ESSA President and Evening Director Trade Charges

By Neeraj Vohra

Terry Morris, president of the Evening Session Student Assembly, has formally complained to the Office of the Dean of Students about "the behavior of one [of the] employees in the department of student services, namely Mr. Charles Lyles, director of evening and graduate services.

But according to Lyles, Morris's "letter is in response to a memo that I sent to the dean of students about abusive language that Morris used." A copy of that letter, dated Jan. 3, 1986, was sent to Morris, and it says in part:

"I had hoped you had accepted or at least understood the responsibility with which this office is charged, especially pertaining to the review of student fee allocations. However, your memorandum of 1-28 and your emotional outburst on 1-30 suggest that you do not understand my function and moreover, that you are increasingly angry and to allow me to get back to my meeting. It was at this time that Mr. Lyles took two steps away from me and began to threaten me. 'I am going to take you before the disciplinary committee for spreading lies about me. Do you hear what I said? I am going to take you before the disciplinary committee.'

According to Lyles, Morris 'protested with a situation that is not... (Continued on Page 8, Col. 1)

Minority Alumni Committee Calls for Convocation Rally

By Eric J. Fox

The Baruch College Black and Hispanic Alumni Association Ad-hoc Committee is planning a protest on Sunday, Feb. 25, at 11:30 a.m., to protest the refusal of Joel Segall, president of Baruch College, to recognize the group as a separate alumni association.

"This demonstration will expose the insensitivity and racist policies of Baruch College against its black and Hispanic students," said Joseph Sellman, chairperson of the ad-hoc committee.

Sellman said that he contacted David Dinkins, the Manhattan borough president, who has been involved in speaking at the convocation, and asked that he meet with representatives of the ad-hoc committee.

Dinkins was unavailable for comment, but David Kirby, who is in charge of scheduling for Dinkins said that Dinkins would appear as scheduled on Feb. 23. Kirby spoke before he received the letter from Sellman and based his comments on background information read over the phone by a Ticker reporter.

It is not clear whether Dinkins will meet with the ad-hoc committee.

When contacted, Joel Segall, president of Baruch College, said he was aware of any planned rally and refused comment because the issue of recognition of the ad-hoc committee was in litigation. He did say that "it would be a shame" if the rally interrupted mid-year convocation.

The ad-hoc committee filed a lawsuit in Oct. 1984 with Sellman charging that Segall's position opposing recognition was "arrogant."

Security Incidents During January Called 'Modest'

By Caitlin Mollison

Security incidents during January were running at about "one per day" according to David O. Green, vice-president for Administration.

Green called the estimate "modest" and said the number was based on preliminary results received from security.

Several Baruch students told The Ticker that they had several items stolen from their handbags in the journalism room, a subdivision of the English department located on the 10th floor of 46 E. 26 St. Other reports by students were that four electric pencil sharpeners and a toaster oven had been stolen from 111 E. 18 St. Another report, in the same building, was that a woman returning from the bathroom, found a man rummaging through her purse.

Henry J. McLaughlin, the director of security, would not confirm any of these incidents, except to say that the report about the man going through a purse was "a possibility." "People don't secure their own possessions. People shouldn't leave their handbags and not lock their desks," said McLaughlin.

McLaughlin would not say just (Continued on Page 6, Col. 5)

President of BLACK Under Investigation

By Molly Kong

A student leader was investigated by the Office of the Dean of Students for having sponsored an activity in Room 114 of 155 E. 24 St, without proper authorization. Jocelyn Murphy, president of BLACK - Black Leadership Through Action, Collectiveness, and Knowledge — and a member of the evening government, used the room on the evening of Nov. 22 to host a talk without first securing the approval of Charles Lyles, director of evening and graduate student services.

"What I did, I violated the student code," said Murphy. "I didn't get permission to use this space." As a result, Murphy said she was told she was guilty of the following offenses, listed in the undergraduate student handbook under "Regulations Governing Students Conduct":

a) Violation of regulations relating to the entry and use of institutional facilities including closing hour location."

During January a student leader was investigated by the Office of the Dean of Students for having sponsored an activity in Room 114 of 155 E. 24 St, without proper authorization. Jocelyn Murphy, president of BLACK - Black Leadership Through Action, Collectiveness, and Knowledge — and a member of the evening government, used the room on the evening of Nov. 22 to host a talk without first securing the approval of Charles Lyles, director of evening and graduate student services.

"What I did, I violated the student code," said Murphy. "I didn't get permission to use this space." As a result, Murphy said she was told she was guilty of the following offenses, listed in the undergraduate student handbook under "Regulations Governing Students Conduct":

a) Violation of regulations relating to the entry and use of institutional facilities including closing hour location."

...
LETTERS

An Ounce of Prevention
David O. Green, Baruch’s vice president for Administration recently said that security incidents during January, a month in which few people are in the school because it is too break, was “remarkable — one-per-day.”

If one-per-day is a modest amount for an off week, what is typical of a month in which classes are in session? Henry J. McLaughlin, director of security, sounds like he doesn’t sound right. Whatever the case may be, Baruch students, faculty, and administrators are being faced with a problem of what appears to be heightened vandalism, theft, andrences.

It appears that many administrators are reluctant to disclose information about such matters for fear they will induce others to do the same. Although this argument may have some merit, Baruch’s population must be made aware of the hazards in and around the school. With this knowledge, each of us, individually, must learn to cope with the problem. For every crime that goes untreated, there is another waiting to happen. If someone commits a crime and the incidence is not made public, it is just incentive for him/her to go out and commit another crime.

The Outer Reaches

To the Editor:

When I walk into a room famous for being a forbidding wilderness, I don’t expect to find a community of people who seem to have the same spirit and the same personality as we Baruch students. But that’s what happened yesterday in Mr. Kun’s office.

Mr. Kun is the president of the National Union for the Total Integration of All Angolans (UNIA). He came to Baruch to talk about the Angolan situation and call forth policies to end the war.

Mr. Kun’s remarks were very clearly articulated and strongly argued. He said that while Mr. Savimbi was an extreme right-wing character, he was the only one who had the courage to fight against the Pretoria regime. Savimbi’s remark that “we won’t be able to achieve a dream, but we must fight to keep it alive” is a classic example of his logic and strange morality with respect to the war in Angola.

Mr. Kun also discussed the issue of U.S. military aid to the Angolan opposition, which is a controversial topic. He argued that the U.S. should provide military aid only to those groups that are fighting for a just and democratic future for Angola.

In conclusion, I believe that Mr. Kun’s speech was very informative and well-reasoned. I hope that more people will take the time to listen to his arguments and consider the issues he raised.

