Cuomo Proposes $500 Tuition Hike

Students Resent Spring '91 Increase, Saying It's Not Beneficial

By William Peck Jr.

Governor Mario Cuomo's new budget proposal authorizes a $500 tuition increase for the City University of New York. It also calls for a $15.5 million cut in CUNY funding. If passed, Cuomo says the increase would raise $40 million for CUNY.

The cuts proposed by the governor could also affect TAP grants and other tuition aid normally provided by the state. Cuomo's proposal comes on top of an increase already instituted by the board of trustees of CUNY on Dec. 6, which raised tuition by $200 annually. According to the board resolution, "It is the intent of the Board of Trustees that the net additional revenue shall be used to ameliorate current and future cuts in the instructional programs."

"Based on information from Albany the only alternative was to raise new revenue mid-year and to change the terms of the aid to Part-Time Students," Cuomo says he had less than 10 hours to prepare stude

DSSG President, Wilson Shum, student Wilson Shum. "We didn't have time to mobilize students." Shum says he had less than 10 hours to prepare students to react at a hearing quarters (16th and East End Ave.) when he became aware of the board's intention to hold the meeting. However, Brown insists that efforts were made to inform the D.S.S.G. prior to the meeting but that the fac shocked when I looked at my bill and saw that tuition went up," she says.

Chancellor W. Ann Reynolds

With the increase, tuition will rise to $160 per semester for full-time students, $15 per credit for part-time students. According to trustees Rev. Calvin Presley, the tuition hike will raise $55 million for the university, but a gap of $34 million

Continued on Page 5

SCP B Spends Budget On Concert

Aylman Questions Use Of Funds

By Toni Colavito and Rafael Martinez

The Student Center Program Board plans to spend over 60 percent of its budget on a concert at the Palladium.

The concert will feature prominent artists such as Adiva and will be held during spring break week. The SCPB will charge $15 a person for admission, but Baruch students will receive a discount, according to Sean Seignious, president of SCPB.

Carl Aylman, director of Student Activities, states, "I don't believe it to be appropriate use of student money because the SCPB is given money to have events all through the year and not a gala spectacular.

But he says he will not discuss every event with them and will not get involved in the 'wisdom and worth' of all their decisions.

Aylman explains that the SCPB's entire spring budget is going to the concert. Eleven of the $17,000 in the spring bud get to the concert with the remaining $1,000 to be used to cover an open-ended clause in the contract concerning overtime and any special technical effects.

The Day Session Student Government was asked by the SCPB to contribute funds for the event. The DSSG, however, refused to be a sponsor.

Wilson Shum, president of the DSSG, states, "The council members gave Sean Seignious a deadline, and by the deadline what he had available was not interesting to the majority of the council."

Council wanted the singing group En Vogue to appear but they were not accessible due to cost. Shum continues, "council was worried about spending so much money and jeopardizing future events even in the senior bash. Fear of failure was high and a failure would affect council adversely." Seignious refused comment.

By the way, Shum says the:

Continued on Page 5
ISO Increases Student Services

By Jane Sato

The International Student Office recently implemented additional visa, academic, and cultural services for foreign students.

The ISO will be relocating help from other offices, such as Hofstee, to improve the services for students. A new addition will be an advisor to help students with advising, said director of the ISO. This past year, the ISO has been operating with Goldberg and the help of college work study students.

The coordination and sharing of resources between the ISO and the Study Abroad Office (International Student Center) are two plans for a more efficient system. The Newsletter and the International Student Club will be organized with a focus on activities.

Goldberg manages multiple positions in the division, which has been heavily involved in the cultural services for foreign students. This includes providing resources, answers to in-country and personal questions, and creating letters for immigration purposes.

Tuition Hike

Continued from Page One

The CUNY Board of Trustees approved a $10 increase in tuition, but TAP will be cut $10 if a student's family income is below the poverty line.

Shum feels that the new revenue will bring about little change. Since the students will get "less for more money," Shum also feels that the increase will not affect other services, such as tutoring. The increase is less than the 15-cent maximum increase in 1991-92.

"I've tried to listen to what seniors and sophomores have been saying," says Shum. "They feel there is no guarantee that their education will change because of the tuition hike." Shum says seniors plan to take two classes, which is a 40% increase over current levels.

Brown also made reference to a tuition assistance program in which students who are exceptional students for outstanding work in the classroom may be eligible for at least half the tuition, with a 15-cent maximum increase.

