Elevators Shut Down – Too Expensive

By Gee He's Freaky

In an effort to streamline college operating costs, the college is considering immediate suspension of all elevator service, according to a confidential memo that cites the high cost of virtually continuous elevator repairs which have little or no effect on service. If instituted, the policy would shut down all campus elevators. Students and staff would have to take stairs to class.

“We're throwing in the towel,” said an administrator who asked to remain anonymous. “We just can’t keep the elevators running efficiently, and it’s costing us too much money, so why even bother trying?”

According to records, the college spent $15 million maintaining big elevators last year, undoubtedly, the same amount that, by one projection, may be cut from Baruch’s budget under Governor Patakkki’s Execution Budget.

Although the University office of Elevator Policy and Operations had no comment, President Matthew Goldstein released the following statement: “The elevators are a problem that we take very seriously here at Baruch. We are currently formulating a proposal to create a search committee to find a qualified candidate to deal with exactly that problem, and we are doing it as fast as we can under our current financial constraints. We realize that using the stairs may constitute a hardship for some students, but that is something that we are going to look into.”

One idea that has been discussed is privatization, much like certain other campus operations such as food service. His plan calls for finding a private contractor to run the elevators, perhaps charging up to 25 cents per floor.

An unnamed campus employee from the Office of Intermittent Red Tape, snickered when asked of the plan: “All those people who are constantly whining about the elevators – they think they have problems now!” he laughed. “Just wait.”

The college is also examining other budget-cutting programs, such as limiting flights to the Baruch Helicopter Shuttle, which links all Baruch building via helicopters on rooftops.

Patakkki Eliminates Tuition

By Marsala Salad

On April 1, Governor George Patakkki’s declared that, in the spirit of the Carlton City University of New York not pay tuition, but they will also receive FREE meritorious and reggae lessons.

As competitions will be held earlier that day, for those who like to limbo and dance the cha-cha.

Besides the free lessons, Baruch students will get a $25,000 stipend each semester for signing up for registrations and not filling financial aid forms.

Baruch’s Pornography Club Is a Huge Success

By Joanne Oooohh

Baruch’s newly established Pornography Club has attracted numerous members to its meeting place every Thursday during club hours. It started as a secret society which held its meetings in the janitor’s room, and it expanded quickly into the most popular club organization in Baruch history.

The Pornography Club originated as a four person club consisting of the club president Richard Browne, the club vice president Brennon Marcano, the club treasurer J. Guo, and the porno film advisor and critic Cosmo Kramer. Each week they would gather in the janitor’s room and watch porno films with their snuggled in TV and VCR. Their members grew after the janitor discovered their secret and spread the words around. Although at first there were a few protests from some conservative students, soon they all stopped complaining since they all became members of this club.

The purpose of this club is to provide Baruch students with an entertainment that they all enjoy, and a recent survey revealed that pornography is their favorite entertainment. This club offers its members relaxing environment to let them escape from the stressful environment at school for a few hours,” said the president Dickie Browne.

The president of this club is notorious for his perverted mind, and it was due to his effort that the Pornography Club is so successful. It was his idea to publicize this club and charge membership fee so he could make a few extra bucks to save up for the $1000 tuition hike.

With this shrewd business mind, he started to charge a $150 membership fee which new members gladly paid. The membership fee is worth its price since members will receive a catalog of the most recent porno films, a dozen glow in the dark neon colored condoms, a fruit flavored lubricator, and a “do it yourself” kit.

The executive officers of the Pornography Club all have very distinctive personalities. The president Dickie Browne is an el­

Gingrich Is Not a Grinch After All

By Jen Saurio

In a small private banquet inside the 25th Street Building’s posh conference center, Republican majority leader Newt Gingrich announced his decision to donate over $4 billion to Baruch College to go towards paying half of students’ tuition over the next 5 years. The donation was given under the condition that the William and Anita Newman Library be renamed “The Newt, Belt and Mander Library,” and that students engage in a one-credit course designed to educate them on the finer points of Congressional lobbying.

The donation sparked a lot of controversy on the UCLA campus, though, and comments overheard in the classrooms led to heated arguments and confusion. Many students and professors were heard com-

Continued on page 4
Bravo, Baruch!!

Governor George Patakkii has proposed budget cuts nearly across the board for New York State agencies, and City University is no exception. The Baruch administration, though, is to be commended for their plan to increase revenue by making the planned $300 million to a money making venture. The new plan calls for most of the facility to be built as a hotel and conference center which groups could rent for conventions and affairs. It's high time that a school like Baruch, which places an emphasis on its School of Business, actually enters the rough-and-tumble world of entrepreneurship. Of course, little space would be dedicated to classrooms and other teaching facilities, but that won't be a problem.

After all, when Governor Patakkii is done re-making state across the board for New York State agencies, and City University is no exception. The Baruch administration, though, will complain that a park is too important of a use for classrooms, since so many students will have dropped out. "The park to a state that would destroy a education?"

Also to be applauded is the administration's decision to retain an experienced manager to oversee the construction and running of the Baruch Hotel and Conference Center. With College's gain. 'Just a block away from Madison Square Park.

The cuts, if passed by the state legislature, would manifest themselves in increased tuition and the facilitating of protests organized by independent student groups like the Students for Social Consciousness.

Quote of the Fortnight

"He is literally checking his rear end every second because he is afraid that the student's chant, 'Patakkii, you liar. We'll set your ass on fire,' will come true."

The Governor's spokesperson, on why Patakkii has changed his mind on raising tuition.

Ten Thousand March On City Hall

Students, Faculty And Others Stage Largest Protest Yet

By D.J. Frick

A student-organized rally drew 27,000 people to City Hall Plaza on Thursday, March 25, to protest Governor George Patakkii's plans to cut millions from the budgets of the state's two university systems, including $185 million from the City University of New York. The cuts, if passed by the state legislature, would manifest themselves in increased tuition and the scaling back or total elimination on student financial aid programs, and would greatly affect students who relied on aid to attend public college in New York.

"We do not control the institutions that we, as students, must control," said a York College student who would only identify herself as "Melina." Many of the protesters were students from CUNY and SUNY campuses, but many other groups were represented, including the schoolSLLA who cut classes, and 1,000 faculty members in open gowns who marched over the Brooklyn Bridge to join the protest.

Police reported 60 arrests, mostly occurring toward the end of what was otherwise a peaceful demonstration. The rally was the culmination, and the most successful, of a series of protests organized by independent student groups like the Students for Social Consciousness, the Students for Social Consciousness.

