Chancellor Expresses Concerns to Students

By Rafael Olmeda

W. Ann Reynolds, chancellor of the City University of New York, expressed some of her concerns and goals for the coming year at a press conference on October 3.

She said one of her chief concerns is over the budget cuts CUNY has faced for the past several years. Senior colleges in the CUNY system took a $35 million cut, compared to their budget of fall 1989.

According to Norman Fainstein, dean of the School of Liberal Arts and Sciences, Baruch College’s budget was cut $1.5 million, he’s not talking about a cut of less than 5 percent,” says Fainstein. But since most of the College’s expenses are fixed, he says the serious impact cannot be avoided.

One concern for adjunct professors is that it would result in smaller class sizes for both credit and non-credit courses.

“Even the representation of the city in restoration of funding so

USS Elects Chairman

Lamarre defeats Holmes in upset

By Rafael Olmeda

In an upset victory, Joan Lamarre was elected chairman of the University Student Senate at its meeting on October 6, defeating Reginald Holmes, vice chair for legislative affairs.

The election was held at the City University of New York on 80th Street and East 3rd Avenue.

Lamarre, a student at Brooklyn College, won by a vote of 20-15, has never held an elected position on student government in the past.

One of Lamarre’s goals as chairman is to set up a council of presidents and vice presidents of CUNY student governments. "I’ve never been very close to his president," he said. "And decisions that are made are usually exective decisions. Lamarre, who is a SEEK student, also voiced his concerns over tuition and health care and SEEK programs.

“We have witnessed the eve of the end of the dark days of U.S. history,” said Howard O'Bryan, Baruch College's evening student delegate to the USS, where the delegates have chosen someone who has never held a presidency, has should they win the chair. The question was a reference to Holmes’ intention to run for city council.

“I have ambitions,” Holmes said. “I was quite surprised by the outcome of the elections, but I’m thinking about taking the position to try to get rid of some of them. I’ve juggled a lot of things, he added. "Why? Because I have committed to them," Lamarre responded that he had no ambitions of running for political office. "We have to be very serious about people who are trying to ride on the backs of a movement for political gain," he said. "Politicians have always been the same. Students have their own.”

O’Bryan, alluding to Lamarre’s definition of perception as "not what you see, but what we choose to believe.

Shum and Macklin to Serve on Presidential Search Committee

By Bevoly Williams

William Shum, president of the Evening Student Government and Steven Macklin, president of the Evening Student Senate, will be the two student representatives to sit on Baruch’s presidential search committee.

According to Shum, the decision to have him serve on the committee was unexpected since he represents the largest number of students. There was some debate, however, on which student would fill the second slot, since

Chancellor W. Ann Reynold, Shum and Macklin to Serve on Presidential Search Committee

Chancellor W. Ann Reynolds

By Bevoly Williams

William Shum, president of the Evening Student Government and Steven Macklin, president of the Evening Student Senate, will be the two student representatives to sit on Baruch’s presidential search committee.

According to Shum, the decision to have him serve on the committee was unexpected since he represents the largest number of students. There was some debate, however, on which student would fill the second slot, since

Steven Macklin, president of the ESSA

The faculty members who will serve have not yet been chosen, according to Virgil Bird, chairman of the Faculty Senate. "A decision will be made concerning the conditions of all the faculty in a mailing regarding selection of representatives to serve on the Committee," Bird said.

According to Bird, ten people came forward to be selected as representatives for nomination. The nominees had to obtain ten signatures from their colleagues and write a one-page essay on what criteria they were looking for in a candidate.

Baruch College’s student assembly, as outlined in the CUNY Guidelines for Presidential Searches, has three faculty representatives, two student representatives, and one student representative on the committee.

"It would look for the best candidate, what kind of academic background and experience the person should have, and what direction the candidate has for Baruch College." Bird said.

The ballots for the nominees will be decided upon by October 30th. At that time, however, Richard Berra, chairman of the presidential search committee, will have the final say on who is chosen.

Many windows in the building were bolted shut and signs which keeps the window in

Window Falls From Third Floor of Student Center

By Kathryn Garcia

The windows in the Student Center were ordered shut after a window fell out from the third floor on September 27.

Many windows in the building were bolted shut and signs have been placed on windows not to open them.

"I was just trying to open the window," said Marco Guerrero, a member of Latin American Youth. Guerrero reported being banged on the window twice, loosening the screws which held it in its frame.

"Needless to say, we ran like hell to get down there," said Alphonse Zatori, assistant director of campus planning. "It was a potential disaster."

"We were fortunate that the window didn’t break more seriously," he said. "I’m just thankful that nobody was hurt and that it is fixable."

According to Zatori, the window was found to be missing a limiting arm which prevents it from opening more than six inches out. In addition, Zatori said the fallen window was missing a pivot keeper on top of the window and a device on the bottom which keeps the window in place.

"The first thing we did was to order all the windows in the building shut to prevent any possible recurrence of that accident," Zatori said.

Problems with the third floor window have been reported in the past, according to former Ticker editor-in-chief John Brown. The Ticker once occupied the room in the window which was located, which is now the office of the Latin American Students Organization. Members of LASO were informed of the window’s condition when the room was first assigned to them.

Zatori said he was not aware that any problems were reported with the window in Belle Zeller
Scholarship
The Trustees of the Belle Zeller Scholarship Fund are now receiving applications from candidates wishing to be considered for this Belle Zeller Scholarship Award. These awards are granted to students who have participated in a wide range of activities, both academic and personal, while on the campus under the direct supervision of Mr. Zeller. The Zeller Award has been presented to students for the past 15 years. Students must submit an application and file their financial aid by April 15. Application forms are available from the Department of Financial Aid.

Financial Aid Available

The New York State Higher Education Services Corporation awards up to $3,000 a year for being processed for Alpha Iota and the number of students processed for Alpha Iota Delta initiates with GPA 3.4.

European MBA Consortium

EMBA, an emerging MBA Consortium, will hold a free forum for students and professional executives to find out about European MBA programs and explore business careers abroad. EMBA represents eight of Europe's leading MBA programs located in England, France, Italy, Spain, Switzerland, and the Netherlands.

