed by good forehand ability and consistent serves.

The Women's Tennis Team was originally formed with the help of the Tennis Club. Last year's team was approved by the Faculty Committee of Athletics but couldn't field a consistent six for the tournaments. This year’s team has ten players, but the coach still worries that he lacks other players to try out.

Baruch College's baseball team, that humble team that has played 23 games without putting a single number in the win column, will try to attack foes, both formidable and not, on the playing diamond once again this year.

Whether or not they are successful remains to be seen. According to rookie coach, John Krochak (you might remember him as the assistant coach of last year's team), "I think we should turn it around this year." How, pray tell, can a team that went 0-17 last season simply 'turn it around' in a matter of one summer? Krochak proposes a plan that may just take the Statesmen from the doghouse to the first floor: start playing ball as early as September and get both physically and mentally in shape for the 'real' season in the spring.

Normally, Baruch only plays spring ball, but this year, with Krochak at their helm, the team intends to participate in various tournaments during the fall and play various out-of-league games. Krochak adds, "This season, we have 12 players coming back to play, that's more people than have ever returned from one season to the next." Having veteran ball players is not the only cause for Krochak's optimism.

"This year, we'll have a full squad of over 20 players," said Krochak. Last year, according to Krochak, the Statesmen played with a roster of only 13 players, four of whom were pitchers. "When our pitcher was tired, they (the opposition) would easily score seven runs, to turn what was a close game up to the sixth inning into a seventh inning blow-out," said Krochak.

The lack of pitchers was not the only reason for such a dismal season. According to Krochak, "At times, only 10 players would show up to a game. Of course, we wouldn't be able to win a game with only 10 players." He added, defensively, "It sounds like a cop-out, but it's true."

Maybe Baruch's ballplayers should be viewed with sympathy. They did have a tough schedule, at one time playing nine games in seven days. Krochak put it ever so justly when he said, "It takes a lot of mental toughness to play on only 10 players." He added, defensively, "It sounds like a cop-out, but it's true."

"Maybe Baruch's ballplayers should be viewed with sympathy. They did have a tough schedule, at one time playing nine games in seven days. Krochak put it ever so justly when he said, "It takes a lot of mental toughness to play on only 10 players." He added, defensively, "It sounds like a cop-out, but it's true."

Several statesmen from the doghouse to the first floor: start playing ball as early as September and get both physically and mentally in shape for the 'real' season in the spring.

Normally, Baruch only plays spring ball, but this year, with Krochak at their helm, the team intends to participate in various tournaments during the fall and play various out-of-league games. Krochak adds, "This season, we have 12 players coming back to play, that's more people than have ever returned from one season to the next." Having veteran ball players is not the only cause for Krochak's optimism.

"This year, we'll have a full squad of over 20 players," said Krochak. Last year, according to Krochak, the Statesmen played with a roster of only 13 players, four of whom were pitchers. "When our pitcher was tired, they (the opposition) would easily score seven runs, to turn what was a close game up to the sixth inning into a seventh inning blow-out," said Krochak.

The lack of pitchers was not the only reason for such a dismal season. According to Krochak, "At times, only 10 players would show up to a game. Of course, we wouldn't be able to win a game with only 10 players." He added, defensively, "It sounds like a cop-out, but it's true."

"Maybe Baruch's ballplayers should be viewed with sympathy. They did have a tough schedule, at one time playing nine games in seven days. Krochak put it ever so justly when he said, "It takes a lot of mental toughness to play on only 10 players." He added, defensively, "It sounds like a cop-out, but it's true."

Even with a full roster, can the Statesmen win? Krochak thinks so. "We're looking to change that losing ways by playing ball fall."

Playing baseball in the fall would be a precedent a Baruch, and maybe it would change Baruch's consistently poor finishes. "We will get more practice, and they'll be playing together longer," Krochak said.

This year, the Statesmen have a full roster well before the start of the season, but do they have the facilities on which they could play? The answer is no. Krochak's quick remark is, "An 'all-away' schedule would not be a precedent in this school."

Last year, most home games were played on Lehman College's field in the Bronx and the schedule was heavily weighted with 'away' games, Krochak is quick to point out, "Fans don't come out to see us, so it doesn't matter where we play."

Having such a gloomy past is only a detriment to the new ballplayers on the Statesmen squad. Their only desire, according to Krochak is, "Just to look competitive. " If all the bases are covered, let's hope for a few wins.