Baruch College, CUNY
November 14, 1990

Club Party Ends With A Bang

By Rafael Olmeda

Man Shoots Into Crowded Student Center

Eyewitness Accounts Conflict over Suspect

A gunman, allegedly upset over a lost bet, fired three shots from a .25 caliber weapon into the student center at 137 East 22nd St. on Nov. 9.

No one was injured as a result of the shooting, which took place at about 9:45 p.m.

One witness who did not wish to be identified says the apprehended suspect was not the same person who was seen getting into the lost number two.

Within two minutes of the shooting, three shots were fired into the student center. Baden at first thought the shots were just part of the party, but then realized something was wrong.

Baden was in the Student Center when the shots were fired. He said, "I heard the shots and I said, 'Forget this. I'm going home.'"

Within five minutes of the shooting, a second suspect was apprehended. The suspect had dropped his gun and ran off.

The other suspect was described as a white man, 5'6" tall, and wearing a white shirt and blue jeans.

Baden later learned that the other suspect was a student at Baruch College.

Baruch Hit With Additional Cuts

Figure rises $1.3 million along with spending freeze

By Rafael Olmeda

The Administration of Baruch College is working to find ways to absorb an additional $1.3 million budget cut. The cut was announced on October 31, according to acting President Joyce Brown. "We have to figure out ways to take this cut without seriously affecting the adjunct budget or student services," she says.

The cut will result in curtailting program initiatives and some academic services.

In addition to the cut, a spending freeze has been imposed on the school which will affect hiring and programs which are already in existence.

Brown says first time admissions for the spring semester will not be cut back, but students who are transferring from community colleges will only be allowed to do so if they have accumulated 61 credits.

For anyone with fewer than 61 credits, at least they'll have the opportunity to continue attending the community college, says Brown.

Baruch's cut is a share of a three percent cut to the City University of New York. According to Samuel Johnson, vice president for student development, CUNY was asked by the state of New York to choose between a three, five or seven percent cut. "If we went to five percent, we're talking about a lot of programs," Johnson says.

"Retrenchment means we would have the authority to lay off tenured people, which is pretty serious." You know how they say you must cut down to the bone? Well, it's happening."

Johnson adds, "Students have expressed concern over what they see as the increased possibility of a twelfth credit limit being imposed as a result of the new cut. If this cut had come down on November 14th, when it did, Johnson says, "we'd be looking at a twelve credit limit." But says, "To help predict what would have been the case, and what could have been done."

However, she acknowledges that the net effect of the cut would have been on the student body.
Board of Trustees Approve 1990-91 Proposed Budget

Press Release

The City University of New York's Board of Trustees approved a 1990-91 Operating Budget for CUNY institutions, which climbed to more than 200,000, the highest total in CUNY's history. Since the Board approved the CUNY's request for state support in July, the Board adopted an $85 million in state aid to community colleges.

This year, CUNY's enrollment has climbed to more than 200,000, the highest number in the university's history. The university is seeking $85 million in state aid to community colleges.

CUNY has identified $90 million in state aid after the Board of Trustees approved a 1991-92 Operating Budget. The university is seeking $85 million in state aid to community colleges.

CUNY has identified $90 million in state aid after the Board of Trustees approved a 1991-92 Operating Budget. The university is seeking $85 million in state aid to community colleges.

CUNY has identified $90 million in state aid after the Board of Trustees approved a 1991-92 Operating Budget. The university is seeking $85 million in state aid to community colleges.

CUNY has identified $90 million in state aid after the Board of Trustees approved a 1991-92 Operating Budget. The university is seeking $85 million in state aid to community colleges.

CUNY has identified $90 million in state aid after the Board of Trustees approved a 1991-92 Operating Budget. The university is seeking $85 million in state aid to community colleges.

CUNY has identified $90 million in state aid after the Board of Trustees approved a 1991-92 Operating Budget. The university is seeking $85 million in state aid to community colleges.

CUNY has identified $90 million in state aid after the Board of Trustees approved a 1991-92 Operating Budget. The university is seeking $85 million in state aid to community colleges.

CUNY has identified $90 million in state aid after the Board of Trustees approved a 1991-92 Operating Budget. The university is seeking $85 million in state aid to community colleges.