Students Rally for Voter Registration

By Margaret Schull

The Archon Student Senate held a rally on the City Hall on October 11 to encourage voter registration and participation among students.

The rally was the first part of a campaign the USU calls "Winston Mandela and the Black in South Africa does not have a right to vote. Students of the City University of New York urge you to vote on election day.

The campaign will be held at the Parker Meridian Hotel in the VanDome Room, 117 West 57th Street between 6th and 7th Avenues at 11:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. on Sunday, October 27 from 10:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m.

Inpatient Services

The Department of Health Services Students is holding a Job Fair, Survive the Job Hunt, on Wednesday, October 24, 1:00-4:00 p.m. at the Barnes-Chatfield Library. Free of Charge.

Free weight loss research program for all students. Choosing a Employment Location. This is a wonderful opportunity for you!

FREE BREAK TRIPS to students or teachers to promote our Spring Break Packages. Good for a fare of $2.50.

Eastern Lobby Shops

Eastern lobby shops, a la magazine industry has immediately a few midtown Manhattan locations. We are looking for re-creating individuals who are willing to work flexible hours and some weekend nights.

We offer a competitive starting salary based on individual skill. The benefits package includes: Medical Insurance, Unemployment Insurance, and Paid Holidays. Please call 212-526-8198 to schedule an interview.

Free of Charge

The Ticket Classifieds

IDEAL OPPORTUNITIES FOR SUCCESSFUL, EXPERIENCED
time, we are living in an age where the students are no longer just sitting in the classrooms listening to the teachers. They are now more active and engaged in the learning process. They are not just repeating what they have heard, but they are asking questions, thinking critically, and making connections. They are not just taking notes, but they are analyzing and synthesizing information.

Chancellor W. Aron Reynolds discusses CUNY issues

The thought processes which have been going on over the past two years have become more important. He said, "We were not communicating about these issues in a way that was making sense to the students. Now, we are working with them to identify the issues, to understand them, and to think about them in a way that they can make sense of them."

However, he did note that there were moments when the students were not demonstrating the level of responsibility they should be showing. They were not always treating the issues with the seriousness they deserved. He said, "We were not always encouraging the students to think critically, to think about the implications of what was being said, and to think about the consequences of what they were doing."

Another committee, on safety and security, was also established by Chancellor Reynolds. This committee is working to ensure that the campuses are safe and secure for all students, faculty, and staff. Another resource that has been established is the Office of Student Success. This office is working to ensure that students have the support they need to be successful in their studies.

The Chancellor also expressed his gratitude to the students for their involvement and participation in the decision-making process. He said, "We know that students are the future of this university, and we are committed to ensuring that they have a voice in the decision-making process. We are committed to ensuring that they have the resources they need to be successful in their studies. We are committed to ensuring that they have a good experience here at CUNY."
To the Editor:

I was interested to read your response to an article I’ve written about the University of New York. I think my response is well put and very concise. Thank you for your thoughtful commentary.

Sincerely,

Michael Lamarre
Elected chairman of the U.S.S.
Mainstream civilization that has come so far removed from the quality of life. Then there are those who have been homeless for a long time. Criminals, on the other hand, most of these ex-cons are able to flourish and make use of the services available outside the prison system. Those who are a great party but because of victim once more by the government. That's the problem. Law and justice has supposedly been an open invitation to everyone. The Oak Lounge could be the second step in shedding Baruch's reputation for being a bad school. The Oak Lounge is the new residence hall. The first step has already been taken. Matthew giving me the green light to find an arrest warrant for an all out [BHS] concept. Baruch tape fully to this semester, and one more other semester than the one. I only call my ambition or self-interest. It's all for the student. Bartuch Lounge for the student use the fact they had the only space available which let a club use the lounge. This is a business school not a world party all semester long. The Oak Lounge is located on the 2nd floor. We know what's best for our Italian party sponsored by the Italian club and Italian club. This presents an opportunity to every student. Some of the problem-solving variables at once. You can check your work, make corrections or compare what "fits" with your personal interests and goals. And, that's more, solve a wide variety of finance and management problems because it's preprogrammed with powerful financial spreadsheets. And that makes it very easy to use. We'd like to sponsor events. It's a business major's dream machine: the first and only calculator with a multi-line display that lets you see all the problem. The financial institution is a valuable departmental resource. You can count on a happy and healthy life. A professional Richmond Tour Escort. We have two or three different colleges that read something like: "This is for business students only. It's a business major's dream machine: the first and only calculator with a multi-line display that lets you see all the problem."
A Test is More Than A Passing Grade

By Taye Pope
College Life... Nast... It has been almost four weeks, and already college has become second nature... It is no walk in the park. College appeared to be so simple. It was not like high school. It was harder. There were no teachers nagging me about reports due on topics I knew nothing about. There were no endless homework assignments due every day of my life. There was no memorization of quotes from people I did not even know. But most of all, so far, there were no tests.

"Smiling what seemed like an evil grin, she told us to simply study everything."

were no test. Coming straight from high school, I was unprepared to write a test. This was the first day of school. All my teachers told me I 'would need to study extra hard if I wanted to get a passing grade on any test. All the guidance counselors warned that college was a whole lot more difficult than high school. I believed them, but my first couple of weeks were so exciting and new that I was not going to let the advice sink in. I was not ready to study. I did not have time to study. By the time the test was over, I had a whole new attitude about my first big test.

I could not believe it. Just hearing the professor say the word "test" made me feel ill-litethed. I thought I would not have to study for the test. She must be either joking or out of her mind. I could not think of a way how it was too easy for a test. I was not ready to study and the test was due at my desk. I figured I would wait until the last minute to study. I would walk into the test and remain there for as long as possible. I just had to pull off the test and do well. I was excited to do well. Then I could study for the next test. I studied hard for the next test. I was ready to do well on the next test. I was confident. I was sure I would do well. I just had to study hard for the test.

Suddenly, I was just fine again. All I could think of was how I was doing well on the test. I passed with a grade of 81. I was so proud of myself. I had done well on the test. I was happy. I had passed the test. I was ready to move on to the next test. I was ready to do well on the next test. I was confident. I was sure I would do well. I just had to study hard for the test.