Features

The Asian Studies Forum

• James Yen, Page 19

Panel Examines Journalism In Cyberspace

By Rosario Mastrogiaomo

Months before The New York Times, The Wall Street Journal, or even the mainstream computer publications declared the Pentium "unusable," people on the Internet were well aware of the division error in Intel's microprocessor. Would-be cyber journalists were able to "scoop" the mainstream publications because they had access to a sea of information just a click or keystroke away on their computers.

"Every journalist, and the most successful, of a series of protests organized by independent student groups like the Students for Social Consciousness"
The Internet: Reuters Panel Discusses Future

By D.J. Fricker

About 30 prominent New Yorkers, all alumni of the City University of New York, participated in a Lincoln Center press conference on March 30, in which they discussed the Internet and its impact on society.

The debate, held in the Stanley Kaplan Penthouse of Lincoln Center, included Stanley Kaplan (City College, 1939), the benefactor after whom the room was named; Nathan Leventhal (Queens, 1963), president of Lincoln Center and former first deputy mayor; and Regina Beznick (Hunter, 1942), a star of the Metropolitan Opera.

Andrew Heller and Ray McDermott candidates for the DSSG Presidency, will debate each other on April 6, 12:50-2:55 p.m., in Room 1543 of 360 Park Avenue South.

Students are encouraged to attend.

The debate is sponsored by The Ticker.
Ten Thousand Rally Against Exec Budget

High School Students Cut Class To Join Rally

"They don't want us to be on welfare, but don't want to educate us either"

By Marcela Solano

Three Thousand Professors March From Brooklyn

Join Students At City Hall In Show of Support Against Proposed Budget Cuts

By Luu Ortsi

Fear of Program Cuts

"I'll Lose My Job, But..."

Many expressed concern, and hoped to engender a change of minds by marching. "If the students, especially minority students, don't want to lose their programs, they should know that their future is in their hands," said Phil Farnham, a teacher at a public alternative high school at Brooklyn Community College.

Despite the thousands of high school students who cut class, the number that actually came to the rally and marched throughout the day was small, said high school students who were attended, but those who stayed were well-versed on the issues.

Teen-Agers "Don't Want To Live On Welfare"

"No cuts should be allowed because there are many teenage girls in this city who don't want to live on welfare," said a 15-year-old student from Edward R. Murrow High School. "They don't want us to be on welfare, but don't want to educate us either."

While various CUNY students and representatives of interest groups spoke at the podium, one high school student waved the four flags and, to the cheers of crowd below, hoisted the Democratic flag, a Puerto Rican flag, an African flag, and an American flag.

"This rally is more educational than a lesson taught in a classroom," said Emma Rosed, an American History teacher at West Side High School in Manhattan. "It teaches young students that they can change their situations and lifestyles by being actively involved and having their voices be heard by the American government."

"It was good for high school students to participate, because they are the future and need to be involved in this process," said Lissner, a rally marshal and graduating senior.
'Tucker Takes''

LIBRARY WINS AWARDS
The William and Anita Newman Library, which has attracted three times the number of readers as the former library, has recently won two prestigious awards:

- The Lucy D. Moses Preservation Award, presented by the New York Landmarks Conservancy committee, celebrates contributions to architectural heritage. The conversion of the landmark Lexington Building, a former power plant, into the Baruch Library and Technology Center, was hailed as "super adaptive use."

- The Excellence in Architecture Award, sponsored jointly by the American Institute of Architects and the American Library Association, recognized excellence in architecture.

The library has also been nominated for yet another notable distinction: the preservation award of the Municipal Arts Society.

LECTURE ON ECONOMICS OF ITALY
There will be a lecture on "Politics and Economics of Contemporary Italy" on Thursday, April 6, from 1:00 to 3:00 p.m. in Room 360 Park Avenue South. The lecture will be delivered by Dr. Giuseppe Annunzio of the Calandra Italian-American Institute, and is open to students, faculty, and staff. For further information call Pierre Tribaudi, (212) 447-3521.

PROFESSOR DELIVERS PAPER
Professor Stephen Sussna of the law department recently delivered a paper at the 74th annual meeting of the Transportation Research Board in Washington, D.C., a unit of the National Research Council, which serves as an independent advisor to the federal government. Dr. Sussna's presentation dealt with improving highway, and best use analyses to save land use, eminent domain, and transportation problems.

FELLOWSHIP AVAILABLE
The Clark Kellogg fellowship program will award one fellowship of $45,000 to an exceptional undergraduate in the New York City area who is interested in pursuing graduate studies in public sector management toward holding a position in community-based or non-profit organizations. Applicants must have junior status or above. The application deadline is April 7. For more information call Professor Jerry Mitchell at (212) 992-5888.

FOR ESL STUDENTS
Are you trying to improve your English? The Grammar Workshop/Conversation Club will meet Thursdays from 1:00 to 3:00 in Room 609 of 17 Lexington Ave. Everyone is welcome.

INCOME TAX ASSISTANCE
The Baruch College Volunteer Income Tax Assistance Program will offer free assistance with tax preparation to city residents. VITA is ready to assist with forms 1040, 1040A, and 1040EZ, and associated schedules, as well as New York State forms IT 100, IT 200, IT 209, and IT 214. Bring all relevant documents.

Assistance will be available through April 14, Monday through Thursday, from 7:00 to 9:00 p.m., and at ofT-campus locations. For further information call (212) 447-3912.

WORKSHOP FOR SERIES 7/NASD EXAM OFFERED
Baruch College's Continuing Studies Program will offer Saturday workshops in preparing students for their Series 7/NASD licensing exam. The sessions will be on Saturdays, from 8:30 a.m. to 4:00 p.m., in a four week interval beginning April 8. The tuition is $300. For further information contact Bernard Lynch, (212) 447-3020.

BATTLE OF THE BANDS IN BROOKLYN
Held in New York, a beneficiary agency of the United Jewish Appeal Federation of New York, will sponsor the first annual Battle of the Bands Benefit Concert to benefit UA-Federation.

The concert will feature five of the top college bands from the New York metropolitan area. It will be held Saturday, April 8 beginning at 4:00 p.m. The cost is $10 at the door.

Queens Tragedy Touches Baruch
Andrew Lazan, Former Student, Succumbs To Injuries Suffered In Shooting in 1991

By Eric Thorsen
The Ticker reports with great sadness the passing of student Andrew Lazan, who died of complications on March 21, 1991. Lazan's death stems from a October 1991 incident that left him paralyzed and unable to talk. Lazan's condition was the result of a crazed gunman who had left five bullets in Lazan's body, while killing five neighbors and then himself.

Lazan had been on the dean's list and was planning to be a lawyer, before his plans were halted at age 22. Now, just three years later, he became the seventh victim of the "9/11" shootings. He died Tuesday at New York Medical Hospital Center in Queens.

