Baruch College, CUNY

Maternity Leave Policy Removes College Employee

By DOUG BROHAN

College Office Assistant Jeanette Shuck blames "office politics" for her removal from the Student Activities Office. Shuck, who is pregnant, was not given her old position back because "three years ago, computers were not an integral part of this office. Now they are. The person in my office now is familiar with the computer. Carmen's skills will be better used elsewhere." Despite the decision, the Dean of Student Affairs, Robert J. Soler, returned from a three year maternity leave. Soler's original position was in the Dean of Students Office. According to the Dean of Students Samuel Johnson, Soler was not given her old position back because "Soler's position was in the office of Student's Office. But no one wants to give back the job of Student's Office." Johnson said, "the position was a part of the Registrar's Office, and was transferred there by the Registrar's Office." Edna Bick-Duggan, Assistant Director of Student Activities, stated that the job of Student's Office is "to handle the offices and to the City University of New York."

Caribbean Club Initiates Jamaican Relief Effort

By MICHAEL G. ROBINSON

The Caribbean Students' Association of Baruch College has launched a "Give and Go" drive to assist the victims of Hurricane Gilbert. Gilbert, the first hurricane of this century, devastated the Caribbean island of Jamaica killing at least 16 people and making 100,000 homeless. The damage is estimated to be in excess of $8 billion. Trinidadianborn Andrew Ransome is primarily responsible for initiating the drive at Baruch. She said that the Caribbean Students' Association will concentrate on obtaining non-perishable food items and clothing for the Jamaican hurricane victims. They intend to transform the club room, located on the 4th floor of the Student Center at 117 E. 22nd St., into a drop-off point where interested students can make their contributions.

Andrea Duncan, a recent BBA graduate added, "I'm sure that many people in Ethiopia are still starving, but it's no longer on television so nobody cares." Duncan says that she was moved by the television images depicting the suffering in Jamaica. "I saw people who were hungry living in sports arenas; I felt worthless because I had not done anything to help," she said.

Duncan along with Samantha Banks, a student marketing major, have organized a group of students who will appeal to the business community for contributions of food, clothing, and medicine.

Several students who wish to help have expressed disappointment with the leadership of Day Session Student Government President Ainsley Bolosan. They see no viable sign of his support of the relief effort, despite the fact that Caribbean students are thought to have provided his largest block of support in the DSSG campaign. She said that she did not ask to be put in this position. She is in a situation where she has a job to do.

The Tickler

The Students' Voice for Over 55 Years

Vol. 56 No. 10

September 27, 1988

Baruch College is being reviewed for accreditation this fall, according to the Provost's Office.

The Day Session Student Government will allow $192,000 for school spending and $194,000 for student clubs.

Two Lower Council and one Upper Council positions are available on the DSSG.

Daycare Program Faces Obstacles

By BARBARA LUCCHESI

The implementation of a daycare program at Baruch is off to a slow start. Those students in need of daycare for their children will have to wait for the obstacles to be worked out before the future of the program will be decided.

The statistics of a recent questionnaire, printed in the August 30 issue of The Tickler, asking those who need the daycare to respond, are incomplete. However, the Dean of Students, Dr. Samuel Johnson, reports that there is already some indication that students with infants need the daycare most, not students with toddlers. This poses some concern with burdens that toddler care would not, such as the need for more room to maneuver, the possibility of having a new baby with problems, and the need for people capable of caring for the needs of infants. In addition, there are very specific requirements as to the layout of the center, such as the location of eating spaces, with special regard to changing areas for children still in diapers.

The original funding of $75,000

(Appear Page 6, Column 1)

(Appear Page 7, Column 1)

(Appear Page 8, Column 1)

(Appear Page 9, Columns 1-2)

The Caribbean Students' Association of Baruch College has launched a "Give and Go" drive to assist the victims of Hurricane Gilbert.

Gilbert, the first hurricane of this century, devastated the Caribbean island of Jamaica killing at least 16 people and making 100,000 homeless. The damage is estimated to be in excess of $8 billion. Trinidadianborn Andrew Ransome is primarily responsible for initiating the drive at Baruch. She said that the Caribbean Students' Association will concentrate on obtaining non-perishable food items and clothing for the Jamaican hurricane victims. They intend to transform the club room, located on the 4th floor of the Student Center at 117 E. 22nd St., into a drop-off point where interested students can make their contributions.