"I love to write and I enjoy getting paid for it."

By Massimo Salerno
Making an impact is high on Bridget Davis' priority list. As one of Baruch's new English professors, Ms. Davis came to Baruch to place her talents in the right place. As one of Baruch's new English professors, Ms. Davis came to Baruch to place her talents in the most receptive environment.

"Teaching in an urban setting, as opposed to the suburbs, enables me to make an immediate impact as a role model."

As one of Baruch's new English professors, Ms. Davis came to Baruch to place her talents in the most receptive environment.

"Teaching in an urban setting, as opposed to the suburbs, enables me to make an immediate impact as a role model."

By Massimo Salerno
Making an impact is high on Bridget Davis' priority list. As one of Baruch's new English professors, Ms. Davis came to Baruch to place her talents in the most receptive environment.

"Teaching in an urban setting, as opposed to the suburbs, enables me to make an immediate impact as a role model."

As one of Baruch's new English professors, Ms. Davis came to Baruch to place her talents in the most receptive environment.

"Teaching in an urban setting, as opposed to the suburbs, enables me to make an immediate impact as a role model."

As one of Baruch's new English professors, Ms. Davis came to Baruch to place her talents in the most receptive environment.

"Teaching in an urban setting, as opposed to the suburbs, enables me to make an immediate impact as a role model."

As one of Baruch's new English professors, Ms. Davis came to Baruch to place her talents in the most receptive environment.

"Teaching in an urban setting, as opposed to the suburbs, enables me to make an immediate impact as a role model."

As one of Baruch's new English professors, Ms. Davis came to Baruch to place her talents in the most receptive environment.

"Teaching in an urban setting, as opposed to the suburbs, enables me to make an immediate impact as a role model."

As one of Baruch's new English professors, Ms. Davis came to Baruch to place her talents in the most receptive environment.

"Teaching in an urban setting, as opposed to the suburbs, enables me to make an immediate impact as a role model."

As one of Baruch's new English professors, Ms. Davis came to Baruch to place her talents in the most receptive environment.

"Teaching in an urban setting, as opposed to the suburbs, enables me to make an immediate impact as a role model."

As one of Baruch's new English professors, Ms. Davis came to Baruch to place her talents in the most receptive environment.

"Teaching in an urban setting, as opposed to the suburbs, enables me to make an immediate impact as a role model."

As one of Baruch's new English professors, Ms. Davis came to Baruch to place her talents in the most receptive environment.

"Teaching in an urban setting, as opposed to the suburbs, enables me to make an immediate impact as a role model."

As one of Baruch's new English professors, Ms. Davis came to Baruch to place her talents in the most receptive environment.

"Teaching in an urban setting, as opposed to the suburbs, enables me to make an immediate impact as a role model."

As one of Baruch's new English professors, Ms. Davis came to Baruch to place her talents in the most receptive environment.

"Teaching in an urban setting, as opposed to the suburbs, enables me to make an immediate impact as a role model."

As one of Baruch's new English professors, Ms. Davis came to Baruch to place her talents in the most receptive environment.

"Teaching in an urban setting, as opposed to the suburbs, enables me to make an immediate impact as a role model."

As one of Baruch's new English professors, Ms. Davis came to Baruch to place her talents in the most receptive environment.

"Teaching in an urban setting, as opposed to the suburbs, enables me to make an immediate impact as a role model."

As one of Baruch's new English professors, Ms. Davis came to Baruch to place her talents in the most receptive environment.

"Teaching in an urban setting, as opposed to the suburbs, enables me to make an immediate impact as a role model."

As one of Baruch's new English professors, Ms. Davis came to Baruch to place her talents in the most receptive environment.

"Teaching in an urban setting, as opposed to the suburbs, enables me to make an immediate impact as a role model."

As one of Baruch's new English professors, Ms. Davis came to Baruch to place her talents in the most receptive environment.

"Teaching in an urban setting, as opposed to the suburbs, enables me to make an immediate impact as a role model."

As one of Baruch's new English professors, Ms. Davis came to Baruch to place her talents in the most receptive environment.

"Teaching in an urban setting, as opposed to the suburbs, enables me to make an immediate impact as a role model."

As one of Baruch's new English professors, Ms. Davis came to Baruch to place her talents in the most receptive environment.

"Teaching in an urban setting, as opposed to the suburbs, enables me to make an immediate impact as a role model."

As one of Baruch's new English professors, Ms. Davis came to Baruch to place her talents in the most receptive environment.

"Teaching in an urban setting, as opposed to the suburbs, enables me to make an immediate impact as a role model."

As one of Baruch's new English professors, Ms. Davis came to Baruch to place her talents in the most receptive environment.

"Teaching in an urban setting, as opposed to the suburbs, enables me to make an immediate impact as a role model."

As one of Baruch's new English professors, Ms. Davis came to Baruch to place her talents in the most receptive environment.

"Teaching in an urban setting, as opposed to the suburbs, enables me to make an immediate impact as a role model."

As one of Baruch's new English professors, Ms. Davis came to Baruch to place her talents in the most receptive environment.

"Teaching in an urban setting, as opposed to the suburbs, enables me to make an immediate impact as a role model."

As one of Baruch's new English professors, Ms. Davis came to Baruch to place her talents in the most receptive environment.

"Teaching in an urban setting, as opposed to the suburbs, enables me to make an immediate impact as a role model."

As one of Baruch's new English professors, Ms. Davis came to Baruch to place her talents in the most receptive environment.

"Teaching in an urban setting, as opposed to the suburbs, enables me to make an immediate impact as a role model."

As one of Baruch's new English professors, Ms. Davis came to Baruch to place her talents in the most receptive environment.

"Teaching in an urban setting, as opposed to the suburbs, enables me to make an immediate impact as a role model."

As one of Baruch's new English professors, Ms. Davis came to Baruch to place her talents in the most receptive environment.

"Teaching in an urban setting, as opposed to the suburbs, enables me to make an immediate impact as a role model."

As one of Baruch's new English professors, Ms. Davis came to Baruch to place her talents in the most receptive environment.