Lazan had been an active member in the Baruch community, participating in many clubs, holding the position of vice president of membership in the American Marketing Association (AMA). "Andrew's spirit and energy" symbolized what the AMA is all about," said Aubrey Dasque, president of the AMA. The AMA has created the Andy Lazan Award, which will be presented to AMA members who display Lazan's "spirit and energy." The award will be presented at the annual AMA Awards dinner, in his honor.

The Ticker reports this story hopefully because of a biweekly publication schedule.

cell-always less than 1-800-collcat

Never pay full price again, it's easy as ABC.

KNOw THE CODE,™
IT ALWAYS COSTS LESS THAN 1-800-COLLECT.

dial 1800 CALL ATT
ALWAYS COSTS LESS THAN 1-800-COLLECT.

Always know how much you're paying.

000 CALL ATT

KNOw THE CODE,™
IT ALWAYS COSTS LESS THAN 1-800-COLLECT.

dial 1800 CALL ATT
ALWAYS COSTS LESS THAN 1-800-COLLECT.
EDITORIALS

Budget Decision Approaches, But The Battle Isn't Over

The March 23 rally at City Hall was an unqualified success, thanks to the involved students of activist groups like Student Movement Power, one of several groups that has emerged to fill the leadership vacuum created by Day Session Student Government's apparent inability to organize students.

Three hundred Baruch students marched from 17 Lexington Avenue to Union Square, where they were greeted by a phalanx of police armed with tear gas and handcuffs, but, nevertheless, the sea of students marched on.

After taking the train to Canal Street, the Baruch contingent marched down Broadway to City Hall, drawing many words of support from passers-by. Governor George Pataki's claims to be supported by a majority of New Yorkers are beginning to ring more hollow as time passes.

Now the ball is in the court of the legislature, and the state anxiously awaits an answer. Now the effects of the demonstrations and the letter writing campaigns will be seen. But, regardless of the legislature's decision, the battle doesn't have to end here.

Votes typically have short political memories, but there have been exceptions. Remember Governor Pataki's plan this November, as well as in successive Novembers. New York State already has a form of term limits: elections.

"A scholar is not a bibliophile - a scholar is someone who makes history."

-Rev. Timothy P. Mitchell, addressing 10,000 protesters at City Hall.

PRO OR CON

Better Protected Than Infected

By Jim Sooyayun

Religious right political hacks like columnist Cal Thomas try to portray the use of condoms and safe sex as a liberal left political glib.

Yet Surgeon General Antonia C. Novello, appointed by Republican president George Bush, issued a statement published in the June 9, 1995 issue of the Journal of the American Medical Association strongly supporting condom use for prevention of HIV transmission. Similar statements were issued by religious zealots, she cites a National Institute of Mental Health study that concludes that 25 percent, 50 percent, or 100 percent respectively of persons use condoms consistently and correctly.

As to the question of pores in condoms, which has replaced the medical question about how many angels can stand on the head of a pin in the minds of modern day religious zealots, she cites a National Institute of Mental Health study which found no holes even at 20,000 times magnification.

Acknowledging that holes most certainly do occur, she refers to quality control testing by the U.S. Food and Drug Administration that found an average condom water leak rate of 0.3 percent. If the failure rate of a batch of condoms exceeds 4 per 1,000, the condoms are recalled and barred from sale. This is a far cry from the 33 percent failure rate among tapers D.U.D. and Veteran Greyhound bus driver.

S.A.D.D. and Veteran Greyhound bus driver, CharlieNeil wants everyone to start thinking in mind while traveling over spring Break.

- Have fun on your road trip, but remember... Exhale
- Carry a flashlight, a first aid kit and a fire extinguisher in your vehicle in case of emergency.
- While no one can guarantee a safe trip, S.A.D.D. urges you to keep these tips in mind and if you find yourself in a jam, call Greyhounds toll free number, 1-800-231-2222, for a bus stop near you.

The opinions expressed on the Ticker pages are those of the individual writers, and do not necessarily represent the opinion of The Ticker editorial staff. The Ticker accepts any op-Eds and signed (opus tios of more than 750 words from Barry students. The Ticker reserves the right to edit and select unsigned letters.

Editorial Board: Breaking news editor, Eric L. Bland; Features editor, John Capi; Sports editor, Kalas Uley; Business editor, Jason Emerson; News editor, Ray Mercado; Arts editor, Jennie Oh; Sports editor, Michael Lukaj; Managing editor, John Capi; Editor-in-chief, Eric L. Bland; Editor, The Ticker, Vol. 1, No. 6, Apr. 4, 1995; ISSN 1090-4117; Published monthly at 250 Park Ave. South, New York, NY 10010.

Quote of the Fortnight

"A scholar is a not a bibliophile - a scholar is someone who makes history."

- Rev. Timothy P. Mitchell, addressing 10,000 protesters at City Hall.

Pro or Con

Better Protected Than Infected

By Jim Sooyayun

Religious right political hacks like columnist Cal Thomas try to portray the use of condoms and safe sex as a liberal left political glib.

Yet Surgeon General Antonia C. Novello, appointed by Republican president George Bush, issued a statement published in the June 9, 1995 issue of the Journal of the American Medical Association strongly supporting condom use for prevention of HIV transmission. Similar statements were issued by religious zealots, she cites a National Institute of Mental Health study that concludes that 25 percent, 50 percent, or 100 percent respectively of persons use condoms consistently and correctly.

As to the question of pores in condoms, which has replaced the medical question about how many angels can stand on the head of a pin in the minds of modern day religious zealots, she cites a National Institute of Mental Health study which found no holes even at 20,000 times magnification.

Acknowledging that holes most certainly do occur, she refers to quality control testing by the U.S. Food and Drug Administration that found an average condom water leak rate of 0.3 percent. If the failure rate of a batch of condoms exceeds 4 per 1,000, the condoms are recalled and barred from sale. This is a far cry from the 33 percent failure rate among tapers D.U.D. and Veteran Greyhound bus driver.

S.A.D.D. and Veteran Greyhound bus driver, CharlieNeil wants everyone to start thinking in mind while traveling over spring Break.

- Have fun on your road trip, but remember... Exhale
- Carry a flashlight, a first aid kit and a fire extinguisher in your vehicle in case of emergency.
- While no one can guarantee a safe trip, S.A.D.D. urges you to keep these tips in mind and if you find yourself in a jam, call Greyhounds toll free number, 1-800-231-2222, for a bus stop near you.