CUNY has identified $90 million in state aid after the Board of Trustees approved a 1991-92 Operating Budget. The university is seeking $85 million in state aid to community colleges.

CUNY has identified $90 million in state aid after the Board of Trustees approved a 1991-92 Operating Budget. The university is seeking $85 million in state aid to community colleges.

CUNY has identified $90 million in state aid after the Board of Trustees approved a 1991-92 Operating Budget. The university is seeking $85 million in state aid to community colleges.

CUNY has identified $90 million in state aid after the Board of Trustees approved a 1991-92 Operating Budget. The university is seeking $85 million in state aid to community colleges.

CUNY has identified $90 million in state aid after the Board of Trustees approved a 1991-92 Operating Budget. The university is seeking $85 million in state aid to community colleges.

CUNY has identified $90 million in state aid after the Board of Trustees approved a 1991-92 Operating Budget. The university is seeking $85 million in state aid to community colleges.

CUNY has identified $90 million in state aid after the Board of Trustees approved a 1991-92 Operating Budget. The university is seeking $85 million in state aid to community colleges.

CUNY has identified $90 million in state aid after the Board of Trustees approved a 1991-92 Operating Budget. The university is seeking $85 million in state aid to community colleges.

CUNY has identified $90 million in state aid after the Board of Trustees approved a 1991-92 Operating Budget. The university is seeking $85 million in state aid to community colleges.

CUNY has identified $90 million in state aid after the Board of Trustees approved a 1991-92 Operating Budget. The university is seeking $85 million in state aid to community colleges.

CUNY has identified $90 million in state aid after the Board of Trustees approved a 1991-92 Operating Budget. The university is seeking $85 million in state aid to community colleges.

CUNY has identified $90 million in state aid after the Board of Trustees approved a 1991-92 Operating Budget. The university is seeking $85 million in state aid to community colleges.

CUNY has identified $90 million in state aid after the Board of Trustees approved a 1991-92 Operating Budget. The university is seeking $85 million in state aid to community colleges.

CUNY has identified $90 million in state aid after the Board of Trustees approved a 1991-92 Operating Budget. The university is seeking $85 million in state aid to community colleges.

CUNY has identified $90 million in state aid after the Board of Trustees approved a 1991-92 Operating Budget. The university is seeking $85 million in state aid to community colleges.
Park. So he smoked pot, got be given to former Ramone Dee received that a third show was addition, Paul has assured us Pistols meet Graham Parsons, the third show was absolutely to play one of tension has existed, and will continue to exist as it does now Stone article which warned of finally cheer up.: U lent of ress. Fans an equally shameful count ·Management, and Financial Journalism with advance of the session. The-Replacements Bring your resumes and meet ... Baruch College 360 advertising agency PM lend of ress. Fans an equally shameful count ·Management, and Financial Journalism with advance of the session. The-Replacements Bring your resumes and meet ...

By Wesley Smith Welcome to the B-SIDE, in addition, Paul has assured us.

For those two partisans managed to hide under the wire, while the rest of us, impressed with their own, was Vall Creeland. The first of these lies held on to that position.

My name is Wesley Smith, and I'm the editor of the B-SIDE. In the upcoming issue, I'll be featuring articles about music, politics, and other interesting topics. My goal is to provide my readers with a unique perspective on the world around us.

In this issue, you'll find articles on the current state of the music industry, the impact of technology on our daily lives, and the latest developments in politics. I'm excited to share these stories with you and hope you enjoy reading them.

Don't forget to check out our upcoming issue, where I'll be featuring articles on the latest trends in fashion, food, and travel. Be sure to subscribe to our newsletter to receive updates on future issues.

Thank you for reading the B-SIDE. I look forward to hearing your thoughts on our content.

Wesley Smith
Editor, B-SIDE
Baruch Tid-Bits

BOWLING:

Selena Fickler is the leader on Baruch’s bowling team. She has an average of 190 and she has bowled her team’s high series twice. What is unusual, though, is that she’s doing it on the men’s team.

Fickler is the first woman to start on the men’s team. “I tell her to just think as if she were throwing on the women’s team,” says coach Doug York, vaguely in chink.