Andrea Duncan, a recent BBA graduate added, "I'm sure that many people in Ethiopia are still starving, but it's no longer on television so nobody cares." Duncan says that she was moved by the television images depicting the suffering in Jamaica. "I saw people who were hungry living in sports arenas; I felt worthless because I had not done anything to help," she said.

Duncan along with Samantha Banks, a student marketing major, have organized a group of students who will appeal to the business community for contributions of food, clothing, and medicine.

Several students who wish to help have expressed disappointment with the leadership of Day Session Student Government President Ainsley Bolosan. They see no viable sign of his support of the relief effort, despite the fact that Caribbean students are thought to have provided his largest block of support in the DSSG campaign.

With all the problems it is easy to overlook the effects this may have on Soler. She did not ask to be put in this position. She is in a situation where she has a job to do.
Quotation of the Fortnight

"It's like if you have only one flavor of ice cream — I love vanilla, but I love strawberry more." - Carol Berman

Letters to the Editor

The Tileer prints letters to our learned college president, Joel M. Slavin, on many issues about which students may express their feelings. We are interested in discussing with students any matters which they feel should be brought to the attention of the administration. If you have any comments, please write to: The Tileer, CUNY, Chancellor's Mgmt. Ctr., CUNY, City University of New York, New York, N.Y. 10010.

The Tileer is a non-partisan publication. Individual writers are not necessarily representative of the views or editorial policies of the administration, the student body, or the university. The opinions expressed in the letters are the views of the writers, and should not be interpreted as reflecting the views of Tileer staff.

The Tileer welcomes letters from all students. Since space limitations, we cannot guarantee publication of every letter. Our office is open during regular school hours. Any delayed letters will be published in the following issue.

Director: Michael G. Robinson, 282 MCA Office, CUNY, City University of New York, New York, N.Y. 10010.

Close your eyes and imagine being at the top of the mountain. You are surrounded by tall shady trees and you can see City traffic just trying to walk to a place. The buildings are tall and you can see them from a distance. This is a place where it is needed, a place where it is wanted. The Tileer supports this idea and it is ready for you to read.

The Tileer welcomes letters from all students. Since space limitations, we cannot guarantee publication of every letter. Our office is open during regular school hours. Any delayed letters will be published in the following issue.

Director: Michael G. Robinson, 282 MCA Office, CUNY, City University of New York, New York, N.Y. 10010.

Letters to the Editor

The Tileer prints letters to our learned college president, Joel M. Slavin, on many issues about which students may express their feelings. We are interested in discussing with students any matters which they feel should be brought to the attention of the administration. If you have any comments, please write to: The Tileer, CUNY, Chancellor's Mgmt. Ctr., CUNY, City University of New York, New York, N.Y. 10010.

Letters to the Editor

The Tileer prints letters to our learned college president, Joel M. Slavin, on many issues about which students may express their feelings. We are interested in discussing with students any matters which they feel should be brought to the attention of the administration. If you have any comments, please write to: The Tileer, CUNY, Chancellor's Mgmt. Ctr., CUNY, City University of New York, New York, N.Y. 10010.

The Tileer welcomes letters from all students. Since space limitations, we cannot guarantee publication of every letter. Our office is open during regular school hours. Any delayed letters will be published in the following issue.

Director: Michael G. Robinson, 282 MCA Office, CUNY, City University of New York, New York, N.Y. 10010.

Letters to the Editor

The Tileer prints letters to our learned college president, Joel M. Slavin, on many issues about which students may express their feelings. We are interested in discussing with students any matters which they feel should be brought to the attention of the administration. If you have any comments, please write to: The Tileer, CUNY, Chancellor's Mgmt. Ctr., CUNY, City University of New York, New York, N.Y. 10010.

Letters to the Editor

The Tileer prints letters to our learned college president, Joel M. Slavin, on many issues about which students may express their feelings. We are interested in discussing with students any matters which they feel should be brought to the attention of the administration. If you have any comments, please write to: The Tileer, CUNY, Chancellor's Mgmt. Ctr., CUNY, City University of New York, New York, N.Y. 10010.

Letters to the Editor

The Tileer prints letters to our learned college president, Joel M. Slavin, on many issues about which students may express their feelings. We are interested in discussing with students any matters which they feel should be brought to the attention of the administration. If you have any comments, please write to: The Tileer, CUNY, Chancellor's Mgmt. Ctr., CUNY, City University of New York, New York, N.Y. 10010.