The opinions expressed on the Ticker pages are those of the individual writers, and do not necessarily represent the opinion of The Ticker editorial staff. The Ticker accepts any op-Eds and signed (opus tios of more than 750 words from Barry students. The Ticker reserves the right to edit and select unsigned letters.

Editorial Board: Breaking news editor, Eric L. Bland; Features editor, John Capi; Sports editor, Kalas Uley; Business editor, Jason Emerson; News editor, Ray Mercado; Arts editor, Jennie Oh; Sports editor, Michael Lukaj; Managing editor, John Capi; Editor-in-chief, Eric L. Bland; Editor, The Ticker, Vol. 1, No. 6, Apr. 4, 1995; ISSN 1090-4117; Published monthly at 250 Park Ave. South, New York, NY 10010.

Quote of the Fortnight

"A scholar is a not a bibliophile - a scholar is someone who makes history."

- Rev. Timothy P. Mitchell, addressing 10,000 protesters at City Hall.
Condom conscious

BY A GROUP OF ANGRY STUDENTS
We are writing in response to the article regarding condom consciousness by Youngman Cheon of your teaching skills.

The problems are as follows:

1. Assumptions are not introduced in the issues as the context for the discussion of the use of condoms

2. The information provided is too generalised

3. The language used is too clinical

4. The consequences of not using condoms are not discussed

They say that their criticism is further burnt out by the insidious strengths under high elongation and direct experimentation.

In March 1989 Consumer Reports article, "Can You Rely on Condoms?" also points that examination of stretched latex condoms by electron microscopy showed "no pores" and an "effective intact barrier" which won't even let water (one of the tiniest of molecules) filter through. It also declares that "there is a possibility that various sexually transmitted germs cannot pass through latex condoms."

The leaky boat rumors about condoms have long been put to rest, and the .

Next deadline for Exhaile is

April 19. Please forward all submissions to Candia Deller-Kortright at 360 Park Ave.

South Room

1522 Ny, Ny 10010

Distributed by CREATORS SYNDICATE, INC.

5777 West Century Blvd., Suite 700, Los Angeles, CA 90045

Truth or Consequence

Prof. Gets an F

In Response

Bennett, Return to The Twilight Zone

Bennett has turned into a great teacher.

I am writing in response to the article published in the June 1993 issue of the very same issue. The article by M.D. Morris and Pendle in the very same issue.

The June 1993 issue of Rebutted by an article by M.D. Morris and Pendle in the very same issue.

Even the worst performing condom reduced the transmission of molecules (the author's emphasis, not mine) when one of the women next to him, he painted a picture of what he has been doing. He is a hunk between you and me.

Lack of professionalism and poor time management.

Inability to provide proficient feedback when questioned.

Unrelenting probing of student's personal affairs. From the way we dress and talk. Intrusive into personal matters.

The leaky boat rumors about condoms spread by the religious right do not hold water. But condoms do hold water and they hold back the HIV virus too.

Men who have sex with men, for instance, are more likely to use condoms than heterosexuals.

He has been consistently rebuked by the insidious strengths under high elongation and direct experimentation.

The leaky boat rumors about condoms spread by the religious right do not hold water. But condoms do hold water and they hold back the HIV virus too.

By Bennett McDonald

I am writing in response to the article published in the June 1993 issue of the very same issue. The article by M.D. Morris and Pendle in the very same issue.

I am writing in response to the article published in the very same issue. The article by M.D. Morris and Pendle in the very same issue.

Lack of professionalism and poor time management.

Inability to provide proficient feedback when questioned.

Unrelenting probing of student's personal affairs. From the way we dress and talk. Intrusive into personal matters.

The leaky boat rumors about condoms spread by the religious right do not hold water. But condoms do hold water and they hold back the HIV virus too.

Men who have sex with men, for instance, are more likely to use condoms than heterosexuals.

He has been consistently rebuked by the insidious strengths under high elongation and direct experimentation.

The leaky boat rumors about condoms spread by the religious right do not hold water. But condoms do hold water and they hold back the HIV virus too.

By Bennett McDonald

I am writing in response to the article published in the very same issue. The article by M.D. Morris and Pendle in the very same issue.

I am writing in response to the article published in the very same issue. The article by M.D. Morris and Pendle in the very same issue.

Lack of professionalism and poor time management.

Inability to provide proficient feedback when questioned.

Unrelenting probing of student's personal affairs. From the way we dress and talk. Intrusive into personal matters.

The leaky boat rumors about condoms spread by the religious right do not hold water. But condoms do hold water and they hold back the HIV virus too.

Men who have sex with men, for instance, are more likely to use condoms than heterosexuals.

He has been consistently rebuked by the insidious strengths under high elongation and direct experimentation.

The leaky boat rumors about condoms spread by the religious right do not hold water. But condoms do hold water and they hold back the HIV virus too.

By Bennett McDonald

I am writing in response to the article published in the very same issue. The article by M.D. Morris and Pendle in the very same issue.

I am writing in response to the article published in the very same issue. The article by M.D. Morris and Pendle in the very same issue.

Lack of professionalism and poor time management.

Inability to provide proficient feedback when questioned.

Unrelenting probing of student's personal affairs. From the way we dress and talk. Intrusive into personal matters.

The leaky boat rumors about condoms spread by the religious right do not hold water. But condoms do hold water and they hold back the HIV virus too.

Men who have sex with men, for instance, are more likely to use condoms than heterosexuals.

He has been consistently rebuked by the insidious strengths under high elongation and direct experimentation.

The leaky boat rumors about condoms spread by the religious right do not hold water. But condoms do hold water and they hold back the HIV virus too.

By Bennett McDonald

I am writing in response to the article published in the very same issue. The article by M.D. Morris and Pendle in the very same issue.

I am writing in response to the article published in the very same issue. The article by M.D. Morris and Pendle in the very same issue.

Lack of professionalism and poor time management.

Inability to provide proficient feedback when questioned.

Unrelenting probing of student's personal affairs. From the way we dress and talk. Intrusive into personal matters.

The leaky boat rumors about condoms spread by the religious right do not hold water. But condoms do hold water and they hold back the HIV virus too.

Men who have sex with men, for instance, are more likely to use condoms than heterosexuals.

He has been consistently rebuked by the insidious strengths under high elongation and direct experimentation.

The leaky boat rumors about condoms spread by the religious right do not hold water. But condoms do hold water and they hold back the HIV virus too.
Because stuff happens.

*May this be corporate America. We have to keep it clean.