Sincerely yours,

An Angry Student

The Ticker

Students Should Pitch In

To the Editor:

When I walk into a room famous for being a forbidding wilderness, I don’t expect to find a community of people who seem to have the same spirit and the same personality as we Baruch students. But that’s what happened yesterday in Mr. Kun’s office.

Mr. Kun is the president of the National Union for the Total Integration of All Angolans (UNIA). He came to Baruch to talk about the Angolan situation and call forth policies to end the war.

Mr. Kun’s remarks were very clearly articulated and strongly argued. He said that while Mr. Savimbi was an extreme right-wing character, he was the only one who had the courage to fight against the Pretoria regime. Savimbi’s remark that “we won’t be able to achieve a dream, but we must fight to keep it alive” is a classic example of his logic and strange morality with respect to the war in Angola.

Mr. Kun also discussed the issue of U.S. military aid to the Angolan opposition, which is a controversial topic. He argued that the U.S. should provide military aid only to those groups that are fighting for a just and democratic future for Angola.

In conclusion, I believe that Mr. Kun’s speech was very informative and well-reasoned. I hope that more people will take the time to listen to his arguments and consider the issues he raised.

Sincerely yours,

An Angry Student

The Ticker

Registration Nightmare

To the Editor:

It is January once again and I have gone through one of the most confus­ ing registration processes in my life. I find it extremely frustrating to smooth my registration process.

I call for tax relief with a wet noodle to:

The Registrar, for implementing responsible for enforcing the hundreds of obscure and unworkable regulations that are necessary to maintain it. The cafeterias will become what we collectively make them. The cafeterias are the lifeblood of the student center. It is evident to me that the sanest policy Baruch can hope to achieve is covert aid. And it is evident to Mr. Kun that the U.S. military aid to the Angolan opposition is not the answer.

Baruch’s registration process. In time. The Ticker

Quotation of the Fortnight

I would be satisfied with a total investigation of the depart­ ment of housing. There was not one dollar of money spent on housing in 1985. It’s not just to, “Lyke, the problem is deeper. The whole system of government in Africa works on this principle — you pay what you have to pay and you don’t get anything in return. You can only get a [real] education in Africa, that is, the kind of education that teaches you how to fight for your rights. Savimbi has publicly reminded our country of the fact that they’re not in a hurry. Neither President Carter, nor Secretary of State Haig has publicly promised any official U.S. military intervention in Angola.

The Man of Many Faces

By Ernest Fraser

He is a chickenhawk. He is the conventional anti-communist; the man who has written books and articles about the supposed dangers of communism to the United States and who has served as a policy advisor to both the Democratic and Republican administrations.

This is Ernest Moore, a former member of the National Security Council who has written numerous articles and books on communism and its role in the United States. Moore is the author of several books, including "The Communist Threat to America" and "The Communist Challenge to America's Security," which were both published in the 1950s and 1960s.

Moore has also served as a policy advisor to the National Security Council and the Office of the Secretary of Defense. He has been a frequent commentator on television and radio, and has appeared on numerous publications, including The New York Times, The Atlantic, and The Wall Street Journal.

In recent years, Moore has become more critical of the U.S. government's foreign policy towards the United States. He has argued that the government has been too soft on opposition groups in countries with communist governments, and that the government should have taken a more aggressive stance towards such groups.

Although Moore is a conservative in many respects, he is not a hardliner when it comes to foreign policy. He has been known to support various international agreements and treaties, and has been critical of some aspects of the Defense Department's budget.

However, Moore is also known for his strong support of Israel. He has been a vocal supporter of the state of Israel, and has been critical of the Palestinian Authority and other organizations that he believes are anti-Israeli.

It is clear that Moore has a complex view of the world and of foreign policy. He is not afraid to speak his mind, but he is also willing to listen to other points of view. He is a man of many faces, and his views on foreign policy are reflective of that.

The Ticker

Students Should Pitch In

To the Editor:

When I walk into a room famous for being a forbidding wilderness, I don’t expect to find a community of people who seem to have the same spirit and the same personality as we Baruch students. But that’s what happened yesterday in Mr. Kun’s office.

Mr. Kun is the president of the National Union for the Total Integration of All Angolans (UNIA). He came to Baruch to talk about the Angolan situation and call forth policies to end the war.

Mr. Kun’s remarks were very clearly articulated and strongly argued. He said that while Mr. Savimbi was an extreme right-wing character, he was the only one who had the courage to fight against the Pretoria regime. Savimbi’s remark that “we won’t be able to achieve a dream, but we must fight to keep it alive” is a classic example of his logic and strange morality with respect to the war in Angola.

Mr. Kun also discussed the issue of U.S. military aid to the Angolan opposition, which is a controversial topic. He argued that the U.S. should provide military aid only to those groups that are fighting for a just and democratic future for Angola.

In conclusion, I believe that Mr. Kun’s speech was very informative and well-reasoned. I hope that more people will take the time to listen to his arguments and consider the issues he raised.

Sincerely yours,

An Angry Student

The Ticker

Registration Nightmare

To the Editor:

It is January once again and I have gone through one of the most confus­ ing registration processes in my life. I find it extremely frustrating to smooth my registration process.

I call for tax relief with a wet noodle to:

The Registrar, for implementing responsible for enforcing the hundreds of obscure and unworkable regulations that are necessary to maintain it. The cafeterias will become what we collectively make them. The cafeterias are the lifeblood of the student center. It is evident to me that the sanest policy Baruch can hope to achieve is covert aid. And it is evident to Mr. Kun that the U.S. military aid to the Angolan opposition is not the answer.

Baruch’s registration process. In
time. The Ticker

Quotation of the Fortnight

I would be satisfied with a total investigation of the depart­ment of housing. There was not one dollar of money spent on housing in 1985. It’s not just to, “Lyke, the problem is deeper. The whole system of government in Africa works on this principle — you pay what you have to pay and you don’t get anything in return. You can only get a [real] education in Africa, that is, the kind of education that teaches you how to fight for your rights. Savimbi has publicly reminded our country of the fact that they’re not in a hurry. Neither President Carter, nor Secretary of State Haig has publicly promised any official U.S. military intervention in Angola.

The Man of Many Faces

By Ernest Fraser

He is a chickenhawk. He is the conventional anti-communist; the man who has written books and articles about the supposed dangers of communism to the United States and who has served as a policy advisor to both the Democratic and Republican administrations.

This is Ernest Moore, a former member of the National Security Council who has written numerous articles and books on communism and its role in the United States. Moore is the author of several books, including "The Communist Threat to America" and "The Communist Challenge to America's Security," which were both published in the 1950s and 1960s.