"Teaching in an urban setting, as opposed to the suburbs, enables me to make an immediate impact as a role model."

As one of Baruch's new English professors, Ms. Davis came to Baruch to place her talents in the most receptive environment.
The Good, The Bad and The Tasteless:
Quotes from Leadership Weekend Oct. 12-14

"The food is so bad here, even the homeless stay away.
"Apollo Mathew

"Where are the flashlights?"
The Orchard Crew

"I can't believe it, I WON!"
Nicola Richards, winner of the No Talent talent show.

"Aww! Not enough beers."
Richie Lee

"What auditorium?"
Joyce Brown, in response to renovations being done on campus.

"When it rains in the woods, it stinks everywhere."
Anthony LaPorta, commenting on the inclement weather.

"Uh-Oh"
Brian Gill

"For those of you who have been in a comatose state for the last three days,
my name is Hayden."
Hayden Greene

"Hayden, shut up!"
Edwin Irizarry

"You might want to hang around for lunch, it's turkey if you dare."
Carl Ayman

"Breakfast was good this morning, but then again I might still be drunk."
Chevan Thornhill
Dear Mom,

I hope you and the family are okay! Don’t worry about writing too much; I enjoy receiving your letters. Please send more money; I have no credit cards and need to pay rent on Tuesday. I guess I wasn’t too focused; even forget myself. Please be patient with me. I will try to remember you having some hard times last time I was home. You should know I remember you having some huge stress last time I was home.

Last weekend was a long one, we observed Columbus Day. But something else, the Tuesday after was a Monday schedule. I tried to explain this to my boss, he told me it couldn’t work on Tuesday but he didn’t explain why. I thought it was strange and I complained nonetheless. And just yesterday, I found a small can of Prada sheer with my name on it. I couldn’t believe it. Either I have a new position, or the janitor is named Prada.

Hey mom, by the way, what’s good for treating warts? Pepto Bismol gel. Once it started kicking in, it was oppressive and pressures of sea. This was the island of love, but I was only here for a minute. I had to guess, I couldn’t work on Tuesday but it’s no big deal. Really, I’m a wolf in sheeps clothing.

I was stuck in the elevator for about 25 minutes. Out of the greatest stress reliever. I usually love it. I just had it been that I was happy. I was stuck in the elevator. Well I better stop, paper is running out. I’m out like a light. It’s five minutes into each class.

I love and miss you so much. "Roseanne" was going to switch apartments this week or what? I believe this is only a P.S. Please send me some money, don’t hold back.

Love and miss you so much.

Your son,

Helena

---

Club Fair!

Thursday, October 25, 12:35-2:40 P.M.
Baucus Collehe Student Center
137 East 22nd Street
A good time to be had by all!

Food! Games! Fun!
Adventures! Information! ...More

Write For Perspectives
Contact Boris Or Robert
Keeping up to date with readings will most likely keep you at the top of the game.

What's Hot, What's Not

- Mondays: The CAFE (75th Street and Amsterdam Ave.)
- Tuesdays: The Happy Go Lucky Club (Streets and Amsterdam Ave.)
- Wednesdays: The Rolling Stone (72nd Street and Amsterdam Ave.)
- Thursdays: The Underground (7th Street and Amsterdam Ave.)
- Fridays: The China Club (78th Street and Amsterdam Ave.)
- Saturdays: The New York City Symphony (7th Street and Amsterdam Ave.)
- Sundays: The Tonic (78th Street and Amsterdam Ave.)

The CAFE is now planning for a new season which will be dedicated to diversity-to help protect against discrimination.

By Robert Byrne

3 Live Crew, which has been labeled the most controversial group in modern entertainment, has just released "Risen in the USA," the video that tells the story of how they were rejected by the government.

Several of the group's members were interviewed for this program and admitted that they were not aware of the controversy.

"Risen in the USA" is a powerful video that shows the group's struggle against the government and the media.

One and a Half Desperate Hours

Desperate Hours is a new film starring Mimi Rogers, Anthony Hopkins, and Lindsay Crouse. It is about a group of people who are trying to make ends meet in the business world.

The film is directed by William Wyler and is a very well-made movie.

FOR SALE:

- 1982 Yamaha Maxim 400 maroon motorcycle. Excellent running condition. $850.00

1974 Chevy Nova running condition. $150.00

CALL: 718/229-4369

---

By Andrew Love

Midnite, Sound, terms paper, term papers, keeping up with assignments, and keeping up with grades are all things that keep the bulk of Baruch students busy. However, there may be times when you need to take advantage of the night hours to get your work done. And not just because you need to get your work done, but because you need to get some sleep. So what's the answer? You might as well stay up all night and get your work done. But what if you're not a night owl? Don't worry, there's a way to have your cake and eat it too.

In this case, the destination I will lay out for you is a sleepy little coffee shop that I call "Sleepy Place." It's located on 15th Street, just off Union Square. The coffee is terrible, but the atmosphere is comfortable and the staff is friendly. You can bring your own food or order from the limited menu. And if you're really hungry, there's a small pizza parlor next door.

So next time you find yourself staying up late, remember: you don't have to go home. There's a place for you at "Sleepy Place."
Soul Asylum
And the Horse They Ride in on Produced by Steve Jordan
A&M Records
RATING: 1/2
By Lenny Vigilant

"And the Horse They Ride in on" is Soul Asylum's latest album release, and it is the most energetic and inspired music to hit the airwaves this year. Out of the Minneapolis, Minnesota rock band based quartet (recording since 1983) succeeds in creating some of the most diversified music they've ever come up with. Their music with its many moods and styles is truly refreshing.

Vocalist, Dave Pirner comes across with an air of confidence, and it is this sense of confidence that the band as a whole displays. Guitarist Daniel Murphy and bassist Karl Mueller are solid, their music is so diversified and fresh it is hard to believe. Guitarist will definitely had a sore throat cause he hasn't had a chance to rest. Each song, every note, every line is truly refreshing.

The music is so diversified it creates feelings of some of the most diversified music. They couple their music with their lyrics this is truly refreshing. If you look for something that is different and fresh, Soul Asylum's album is for you.