ISO Donors Wanted

On Feb. 13 and 17, the Lincoln Square Synagogue, 206 W. 65th Street, New York City, will be sponsoring a lecture and concert featuring a potential donor to the ISO. Each donor will be named Marat. The lecture will be held on Sunday, Feb. 13 at 1:00 p.m. in the auditorium at 10 E. 55th St. and the concert will be held on Thursday, Feb. 17 at 8:00 p.m. at the Baruch College Gallery, 135 E. 22nd St., New York City.

ISO Orientation

There will be an orientation for new international students on Thursday, Feb. 7, 7:00 p.m. at the Global Lounge, 300 W. 38th St. New York Public Library's "International Student Center," which will be open Monday through Friday, 10:00 a.m.-5:00 p.m.

The lecture is sponsored by the Administrative Services Office and the ISO, and preregistration is required. For further information, call (212) 677-6907.

PASS Workshops

The Placement Office of the School of Liberal Arts and Sciences will offer the following workshops:

Guest Speakers At Baruch

The Department of Sociology and Anthropology is sponsoring a series of guest lectures in February. The first speaker will be William Lees, a professor who will discuss Black History, and Afro-American Social Movements. The workshop will continue at the Metropolitan Museum of Art and will be open to anyone who is interested in the subject.

STT Information Workshop

The Student Employment Guide for Adverts is a workshop that will be held on February 13 and 17 at 7:00 p.m. at the Baruch College Library, 200 W. 38th St.

For appointments, see Dorothy at the Student Center Lobby Desk, 137 E. 22nd St. or call 387-1174.
Phonathon '91

February 25—February 28
March 4—March 7
March 11—March 14

Help Baruch—Make Money—Have Fun—Win Prizes

Work at least eight nights and earn $4.00/hour

To pick your nights, call Terence Rowland, 387-1130.
The THE COLUMBIA SCHOLASTIC PRESS ASSOCIATION

CUNY Stabs, Then Cuomo Twists The Knife

The board of trustees of the City University of New York stagnated its students in the back on Dec. 6 by passing a $600 tuition increase. They made CUNY headquarters before 8 a.m. after giving student leaders 12 hours to organize a response to the hike. A question that should be asked is, why would an increase be against an increase that is obviously needed to hold an "emergency meeting." The decision to raise tuition was made by the governor of New York. In fact, as it implies that the decision to raise tuition goes to CUNY for free. If trends continue at the same rate, this relatively new legal consultation per month service will soon be as common as Blue-Cross-Blue-Shield.

We call on the DSSG to mobilize Baruch students against this hike. The time for passive leadership is over. We must act NOW!

Letters to the Editor

Are we ever really engaged? Does it matter whether the decisions that we make are good or bad? Are we ever really free to choose what we want to do? Or are we just following the path that has been laid out for us? The choice is ours to make. Are we ever really engaged in the world around us? Or are we just going through the motions of life? The choice is ours to make. Are we ever really free to choose what we want to do? Or are we just following the path that has been laid out for us? The choice is ours to make.
Malcolm X Legacy Lives On
With Shabazz

By Selphie Phillips

The name Malcolm X brings to the memory of many people of a radical civil rights leader associated with violence. What many people do not know is the teacher that he was.

Dr. Betty Shabazz is no different from her late husband as she related. Dr. Shabazz is the Dean of Student Development and Public Relations at Medgar Evers College. She is a professor of education and the Dean’s Distinguished Professor of Education. The topic of her lecture is “Teachers with voice and vision.”

Dr. Shabazz’s lecture already entailed more responsibilities than her title expresses. “All leaders under pressure who are committed to the cause” she states. Her office wall is covered with award plaques that have been presented to her. She sits in her office with her laptop open and the phone to her near hand.

“Enjoy my work very much for a variety of reasons,” she said of her work at Medgar Evers. In a recent interview, in connection, people together and it connects discipline on schools. My job promotes a comprehensive public relations, which encourages clarity, if you are doing wrong you know you are doing wrong. If you encourage the development of leadership roles that ‘make a difference’ every day, that’s what we do.”

As she put it, students who worked full time and still managed to do well in it. They were the Golden Key National Honor Society. Golden Key pins.

Golden Key Honors the Exceptional Not the Average

By Kathy McNally

You know how sometimes feel that you are doing so much work on your school activities and other obligations that there is no time for yourself? Everyday says it will always pay off in the end, but sometimes you feel that someone knows how busy it is except you.

Well, some exceptionally hard-working students were honored for their efforts on December 6, 1990. These students are from all walks of life, with various majors, representing the diversity of students. These students were inducted into the Golden Key National Honor Society.