The Old Victims Of The State Budgetary War
The Cost Of A Luxury Good, Education (Part II)

By John E. Camacho
In our last issue, we started to see the tip of the iceberg when the figures given by the State and City of New York were ripped into smaller pieces. In a nutshell, the amount of money that is in play due to the budgetary recommendations go as follows: For all CUNY, there is a decrease of $108.7 million from state aid. The share for senior colleges is a decrease of $11.6 million. For all CUNY, there is a decrease of $30.1 million from the City of New York financial support. There is no change for senior colleges. For all CUNY, there is an increase from tuition of $18.5 million. The share for senior colleges is $11.6 million. This increase in revenue assumes that enrollment will increase by 79 students per senior college.

These figures do not include additional dollars from $18 million to be allocated by the University central offices. Another cut not factored into the budget is the proposal elimination of the Search for Education and Elevation of Knowledge, SEEK, program via cut of $15 million, the total funding per the program.

The breakdown of the cuts for all senior colleges, in services, is the following: 68 full time faculty, which represents the elimination of admissions. Between the number of total enrollment has increased on the Baruch's student body.

These future resolutions will affect obviously, the least amount of students that will be affected is, obviously, unknown. However, the number of cut cost and give sufficient services to the results of the student body.

The degrees of correlation, of the bias coming from the effect of the limitation of enrollment is very high. However, the figures gotten from the register are sufficiently valid for the knowledge of this kind of newspaper industry.

From the 1989 Fall semester, the number of total enrollment has moved towards the reduction than towards an increase. (see fig. 1.)

The decrease from Fall '90 to continued on page 16

Baruch's administration decided to have a maximum number of 15,000 students, undergraduates and graduates. The effect was that being the amount of money incurring tuition, transfer students to cut cost and give sufficient services in the years of the student body.

The costs of the future resolutions will affect obviously, the least amount of students that will be affected is, obviously, unknown. However, the number of cut cost and give sufficient services to the results of the student body.

The degrees of correlation, of the bias coming from the effect of the limitation of enrollment is very high. However, the figures gotten from the register are sufficiently valid for the knowledge of this kind of newspaper industry.

From the 1989 Fall semester, the number of total enrollment has moved towards the reduction than towards an increase. (see fig. 1.)

The decrease from Fall '90 to continued on page 16

The Missing Link, A Tax-Cut
Future tax-cuts are to be decided by reductions in the deficit.

By Eric Thorsen
WASHINGTON - The tax-cut link to a balanced budget has become a reality in Washington, as House Speaker Newt Gingrich has given his approval.

What was thought to be opposed by House Republicans and moderate Republicans and a Democrat block on the GOP tax-cut proposal, unless it is tied into balancing the budget, is now being endorsed. The plan would erase tax credits for small businesses and families if the deficit goals were not reached, until the budget is balanced in 2002.

The backing of Mr. Gingrich reinforces the notion that the US is more interested in balancing the budget, than in tax cuts. Mr. Gingrich also seems to have support for his decision, as the GOP freshmen - first-termers - are in favor of the linking proposal.

If the tax-cut link is signed into law, businesses and families will have their tax burdens decreased.

"...the US is more interested in balancing the budget, than in tax cuts." said by many outside factors with outcomes varying from year to year. The one benefit of the GOP plan to cut taxes by $189 million over five years, is the decreasing specified targets for each year, until reaching $40 in 2002.

The next step is for the budget requirement to be signed into law by President Clinton, which will give Mr. Clinton veto power and allow him to propels changes. The GOP intends to counter by introducing debt-ceiling resolutions.

These future resolutions will force President Clinton to take reconsider veto on budget issues and other matters, including federal labor policies.

Further pressure from the GOP includes a stand against approval of new money, which would be allocated to disaster aid to California and the replenishing of drained accounts in the Pentagon. The move, led by Moderate Republicans to lower the price ceiling, which gives tax breaks dependent on income, from $95,000 to $100,000 a year. This proposed bill is destined to be taken to the floor and is expected to be heavily opposed.

Future Plight
The next big issue for the weeks ahead will be a push by Moderate Republicans to lower the price ceiling, which gives tax breaks dependent on income, from $95,000 to $100,000 a year. This proposed bill is destined to be taken to the floor and is expected to be heavily opposed.
Are You Ready To Fly Over The Cuckoo's Nest?
"One Up On Wall Street" Can Help You Do It
By Joanna Guo

Whether you are a finance major or just want to invest in the stock market, you should definitely read the book "One Up On Wall Street" by Peter Lynch. The book is highly recommended by several other investors. The author's name might ring a bell if you have been following business news lately about the downfall of the Merrill Lynch Corporation.

However, in short selling, where a loss can be incurred if the price goes up, and the price to which a stock could rise is unknown, the loss could be inmeasurable.

In 1981, William C. Clark, a chairman and chief executive William C. Clark, Jr., who was succeeded by Alan Simpson (R, Wyoming) in February, said he would not be running for re-election.

The CIA has a limited number of positions available for applicants with backgrounds in: national security matters, economics, and international relations. Positions are open to U.S. citizens of all ethnic and cultural backgrounds. Salaries are competitive. Successful completion of physical and psychological evaluations, a polygraph interview, and an extensive background investigation is required.

The CIA's task is to conduct research and to focus intelligence efforts of the U.S. government, and to conduct research and analysis for the President's Office of National Intelligence. The CIA has its headquarters in Washington, D.C.

In fact, as Moynihan pointed out, the social security surplus revenues are invested in U.S. Treasury bonds and in this way actually helps finance the deficit.

The U.S. Federal Deficit, A Real Balancing Act
The U.S. Should Balance The Budget Now

By Wendell Hinds

The amendment to the federal budget had been put on the table for a vote. However, nobody wanted to take responsibility for opening it, especially since this issue is a political hot potato. Congress is required to reduce the deficit, which is reaching record levels, by creating a new, independent budget and spending in political and popular social programs, down in Congress to make little re-elections for politicians. Consequently, for years, the federal deficit was ignored and allowed to grow to a staggering $4 trillion dollars. However, in 1992, there was a breakthrough: President George Bush, in his State of the Union address, mentioned the deficit and declared his intention to reduce it. President Bush, who had a reputation for honesty, was expected to be re-elected in the November elections, and his campaign was widely supported. In the meantime, the American people were concerned about the budget deficit, which had reached a record high of $4 trillion dollars.

In 1965, entitlement spending amounted to $22.7% of federal spending, and in 1972 it was 33.8%, again, by 1993 it increased to 46.2%. Senator Alan Simpson also claimed that at this current pace, if no changes were made, entitlements would account for 54.2% of federal spending.

Making a counterpoint against the entitlement cuts, especially social security, Senator Alan Simpson (R, Wyoming) pointed out in a recent interview on Modern Money, that social security is not welfare.