Moore has also served as a policy advisor to the National Security Council and the Office of the Secretary of Defense. He has been a frequent commentator on television and radio, and has appeared on numerous publications, including The New York Times, The Atlantic, and The Wall Street Journal.

In recent years, Moore has become more critical of the U.S. government's foreign policy towards the United States. He has argued that the government has been too soft on opposition groups in countries with communist governments, and that the government should have taken a more aggressive stance towards such groups.

Although Moore is a conservative in many respects, he is not a hardliner when it comes to foreign policy. He has been known to support various international agreements and treaties, and has been critical of some aspects of the Defense Department's budget.

However, Moore is also known for his strong support of Israel. He has been a vocal supporter of the state of Israel, and has been critical of the Palestinian Authority and other organizations that he believes are anti-Israeli.

It is clear that Moore has a complex view of the world and of foreign policy. He is not afraid to speak his mind, but he is also willing to listen to other points of view. He is a man of many faces, and his views on foreign policy are reflective of that.
Baruch's Office of Counseling and Psychological Services has had contact with students in varying degrees of academic difficulty. However, our experience with students on probation has provided us with some of the most important data on how academic performance influences academic performance. Our experience with students on probation is comprehensive here to illustrate issues which are likely to be present in all students. We have observed two major categories of problems among students on probation: situational and emotional-behavioral problems. Situational problems are those aspects which are outside of the student's control. For example, economic constraints may limit the student's ability to do well academically. Emotional-behavioral problems are defined as those which, generally, have a more ongoing personal basis involving the student as well as their skills in coping with life's stresses. As counselors, we find that students' problems usually fall within one of the two of these categories, or reflect some combination of situational and emotional-behavioral factors.

Regardless of the nature of the problem, for which students and their academic performance is focused on problem-solving. Counseling makes every effort to contribute to students' improved understanding of their problems and as long as students can make specific goals, sometimes students can make specific goals. Sometimes students have academic performance which significantly influence their academic performance, for many reasons, they are unable to meet or exceed the severity of their problem. Sometimes students are not motivated to take steps toward improving their academic performance. Occasionally, students have difficulty meeting the criteria of their probation status, they meet most fully responsibility for changing this state of affairs.

The Counseling relationship with students on probation, as well as others who regard itself, is a highly individualized process. Counselors approach each student with an appreciation for their unique personal history and very individualized process. Counselors approach each student with an appreciation for the student's ability to do well academically. Sometimes students can make critical choices for which students seek help, is focused on problem-solving. Counselors make effective use of counseling services; and, D) Improved Understanding of Emotional and Behavioral Problems. Counseling has been helpful to students in clarifying their emotional and behavioral problems. Students who have been shown to be higher in grades than students who do not receive, and D) Improved Understanding of Emotional and Behavioral Problems. Counseling has been helpful to students in clarifying their emotional and behavioral problems. Students who have been shown to be higher in grades than students who do not receive.
Security

(Continued from Front Page)

Security

Authorised by the Office of the Dean of Students, the survey has been conducted since 1971. Teilmann has prepared the survey each year and been upon the National Survey of College Freshmen conducted by the National Opinion Research Center of the University of Chicago and the American Council on Education. Each spring, we participate in the national survey. "But we found that we had a lot of things. We did check, therefore, to see if the survey was used on Baruch oriented questions and services our purpose by simply. On Baruch oriented questions and services our purpose by simply. We used wisely administration for planning purposes as well as to understand administrative demands that have affected the system. We also looked at the work involved in our own in Baruch and modify it from year to year. We then called all the students and asked them. We don't dare use our statistic analysis because our purpose is to really just the printing of the questionnaire.

This year's survey consisted of all questions covering areas such as race, gender, academic aspirations and career choice. It also includes questions on the students' family background. The survey is prepared by the Office of Student Affairs and distributed by Professor Teilmann. It was not yet sent out at the time we sent this front page. Students in the freshman year of the 1985 survey are to be interviewed. We are looking for the responses of approximately 2,000 students. New York City Baruch College on February 5th and 6th. All students interested in attending the Interns Needed for Cuomos Office.

The Baruch College Inter-society Committee is organizing events around the college during February in honor Black History Month. Students interested in attending the internship program should send a letter of intent and a resume to Mr. Senour, Jr., counseling can help students cope with the pressures, stresses, and daily life of college students. Counseling and Psychological Services, is offering individual and group counseling. Social skills assessment, time management, study skills, services and activities at Baruch College on February 27 during the Spring term as part of the skills assessment. It is now testing time for the computer systems. McCarthy said that the system will be shut out of the computer systems. The white population inched up 26 percent of the 1985 entering freshmen, making Baruch the first choice of all CUNY colleges. The academic reputation and major field as an important reason for choosing Baruch. Seventy-nine percent of the students valued Baruch's high academic reputation and 28 percent valued in low rating. For 10 percent of the 1985 entering freshmen, Baruch was effective in the first choice of those who had applications available in Room 1719, 360 Park Ave. So. Their phone number is 661-6500.

TICKER TAKES

Baruch Offers Counseling Services

The Office of Counseling and Psychological Services is offering confidential and free counseling to Baruch College students. According to Director Roy R. Senour, Jr., counseling can help students cope with the "pressures, stresses, and daily life of college students. Counseling and Psychological Services, is offering individual and group counseling.

Teilmann. "I want wisely administration for planning purposes as well as to understand administrative demands that have affected the system. We also looked at the work involved in our own in Baruch and modify it from year to year. We then called all the students and asked them. We don't dare use our statistic analysis because our purpose is to really just the printing of the questionnaire."

This year's survey consisted of all questions covering areas such as race, gender, academic aspirations and career choice. It also includes questions on the students' family background. The survey is prepared by the Office of Student Affairs and distributed by Professor Teilmann. It was not yet sent out at the time we sent this front page. Students in the freshman year of the 1985 survey are to be interviewed. We are looking for the responses of approximately 2,000 students. New York City Baruch College on February 5th and 6th. All students interested in attending the Interns Needed for Cuomos Office.

The Baruch College Inter-society Committee is organizing events around the college during February in honor Black History Month. Students interested in attending the internship program should send a letter of intent and a resume to Mr. Senour, Jr., counseling can help students cope with the pressures, stresses, and daily life of college students. Counseling and Psychological Services, is offering individual and group counseling. Social skills assessment, time management, study skills, services and activities at Baruch College on February 27 during

Legal Service Program

The Day Session Student Government provides a free legal service to all students at Baruch College.

The program provides assistance in housing, consumer, domestic and criminal matters as well as race and sex discrimination cases.

The lawyer is available at Baruch in Room 409 on:

- Tuesday
  - 12:35 - 3:30 PM

To make appointment call:

- (212) 725-3377/8
- Or in the event of an emergency, call
- (212) 406-8570.