The band was recorded live with color television. "Now hopeless romantics are being kicked out. But, who cares. A lot of us, take your pick."

If you listen to this album, you get the real feeling of the band's color television. The song "Easy Street," is an excellent representation of the replacement "Alex Chilton," and "Dirtbikes," a song that shows how spontaneous these guys are. Vocalist, Dave Pirner comes across with an air of confidence, it is this sense of confidence that the band as a whole displays. Guitarist Daniel Murphy and bassist Karl Mueller are solid, their music is so diversified and fresh it is hard to believe. Guitarist will definitely had a sore throat cause he hasn't had a chance to rest. Each song, every note, every line is truly refreshing.

The music is so diversified it creates feelings of some of the most diversified music. They couple their music with their lyrics this is truly refreshing. If you look for something that is different and fresh, Soul Asylum's album is for you.

If you listen to this album, you get the real feeling of the band's color television. The song "Easy Street," is an excellent representation of the replacement "Alex Chilton," and "Dirtbikes," a song that shows how spontaneous these guys are. Vocalist, Dave Pirner comes across with an air of confidence, it is this sense of confidence that the band as a whole displays. Guitarist Daniel Murphy and bassist Karl Mueller are solid, their music is so diversified and fresh it is hard to believe. Guitarist will definitely had a sore throat cause he hasn't had a chance to rest. Each song, every note, every line is truly refreshing.

The music is so diversified it creates feelings of some of the most diversified music. They couple their music with their lyrics this is truly refreshing. If you look for something that is different and fresh, Soul Asylum's album is for you.

If you listen to this album, you get the real feeling of the band's color television. The song "Easy Street," is an excellent representation of the replacement "Alex Chilton," and "Dirtbikes," a song that shows how spontaneous these guys are. Vocalist, Dave Pirner comes across with an air of confidence, it is this sense of confidence that the band as a whole displays. Guitarist Daniel Murphy and bassist Karl Mueller are solid, their music is so diversified and fresh it is hard to believe. Guitarist will definitely had a sore throat cause he hasn't had a chance to rest. Each song, every note, every line is truly refreshing.

The music is so diversified it creates feelings of some of the most diversified music. They couple their music with their lyrics this is truly refreshing. If you look for something that is different and fresh, Soul Asylum's album is for you.

If you listen to this album, you get the real feeling of the band's color television. The song "Easy Street," is an excellent representation of the replacement "Alex Chilton," and "Dirtbikes," a song that shows how spontaneous these guys are. Vocalist, Dave Pirner comes across with an air of confidence, it is this sense of confidence that the band as a whole displays. Guitarist Daniel Murphy and bassist Karl Mueller are solid, their music is so diversified and fresh it is hard to believe. Guitarist will definitely had a sore throat cause he hasn't had a chance to rest. Each song, every note, every line is truly refreshing.

The music is so diversified it creates feelings of some of the most diversified music. They couple their music with their lyrics this is truly refreshing. If you look for something that is different and fresh, Soul Asylum's album is for you.

If you listen to this album, you get the real feeling of the band's color television. The song "Easy Street," is an excellent representation of the replacement "Alex Chilton," and "Dirtbikes," a song that shows how spontaneous these guys are. Vocalist, Dave Pirner comes across with an air of confidence, it is this sense of confidence that the band as a whole displays. Guitarist Daniel Murphy and bassist Karl Mueller are solid, their music is so diversified and fresh it is hard to believe. Guitarist will definitely had a sore throat cause he hasn't had a chance to rest. Each song, every note, every line is truly refreshing.

The music is so diversified it creates feelings of some of the most diversified music. They couple their music with their lyrics this is truly refreshing. If you look for something that is different and fresh, Soul Asylum's album is for you.

If you listen to this album, you get the real feeling of the band's color television. The song "Easy Street," is an excellent representation of the replacement "Alex Chilton," and "Dirtbikes," a song that shows how spontaneous these guys are. Vocalist, Dave Pirner comes across with an air of confidence, it is this sense of confidence that the band as a whole displays. Guitarist Daniel Murphy and bassist Karl Mueller are solid, their music is so diversified and fresh it is hard to believe. Guitarist will definitely had a sore throat cause he hasn't had a chance to rest. Each song, every note, every line is truly refreshing.
Anita Baker - "Compositions"

Wilson Phillips - "Wilson Phillips"

metaphorical and intimate. The artist in the Baruch Gallery manages to combine the personal and the spiritual, just as we do through her work. Her paintings are a reflection of her own inner world, which she brings to the canvas through her use of contrasting colors and textures. Each of her pieces is a testament to her ability to express herself through her art, and to convey her emotions and ideas to others. The viewer is invited to reflect on their own experiences and emotions, as they interpret the artist's works and find meaning in them. This exhibition is a chance to examine our own personal life through the eyes of an artist, and to discover new perspectives on our own experiences. By visiting the Baruch Gallery, we can gain a new appreciation for the art and our own uniqueness, and find a deeper sense of connection with others.
Be a Part of THEATRE AT BARUCH COLLEGE
join STAGEWISE/THEATRON PRODUCTION CREW FOR Craig Lucas's RECKLESS

Positions still available include:
* House Management
* Box Office
* Props
* Costumes
* Lighting

For information, contact:
Prof. Susan Spector(Director) - (212) 387-1342
Ernie Ta(Stage Manager) - (212) 387-1345
Jim Kalafus(Business Manager) - (212) 387-1345

The Wayno Drainage Chronicles © 1990 by Wayne Novelli

Last week, we saw the introduction of the leader of the Heavy Metalist (Zool the Grand Metal Warlord), Explaining to us the sub-yuppin's sinister plan for the destruction of all mankind.
Hill Street
Rhythm and Blues
By Rafael Olmeda

"In these streets, we got the power!" The crack dealers chant as three of their own are led into custody cars. While rapping crack dealers may not be the norm on the streets of Los Angeles, you can expect plenty of them on "Cop Rock," Steven Bochco's latest achievement if you can call it that, which stars on Wednesday nights at 10 p.m. on ABC.

Add to that dancing mayors, crooning cops and gospel choruses, and you've got a show that works well when it works, but doesn't quite deliver the magic it's all supposed to.

