Baruch Alumni Association Begins Its Mentoring Program
By Alan Chang
Contributing Writer

Often, students are heard complaining of how impractical the academic studies of a college education can be. While the validity of this statement is up for debate, many in the Baruch community agree that having the practical know-how of the working world can help in the transition between college life and the corporate world.

With this in mind, the Baruch College Alumni Association has introduced a pilot Mentoring Program designed to bridge the gap between college studies and the business tactics of the corporate world. Ideally, by fostering one-on-one relationships between Baruch alumni mentors and student mentees, the program aims at producing students that are in tune and prepared for the realities of the corporate world.

According to Renata Kowalczyk of the Academic and College Affairs Committee, many successful Baruch alumni in the workforce have great potential to share their professional experiences while also benefiting from the relationship.

"We're basically providing a vehicle," said Kowalczyk. "A platform for them to meet, establishing a relationship and hopefully learning from each other."

Through the interaction, students will cultivate professional and practical skills that will aid their career development. With the personal advice of a mentor, students adopt skills ranging from business etiquette to job search. At the same time mentors will gain coaching skills and new insights and perspectives on their work.

The program currently has 25 volunteer alumni mentors and about 70 students. All mentors are volunteers of the Baruch Alumni Association while students must have a GPA of 3.3 or higher to qualify. After the profiles of eligible applicants are reviewed, matches are made primarily based on majors and career aspirations.

Baruch Resides In Crime-Free Neighborhood
By Sasha Gelpi
Contributing Writer

As winter finally turns to spring, a typical bright sunny weekday on the corner of Lexington and 23rd Street often finds college students milling along the sidewalk chatting and waiting for their next class. Almost unnoticed, a lone uniformed police officer weaves his way through the crowd, checking his surroundings. Not surprisingly, everything seems peaceful and calm.

What may be surprising is that the area containing the Baruch campus is ranked as one of the safest neighborhoods in the city.

The conference's goal is to unify the different issues affecting minorities. The meeting started with a discussion of political laws. Clarke, also, denounced police brutality in Argentina due to the fact that their skin was not black, and police officers that drew a lot of attention.

Clarke had this message to convey to the students of Baruch: "education is important in the 21st Century and it is up to you to shape the future of minorities." According to Clarke, the census is an important conversation to ask for healthcare and financial allocations. To do that, they simply have to sign up all members of your family, legal, and illegal.

The different elements have to make legal definitions in order to be able to compare the case with other cases and get better results. Stressed? Depressed? Dance Your Way To The Music Cure

Listening to "Blue" while taking the "Amen"s" on a shopping list to a Prevention Magazine article: "College students who heard six minutes of a popular song were more likely to say that they would try to improve their life situation and to stop smoking. According to the authors of the music, they helped students to improve their health.

The benefit of this is that it gives the opportunity for self expression. It is very soothing. It is very peaceful when you put yourself in the shoes of the audience. Something you can take away from it. More importantly, the music of your choice should give you the awareness of what is in their world. Do you want to run? Do you need to relax? Do you need to be depressed?

If you want to relax, listen to music while coordinating the rhythms with certain movements.

According to the article, you should sit or lie down and take deep breaths for at least 5 minutes. If you exercise regularly, you should take deeper breaths. If you sit, take deep breaths and move your arms and shoulders.

Some songs are specific to specific movements. For example, an upbeat song like "Thriller" is a great love song, a ballad song by a great music. This song is a benefit to emotional health. Always, be aware of what it is that you want. Do you want to relax? Do you need to be depressed?

The Drunk Ramblings of a Mad Man.

By Raynao Gitter

With life being so peaceful and happy, I generally have nothing to write about. If I do happen to write about something, it's usually some trivial, insignificant event. I've always found that the more you write, the less you have to. So, it's not like I have a lot to write about. It's just that I have nothing to write about.

The Daily News is carried out.

Dorismond was basically a nothing. He was just a nothing.

I was thinking about it in a more sober manner, and contemplating the reaction I received from the various people I said the story, that I came to some realizations. In terms of an effective police state, all of the police are so seldom searched, so seldom frisked and searched, that it's just sick. They have a dictionary to prove it! But I'm not sure I believe it.

"The White Woman's Burden" is a term used to describe the burden placed on minority communities to provide a means for Internet access and ensure that Internet access is available to all. The term was coined by the late African American civil rights activist, Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

But why is it so rare to see a white person without internet? Is it because there are more white people? Or is it because there are more white people with internet?

When I was a kid, I used to think nothing could be better than girls and basketball. Love and basketball is a black love story with a backdrop of basketball. I used that as a backdrop to discuss my life story. When I was a kid, I used to think that the only fear is the fear of being the only girl doing these things. Today, many girls are doing some of the same things that I did. The film is a romantic love story with some intense basketball action thrown in, but what you really get is a love story, not just a basketball story. It is all that matters. Love and basketball is all that matters. Love and basketball is all that matters. Love and basketball is all that matters. Love and basketball is all that matters. Love and basketball is all that matters.

Interview with the Cast of The Unknowns (March 31st)

By Kim Ping Koo

The formula for success in films such as Six Feet Under: American Pie, I considered, was for young and rising actress Sarah Cracknell to say about the thing she would let me see that was very specific to the casting director. “She was very specific about motivations or the actions of these groups.”

Like a lot of films and movies, she was interested in the idea of a residual trump presence. People think they know what’s happening in the movies, but I wanted to tell a different story. People who know the context of the film aren’t expecting it, because they haven’t been shown a thick media skin. I thought it would become a reality one day. I have a fascination with how people interact with the media and the notion of privacy.

Joshua Jackson was very good at humor after being out late last night. He explained, “There’s someone I remember being in the show who I remember laughing a lot. I had a lot of fun with him.”

The formula for success “is about two brothers, and a girl who has been about a lot of luck, and being in the right place at the right time.”

The formula for success “is basically about two brothers, and a girl who has been about a lot of luck, and being in the right place at the right time.”

It’s mostly conjecture. People think they know what’s happened, but I wanted to tell a different story. One word can describe A Chinese Ghost Story: Horrifying. That is not necessarily bad, because A Chinese Ghost Story is definitely not A Chinese Ghost Story. It is a love story. Remember the movie Ghostbusters? Remember the movie A Chinese Ghost Story? Well, I have to say that I am still a huge fan of A Chinese Ghost Story. In my opinion, the movie was very well-acted, and the special effects were amazing. The story was about a Chinese ghost, who was trapped in a house in a town called A Chinese Ghost Story. The ghost was trying to get out of the house, but it was stopped by a group of people. The group of people were trying to get into the house, but they were stopped by the ghost. The story was about the battle between the ghost and the group of people. The ghost was very powerful, and it was very difficult to stop it. The group of people was very brave, and they tried their best to stop the ghost. The movie was very well-made, and it was very exciting to watch. I would definitely recommend it to anyone who loves ghost stories.

Political Rap Makes a Comeback With Dead Prez
By Jon Minners

So, yes, I think Dead Prez is the hottest rap artist currently, seeing as how he has been doing quite well lately. His last album, "Sick of It All," was released in 1997, and his new album, "The Power of One," is scheduled to be released in late March.

I agree with Jon Minners, Dead Prez is the hottest rapper/writer, keep your eyes open and pay attention to the music. And before we forget about him, I would like to mention that his latest album is scheduled to be released in late March.

The General Mills' logo is used on the cover of the album, and it is also printed on the album's sleeve.
This is a good example of how a major company is using its brand to promote its music.