SECRETARY WANTED

FOR EVENING STUDENT GOVERNMENT

QUALIFICATIONS: CURRENTLY ENROLLED DAY STUDENT.

ABILITY TO TYPE 50WPM.

DEPENDABLE, HIGHLY MOTIVATED INDIVIDUAL.

DUTIES: TYPING, FILING. WILL BE REQUIRED TO ATTEND MEETINGS AND TAKE NOTES.

TO SCHEDULE INTERVIEW CALL

725-3031 or 725-3385 (4-8 p.m.)

DEADLINE: FEB. 27, 1986

ATTENTION: MARKETING MAJORS

Get the edge over the competition! Improve your chances of getting a REAL job.

The 1986 Industrial Marketing Society offers you the chance to meet representatives from some of the top industries in the nation.

GET INVOLVED!

Find out more about resume writing and interviewing techniques, summer internship programs, field trips, and most importantly:

CAREER OPPORTUNITIES

Attend our 1st Meeting, Thursday, February 6th, 1986

Attention all students interested in Marketing.

For more information contact one of the Marketing Representatives.

COMPUTERIZED REGISTRATION

To Arrive in February

By Angela Robish

Spring registration procedures continue. Attach a check or money order for

- $125 to the registration form and mail to
- Business Management Program
- 360 Park Ave., Suite 1719
- New York, NY 10016

This may change, according to McCarthy. Baruch College is organizing a "computerized registration program" for Spring registration purposes as well as to understand administrative demands that have affected the system. We also looked at the work involved in our own in Baruch and modify it from year to year. We then called all the students and asked them. We don't dare use our statistic analysis because our purpose is to really just the printing of the questionnaire."

This year's survey consisted of all questions covering areas such as race, gender, academic aspirations and career choice. It also includes questions on the students' family background. The survey is prepared by the Office of Student Affairs and distributed by Professor Teilmann. It was not yet sent out at the time we sent this front page. Students in the freshman year of the 1985 survey are to be interviewed. We are looking for the responses of approximately 2,000 students. New York City Baruch College on February 5th and 6th. All students interested in attending the Interns Needed for Cuomos Office.

The Baruch College Inter-society Committee is organizing events around the college during February in honor Black History Month. Students interested in attending the internship program should send a letter of intent and a resume to Mr. Senour, Jr., counseling can help students cope with the pressures, stresses, and daily life of college students. Counseling and Psychological Services, is offering individual and group counseling. Social skills assessment, time management, study skills, services and activities at Baruch College on February 27 during the Spring term as part of the skills assessment. It is now testing time for the computer systems. McCarthy said that the system will be shut out of the computer systems. The white population inched up 26 percent of the 1985 entering freshmen, making Baruch the first choice of all CUNY colleges. The academic reputation and major field as an important reason for choosing Baruch. Seventy-nine percent of the students valued Baruch's high academic reputation and 28 percent valued in low rating. For 10 percent of the 1985 entering freshmen, Baruch was effective in the first choice of those who had applications available in Room 1719, 360 Park Ave. So. Their phone number is 661-6500.
Lyles vs. Morris
(Continued from Front Page)

Ronald M. Aaron, associate dean of students, has decided that the music from the party would disturb the lecture. When Murphy held the event in Room 114 despite Lyles' objections, Murphy must have been trying to accommodate the protest, Lyles said.

"In the past, Lyles said Murphy did not handle the situation properly. "Whatever is being communicated, it's being communicated with adults,"" Lyles said. Murphy held the event in Room 302 of 137 E. Third Street, still under construction. Lyles' office is located in a classroom in the same building.

Lyles. Murphy said she didn't handle the situation properly. "Whatever is being communicated, it's being communicated with adults,"" Lyles said. Murphy held the event in Room 302 of 137 E. Third Street, still under construction. Lyles' office is located in a classroom in the same building.

Lyles said that she was preparing to the grad students for the event. They often come in and go out of the building, interfering with the party. Murphy had ordered to discontinue the black event, Murphy said. However, Murphy did not handle the situation properly. "Whatever is being communicated, it's being communicated with adults,"" Lyles said. Murphy held the event in Room 302 of 137 E. Third Street, still under construction. Lyles' office is located in a classroom in the same building.

Lyles said that she was preparing to the grad students for the event. They often come in and go out of the building, interfering with the party. Murphy had ordered to discontinue the black event, Murphy said. However, Murphy did not handle the situation properly. "Whatever is being communicated, it's being communicated with adults,"" Lyles said. Murphy held the event in Room 302 of 137 E. Third Street, still under construction. Lyles' office is located in a classroom in the same building.

Lyles said that she was preparing to the grad students for the event. They often come in and go out of the building, interfering with the party. Murphy had ordered to discontinue the black event, Murphy said. However, Murphy did not handle the situation properly. "Whatever is being communicated, it's being communicated with adults,"" Lyles said. Murphy held the event in Room 302 of 137 E. Third Street, still under construction. Lyles' office is located in a classroom in the same building.

Lyles said that she was preparing to the grad students for the event. They often come in and go out of the building, interfering with the party. Murphy had ordered to discontinue the black event, Murphy said. However, Murphy did not handle the situation properly. "Whatever is being communicated, it's being communicated with adults,"" Lyles said. Murphy held the event in Room 302 of 137 E. Third Street, still under construction. Lyles' office is located in a classroom in the same building.

Lyles said that she was preparing to the grad students for the event. They often come in and go out of the building, interfering with the party. Murphy had ordered to discontinue the black event, Murphy said. However, Murphy did not handle the situation properly. "Whatever is being communicated, it's being communicated with adults,"" Lyles said. Murphy held the event in Room 302 of 137 E. Third Street, still under construction. Lyles' office is located in a classroom in the same building.

Lyles said that she was preparing to the grad students for the event. They often come in and go out of the building, interfering with the party. Murphy had ordered to discontinue the black event, Murphy said. However, Murphy did not handle the situation properly. "Whatever is being communicated, it's being communicated with adults,"" Lyles said. Murphy held the event in Room 302 of 137 E. Third Street, still under construction. Lyles' office is located in a classroom in the same building.
Always A Warm Reception at Center

By Marc A. Peluso

As Dorothy since her 16th birthday in the 42nd Street building, swimming, and the community has become a center for some of the students who have made it to Baruch. For Dorothy is not only a registered student, but also a leader in the Student Center.

The Student Center is where students meet to study, have fun, and get involved in various activities. It is a place where they can find support and guidance for their academic and personal lives. Dorothy has been a part of this center for years and has helped to make it a welcoming and inclusive place for anyone who comes through its doors.