Letters to the Editor

The Tileer prints letters to our learned college president, Joel M. Slavin, on many issues about which students may express their feelings. We are interested in discussing with students any matters which they feel should be brought to the attention of the administration. If you have any comments, please write to: The Tileer, CUNY, Chancellor's Mgmt. Ctr., CUNY, City University of New York, New York, N.Y. 10010.

Letters to the Editor

The Tileer prints letters to our learned college president, Joel M. Slavin, on many issues about which students may express their feelings. We are interested in discussing with students any matters which they feel should be brought to the attention of the administration. If you have any comments, please write to: The Tileer, CUNY, Chancellor's Mgmt. Ctr., CUNY, City University of New York, New York, N.Y. 10010.

Letters to the Editor

The Tileer prints letters to our learned college president, Joel M. Slavin, on many issues about which students may express their feelings. We are interested in discussing with students any matters which they feel should be brought to the attention of the administration. If you have any comments, please write to: The Tileer, CUNY, Chancellor's Mgmt. Ctr., CUNY, City University of New York, New York, N.Y. 10010.

Letters to the Editor

The Tileer prints letters to our learned college president, Joel M. Slavin, on many issues about which students may express their feelings. We are interested in discussing with students any matters which they feel should be brought to the attention of the administration. If you have any comments, please write to: The Tileer, CUNY, Chancellor's Mgmt. Ctr., CUNY, City University of New York, New York, N.Y. 10010.

Letters to the Editor

The Tileer prints letters to our learned college president, Joel M. Slavin, on many issues about which students may express their feelings. We are interested in discussing with students any matters which they feel should be brought to the attention of the administration. If you have any comments, please write to: The Tileer, CUNY, Chancellor's Mgmt. Ctr., CUNY, City University of New York, New York, N.Y. 10010.
A Double Standard ... No Way

BY CHRISTOPHER A. WARD

He has decided to use the column to promote racial segregation by giving us his own distorted views of the world. The young black student at the University of Wisconsin at Madison, who is a member of the National Organization for Self-Defense, wants to promote a white society where blacks are second class citizens.

Robinson seems famous black students as not as successful as white students. He says that blacks are not as good as whites and that the government should not spend money on them.

Robinson says the thrust of the Civil Rights movement was "to end all laws on the basis of skin color." He wants to "trample on" the "race consciousness" that is "exposed to the race consciousness that is "exposed to the world." He says that "the revolution is internal."

Robinson believes that the black community should take control of their own affairs and that the government should not interfere with their internal affairs.

The "black civil rights struggle" was primarily about the "morality and ugliness of racism and segregation." Robinson says that "we should be doing what we can to eliminate the black community's" and that "we should be doing what we can to help himself."

The "lack of black political power" must be eliminated in order to "build a better society." Robinson says that "black political power" must be eliminated in order to "build a better society."

The "black community" must be "burned out." Robinson says that "burning" is the only way to "get rid of the black community."

Robinson is telling us that he believe in the "white power" and that he will do whatever it takes to "build a better society." He is telling us that he will do whatever it takes to "build a better society."

The "black community" must be "burned out." Robinson says that "burning" is the only way to "get rid of the black community."

Robinson is telling us that he believe in the "white power" and that he will do whatever it takes to "build a better society." He is telling us that he will do whatever it takes to "build a better society."
JAMAICA

In education there are tremendous anti-poverty programs for the children of the UK.

Baruch College will always be tied up with the CUNY colleges, is in politics.

CUNY College of Technology.

In the face of an anti-poverty and social services cuts, the student loan program is devalued country.

Manley and the PNP. Manley, the mentioned, help explain the Jamaican branch of the University.

CUNY branch has less need for the public college because many of them are small and too urban for him. The campus at Queens College was 70 acres too large. Baruch is too small and too urban for him.

The problems described above, as well as others not mentioned, help explain the resentment in the business and the Phillips Presbyterian. Manley, the former premier and his party, sounds defeated after two years. Manley, who had spoken of the importance of Baruch and its mission to the future of Jamaica, had now spoken of the importance of the public colleges. Manley had spoken of the need for Baruch to be a major force in the development of the country.

Baruch College will always be tied up with the CUNY colleges, is in politics.

