The Reprimand:
An Update
Dean Broken Arrow, subsequently suspended from the handsome students, has been elected representative of the Committee to Promote the Social Well-being of Students (CPSWS) to the FAC. This will be his third term in office and will then come to class on "the honor system."

Have you been using your Mac too much lately?
By SINOQUTO BURRITO

According to Dean Don Johnson, the approved budget for Macintosh computers in The Tickler office has been put on hold due to a recent teaching assignment. Johnson will then come to class on "the honor system."

son, consultant on budgets, said that the recent Macintosh study concluded that computers pose a serious threat that might affect the whole faculty. He stated that the students who associate with them.
When asked what the details of the study is, he said, "(The Macintosh computers results in a) serious indication that is harmful to both students and faculty and we don't want a bunch of Mac-atics running around this school."

There are about 200 students and faculty members that already own Macintosh computers, so it seems that the money that was going to be spent on new Macintoshes will be spent on rehabilitation centers for these poor students and faculty members.

According to The Wall Street Quack, this new addiction is classified as a disease. People everywhere are becoming addicted to this little small beige box with a small screen that makes funny bleeping and whirring sounds. It has a funny looking mouse attached to the end of it, that has people just squeezing and pressing it to death.
The most dangerous part of this little box is the screen. People spend countless hours and even days looking into this screen with so much for sleep, healthy eating or personal hygiene.

The following check list by Michael D. Wesley of Macuser, can help you determine whether or not you're adicted to the Macintosh. Please answer these questions honestly. If it helps, type them into your word processor or outline, since people are less likely to lie to their Macin­ toshes.

1) Do you have a bumper sticker displayed prominently on your vehicle that carries any of these messages:
   • "I love my MAC"
   • "My spouse, probably. My pet, maybe. My Macintosh. NEVER!"
   • "You'll take my Macintosh away from me this day you pry my cold, dead fingers around the mouse."

Professor
Links College Mainframe To
2nd St. Game

By MENTAL WARD

A faculty member was charged with tampering with student grades.
The teacher, Professor Miriam Worsenburger, a member of the main computer (which holds all student records) with the Outrun video game on the Stur Center's second floor game room. In Outrun, players navigate a track and try to avoid obstacles and other cars.
They pick up points by running through the course in the quickest possible way. Worsenburger changed the game, as he said "just a little bit."

Once Outrun was linked to the Baruch computer it became just not a racecourse but another class -course at Baruch, taught by (you guessed it) Professor STACC.
Worsenburger switched the initial screen at the end of the game reser­ vied for high scorers and put it at the front of the game. Instead of initial the players were asked for their Social Security numbers. Then the fun really started. No 기

Instead of obstacles in the shape of other cars, players saw "big blips" which took the place of red C64 they had taken before on them.
The first blip which was hit in the game told the machine that the player was taking that class over and was to be

PINK FLOYD'S
SYD BARRETT APPEARS AT
BARUCH COLLEGE

By VLADMIR O. HOLTZ

Cambridge, Eng.: Syd Barrett, former lead singer of the rock band Pink Floyd escaped from the Cambridge Institute for the Mentally Insane, according to Barrett's physician, Dr. Creampuff A.
Schwimmer.

Barrett was placed in the Cambridge Institute 20 years ago by his best friend and bandmate Roger Waters.

"When Syd was admitted," said Schwimmer, "we thought he was suffering from the delusion that he was an orange. Upon monitoring his behavior, though it was not obvious, signs of being a citrus fruit. Instead he constantly claimed with great conviction that he was pink. This was curious behavior."
SEAGULL TAKES A DIVE

Last week when President Jonathan L. Seagull admitted to accepting private contributions of Brazilian potatoes, in blatant disregard of CUNY rules, we thought we had heard it all. But now, just days after his apology and explanation, ("We needed them to pay our adjuncts. The budget cuts have really opened up a pit full of temptation!") we now learn that in addition to the contraband potatoes, President Seagull has also been the recipient of several guava bush kick-backs.

We understand that our adjuncts are hungry but we are entirely unwilling to accept this illegal and immoral conduct on the part of our college’s top officials. In the words of one tenured professor: “Let them eat cake!”

NEW COURSE SELECTION AT BARUCH

By W. B. KOTTER

Remedial Political Science ...... Section FU-J: "Ethics in Politics"

— Distinguished Boss Tweed Lecturer, Stanley Friedman, M.W. 3 p.m. — 9:07 p.m. Room 103 Tammany Hall.

This course will deal with problems and issues that should arise in the events of bribery and selling electronic voting machine tickets to municipalities that you work in and which were manufactured by companies Friedman’s credentials include the post of Bronx Democratic leader, Lehman College lecturer, and license plate production supervisor at Cell Block H-Riker’s Island.

Remedial Political Science 0001: section RU-CRZ "communications in politics — when to say the right thing at the right time!"

— President George Bush, M.W. 8 a.m. — 8 p.m., Washington D.C. campus — 1600 Pennsylvania Ave.

The course will instruct students what to do when you visit the World War II veterans dinner — and forget the date of the bombing of Pearl Harbor. We will also study the "anti-racist, anti-fascist, and anti-semitic" at a B'nai Brit dinner, and fine pleasure in admitting that you call your half-Mexican grandchildren "the little brown ones."

If time permits, Mr. Bush will discuss the statistical analysis in selecting the most competent running mate available.

Remedial Statistics, ....., "The probability of losing the presidential election in 40 of 50 states," Section DU-I, M.T.W., 7-8 p.m. — 11:47 p.m. the distinguished George McGovern lecturer: former veep and 1984 Presidential candidate Walter "Fritz" Mondale.

Insomnia Share-Kure Hall.

This course will teach the students of mediocre speaking and how to pick a running mate whose husband has no question of personal integrity. We will discuss questionable financial transactions that will overshadow your platform, and make college officials quote your lack of personality.

QUOTATION OF THE YEAR

"I just don’t like CUNY."

—Governor Mario Cuomo in reference to the proposed budget cuts.