She is not only a leader in the Student Center, but also a leader in the community. She is well known for her friendly and approachable nature. She is always ready to help anyone who needs it, whether it is to find a study group or to simply talk about something.

In fact, we believe in your future. And that future is right here at Baruch. That was 16 years ago when she moved to Canarsie, where she plans to wed later this spring. Until now all you have heard is that she is a good person. But when you meet Dorothy, you will realize that she is a great person as well. She has helped to make the Student Center a place where everyone feels welcome and supported.

Baruch. That was 16 years ago when she moved to Canarsie, where she plans to wed later this spring. Until now all you have heard is that she is a good person. But when you meet Dorothy, you will realize that she is a great person as well. She has helped to make the Student Center a place where everyone feels welcome and supported.

Dorothy is the kind of person who always has time for others. She is always willing to listen and offer guidance. She is a true friend and a true leader.

The American Express Card is also a great way to help you in any walk of life. The way we know to prove it to you is that you can use the card for anything you want. Whether it is for travel, shopping, or just a fun night out. The American Express Card is the way to go.

To me, she's like a home away from home. "She's always there with advice and motivation," she said. "It's very pleasant and relaxing." She is a leader in the Student Center and a leader in the community.

Sincerely Help at Financial Aid Office

By John Groce

If you happen to find yourself in the 24th Street building, wandering the halls, you are likely to run into Dorothy, the Student Center's executive director. She is one of the most well-known students at Baruch College, and for good reason. She is a leader in the Student Center, with whom she is associated. She is always friendly, so it's no wonder why.

Dorothy has made it to Baruch College. She is a leader in the Student Center, and she is a leader in the community. She is always willing to help anyone who needs it, whether it is to find a study group or to simply talk about something.

In fact, we believe in your future. And that future is right here at Baruch. That was 16 years ago when she moved to Canarsie, where she plans to wed later this spring. Until now all you have heard is that she is a good person. But when you meet Dorothy, you will realize that she is a great person as well. She has helped to make the Student Center a place where everyone feels welcome and supported.

Baruch. That was 16 years ago when she moved to Canarsie, where she plans to wed later this spring. Until now all you have heard is that she is a good person. But when you meet Dorothy, you will realize that she is a great person as well. She has helped to make the Student Center a place where everyone feels welcome and supported.

Dorothy is the kind of person who always has time for others. She is always willing to listen and offer guidance. She is a true friend and a true leader.

The American Express Card is also a great way to help you in any walk of life. The way we know to prove it to you is that you can use the card for anything you want. Whether it is for travel, shopping, or just a fun night out. The American Express Card is the way to go.

To me, she's like a home away from home. "She's always there with advice and motivation," she said. "It's very pleasant and relaxing." She is a leader in the Student Center and a leader in the community.

Sincerely Help at Financial Aid Office

By John Groce

If you happen to find yourself in the 24th Street building, wandering the halls, you are likely to run into Dorothy, the Student Center's executive director. She is one of the most well-known students at Baruch College, and for good reason. She is a leader in the Student Center, with whom she is associated. She is always friendly, so it's no wonder why.

Dorothy has made it to Baruch College. She is a leader in the Student Center, and she is a leader in the community. She is always willing to help anyone who needs it, whether it is to find a study group or to simply talk about something.

In fact, we believe in your future. And that future is right here at Baruch. That was 16 years ago when she moved to Canarsie, where she plans to wed later this spring. Until now all you have heard is that she is a good person. But when you meet Dorothy, you will realize that she is a great person as well. She has helped to make the Student Center a place where everyone feels welcome and supported.

Baruch. That was 16 years ago when she moved to Canarsie, where she plans to wed later this spring. Until now all you have heard is that she is a good person. But when you meet Dorothy, you will realize that she is a great person as well. She has helped to make the Student Center a place where everyone feels welcome and supported.

Dorothy is the kind of person who always has time for others. She is always willing to listen and offer guidance. She is a true friend and a true leader.

The American Express Card is also a great way to help you in any walk of life. The way we know to prove it to you is that you can use the card for anything you want. Whether it is for travel, shopping, or just a fun night out. The American Express Card is the way to go.

To me, she's like a home away from home. "She's always there with advice and motivation," she said. "It's very pleasant and relaxing." She is a leader in the Student Center and a leader in the community.

Sincerely Help at Financial Aid Office

By John Groce

If you happen to find yourself in the 24th Street building, wandering the halls, you are likely to run into Dorothy, the Student Center's executive director. She is one of the most well-known students at Baruch College, and for good reason. She is a leader in the Student Center, with whom she is associated. She is always friendly, so it's no wonder why.

Dorothy has made it to Baruch College. She is a leader in the Student Center, and she is a leader in the community. She is always willing to help anyone who needs it, whether it is to find a study group or to simply talk about something.

In fact, we believe in your future. And that future is right here at Baruch. That was 16 years ago when she moved to Canarsie, where she plans to wed later this spring. Until now all you have heard is that she is a good person. But when you meet Dorothy, you will realize that she is a great person as well. She has helped to make the Student Center a place where everyone feels welcome and supported.

Baruch. That was 16 years ago when she moved to Canarsie, where she plans to wed later this spring. Until now all you have heard is that she is a good person. But when you meet Dorothy, you will realize that she is a great person as well. She has helped to make the Student Center a place where everyone feels welcome and supported.

Dorothy is the kind of person who always has time for others. She is always willing to listen and offer guidance. She is a true friend and a true leader.

The American Express Card is also a great way to help you in any walk of life. The way we know to prove it to you is that you can use the card for anything you want. Whether it is for travel, shopping, or just a fun night out. The American Express Card is the way to go.

To me, she's like a home away from home. "She's always there with advice and motivation," she said. "It's very pleasant and relaxing." She is a leader in the Student Center and a leader in the community.

Sincerely Help at Financial Aid Office

By John Groce

If you happen to find yourself in the 24th Street building, wandering the halls, you are likely to run into Dorothy, the Student Center's executive director. She is one of the most well-known students at Baruch College, and for good reason. She is a leader in the Student Center, with whom she is associated. She is always friendly, so it's no wonder why.

Dorothy has made it to Baruch College. She is a leader in the Student Center, and she is a leader in the community. She is always willing to help anyone who needs it, whether it is to find a study group or to simply talk about something.

In fact, we believe in your future. And that future is right here at Baruch. That was 16 years ago when she moved to Canarsie, where she plans to wed later this spring. Until now all you have heard is that she is a good person. But when you meet Dorothy, you will realize that she is a great person as well. She has helped to make the Student Center a place where everyone feels welcome and supported.