Normally, when someone mentions “honor society”, people think “N.I.C.E.” Students who worked full time and studied at night, or “Limited attendance” honors which are not truly associated with a prestigious institution.

Well, this is not the case. That there are some students with a perfect G.P.A. in Golden Key, but no one looks at their extracurricular activities and processes with prudence on their three. These students are students who hold jobs, are involved in clubs and activities and still manage to juggle social lives while maintaining a respectable G.P.A.

The ceremony which took place in the 3rd floor auditorium began with welcoming remarks from Philip Pertuz, President of Baruch’s chapter of Golden Key. It is a relatively new chapter and Pertuz and other officers had their work cut out for them. Persico gave the audience some idea of how much work went into planning an induction ceremony and how they did it all with only four officers. The ceremony which took place in the 23rd street auditorium began with expecting the audience to succeed and your success makes us proud. "It was unfair to the students who worked full time and studied at night, or ‘Limited attendance’ honors which are not truly associated with a prestigious institution."

References: Baruch College Alumni Association

The Baruch College School of Education and Educational Services and Project 30

Present

The Dean’s Distinguished Lecture Speaker

Dr. Sarah Lawrence Lightfoot

Professor of Education

Harvard Graduate School of Education

1984 MacArthur Fellow

The topic of her lecture is:

"On Goodness in Schools:

Teachers with voice and vision"

Thursday, February 21, 1991

2:45 pm

Nallin Hall/Room 1220

17 Lexington Avenue

New York City

Reception to follow in the Gallery

135 East 22 Street

Students, Faculty and Staff are cordially invited to attend
To All Baruch Students

Welcome Back!

The Baruch College Alumni Association welcomes you back from your Holidays with the hope that they were enjoyable. We wish you a happy and productive New Year.

We also invite you to become better acquainted with your Alumni Association, its purpose, services and benefits.

We are interested in maintaining a close partnership with Baruch Students. Let us hear from you.

Baruch College Alumni Association

Room 907 (9th floor) 135 East 22nd Street
Telephone number: 387-1145
New York, NY 10010

DEPT. of SPEECH

LIKE TO SING? DANCE? ACT?

AUDITIONS

for

The Fantasticks

by Tom Jones & Harvey Schmidt

INFO: SPEECH DEPT. 387-1340
WEDNESDAY, Feb. 6, 1991
Rm. 1403, 23rd St.

THURSDAY, Feb. 7, 1991 5-8 pm
Rm. 911, 23rd St. Bldg.

DEPT. of MUSIC

Shabazz

Continued From Page 2

Looking around her office, the inductees were then presented with certificates, by name, and individual interviews and photographs were taken of Golden Key inductees and their families. Aaron and the honorary members and officers. Referring to the leadership, entrepreneurship and confidence building skills that Golden Key offers, Peretti's closing remarks to the audience claimed that Golden Key offers "these important tools that you will take into the world with you."

There are portraits of her late husband, Malcolm X, and he reminded that this wife has accomplished so much since his death in 1965. She has raised six daughters and worked to support them, while at the same time she was earning her Ph.D. in school administration and curriculum development from the University of Massachusetts-Amherst. Her daughters are all grown now and she devotes herself to uplifting and enriching the lives of African American children to better the quality of their lives in a variety of ways.

All around her in the office are the files and folders that she has been working on and from one meeting to another. She saw 4 clients and made telephone calls again and again and she was still hard at work. The audience In a way that, if they get the idea that, Oh my God, Dr. Shabazz, her daughter was said to be working on and to be working on and to be working on. Then she phone rings again and she…

Golden Key

Continued From Page 2

currently working and going full time and part time to manage a 4.0 average. Robert Baker received the Golden Key Scholarship Award for Outstanding Senior. He is a master carpenter who deferred enrollment and maintains a 3.93 average. These two students are examples of the non-traditional student that Golden Key recognizes.

The inductees were then presented with certificates, by name, and individual interviews and photographs were taken of Golden Key inductees and their families. Aaron and the honorary members and officers. Referring to the leadership, entrepreneurship and confidence building skills that Golden Key offers, Peretti's closing remarks to the audience claimed that Golden Key offers "these important tools that you will take into the world with you."

Life in Hell

Contact Massimo

Salerno

(212) 387-1182

AVOID THE DRAFT

Write For Ticker

Features

Continue from Page 1

February 6, 1991 - Ticker Perspectives - 11

February 6, 1991 - Ticker Perspectives - 11
To our Troops in the Gulf:

Come home safe and soon.

Peace.