People establish eligibility through work and contributions. In fact, contributions are easily identifiable on their pay stubs. As it stands today, the national deficit, which climbed from $645 billion in 1973 to a trillion dollars in 1994, that created the loss of federal revenues produced by what is known as resequestration.

In 1981, under the Reagan Administration, ERISA was created. ERISA was basically a two-step plan to eliminate the budget deficit. Step one was to cut taxes, and step two was to pay for those tax cuts by cutting federal spending. Step one worked, however, step two never came around. Put the failure to cut federal spending, and add defense expenditures, high interest rates at which the debt was financed, on top of the Reagan tax plan, the "three horse normally" to have our beloved deficit at the level it is today.

G & G SERVICES

For all your accounting needs during the busy tax season, contact our office for efficient, and affordable services.

Electronic returns efficiently done by tax experts.

Form 1040
Form 1040A
Schedules A, B, C,D,E, EIC.
NY-210
NY-210-T

Please contact Gosh Gosalia at work 212-719-3206; home 516-746-9396
Some feel, though, that there are more car owners than there are students, which results in overcrowded parking lots and other problems.

On the other hand, however, if a recession occurs, there would be a lower rate of unemployment among people who would otherwise be unemployed. For example, if this is found in Japan, which has had the lowest rate of unemployment in the world for many years, people would find other jobs.

If, on the other hand, the government decides to cut state aid, it would be much greater than many people expected. They have never really understood the need for it.

The number of Americans born and non-Americans, such as Europeans, Africans, etc., has also increased. This group is the third largest population group at City Baruch.

As mentioned in our March issue, the unemployment or the decrease in employment is a direct result of the growth in the population.

The problem of increasing the number of students is not as important as the problem of increasing the number of jobs. There are many other factors that affect unemployment, such as the number of people who are unemployed, the number of people who are working, the number of people who are looking for work, and the number of people who are not working.

The problem of increasing the number of students is not as important as the problem of increasing the number of jobs. There are many other factors that affect unemployment, such as the number of people who are unemployed, the number of people who are working, the number of people who are looking for work, and the number of people who are not working.

The problem of increasing the number of students is not as important as the problem of increasing the number of jobs. There are many other factors that affect unemployment, such as the number of people who are unemployed, the number of people who are working, the number of people who are looking for work, and the number of people who are not working.

The problem of increasing the number of students is not as important as the problem of increasing the number of jobs. There are many other factors that affect unemployment, such as the number of people who are unemployed, the number of people who are working, the number of people who are looking for work, and the number of people who are not working.

The problem of increasing the number of students is not as important as the problem of increasing the number of jobs. There are many other factors that affect unemployment, such as the number of people who are unemployed, the number of people who are working, the number of people who are looking for work, and the number of people who are not working.

The problem of increasing the number of students is not as important as the problem of increasing the number of jobs. There are many other factors that affect unemployment, such as the number of people who are unemployed, the number of people who are working, the number of people who are looking for work, and the number of people who are not working.

The problem of increasing the number of students is not as important as the problem of increasing the number of jobs. There are many other factors that affect unemployment, such as the number of people who are unemployed, the number of people who are working, the number of people who are looking for work, and the number of people who are not working.

The problem of increasing the number of students is not as important as the problem of increasing the number of jobs. There are many other factors that affect unemployment, such as the number of people who are unemployed, the number of people who are working, the number of people who are looking for work, and the number of people who are not working.

The problem of increasing the number of students is not as important as the problem of increasing the number of jobs. There are many other factors that affect unemployment, such as the number of people who are unemployed, the number of people who are working, the number of people who are looking for work, and the number of people who are not working.

The problem of increasing the number of students is not as important as the problem of increasing the number of jobs. There are many other factors that affect unemployment, such as the number of people who are unemployed, the number of people who are working, the number of people who are looking for work, and the number of people who are not working.
By James Yen

On March 21, the first-ever Asian studies forum at Baruch College was held. It was an event organized by the Coalition for Asian American Studies (CAAS), which is led by Provost Lois Cronholm and includes faculty and students from various departments.

The forum, titled "The First Asian Studies Forum Held At Baruch," aimed to give students a chance to voice their opinions about the importance of Asian studies in academia and beyond. The event was attended by a panel of speakers, which included Orlando Green, Bruce Wong, and Priscilla Lu.

The forum was a success, with students expressing their desire to learn more about Asian American Studies. The forum's main goal was to provide a platform for students to discuss the need for Asian Studies programs at Baruch College.

Dr. Priscilla Lu, Co-Chair of CAAS, stated that the forum was a new concept for many, but it was necessary to understand the rich history and culture of Asian Americans. She emphasized the importance of creating an Asian Studies program at Baruch College.

The forum's participants expressed a range of opinions, with many students feeling that Asian American Studies was a crucial field of study. Some students felt that there was a lack of knowledge about Asian Americans in the media, while others felt that Asian American Studies was not given the attention it deserved.

The Coalition for Asian American Studies (CAAS) is a group of students and faculty members who advocate for the creation of an Asian Studies program at Baruch College. They believe that Asian American Studies is essential for understanding the contributions of Asian Americans to society, who are often underrepresented in academic discussions.

The forum was a step towards achieving this goal, and CAAS plans to continue its efforts to create an Asian Studies program at Baruch College. For all the people interested, you can contact C.A.A.S. through the administration, led by Provost Lois Cronholm, to learn more about the move to forward and work with the Coalition for Asian American Studies.

CAAS is a forum where students can voice their opinions about the importance of Asian studies in academia and beyond. It is a place where people from the faculty and administration who attended the forum were panelists Priscilla Lu, C.A.A.S. itself feels that the needs of Baruch students. So with the success of the forum, C.A.A.S. now plans to move forward and work with the administration, led by Provost Lois Cronholm, to create an Asian Studies program at Baruch College. The forum was a new concept for many, but it was necessary to understand the rich history and culture of Asian Americans. She emphasized the importance of creating an Asian Studies program at Baruch College.

The forum was a success, with students expressing their desire to learn more about Asian American Studies. The forum's main goal was to provide a platform for students to discuss the need for Asian Studies programs at Baruch College.

Dr. Priscilla Lu, Co-Chair of CAAS, stated that the forum was a new concept for many, but it was necessary to understand the rich history and culture of Asian Americans. She emphasized the importance of creating an Asian Studies program at Baruch College.

The forum's participants expressed a range of opinions, with many students feeling that Asian American Studies was a crucial field of study. Some students felt that there was a lack of knowledge about Asian Americans in the media, while others felt that Asian American Studies was not given the attention it deserved.