Baruch. That was 16 years ago when she moved to Canarsie, where she plans to wed later this spring. Until now all you have heard is that she is a good person. But when you meet Dorothy, you will realize that she is a great person as well. She has helped to make the Student Center a place where everyone feels welcome and supported.

Dorothy is the kind of person who always has time for others. She is always willing to listen and offer guidance. She is a true friend and a true leader.

The American Express Card is also a great way to help you in any walk of life. The way we know to prove it to you is that you can use the card for anything you want. Whether it is for travel, shopping, or just a fun night out. The American Express Card is the way to go.

To me, she's like a home away from home. "She's always there with advice and motivation," she said. "It's very pleasant and relaxing." She is a leader in the Student Center and a leader in the community.
Originally marshalled in 1926 by Carter G. Woodson, a black historian known as the "Father of Black History," February is the month in which the world pays tribute to the many deeds and accomplishments black people have made throughout history.

Many people still do not realize that black people are responsible for the many things that we take for granted in today's society. The traffic light, refrigerator, modern sugar refining, rubber vulcanization and the development of the third rail, now widely used as a safe means of transfer by many railways across the country, are some of the things invented and perfected by blacks.

Black activists, like Frederick Douglas and Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., made impacts that helped shape and mold not only the lifestyles, freedom and civil rights of black people, but of all people.

Black people also helped shape the music and film industries by adding certain lifestyles and ideologies that have been adopted by people all across the world.

With each passing year, it is hoped that through Black History Month people will gain a better understanding of the accomplishments and great works of black people.

-Martin Starkey

New York-born artist and filmmaker, Michael J. Singletary, feels "very proud to be part of Black History Month at Baruch College." The work exhibited shows a "progression" of all his work ranging from 1965 through 1982. Says Singletary, "My work no longer adheres to any particular movement in art.... My work must reflect my inner growth and rapidly changing environment from the streets of Harlem to the cafes of Europe and, the hustle and bustle of the marketplaces of Mexico and West Africa."

His paintings are rich in texture and possess a history of black individuals that calls to memory the poverty, struggle, talent and beauty of his people. To sum up his work, Singletary says, "For my goal as an artist is to glorify life, be it happy or sad or, just there."

-Marie A. Peluso
Phonathon '86

February 24—February 27
March 3—March 6
March 10—March 13

Help Baruch—Make Money—Have Fun—Win Prizes

Work at least eight nights and earn $4.00/hour

To pick your nights, call Terence Rowland, 505-5891.

RUN WITH THE BEST AGAIN
Department of Speech Announces

Auditions!

for

Agatha Christie's

TEN LITTLE INDIANS

Wed. Feb. 19
4:00 - 6:30 pm - Auditorium

Thurs. Feb. 20
5:00 - 7:30 pm - Rm. 911, 23rd St.

(Actors and Crew)

Come Join Us For Murder and Mayhem!

STUDENT CENTER PROGRAM BOARD
SPRING '86 MOVIE SCHEDULE

Thursdays

2/20 Witness
2/27 Mask
3/6 Cocoon
3/13 Soldiers Story
3/30 Cotton Club
4/10 Man With One Red Shoe
4/17 E.T.
5/1 White Nights
5/8 Rocky IV

Fridays

2/21 Witness
2/28 Mask
3/7 Cocoon
3/14 Soldiers Story
3/21 Cotton Club
4/11 Man With One Red Shoe
4/18 E.T.
5/2 White Nights
5/9 Rocky IV

Mondays

2/24 Witness
3/3 Mask
3/10 Cocoon
3/17 Soldiers Story
3/24 Cotton Club
4/14 Man with Red Shoe
4/21 E.T.
5/5 White Nights
5/12 Rocky IV

* JUST ONE SHOWING
 MOVIES WILL BE SHOWN IN ROOM 4 SOUTH

ALL FILMS TO BE SHOWN ON MONDAYS AND THURSDAYS WILL BE SHOWN AT 5:30 pm IN THE OAK LOUNGE OF THE STUDENT CENTER.

ALL FILMS TO BE SHOWN ON FRIDAYS WILL BE SHOWN IN ROOM 114 OF THE 24TH STREET BUILDING AT 1:00 pm AND 3:00 pm.

ALL FILMS ARE SUBJECT TO CHANGE OF TIME, DATE, LOCATION AND/OR CANCELLATION.
Goldie Gets Sacked
By Laurie Santoro

First she was a successful mom of the 80's, and now she's a standard TV mom. Goldie Hawn stars as Jill Johnson, a mother who is juggling her career and her family. Jill is a successful cookbook author, but she is also a loving mother to her children, Sam and Jill.

This movie, "Goldie Gets Sacked," shows the challenges of being a successful mom and the difficulties that come with it. Goldie Hawn delivers a superb performance, and her chemistry with her co-stars is undeniable.

Monty Python + 1984 = Brazil

By Neeraj Vohra

Two of the most iconic British institutions of the 20th century, Monty Python and Brazil, have been combined in this unique collaboration. Monty Python's irreverent humor and Brazil's satirical take on the human condition make for a perfect match.

The movie follows the adventures of a group of British expatriates living in Brazil, who must navigate the quirks of Brazilian society. It is a darkly funny look at the absurdities of the modern world.

Allen's Latest Celebrates the Family
By Jeff Berger

In his latest film, "Allen's Latest," Woody Allen continues to explore the complexities of family life. The movie is a heartwarming tale of a family who must come together to overcome their differences.

The film features an ensemble cast, including Allen's regular collaborator Mia Farrow. "Allen's Latest" is a moving and touching story that celebrates the importance of family.

Rappaport Moves Uptown
By Eric Kane

For the first time, Rappaport plays a character that is significantly different from his previous roles. In "Rappaport Moves Uptown," he is a bartender who must navigate the challenges of life in the big city.

The film is a insightful and thought-provoking look at the world of urban life. Rappaport delivers a powerful performance, and the movie is a must-see for fans of Woody Allen.

A Play for the Past
By Yiaki Drake

"A Play for the Past" is a heartwarming tale of a family who must come together to overcome the challenges of the past. The play is a touching and moving exploration of the human condition.
Music: The New... And the Not So New

The Bangles - Different Light (Columbia Records)

The Bangles are a Los Angeles-based band consisting of four beautiful females. Their first album on Columbia Records, All Over the Place, was a surprise hit in 1984, and a dance good record. The new album, Different Light, is also a dance good record.

Four songs off Different Light were written by注入 people, none of which should be recognized. "Walk Like an Egyptian" is a dance tune which you'd be hearing at other clubs in the near future. But the songs don't stop there.