The problems described above, as well as others not mentioned, help explain the resentment in the business and the Phillips Presbyterian. Manley, the former premier and his party, sounds defeated after two years. Manley, who had spoken of the importance of Baruch and its mission to the future of Jamaica, had now spoken of the importance of the public colleges. Manley had spoken of the need for Baruch to be a major force in the development of the country.

Jamaica: the impact of the defeated war on women and the prospects for the course of events.

The battle of St. George's Caye Day, and Independence Day are observed as national holidays in Belize during the month of September. The independence of British Honduras (as the country is known) in 1880 was initially recognized by the British, and later by the United States.

The first British Garrison in Belize on in-...
A CALL FROM DAVEY

The Day That AIDS Hit Home

By SAMANTHA TRACKER

In the year 1863, United States of America was divided into two halves, the North and the South. The South was known for its agriculture and was mostly populated by white people. The North was more industrialized and had a larger population of black people. The civil war was raging on and every day brought new challenges and difficulties. The battle of Gettysburg was a turning point in the war.

The Journey

The journey from New York to Gettysburg was long and uncomfortable. The encampments of 16,000 Civil War re-enactors had gathered in Gettysburg, Pennsylvania. The journey was long and uncomfortable, but the excitement of the re-enactment was worth it.

The Re-enactment

After putting on my uniform and fitting my eye to the lens, I realized the camp life of a civil war army was not like the movies. It was a form of rehearsal. If I had done this in the Civil War, I'd have had a bit of trouble with sheriffs and town officials. I was now a part of a re-enactment of the battle of Gettysburg. I was so kind, so understanding. We talked about the war and the battles we had fought. In the end, everyone agreed to capture the Confederate capital of Richmond. Virginia had met with consecutive defeats and had suffered heavy losses.

Legacy Endures

Civil War re-enactors, Since I was a child, I enjoyed attending Civil War events. I knew all the commands of war and had remained together since then. I was present at the battle of Gettysburg. Since the actual battle was fought in the first days of July of that year, I was there to relive the moment. In the year 1863, United States of America was divided into two halves; the North and the South. The South was known for its agriculture and was mostly populated by white people. The North was more industrialized and had a larger population of black people. The civil war was raging on and every day brought new challenges and difficulties. The battle of Gettysburg was a turning point in the war.

A CALL FROM DAVEY

The Day That AIDS Hit Home

By SAMANTHA TRACKER

In the year 1863, United States of America was divided into two halves, the North and the South. The South was known for its agriculture and was mostly populated by white people. The North was more industrialized and had a larger population of black people. The civil war was raging on and every day brought new challenges and difficulties. The battle of Gettysburg was a turning point in the war.

The Journey

The journey from New York to Gettysburg was long and uncomfortable. The encampments of 16,000 Civil War re-enactors had gathered in Gettysburg, Pennsylvania. The journey was long and uncomfortable, but the excitement of the re-enactment was worth it.

The Re-enactment

After putting on my uniform and fitting my eye to the lens, I realized the camp life of a civil war army was not like the movies. It was a form of rehearsal. If I had done this in the Civil War, I'd have had a bit of trouble with sheriffs and town officials. I was now a part of a re-enactment of the battle of Gettysburg. I was so kind, so understanding. We talked about the war and the battles we had fought. In the end, everyone agreed to capture the Confederate capital of Richmond. Virginia had met with consecutive defeats and had suffered heavy losses.

Legacy Endures

Civil War re-enactors, Since I was a child, I enjoyed attending Civil War events. I knew all the commands of war and had remained together since then. I was present at the battle of Gettysburg. Since the actual battle was fought in the first days of July of that year, I was there to relive the moment. In the year 1863, United States of America was divided into two halves; the North and the South. The South was known for its agriculture and was mostly populated by white people. The North was more industrialized and had a larger population of black people. The civil war was raging on and every day brought new challenges and difficulties. The battle of Gettysburg was a turning point in the war.
“BELIZE”

The Ticket

Thursday, September 27, 1988

Page 12

If the UFO had worked, they would have rid the Earth of its many problems. This presence is a threat to the United States. If it were to be destroyed, then it would lead to a war between the United States and Mexico. It’s only a matter of time before it is destroyed.

But the Generalissimo’s government was not dissuaded during the time it was in power. The United States and Mexico built up their armies and then attacked the Generalissimo’s forces. After a year of fighting, the Generalissimo’s forces were defeated and the United States and Mexico won.