The Coalition for Asian American Studies (CAAS) is a group of students and faculty members who advocate for the creation of an Asian Studies program at Baruch College. They believe that Asian American Studies is essential for understanding the contributions of Asian Americans to society, who are often underrepresented in academic discussions.

The forum was a step towards achieving this goal, and CAAS plans to continue its efforts to create an Asian Studies program at Baruch College. For all the people interested, you can contact C.A.A.S. through the administration, led by Provost Lois Cronholm, to learn more about the move to forward and work with the Coalition for Asian American Studies.

CAAS is a forum where students can voice their opinions about the importance of Asian studies in academia and beyond. It is a place where people from the faculty and administration who attended the forum were panelists Priscilla Lu, C.A.A.S. itself feels that the needs of Baruch students. So with the success of the forum, C.A.A.S. now plans to move forward and work with the administration, led by Provost Lois Cronholm, to create an Asian Studies program at Baruch College. The forum was a new concept for many, but it was necessary to understand the rich history and culture of Asian Americans. She emphasized the importance of creating an Asian Studies program at Baruch College.

The forum was a success, with students expressing their desire to learn more about Asian American Studies. The forum's main goal was to provide a platform for students to discuss the need for Asian Studies programs at Baruch College.

Dr. Priscilla Lu, Co-Chair of CAAS, stated that the forum was a new concept for many, but it was necessary to understand the rich history and culture of Asian Americans. She emphasized the importance of creating an Asian Studies program at Baruch College.

The forum's participants expressed a range of opinions, with many students feeling that Asian American Studies was a crucial field of study. Some students felt that there was a lack of knowledge about Asian Americans in the media, while others felt that Asian American Studies was not given the attention it deserved.

The Coalition for Asian American Studies (CAAS) is a group of students and faculty members who advocate for the creation of an Asian Studies program at Baruch College. They believe that Asian American Studies is essential for understanding the contributions of Asian Americans to society, who are often underrepresented in academic discussions.

The forum was a step towards achieving this goal, and CAAS plans to continue its efforts to create an Asian Studies program at Baruch College. For all the people interested, you can contact C.A.A.S. through the administration, led by Provost Lois Cronholm, to learn more about the move to forward and work with the Coalition for Asian American Studies.

CAAS is a forum where students can voice their opinions about the importance of Asian studies in academia and beyond. It is a place where people from the faculty and administration who attended the forum were panelists Priscilla Lu, C.A.A.S. itself feels that the needs of Baruch students. So with the success of the forum, C.A.A.S. now plans to move forward and work with the administration, led by Provost Lois Cronholm, to create an Asian Studies program at Baruch College. The forum was a new concept for many, but it was necessary to understand the rich history and culture of Asian Americans. She emphasized the importance of creating an Asian Studies program at Baruch College.

The forum was a success, with students expressing their desire to learn more about Asian American Studies. The forum's main goal was to provide a platform for students to discuss the need for Asian Studies programs at Baruch College.

Dr. Priscilla Lu, Co-Chair of CAAS, stated that the forum was a new concept for many, but it was necessary to understand the rich history and culture of Asian Americans. She emphasized the importance of creating an Asian Studies program at Baruch College.

The forum's participants expressed a range of opinions, with many students feeling that Asian American Studies was a crucial field of study. Some students felt that there was a lack of knowledge about Asian Americans in the media, while others felt that Asian American Studies was not given the attention it deserved.

The Coalition for Asian American Studies (CAAS) is a group of students and faculty members who advocate for the creation of an Asian Studies program at Baruch College. They believe that Asian American Studies is essential for understanding the contributions of Asian Americans to society, who are often underrepresented in academic discussions.

The forum was a step towards achieving this goal, and CAAS plans to continue its efforts to create an Asian Studies program at Baruch College. For all the people interested, you can contact C.A.A.S. through the administration, led by Provost Lois Cronholm, to learn more about the move to forward and work with the Coalition for Asian American Studies.

CAAS is a forum where students can voice their opinions about the importance of Asian studies in academia and beyond. It is a place where people from the faculty and administration who attended the forum were panelists Priscilla Lu, C.A.A.S. itself feels that the needs of Baruch students. So with the success of the forum, C.A.A.S. now plans to move forward and work with the administration, led by Provost Lois Cronholm, to create an Asian Studies program at Baruch College. The forum was a new concept for many, but it was necessary to understand the rich history and culture of Asian Americans. She emphasized the importance of creating an Asian Studies program at Baruch College.

The forum was a success, with students expressing their desire to learn more about Asian American Studies. The forum's main goal was to provide a platform for students to discuss the need for Asian Studies programs at Baruch College.

Dr. Priscilla Lu, Co-Chair of CAAS, stated that the forum was a new concept for many, but it was necessary to understand the rich history and culture of Asian Americans. She emphasized the importance of creating an Asian Studies program at Baruch College.

The forum's participants expressed a range of opinions, with many students feeling that Asian American Studies was a crucial field of study. Some students felt that there was a lack of knowledge about Asian Americans in the media, while others felt that Asian American Studies was not given the attention it deserved.

The Coalition for Asian American Studies (CAAS) is a group of students and faculty members who advocate for the creation of an Asian Studies program at Baruch College. They believe that Asian American Studies is essential for understanding the contributions of Asian Americans to society, who are often underrepresented in academic discussions.

The forum was a step towards achieving this goal, and CAAS plans to continue its efforts to create an Asian Studies program at Baruch College. For all the people interested, you can contact C.A.A.S. through the administration, led by Provost Lois Cronholm, to learn more about the move to forward and work with the Coalition for Asian American Studies.

CAAS is a forum where students can voice their opinions about the importance of Asian studies in academia and beyond. It is a place where people from the faculty and administration who attended the forum were panelists Priscilla Lu, C.A.A.S. itself feels that the needs of Baruch students. So with the success of the forum, C.A.A.S. now plans to move forward and work with the administration, led by Provost Lois Cronholm, to create an Asian Studies program at Baruch College. The forum was a new concept for many, but it was necessary to understand the rich history and culture of Asian Americans. She emphasized the importance of creating an Asian Studies program at Baruch College.

The forum was a success, with students expressing their desire to learn more about Asian American Studies. The forum's main goal was to provide a platform for students to discuss the need for Asian Studies programs at Baruch College.

Dr. Priscilla Lu, Co-Chair of CAAS, stated that the forum was a new concept for many, but it was necessary to understand the rich history and culture of Asian Americans. She emphasized the importance of creating an Asian Studies program at Baruch College.

The forum's participants expressed a range of opinions, with many students feeling that Asian American Studies was a crucial field of study. Some students felt that there was a lack of knowledge about Asian Americans in the media, while others felt that Asian American Studies was not given the attention it deserved.