If I Had A...
Hamlet

Continued from Page 13

But back to the movie. The film opens differently from the book version. The book version opens with Hamlet seeing the ghost of King Hamlet, who has just recently died, whereas the film opens with an original scene of King Hamlet's funeral and confronts his mother. He asks her how she could marry her own brother in law before he returned from school in England. And should be enjoyable to almost all viewers, since the language may be unfamiliar it should not confuse those familiar with the story.

But, other than those two incidents, the rest of the film is consistent with the original, and should be enjoyable to almost all viewers, since the language may be unfamiliar it should not confuse those familiar with the story.

---

Hammer

Join the Fun! Join the Ticker. Write for the Perspectives Section.

Open House

The student newspaper of Baruch College is looking for people interested in:

- Advertising and Promotions
- Design and Layout using Desktop Publishing
- Writing and Editing

Thursday, February 14, 1991
12:35 - 2:40 (Club Hours)
Room 301f in the Student Center

Feel free to drop by anytime if you are not able to attend.

All are welcome.

Refreshments will be served.
A Vision of The New Europe

Economy and the New Business

The Top 10

ECOM "Energy and the New Business"

TOP 10 COLLEGE ALBUMS
1. "Red Hot & Blue" - Various Artists
2. "Some Friends" - The Charlatans U.K.
3. "Simple White Word" - The Connells
4. "Heli's Door" - The Pogues
5. "Gale" - Usher
6. "Vision Thing" - The Sisters Of Mercy
7. "Coke" - T'Box Sinatras
8. "Six Shots Down" - The Replacements
9. "Mercorritos" - Buck Pets
10. "Reverberations" - Echo And The Bunnymen

TOP 10 CROSSING FILMS
1. "Home Alone"
2. "Awakening"
3. "Kindergarten Cop"
4. "Dances With Wolves"
5. "Flight Of The Intruder"
6. "White Fang"
7. "Lionheart"
8. "Green Card"
9. "Harrier"
10. "Edward Scissorhands"

TOP 10 VIDEO RENTALS
1. "Young Guns 2"
2. "Dick Tracy"
3. "My Blue Heaven"
4. "Rockborro"!
5. "My Better Blues"
7. "The Adventures of Fairlane"
8. "The Godfather"
9. "Delta Force 2"
10. "Bird On A Wire"

TOP 10 ALBUMS
1. "To The Extremes" - Vanilla Ice
2. "Please Hammer Don't Hurt Em" - M.C. Hammer
3. "The Immaculate Collection" - Madonna
4. "Mariah Carey - Mariah Carey"
5. "I'm Your Baby Tonight" - Whitney Houston
7. "The Simpsons Sing The Blues" - The Simpsons
9. "The Rhythm Of The Saints" - Paul Simon
10. "The Razor's Edge" - AC/DC

By Eric Leyola

The British Prime Minister's statement to the courage and the dexterity with which he has been able to maintain the image of the new business. But when it comes to the effectiveness of the new business, there is much to be desired. The success of the new business is due to the government's determination to combat the postwar recession. The new business is the result of a series of economic measures taken since the end of the war, which have included the introduction of new industries, the encouragement of exports, and the promotion of investment. The government's policies have been successful in reversing the economic decline that had set in during the postwar years. The new business is characterized by a dynamic spirit, which has led to a rapid increase in economic activity. The new business has resulted in the creation of new jobs and the growth of existing industries. The government's policies have been geared to the needs of the time, which has required a new approach to economic problems. The government has been successful in its efforts to promote economic growth, and the results of its policies have been evident in the increase in the national income and the reduction in unemployment. The new business is characterized by a spirit of cooperation, which has led to the successful conclusion of international agreements. The new business is characterized by a spirit of optimism, which has led to the belief that success in the new business is possible. The new business is characterized by a spirit of determination, which has led to the successful conclusion of the new business. The new business is characterized by a spirit of confidence, which has led to the belief that success in the new business is possible. The new business is characterized by a spirit of innovation, which has led to the successful conclusion of the new business. The new business is characterized by a spirit of enthusiasm, which has led to the belief that success in the new business is possible. The new business is characterized by a spirit of hope, which has led to the belief that success in the new business is possible. The new business is characterized by a spirit of courage, which has led to the successful conclusion of the new business. The new business is characterized by a spirit of determination, which has led to the successful conclusion of the new business. The new business is characterized by a spirit of optimism, which has led to the belief that success in the new business is possible. The new business is characterized by a spirit of confidence, which has led to the belief that success in the new business is possible. The new business is characterized by a spirit of innovation, which has led to the successful conclusion of the new business. The new business is characterized by a spirit of enthusiasm, which has led to the belief that success in the new business is possible. The new business is characterized by a spirit of hope, which has led to the belief that success in the new business is possible. The new business is characterized by a spirit of courage, which has led to the successful conclusion of the new business.
FROM THE PRESIDENT'S DESK

By Wilson Shum

Welcome back to Baruch my fellow students. Welcome back to a $100 increase in tuition, welcome back to less services and less class sections.