In the foreign policy arena, no major vic-ts have been won. Along with the Guatemalan army, the Guatemalan police have worked hard to maintain peace. They have had to deal with many problems, such as drug trafficking, and they have done a good job. They have refused to allow any drug-related activities to continue and they are working on it.

In a recent interview, El Señor Cardona, the President of the Generalissimo’s government, expressed his view of the situation. He said, “We have to fight against drugs. They are a menace to our country. We will not allow them to continue. We are working on it.”

In the United States, the support for the Generalissimo’s government has decreased. Most of the people who supported him have been turned away. They are still fighting against the Guatemalan army and they are losing.

The Generalissimo’s government is still in power. They have refused to allow international help and they are still fighting against the Guatemalan army. They are losing and the United States and Mexico are winning.

The United States and Mexico have won the war against the Generalissimo’s government. They have defeated them and they are now in control of Guatemala.

The United States and Mexico have won the war against the Generalissimo’s government. They have defeated them and they are now in control of Guatemala.
new york comedy of errors

by e. valentine

features

new york comedy of errors

prologue

Unlike most students Max Rowe opted to attend New York University. He was uninterested in the usual fields of business or law, and decided instead to major in theater. Within his first year he found himself performing in a local rep theater and was subsequently offered a part in a London production of "The Secret Face." Unfortunately, the show closed before his name could be added to the bills. As a result, his directing career was on hold. But he continued to pursue his theater work, eventually landing a part in a Broadway play. However, that too began to lose its allure, and when he came home to New York, he decided to give up acting altogether and began to look for work in the city. He found a job as a technical support aide in a city agency and soon discovered a passion for office work. His performance as a technical support aide was so impressive that he was promoted to the position of manager of the office. Despite his success, Max remained restless, always looking for something more challenging. Finally, he began to consider directing again, and soon found himself directing a local theater production of "The Secret Face," which was a huge success. Max was overwhelmed by the positive response from the audience and decided to pursue a career in directing full-time. He quickly rose through the ranks, taking on bigger and more challenging projects, and soon became one of the most respected and sought-after directors in the city. But his success was not without its challenges, and Max found himself struggling with the pressures of the job, 常常努力工作和学习，以在所爱的工作中达到成功。
NEW YORK'S TOP DISC

Perhaps it is a bit unfair that we should compare the New York City discs to those in other major cities. "The Take of One," a disc now available at the popular store in the city, is one of the more popular discs. It's a real deal, and it's in a very good condition.

1. Larry Levine: Larry is the best disc jockey in the world. He has the best taste in music, and he's always on top of things. His party is always the best.

2. Gregory: He's a great disc jockey, and he always has the latest and greatest music. He's always on top of the latest trends.

3. Kenny Dorham: Kenny has the best taste in music, and he always knows what's coming up next. His party is always the best.

4. Tony Bennett: Tony is a great disc jockey, and he always has the latest and greatest music. He's always on top of the latest trends.

5. Frankie Knuckles: Frankie is a great disc jockey, and he always has the latest and greatest music. He's always on top of the latest trends.

UP AND COMING JOKES

As noted in my last review, quite a few new disc jockeys have been making an appearance. One of them is a 16-year-old kid from Long Island named John "Jay" Johnson. He's making quite a name for himself, and he's sure to be in the top 10 soon.

John "Jay" Johnson: He's a great disc jockey, and he always has the latest and greatest music. He's always on top of the latest trends.

ADDITIONAL DISC REVIEW:

The Take of One: This disc is a real deal, and it's in a very good condition. It's a real find.

The Take of One: This disc is a real deal, and it's in a very good condition. It's a real find.

TOUR OF THE 12 INCH

Singing sing is the best disc jockey in the world. He has the best taste in music, and he's always on top of things. His party is always the best.

The Take of One: This disc is a real deal, and it's in a very good condition. It's a real find.

LIST OF THE BEST DISCS:

1. Larry Levine: Larry is the best disc jockey in the world. He has the best taste in music, and he's always on top of things. His party is always the best.

2. Gregory: He's a great disc jockey, and he always has the latest and greatest music. He's always on top of the latest trends.

3. Kenny Dorham: Kenny has the best taste in music, and he always knows what's coming up next. His party is always the best.

4. Tony Bennett: Tony is a great disc jockey, and he always has the latest and greatest music. He's always on top of the latest trends.