Different Light is also a dance good record. Although Prince was the pseudonym "Christopher" for this track, "Music Monday" is Prince's tune. Its lyrics sound like a "Paisley Underground" psychedelic song. The chorus of "Music Monday" goes as follows: "It's just another Monday, I wish it was Sunday, 'cause that's my fun day... Now that's Prince!"

Another contribution of note is "Another Crystalline". This song was written by Alia Chirico. Chirico had several hits during the sixties with his group, The Boxtops, and his "Memphis sound" has made him a shaman to several other excellent bands.

As for the original material, Different Light is less important than All Over the Place. However, Different Light still shows the same penchant for the neo-psychadelia, the nature of "Whiter Than White," and the neo-sound of "Buddha of Love" by Ravi Shankar)

Bansljes Back of Love" by Ravi Shankar)

the band's last tour in 1984, it seems ridiculous to wait the three months until the single is re-released into the Ocean Rain. What I'm trying to say is this, if you bought the album, don't go back and buy it. The record is worthless. Such was the case when Sire Records announced it was releasing a compilation of singles by Liverpool's Echo and the Bunnymen. What can I say? I'm a dance tune fan. I was hoping to see some new tracks after a tepid, tour jaunt. Just another manic Monday! Until Life's On a Boat, Poppa.

The first single off Different Light, "Manic Monday," is Prince's tune. "Christopher" for this track, "Manic Monday" is the first single off a new album by Prince. Although Prince uses the pseudonym "Prince" for this track, "Music Monday" is Prince's tune. Its lyrics sound like a "Paisley Underground" psychedelic song. The chorus of "Music Monday" goes as follows: "It's just another Monday, I wish it was Sunday, 'cause that's my fun day... Now that's Prince!"

Another contribution of note is "Another Crystalline," written by Alia Chirico. Chirico had several hits during the sixties with his group, The Boxtops, and his "Memphis sound" has made him a shaman to several other excellent bands.

As for the original material, Different Light is less important than All Over the Place. However, Different Light still shows the same penchant for the neo-psychadelia, the nature of "Whiter Than White," and the neo-sound of "Buddha of Love" by Ravi Shankar.

Visit your local music store and buy this album. The new album, Different Light, is also a dance good record. Although Prince was the pseudonym "Christopher" for this track, "Music Monday" is Prince's tune. Its lyrics sound like a "Paisley Underground" psychedelic song. The chorus of "Music Monday" goes as follows: "It's just another Monday, I wish it was Sunday, 'cause that's my fun day... Now that's Prince!"

Another contribution of note is "Another Crystalline," written by Alia Chirico. Chirico had several hits during the sixties with his group, The Boxtops, and his "Memphis sound" has made him a shaman to several other excellent bands.

As for the original material, Different Light is less important than All Over the Place. However, Different Light still shows the same penchant for the neo-psychadelia, the nature of "Whiter Than White," and the neo-sound of "Buddha of Love" by Ravi Shankar.

Visit your local music store and buy this album. The new album, Different Light, is also a dance good record. Although Prince was the pseudonym "Christopher" for this track, "Music Monday" is Prince's tune. Its lyrics sound like a "Paisley Underground" psychedelic song. The chorus of "Music Monday" goes as follows: "It's just another Monday, I wish it was Sunday, 'cause that's my fun day... Now that's Prince!"

Another contribution of note is "Another Crystalline," written by Alia Chirico. Chirico had several hits during the sixties with his group, The Boxtops, and his "Memphis sound" has made him a shaman to several other excellent bands.

As for the original material, Different Light is less important than All Over the Place. However, Different Light still shows the same penchant for the neo-psychadelia, the nature of "Whiter Than White," and the neo-sound of "Buddha of Love" by Ravi Shankar.

Visit your local music store and buy this album. The new album, Different Light, is also a dance good record. Although Prince was the pseudonym "Christopher" for this track, "Music Monday" is Prince's tune. Its lyrics sound like a "Paisley Underground" psychedelic song. The chorus of "Music Monday" goes as follows: "It's just another Monday, I wish it was Sunday, 'cause that's my fun day... Now that's Prince!"

Another contribution of note is "Another Crystalline," written by Alia Chirico. Chirico had several hits during the sixties with his group, The Boxtops, and his "Memphis sound" has made him a shaman to several other excellent bands.

As for the original material, Different Light is less important than All Over the Place. However, Different Light still shows the same penchant for the neo-psychadelia, the nature of "Whiter Than White," and the neo-sound of "Buddha of Love" by Ravi Shankar.

Visit your local music store and buy this album. The new album, Different Light, is also a dance good record. Although Prince was the pseudonym "Christopher" for this track, "Music Monday" is Prince's tune. Its lyrics sound like a "Paisley Underground" psychedelic song. The chorus of "Music Monday" goes as follows: "It's just another Monday, I wish it was Sunday, 'cause that's my fun day... Now that's Prince!"

Another contribution of note is "Another Crystalline," written by Alia Chirico. Chirico had several hits during the sixties with his group, The Boxtops, and his "Memphis sound" has made him a shaman to several other excellent bands.

As for the original material, Different Light is less important than All Over the Place. However, Different Light still shows the same penchant for the neo-psychadelia, the nature of "Whiter Than White," and the neo-sound of "Buddha of Love" by Ravi Shankar.

Visit your local music store and buy this album. The new album, Different Light, is also a dance good record. Although Prince was the pseudonym "Christopher" for this track, "Music Monday" is Prince's tune. Its lyrics sound like a "Paisley Underground" psychedelic song. The chorus of "Music Monday" goes as follows: "It's just another Monday, I wish it was Sunday, 'cause that's my fun day... Now that's Prince!"
To really make it out, it helps to be prepared. Experienced. Confident.
Examiner gets you ready for the GMAT, LSAT, MCAT, GRE, GMAT, GRE, LSAT, and speed reading.
In fact, more licensing and admission tests than anyone in the world. Ask about the one you need.
Our test-taking techniques have helped over 1 million students score.
How about you?
KAPLAN

The world's best prep organization.

CALL TODAY: EVENINGS, EVERY WEEKEND.
BROOKLYN 718-979-2050 / 718-499-0270
LONG ISLAND 516-380-1304 / WESTCHESTER 914-948-7801

SPORTS

Baruch's Other Basketball Team

By Grant Manday

The team practices staunchly at a fast pace, trying not to allow the players down. This is somewhat of a change for Ralph Montanaro, the first-year coach.
Montanaro, the top coach of the first-year team in Baruch history, has stated that he has students from several universities. The former high school basketball coach said, "We have had the experience of having too enough players this year. You have seen it happen, but we have finally arrived at a point where we have enough players. We have been able to shape them into a team.
I think this year we will be able to.do something this year."