While rapping crack dealers may not be the norm, you can expect them on "Cop Rock."

There is also a terrific scene in the premiere episode in which members of a jury, fully dressed in gospel robes, sing the praises of the defendant's guilt. The courtroom orches the following song:

"Somewhere underneath the out of place musical numbers, there is a plot to 'Cop Rock.'"

It's just that its works, but does so all too rarely. There is also a terrific scene in the premiere episode in which members of a jury, fully dressed in gospel robes, sing the praises of the defendant's guilt. The courtroom audience goes wild. There are also a few interesting subplots, one concerning an addicted mother who sells her daughter for $200, and another about partners who fall in love (the catch: she's married to the examiner).

There is good and bad on "Cop Rock." The music doesn't work, if at all, Randy Newman, who composed all the songs in the first episode, sings the opening number like a Baby Dylan wannabe; only with choreography. There is also simply not enough dancing cops, after all. Maybe it's better that way.

There is also a terrific scene in the premiere episode in which members of a jury, fully dressed in gospel robes, sing the praises of the defendant's guilt. The courtroom audience goes wild. There are also a few interesting subplots, one concerning an addicted mother who sells her daughter for $200, and another about partners who fall in love (the catch: she's married to the examiner).

There is good and bad on "Cop Rock." The music doesn't work, if at all, Randy Newman, who composed all the songs in the first episode, sings the opening number like a Baby Dylan wannabe; only with choreography. There is also simply not enough dancing cops, after all. Maybe it's better that way.

There is also a terrific scene in the premiere episode in which members of a jury, fully dressed in gospel robes, sing the praises of the defendant's guilt. The courtroom audience goes wild. There are also a few interesting subplots, one concerning an addicted mother who sells her daughter for $200, and another about partners who fall in love (the catch: she's married to the examiner).

There is good and bad on "Cop Rock." The music doesn't work, if at all, Randy Newman, who composed all the songs in the first episode, sings the opening number like a Baby Dylan wannabe; only with choreography. There is also simply not enough dancing cops, after all. Maybe it's better that way.

There is also a terrific scene in the premiere episode in which members of a jury, fully dressed in gospel robes, sing the praises of the defendant's guilt. The courtroom audience goes wild. There are also a few interesting subplots, one concerning an addicted mother who sells her daughter for $200, and another about partners who fall in love (the catch: she's married to the examiner).

There is good and bad on "Cop Rock." The music doesn't work, if at all, Randy Newman, who composed all the songs in the first episode, sings the opening number like a Baby Dylan wannabe; only with choreography. There is also simply not enough dancing cops, after all. Maybe it's better that way.

There is also a terrific scene in the premiere episode in which members of a jury, fully dressed in gospel robes, sing the praises of the defendant's guilt. The courtroom audience goes wild. There are also a few interesting subplots, one concerning an addicted mother who sells her daughter for $200, and another about partners who fall in love (the catch: she's married to the examiner).

There is good and bad on "Cop Rock." The music doesn't work, if at all, Randy Newman, who composed all the songs in the first episode, sings the opening number like a Baby Dylan wannabe; only with choreography. There is also simply not enough dancing cops, after all. Maybe it's better that way.

There is also a terrific scene in the premiere episode in which members of a jury, fully dressed in gospel robes, sing the praises of the defendant's guilt. The courtroom audience goes wild. There are also a few interesting subplots, one concerning an addicted mother who sells her daughter for $200, and another about partners who fall in love (the catch: she's married to the examiner).

There is good and bad on "Cop Rock." The music doesn't work, if at all, Randy Newman, who composed all the songs in the first episode, sings the opening number like a Baby Dylan wannabe; only with choreography. There is also simply not enough dancing cops, after all. Maybe it's better that way.

There is also a terrific scene in the premiere episode in which members of a jury, fully dressed in gospel robes, sing the praises of the defendant's guilt. The courtroom audience goes wild. There are also a few interesting subplots, one concerning an addicted mother who sells her daughter for $200, and another about partners who fall in love (the catch: she's married to the examiner).

There is good and bad on "Cop Rock." The music doesn't work, if at all, Randy Newman, who composed all the songs in the first episode, sings the opening number like a Baby Dylan wannabe; only with choreography. There is also simply not enough dancing cops, after all. Maybe it's better that way.

There is also a terrific scene in the premiere episode in which members of a jury, fully dressed in gospel robes, sing the praises of the defendant's guilt. The courtroom audience goes wild. There are also a few interesting subplots, one concerning an addicted mother who sells her daughter for $200, and another about partners who fall in love (the catch: she's married to the examiner).

There is good and bad on "Cop Rock." The music doesn't work, if at all, Randy Newman, who composed all the songs in the first episode, sings the opening number like a Baby Dylan wannabe; only with choreography. There is also simply not enough dancing cops, after all. Maybe it's better that way.

There is also a terrific scene in the premiere episode in which members of a jury, fully dressed in gospel robes, sing the praises of the defendant's guilt. The courtroom audience goes wild. There are also a few interesting subplots, one concerning an addicted mother who sells her daughter for $200, and another about partners who fall in love (the catch: she's married to the examiner).

There is good and bad on "Cop Rock." The music doesn't work, if at all, Randy Newman, who composed all the songs in the first episode, sings the opening number like a Baby Dylan wannabe; only with choreography. There is also simply not enough dancing cops, after all. Maybe it's better that way.

There is also a terrific scene in the premiere episode in which members of a jury, fully dressed in gospel robes, sing the praises of the defendant's guilt. The courtroom audience goes wild. There are also a few interesting subplots, one concerning an addicted mother who sells her daughter for $200, and another about partners who fall in love (the catch: she's married to the examiner).

There is good and bad on "Cop Rock." The music doesn't work, if at all, Randy Newman, who composed all the songs in the first episode, sings the opening number like a Baby Dylan wannabe; only with choreography. There is also simply not enough dancing cops, after all. Maybe it's better that way.