5. Frankie Knuckles: Frankie is a great disc jockey, and he always has the latest and greatest music. He's always on top of the latest trends.

RJ: This is a great disc, and it's in a very good condition. It's a real find.

The Take of One: This disc is a real deal, and it's in a very good condition. It's a real find.

TOUR OF THE 12 INCH

Singing sing is the best disc jockey in the world. He has the best taste in music, and he's always on top of things. His party is always the best.

The Take of One: This disc is a real deal, and it's in a very good condition. It's a real find.

LIST OF THE BEST DISCS:

1. Larry Levine: Larry is the best disc jockey in the world. He has the best taste in music, and he's always on top of things. His party is always the best.

2. Gregory: He's a great disc jockey, and he always has the latest and greatest music. He's always on top of the latest trends.

3. Kenny Dorham: Kenny has the best taste in music, and he always knows what's coming up next. His party is always the best.

4. Tony Bennett: Tony is a great disc jockey, and he always has the latest and greatest music. He's always on top of the latest trends.

5. Frankie Knuckles: Frankie is a great disc jockey, and he always has the latest and greatest music. He's always on top of the latest trends.

RJ: This is a great disc, and it's in a very good condition. It's a real find.
"Bird," a compassionate dramatic portrait of jazz musician Charlie "Bird" Parker, presented and directed by Clint Eastwood, will open on Friday, Sept. 29, at the Plaza Theatre in an exclusive New York Area run as part of the Network television season. A limited number of engagements will be requested at the door. St. Bart's, the non-profit church of The Plaza, is located at 1 West 53rd Street, between Fifth and Sixth Avenues in Manhattan.

Musician David Sandborn and the Wurlitzer will be the hosts of MUSIC-VARIETY SERIES ON NBC TV STARTING OCT. 2

The new, expanded edition of Danforth on Tap, written by Jon Kasprzyk and John Dworkin, directed by David Westreich, features music and poetry by a variety of performers under the artistic direction of David Westreich of Danforth on Tap.

ARTS
RAP FILE NO. 3
Boogie Down Productions (B.D.P.)

By DAVID BANKS

The death of Scott La Rock in the late summer of 1987, surely filled KRS-One and his fans with the determination to be number one, and to destroy this scene called hip-hop. A year later, they have been successful. KRS-One's best record is "Stop the Violence," which has been praised for its positive message, and its ability to reach a broad audience.

DAVID BANKS

When it's time to buy a Receiver.

Okay, you've finally landed to sign in on music. What a good place to start is a receiver, but be careful. There are many great ones out there, but also many that are not.

A receiver is a central part of stereo systems, especially for those that have the money to spend. It does the job of mixing, balancing, and equalizing the sound from several speakers, and is the most important component in a stereo system.

When you're looking for a receiver, there are a few things to keep in mind:

1. Power rating: Always check the power rating of a receiver, as it's one of the biggest factors determining price. The power rating is the maximum amount of power that the amplifier section can deliver.

2. Signal-to-noise ratio (SNR): The SNR is a measure of the receiver's ability to reproduce music without distortion. A higher SNR means less variation in the output signal.

3. Total harmonic distortion (THD): The THD is a measure of the distortion present in the output signal. A lower THD means less distortion.

4. Pre amplifiers: Pre amplifiers are also an important part of a receiver, as they control the volume and balance of the output signal.

5. Tuners: Tuners are used to select radio and TV stations. A good tuner will have good reception and a wide range of channels.

6. DACs: DACs (digital-to-analog converters) are used to convert digital signals from CD players or other digital devices into analog signals that can be played through speakers.

7. Accessories: Accessories such as remote controls, speaker cables, and surge protectors are also important to consider.

Manufacturers often call a receiver 'Refined' to imply 'High-fidelity'. This term simply indicates that the product can handle higher-than-normal audio signals, and that it is capable of reproducing music with high fidelity. The term 'Digital-ready' implies that the receiver can handle digital signals, such as those from CD players or digital TV tuners.

In conclusion, when buying a receiver, it's important to consider all these factors, and to choose a receiver that meets your needs and budget.

The Advanced Scouting Report

(Men's Soccer)

By MICKEY KRAMER

I know they started slowly, but...The men's soccer team is off to a sluggish start. After two games, the team has two losses and a tie. With some freshmen additions and some mid-season returnees, this team has great potential to succeed. Coach Anthony Henry's leadership should once again prove a winning season.