Baruch is in third place, behind Cooper Union and Brooklyn College, after four matches played. In the first week of the season, the Statesmen (with woman) beat St. Francis and lost to Brooklyn. The second week saw the Statesmen tie the St. Josephs but lose to the New York Public Library. The Statesmen tied Cooper Union for third place.

“I yell at her as much as anyone else. I hold no preference toward her.”

—Coach York

Cooper Union and Baruch College. The other members are Eric Seineltmayer, Paul Fung.

Herny Gas and Bobby Tiy, who is also a 180 bowler.

In the Metropolitan Collegiate Tournament, Baruch had some minor success. They finished 11th out of 14 teams for their best finish in 5 years. The women, for the first time, didn’t finish in last place. They placed ninth out of eight teams.”

I expect to start in first or second. I’m going to give them hell. This is definitely the Statesmen’s year, my first year with them.”

FENCING:

Baruch sent its four best fencers in the Temple Open, played at Temple University in Philadelphia.

Baruch’s best, Grant Dennis, finished 11th out of 12 competitors in the fencing. He lost to a competitor from Yale University. Alexander Canepa placed 11th out of 10 entrants in a meet. Alexander finished second at the Conference Open. Both men are to fencing events.

Baruch finished second in the Nation. Last year, Sharmilla Shapland placed sixth in the Nation. Yarick Kornis is the year’s new coach. He has recently returned from Canadian Army. “It’s a better coach than we had before.”

The fencing team’s next match will be played at Nov. 17 and 18 in the Penn State Open.

Mickey Kramer

THE POP QUIZ

1. Pete LaCock, a former Roya. and Cub, is game show host Peter Marshall’s what?
2. Which current NFL quarterback once starred in the CFL?
3. Who directed and later coached the Green Bay Packers?

OUR ANSWERS

1. Pete LaCock, a former Roya. and Cub, is game show host Peter Marshall’s what?
2. Which current NFL quarterback once starred in the CFL?
3. Who directed and later coached the Green Bay Packers?

Call Now! Classes Start Soon.
Manhattan: (212) 977-8200

STANLEY H. KAPLAN
Take Kaplan Or Take Your Chances
The rumor mill was working fervently at Baruch over the last few weeks with talk of a 12 credit limit. Students were appalled and angry as they realized that they would have to spend more time to complete their degrees: time they could least afford, as financial aid would inevitably dry up. Foreign students also felt threatened, as this credit cap would be more disastrous than another 50% tuition increase. Considering the $3.8 million in cuts in the Baruch budget, this rumor could not be taken lightly. The chairperson of the Academic Affairs Committee of the Day Session Government, Elizabeth Lejtman, along with the Executive Secretary, Delandro Wilson spoke with the Vice President for Student Development, Dean Sam Johnson, and sought clarification on these issues.

According to Dean Johnson, there was consideration given to reducing the credit limit to 12 credit hours, but this was not approved. He suggested, that wiser heads realized that this could create tremendous hardships on numbers of students.

However, in the words of the Dean: “there will be significant cuts in the adjunct budget, classes will be bigger and sections will be closed.” Already we have been told of the declination in the School of Liberal Arts for next semester, but these additional cuts could see reductions on a much wider scale, particularly in the much sought after business courses. Dean Johnson went on to say: “If we have to cut and save money, we would rather cut on freshmen, rather than those that are with us.” We can therefore expect to see significant decreases in freshman and transfer student enrollment, and although it provides us with some more breathing room it really does not get us more classes in accounting or finance, nor does it bring back those Liberal Arts sections.

F’ Grade Removed

In a related matter, government representative, the V.P. for Academic Affairs, Lester Layne spoke to Associate Dean Harry Rosen about the policy on “F” grades. Dean Rosen noted that students will be allowed to have their “F” grades omitted from the computation of their GPA if they resit the course and get a better grade. The “F” will remain on their transcript, however, with an asterix beside it. This policy is to be retroactive for the last three years.

Several major colleges have a similar system, and in some instances the “F” grade is completely removed the transcript, when the grade is improved. However, some Baruchians feel that this will create a feeling of apathy among students, who will automatically fail themselves in courses in which they are getting low grades. A word of warning to these “wise students.” It may be to your advantage to drop the course as you would do now. The professor may circumvent your attempt to fail yourself and award you a ‘D’, there is no recourse to resitting in this case.