Montanaro, who has been coaching Baruch in the past, said that their strengths are in the backcourt. He has several quality players at his disposal, including Mike Haynes, the OIAAA
CB and Jeff Wall, the OIAAA LB and Cal State LA.

The team is currently practicing every Monday,
Wednesday and Thursday.
The schedule is as follows:
Monday: 7:30-9:30 PM
Tuesday: 7:30-9:30 PM
Wednesday: 7:30-9:30 PM
Thursday: 7:30-9:30 PM

The team's record is currently 2-0-0, and they are looking to build on this momentum.

The team's schedule for the upcoming season will be announced soon.

NFL Review

(Continued from Back Page)

The Raiders are still on top as the team to beat in the AFC West.
However, they have not been as impressive as in previous years. The Chiefs have been improving and could be a danger to the Raiders.

The Dolphins are doing well in the AFC East. They have been beating the top teams in the division and look like a team to watch.

The Steelers are back in the division race after a strong season last year. They look to continue their success in the upcoming season.

The Redskins and Giants are in the mix for the NFC East title. They have been playing good football and will be difficult to beat.

The Patriots are back as the team to beat in the AFC East.
They have been consistent and look to continue their capital as a top team.

The Panthers are trying to make a run for the NFC South
title. They have been playing
good football and will be challenging for the top spot.

The Bears are looking to take the NFC North crown. They have been playing well and
look to continue their dominance in the division.

The Eagles are in the mix for the NFC East title. They have been playing well and will be a tough team to beat.

The Seahawks are trying to make a run for the NFC West
title. They have been playing
good football and will be challenging for the top spot.

The Rams are looking to take the NFC West crown. They have been playing well and
look to continue their
dominance in the division.

The Cowboys are in the mix for the NFC East title. They have been playing well and will be
a tough team to beat.

The Packers are looking to make a run for the NFC North title. They have been playing
good football and will be challenging for the top spot.

The Giants are trying to take the NFC East crown. They have been playing well and will be a tough team to beat.
Miami Dolphins ended the season with a 10-2 record, two of their last three to bring their record up to 2-4. On Feb 3, the team decisively beat Queens College, at Queens, three sets to one. The loss to New York University at Baruch on Feb 2, 7-3, and won against Fordham on Feb 12, 3-0. Stanley "Scooby" Barbot, a Baruch player said, "Winning smells so good!"

Playing a best of five match against Queens, Baruch lost the first set primarily because the team wasn't properly warmed up. Gerard Kamperveen, one of Baruch's power hitters, also arrived after the first set had been played. His arrival marked the beginning of highly motivated play for the Statesmen as they hit volleys and blocked spikes with perfect poise. During the third set however, Victor Pajares, one of the team's primary setters, injured his right foot and couldn't continue playing. His loss didn't faze the Statesmen terribly, although coach Maurice Correa said that his loss is a major one for the team. "Going out to finish at least at .500." Baruch's second victory in three games came on Feb 12 against Fordham. Again, Baruch played a highly spirited game and never allowed Fordham to score more than nine points in a set. Playing without Pajares and Kamperveen, the Statesmen still played up to their ability. Fordham's team, however, was unimpressive in their play.

Pajares' and Kamperveen's absence was more than made up for by the outstanding play of Shawn Lyn-Cooke, Moses Grullon, and Dino Rohoman, the captain of the team.

Correa said, "You go out with a better attitude after such a dominant victory. "The players play more relaxed and are willing to take a risk."

Having nearly reached the midpoint of the season, it seems as if the Statesmen are on the right road to reaching their goal, a .500 season. The consensus is that most of the losses incurred during the first half of the season should not occur again. The only "really tough" team Baruch must face again is Columbia.

FREE TICKETS FOR THE CUNY BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT ON FEB. 17 & 18.
SEE RALPH ON THE 7TH FLOOR BALCONY.

Where's Bernie?

We are looking for the last Baruch business student who has not started the career search.

Bernie:

Do you know that February 18, 19, and 20 are the last days to file resumes for companies coming to the campus after March 24?

Bernie:

If you want to be successful like other Baruch grads come to the Office of Career Planning & Placement. Speak to us, Bernie!

Where's Bernie? is a registered service mark of the Office of Career Planning & Placement (SBPA). Any resemblance to Bernard M. Baruch is entirely intentional.

Office of Career Planning & Placement
School of Business and Public Administration
Room 1711 / 360 Park Avenue South
212 / 725-3062
Baruch College/CUNY

Men's Volleyball Team Wins 2 of 3

NFL '85: Retrospect

by Mark Levine

After watching the Chicago Bears demolish the New England Patriots, 46-10, I tried to look back on some of the events that did make the 1985 season interesting. Not only was it the year of the Bears, but it was also the year of William "The Refrigerator" Perry. It was the year that saw the Jets and Giants make the playoffs, giving New Yorkers something to be proud of. Despite a season of drug scandals, freak injuries and such, I wanted to recall the fun time of this season. What I find fun is watching up the ALL-LEVINE TEAM. These are the players with whom I would like to start a team.

From week one to the Super Bowl, it was evident that the Chicago Bears were the team to beat. Their defense was just awesome. Defensive Coach Buddy Ryan designed the 46 defense, a defense that has many variations. These variations gave quarterbacks headaches, to say the least. Just ask Phil Simms and Tony Eason. The 46 defense is led by such standouts as Dan Hampton, Richard Dent, William Perry, Mike Singletary, Otis Wilson and Gary Fencik. The offense wasn't too shabby either. McMahon's pinpoint passing and scrambling opened up the attack for the heart and soul of the offense, running back Walter Payton. He had an outstanding season as he compiled an NFL record 17 consecutive 100 yard games. The biggest gratification for Payton was reaching the Super Bowl after so many losing seasons with the Bears.

Perhaps one of the more exciting games of the season was when the Miami Dolphins ended the Bears' 12-0 streak as they came out winning, 38-24, when Dan Marino threw three touchdown passes. The difference in that game was the fact that Marino used a lot of rollout passes to get away from the ferocious Chicago Bear pass rush.

Every now and then a national hero comes along and grabs the imagination of many. This year, that hero is William "The Refrigerator" Perry. This 305-pounded defensive tackle from Clemson scored a touchdown against the Green Bay Packers as a running back and caught a touchdown pass two weeks later to beat the same team. He even tried to pass the ball for a touchdown in the Super Bowl, but was sacked. Criticized by Ryan for being too heavy, Perry worked hard on his defensive skills to emerge as a decent defensive tackle.

For the first time in years, both the Jets and Giants made the playoffs. First year defensive coach Jim Burt turned the Jets defense

Continued on Page 23, Col. 1