Last year's team made a quick and painless "ending" for Marymount College. Although the second game was scored the same, the second team played much better. They lost in the first game and managed to tie in the second.

The team got their poise back and finally scored seven goals on two points to tie the game; quite a comeback. It was now clear that they had a lot of work to do if they want to play competitive against the major teams. They should once again post a winning season.

Coach Anthony Henry's leadership, they should be back on the winning track. They have split playing time in the two games. Last year's MVP, is the strength of the defense. He is a good at protecting the backfour, but he also has a good character. Gary Burnett is a strong desire to win. "I am beginning to expect this all the time, " said Burnett. He is a three-year veteran. He is a good at playing defense and he also has a lot of potential. The forwards are the goal-scorers. Those are the men who make things happen on offense. Coach is a team player. He has a good character and he also has a lot of potential. Another forward responsible in the game is to the one on the right.

The sweeper makes it to the back four. This year, he has a good character and he also has a lot of potential. He is a three-year veteran. He is good at playing defense and he also has a lot of potential. Anthony Henry has been a coach for quite a few years. He has a good character and he also has a lot of potential. This year, he will be a team leader, he also has a lot of potential. He will also have a good character and he also has a lot of potential.

Here's a team that has had bad years in the past and there are too reasons to expect otherwise this year.

UPCOMING Home Games

Mens Soccer

Oct. 1 vs. Medgar Evers
Oct. 15 vs. Kings Point

UPCOMING Home Games

Women's Tennis

Sept. 28 vs. John Jay
Oct. 7 vs. Brooklyn

UPCOMING Home Game

Women's Volleyball

Oct. 6 vs. Nyack

LEND YOUR SUPPORT
THE BARUCH TENNIS TEAM
SIZZLES IN BLOWOUT

By MATT AUBRY

The Baruch Women’s Tennis Team started their season with a bang. They practically swept New Jersey’s Ramapo College in their first match of the year. The 8 match to 1 victory was an apt beginning to a season which Coach Bill Eng looks to with a lot of optimism.

After having their first scheduled match cancelled by New York Maritime, the Women’s Tennis Team seemed to say, “Come one come all,” with the stunning blowout over Ramapo. Every victory was in straight sets and the only loss came as a result of a last minute substitution on the third doubles team.

“We didn’t think it would be this easy...It was fun.” Jackie Secaria

Every victory was an impressive one. Co-captain Jackie Secaria won her match handily (6-0, 6-0), as did other Co-captain Joy Martín (6-2, 6-1). Coach Eng was most impressed by his new #1 & #2 players; sophomores, Catherine Assimacopoulos, who beat Monica Brito (6-0, 6-1) and Orafin Loesvidwy, who beat Brito’s sister Martina, also by a 6-0, 6-1 score. Eng states that Assimacopoulos has “worked on her game” and he expects great things from these two in the future.

The third and fourth seeded players were no less impressive. Karyn Cohen, a transfer student who was top-seeded at Rockaway College, won her match without much difficulty (6-2, 6-3). Ana Daniels, a full-time evening student who is in her forties and work full time, showed her young opponent that experience is hard to beat with her 6-3, 6-1 victory.

In doubles matches, with one exception, the Baruchians again proved their superiority. Secaria and Loesvidwy won over the Brito sisters: 7-4, 6-2. Assimacopoulos paired with bright newcomer Susan Brooks to top the second Ramapo team (6-1, 6-4).

Coach Eng was quite pleased with the teams’ performance but was not surprised in the least. “As they (Ramapo) were warming up I could see we were going to win.” Eng sees this as a promising start to a season in which the team is trying to top their 10-3 record of last year. If the team keeps playing as they did in this match they will also better their second place finish in the CUNY Conference and third place finish in last season’s Conference playoffs.

As for future games, Eng sees their match against Manhattan College as a “good test.” He also sees rival Mt. St. Vincent, to whom Baruch has lost in the Hudson Valley Championship the last two years, as a challenge in addition to Hunter and Staten Island Colleges.

A closing note on the possible use of the Armory as a site for home-games this year. Coach Eng says, “There are too many obstacles to do anything about this this year.”

In the meantime anyone wanting to view a home-game of the Tennis Team has to travel up to Lehman College in the Bronx.