Welcome back to a shrinking job market, a recession and a war. Welcome back to Baruch.

This is not the type of welcome I had hoped to give you this semester. I had hoped to give you more uplifting news. I wish to assure you that everything will be alright, that the recession and the war will be over in a few days and that we will get jobs which pay attractive salaries, as soon as we graduate. But I couldn’t say this in earnest nor would you believe me; unless, of course you were Ronald Reagan. Therefore, I have no other option than to give the hard truth.

The City University budget has been cut by over $25 million by the State, with Baruch suffering from a $4 million cut. This translates into the predicament facing us for registration: fewer class sections, crowded classes and reduced graduation rates. These are the more important of several other issues facing us matters such as: the Presidential Search Committee, the construction of the new campus and the firing of adjunct professors. However, I will stick to the issue which is troubling most of us, graduation rates.

It is already known that it is difficult to graduate from Baruch in 4 years. With less class sections it will get even harder this year and by next year, with further budget cuts expected to be 3 or 4 times more severe, it will be virtually impossible.

What can we do try to save Baruch from budget cuts and keep Baruch College #1 (yes, Bernard M. Baruch College is one if not the best CUNY school). The answer is simple: lobby for your education rights, speak out for the school.

How, when and where do we lobby for the so that we can graduate sometime in the next decade (and avoid becoming DecaSuperSeniors). The answer to these questions has a direct relationship to your level of love and respect for yourself.

Do you want more class sections not less? Do you want more services not less? Do you want things to get better not worse? Do you really care about your future? Then move to action, which of the options (see box) or combinations of options fits your schedule for action.

1. Go to Albany and lobby for Baruch in February or March.
2. Call/write your assemblyman and tell them your troubles and ask them to provide more funding for CUNY.
3. Make sure you have taken part in a mailing campaign to the state legislators this being said I would like to make a final comment about an issue mentioned before.

The "New Education Order"

Tuition Increased Again

Delandro C. Wilson

Over the last few months there has been much discussion about a 'new world order', based on the machinations of the single greatest power in the world, the United States of America. There is a war raging in the middle east which seeks to lay the foundation for this grand scheme, but more fundamentally, it set the tone of an unequivocal message from the President of the United States: it is better to spend billions of dollars on war and economic benefit of the few, than a few million for the educational advancement of the many. This is the new order, a new education order.

Last semester tuition was increased by $100, an annual increase of $200, and there will be further increases next semester. Governor Mario Cuomo is reported to have said the tuition at both the state universities (SUNY) and city universities (CUNY) will be increased by $200 to $500 annually. (N.Y.T. 01-27-91) These increase will force many students out of college and keep several from entering. But we see no positive action from our President, or his political hacks, because they are insulated from these tribulations; their children will not suffer or be deprived of an education.

At both the state and national level, money is being channeled away from education into other areas which cannot accrue to this nation the dividends gained from an educated and informed populace. As reported in the various business journals, the dividends are gained by the corporation manufacturing weapons, expensive drugs and so on. The percentile of people earning millions of dollars in income yearly has actually increased over the last few years yet, we are hard pressed to meet our budgetary obligations. No money can be found to support academic improvement, but billions are found to clean up the infelicities made by fraudulent and avaricious Savings and Loans executives.. Billions more are injected into a war, into the lucrative markets in Europe and so on, yet, we cannot meet our budgetary obligation. Is this chance or choice?

Let your vision be focused on the direction of these political 'gods' and how their actions are detrimental to you. This 'new education order' provides recruits for death. The more students who are unable to attend college, the more recruits for the armed services; the police-force of Mr. Bush's 'new world order'. Will your only salvation be to become 'one of a few good men'.

In times of reduced educational opportunities the armed services becomes an avenue for advancement, unfortunately your next advance may be your last one. The catchy advertising phrases take on a deadly insignificance during a war; you may be 'one of many dead men.' What is your choice? Are you going to accept this fate quietly or are you angry enough to make your voice heard?

Rally against tuition increases. Gov. Cuomo has declared war on CUNY. This is a war you can’t afford to lose.