There is also a terrific scene in the premiere episode in which members of a jury, fully dressed in gospel robes, sing the praises of the defendant's guilt. The courtroom audience goes wild. There are also a few interesting subplots, one concerning an addicted mother who sells her daughter for $200, and another about partners who fall in love (the catch: she's married to the examiner).

There is good and bad on "Cop Rock." The music doesn't work, if at all, Randy Newman, who composed all the songs in the first episode, sings the opening number like a Baby Dylan wannabe; only with choreography. There is also simply not enough dancing cops, after all. Maybe it's better that way.
Principles of Modern Times

...the computer is my answer. Without a Macintosh, I don't know how anybody gets through college today. Without a Macintosh, my grades would be much lower...
S.C.P.B.
SEMESTER SMASH

COMEDY HOUR
10/22 10/29 11/5
11/19 11/26 12/3

CONCERT SHOWCASE
10/23 11/13 11/20
11/27

Cause laughter is the best medicine
1:00pm - 2:00pm

Come hear the best new talent
1:00pm - 2:00pm

UPCOMING EVENTS

OCT. 25 - "Club Fair" Free gifts and Fun!!

OCT. 26 - "Open House" We are recruiting men and women as members. All are welcome. 5:30pm in Room 302 22nd St. Building.

NOV. 1 - "Women's Day - Entrepreneurship" Club hours in Room 114, 24th St. Building.

THE POP QUIZ
1- Who won the first Rookie of the Year award (1947) in Major League baseball?
2- What NBA great was known as the "Big O"?
3- This college legend was stopped only once by Joe Maxie in his brilliant career.

QUIZ ANSWERS
1- Stan Musial
2- Oscar Robertson
3- Tim Lincecum

Surprising Tennis Team Raises Record to 6-2

By Mickey Kramer

Soccer Team in Midst Of Dreary Campaign

By Mickey Kramer

Baruch's soccer team scored four goals; not in one game, but throughout the season, totaling 11 games. Not surprisingly, Coach Anthony Henry said, "Overall, I'm a bit disappointed. Most of the players that I expected to do well are not doing as I expected." For specific disappointments, he mentioned, "Most of the freshmen."

On Oct. 10, Baruch lost to CCNY by the score of 2-1. Hans Pierre Charles scored for the Statesmen with about 20 minutes left in the second half to make the score 2-1. Henry said, "At that point, it looked like we were getting there."

The Statesman's record of 2-11 is deceiving; both of the victories were of the forfeit variety. On Sept. 28, the team was credited with a victory over Medgar Evers and on Oct. 6, the team beat Upsala College.

Henry is optimistic for the team's last four games and said, "We'll finish 6-9."

Henry was pleased with several players. "Cedric Angus, Wayne Murray and Kassen Fares all played defense and executed the plays well." Also, midfielder, Mare Daly was singled out for good play.

Last season, the team won the CUNY Championship and one of the stars was Toumanidis who was voted the Conference MVP. This year, he missed most of the season due to knee and hip injuries. "The big injury, The effusion or lack of it, was the team's major problem," Henry said, "I can't remember ever having more trouble with ligaments. The problem was ligaments."

Four goals in 11 games, yeah, I'd say so.

OCT. 25 - "Club Fair" Free gifts and Fun!!

OCT. 26 - "Open House" We are recruiting men and women as members. All are welcome. 5:30pm in Room 302 22nd St. Building.

The player with "11 of potential for future seasons," according to Henry.

On Oct. 4, Baruch was a surprise victory over York, 2-0. Henry said of his goalie, Alon Fiores "He saved key goals." The Statesman's record of 2-11 is deceiving; both of the victories were of the forfeit variety. On Sept. 28, the team was credited with a victory over Medgar Evers and on Oct. 6, the team beat Upsala College.

Henry is optimistic for the team's last four games and said, "We'll finish 6-9."

Henry was pleased with several players. "Cedric Angus, Wayne Murray and Kassen Fares all played defense and executed the plays well." Also, midfielder, Mare Daly was singled out for good play.

Last season, the team won the CUNY Championship and one of the stars was Toumanidis who was voted the Conference MVP. This year, he missed most of the season due to knee and hip injuries. "The big injury, The effusion or lack of it, was the team's major problem," Henry said, "I can't remember ever having more trouble with ligaments. The problem was ligaments."

Four goals in 11 games, yeah, I'd say so.

OCT. 25 - "Club Fair" Free gifts and Fun!!

OCT. 26 - "Open House" We are recruiting men and women as members. All are welcome. 5:30pm in Room 302 22nd St. Building.

The player with "11 of potential for future seasons," according to Henry.

On Oct. 4, Baruch was a surprise victory over York, 2-0. Henry said of his goalie, Alon Fiores "He saved key goals." The Statesman's record of 2-11 is deceiving; both of the victories were of the forfeit variety. On Sept. 28, the team was credited with a victory over Medgar Evers and on Oct. 6, the team beat Upsala College.

Henry is optimistic for the team's last four games and said, "We'll finish 6-9."

Henry was pleased with several players. "Cedric Angus, Wayne Murray and Kassen Fares all played defense and executed the plays well." Also, midfielder, Mare Daly was singled out for good play.

Last season, the team won the CUNY Championship and one of the stars was Toumanidis who was voted the Conference MVP. This year, he missed most of the season due to knee and hip injuries. "The big injury, The effusion or lack of it, was the team's major problem," Henry said, "I can't remember ever having more trouble with ligaments. The problem was ligaments."

Four goals in 11 games, yeah, I'd say so.

OCT. 25 - "Club Fair" Free gifts and Fun!!

OCT. 26 - "Open House" We are recruiting men and women as members. All are welcome. 5:30pm in Room 302 22nd St. Building.

The player with "11 of potential for future seasons," according to Henry.

On Oct. 4, Baruch was a surprise victory over York, 2-0. Henry said of his goalie, Alon Fiores "He saved key goals." The Statesman's record of 2-11 is deceiving; both of the victories were of the forfeit variety. On Sept. 28, the team was credited with a victory over Medgar Evers and on Oct. 6, the team beat Upsala College.

Henry is optimistic for the team's last four games and said, "We'll finish 6-9."

Henry was pleased with several players. "Cedric Angus, Wayne Murray and Kassen Fares all played defense and executed the plays well." Also, midfielder, Mare Daly was singled out for good play.

Last season, the team won the CUNY Championship and one of the stars was Toumanidis who was voted the Conference MVP. This year, he missed most of the season due to knee and hip injuries. "The big injury, The effusion or lack of it, was the team's major problem," Henry said, "I can't remember ever having more trouble with ligaments. The problem was ligaments."

Four goals in 11 games, yeah, I'd say so.

OCT. 25 - "Club Fair" Free gifts and Fun!!

OCT. 26 - "Open House" We are recruiting men and women as members. All are welcome. 5:30pm in Room 302 22nd St. Building.

The player with "11 of potential for future seasons," according to Henry.

On Oct. 4, Baruch was a surprise victory over York, 2-0. Henry said of his goalie, Alon Fiores "He saved key goals." The Statesman's record of 2-11 is deceiving; both of the victories were of the forfeit variety. On Sept. 28, the team was credited with a victory over Medgar Evers and on Oct. 6, the team beat Upsala College.

Henry is optimistic for the team's last four games and said, "We'll finish 6-9."

Henry was pleased with several players. "Cedric Angus, Wayne Murray and Kassen Fares all played defense and executed the plays well." Also, midfielder, Mare Daly was singled out for good play.

Last season, the team won the CUNY Championship and one of the stars was Toumanidis who was voted the Conference MVP. This year, he missed most of the season due to knee and hip injuries. "The big injury, The effusion or lack of it, was the team's major problem," Henry said, "I can't remember ever having more trouble with ligaments. The problem was ligaments."

Four goals in 11 games, yeah, I'd say so.

OCT. 25 - "Club Fair" Free gifts and Fun!!

OCT. 26 - "Open House" We are recruiting men and women as members. All are welcome. 5:30pm in Room 302 22nd St. Building.

The player with "11 of potential for future seasons," according to Henry.

On Oct. 4, Baruch was a surprise victory over York, 2-0. Henry said of his goalie, Alon Fiores "He saved key goals." The Statesman's record of 2-11 is deceiving; both of the victories were of the forfeit variety. On Sept. 28, the team was credited with a victory over Medgar Evers and on Oct. 6, the team beat Upsala College.

Henry is optimistic for the team's last four games and said, "We'll finish 6-9."

Henry was pleased with several players. "Cedric Angus, Wayne Murray and Kassen Fares all played defense and executed the plays well." Also, midfielder, Mare Daly was singled out for good play.

Last season, the team won the CUNY Championship and one of the stars was Toumanidis who was voted the Conference MVP. This year, he missed most of the season due to knee and hip injuries. "The big injury, The effusion or lack of it, was the team's major problem," Henry said, "I can't remember ever having more trouble with ligaments. The problem was ligaments."

Four goals in 11 games, yeah, I'd say so.
The articles and opinions expressed on this page are written by the members of the Day Session Student Government. Any correspondence should be directed to the DSSG.

DSSG VIEWPOINT

“Sitting in at The Meetings”

Here we are again listening to the business of Student Government. Since last we spoke to you the government has been quite busy, meeting clubs, planning various events and basically looking after students’ interest.

It was brought to council’s attention that a new course in being proposed in the maths department. This course will fill the “gap” between maths 2300 and maths 2006, and give students better preparation for the calculus they will encounter in 2006.

Eight clubs were allocated funds to get their programs going, some of these are new clubs and will provide additional avenues for Baruch students to express themselves; the Music Industry Club, Teachers of Tomorrow, Disabled Students Club and Gamma Rho are the new organizations.

Last week we noted that D.S.S.G seemed not to be “taking any prisoners” and this was clearly shown at their last meeting. Two clubs were expecting to have their funds increased by presenting new budgets, but this was refused. In a business school students must appreciate the importance of a budget and the fact that changes cannot always be made after deadlines have passed.

We will have two lawyers available to advise students, they are Messrs. Steve Gleit and Steve Krawitz. Mr. Gleit will handle immigration matters and Mr. Krawitz general affairs. Jonathan Stern has been very instrumental in getting these lawyers to offer their services freely, and will be responsible for screening all requests.

It is pleasing to welcome Onika Celestin, Naal Desralvines and Sharon Cole to government’s deliberations. They are sitting on a number of committees and working diligently to make student life at Baruch more enjoyable. These students are not elected members but have shown a dedication and interest that is very encouraging.

Incidentally, jackets sales are going very well; get yours now, before time runs out.

Club Chartering

This year, the Club Chartering Committee will not only review the requests of clubs already charted, but also serve as the ‘policing committee’ of the D.S.S.G. Adam Gronski, the outspoken Chairperson of this committee plans to seek out those clubs which misuse their funds; funds which they received by over-stating their club membership and then squanders it by spending capriciously.

There will be a grace period which will allow malfunctioning clubs to ‘put their house in order’. Gronski plans to take a hard line approach to the club which are misusing funds, after this grace period has expired. He was quoted as saying “Those clubs which are caught will be punished to the fullest extent possible – revocation of their charter.”

On a much happier note, it has been revealed that the different Jewish Organizations within the school plan to merge in the near future. This is a positive initiative and is reflective of the new approach of the budget allocation committees on Student Government. Gronski recommends that other clubs which have similar objectives should entertain this option, as a creative solution to maximizing their resources.

It is easier to reach your target segment of students as a unified group than diverse singular entities. You can be assured that budgeted amounts will not be reduced, in all likelihood, larger amounts would be allocated.

For information, please contact the D.S.S.G., Room 409 Students’ Center.

FREE LEGAL CONSULTATION

FOR IMMIGRATION AND GENERAL MATTERS

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION COME TO ROOM 409, STUDENT CENTER.

Only legal matters will be considered.

Bring Your Flyers! Let Us Help You Make Your Event The Biggest Ever. Large Posters Printed $4.00/$2.00

Flyers $5.00 per 100 copies.

Would you like to see Jonny Gill, Envogue and Christopher Williams? Would you pay $25.00 to see them perform? Let us know, drop this off at Room 409 or Room 104 S.C. S.S. *

PAID ADVERTISEMENT