The Coalition for Asian American Studies (CAAS) is a group of students and faculty members who advocate for the creation of an Asian Studies program at Baruch College. They believe that Asian American Studies is essential for understanding the contributions of Asian Americans to society, who are often underrepresented in academic discussions.

The forum was a step towards achieving this goal, and CAAS plans to continue its efforts to create an Asian Studies program at Baruch College. For all the people interested, you can contact C.A.A.S. through the administration, led by Provost Lois Cronholm, to learn more about the move to forward and work with the Coalition for Asian American Studies.
THE CANNABIS CRAZE

By Francesca Georgiou

Last night, my friend Adam told me the story of how one night his father raided his room in search of Cannabis. For over a year and a half, Adam has been growing several 7-foot plants in the hollowed out walls of his bedroom closet. He went on to say, "Noah, it was real easy, the fop-rist around the corner taught me how to set the whole thing up." I must say, this didn't surprise me. It seems that everyone I have met either uses it frequently, or has at least tried Marijuana once. How does Cannabis effect the students at Baruch?

According to a survey of 100 Baruch students, 14% said that they never 'tried marijuana, 9% said that they had tried it once, 74% said that they've used it more than once and 3% said that they used it in the last 30 days. 1005 of the people surveyed said that they knew at least one person who used marijuana.

If it's illegal to use marijuana and other drugs, why are so many people doing it? One student answered, "I don't think that people really care if it's illegal or not. It makes them happy regardless if it is illegal or not."

Another student exclaimed, "How can it be illegal if even the president did it?" When I reminded him that the president said that he didn't inhale, the student said, "Come on! Like he's gonna admit that he and his buddies were smoking up!"

I asked a few other students how easily accessible marijuana was to them. One woman who wished to remain anonymous exclaimed, "My brother deals, he grows his own too, so whenever I want some I get it for free!" Another student said, "... one quick phone call and it's delivered to the door.

By no means is a small survey of 100 students meant to be an indicator of the whole. However, the issue of drug abuse is relevant to those who do and do not use. As in the days of alcohol prohibition, the people who wanted to drink found ways to drink, whether it was legal or not. This seems to be the pattern in our society today. As for what happened to Adam's 7-foot Cannabis plants, his father threw them in the street. Someone stole them.

Planning to attend the 1995 Commencement Exercises?

If you have not received your Commencement Information Packet in the mail:

Deadline for Filing is Thursday, April 13, 1995

GRADUATION ELIGIBILITY: You must be an APPLICATION FOR DEGREE form with the Registrar's Office in your final semester in order to be eligible to graduate and to be included in the commencement program.

Contact: 360 Park Avenue South / Room 1512
9 am-8 pm or call: 212-802-6770

Waste and inefficiency in his own administration and politics in general...Expense accounts, private transportation

By Kiy Robinson
Cyber Mania

By Stanford Lee

The "Journalism in Cyberspace" forum was held at Baruch College's Conference Center in the William and Anita Zoe Auditorium on March 30, 1995. At the forum, students and faculty discussed how they have been affected by the new medium and what it has in store for the future of journalism. The forum was sponsored by the Asian Unity '95 Asian Heritage Month, which focuses on promoting awareness of Asian American culture.

Asian Unity '95
Asian Heritage Month

1995

Opening Ceremony
Skylight Lounge, 3rd Flr, 23rd St.
Club House, 1 - 3 pm

Poetry Reading
Ray 1522, 360 PAS
Club House, 1 - 3 pm

Date Auction
Ray 6North, 32nd St, Bla.
Club House, 1 - 3 pm

Basketball Tournament
Gym, 6th Flr, 23rd St, Bla.
3:45 - 9:00 pm

Asian Awareness
Ray 4North, 23rd St, Bla.
Club House, 1 - 3 pm

Asian Party
Ray 1522, 360 PAS
Club House, 1 - 4 pm

Volleyball Tournament
Gym, 7th Flr, 23rd St, Bla.
3:30 - 7:00 pm

Evening Show
Auditorium, 23rd St, Bla.
7 - 10 pm

After-Show Party
Place to be announced
10:30 pm - 4:00 am
Muscle Hustle

By Brennan Marcus

The American revolutionary writer, Thomas Paine, once said, "If you can make one more convert than reason," and if he was around today he would repeat these same words while entering the gym. As time passes, more and more people are joining gyms. Gone are the days of clubblished classes like "lose a gym!" and its successors sound more along the line of "What time are you training?" or "Why are you the gym?". We flock to the age of the fitness freaks has arrived. They come with driven and in various shapes and sizes, but one thing is for sure, they have their health on their minds and they want muscle.

For one reason or another they can be weightlifters and bodybuilders have recuperated their priorities with an emphasis on health. But why did they leave the gym, or for that matter now? The answer to this part of the middle class, but a scrutiny of the lifestyle of the people exercising in their and their groups or categories.

Today gyms are partial to personality profiles at the weight training, the latest trend is the pump intended gym patrons. Located in a metropolitan area are a dominant group, by the way. clubblishers do not like it. On the wheels, the bodywomen have completed the task of trying to lose a weight, which is an impact and a result of their own way of living, as strength is their major concern. Instead they use light weights with no impact on their health.

This causes a burn on the body. Outside the gym their minds are on decreasing needs. This is a necessary means to achieve healthy eating and a knowledge of the proper foods to eat. In their low in calories.

The weight watchers are the body builders. People who want to be the best and have the best shaped bodies, these muscle houses push and pull weights that are twice, three times and sometimes even four times their body weight. They have no favorite exercises, although some of them will tell you that Squatting is the most important exercise, as it works the entire body. Their finishing observed in their exercising, which consists of an entire muscle, and these muscle groups are trained in protein intake before competition.

The final group, the gym are the inter mediate. These are people who are not training to become bodybuilders and at the same time are not weight conscious, their purpose is gym vari. Building muscle with health reasons and aesthetic programs, to building up an effective body mass. These individuals are the ones who represent the average man. The question, why now?

Sure attention is being given to this age. When Arnold Schwarzenegger started winning Mr. Olympia, the first prize was then three thousand dollars. Last year, Mr. Olympia 1980 (Beverly Young) went to the bar for $6000. The average man, theabh, with weight is a social stigma. This is beginning to change. In the coming, recognized and promoted this area individually. Not since he has the gym.

Of course there are other fundamental reasons as why people are for the healthy lifestyle of muscle building. They may not have been a child. The matter of life or death. According to the Medical Association for one reason or another, the average life span has been decreased by heavy smoking, and other factors. The world is dangerous a place to live in, and in the normal man is equally at risk. Stress is one of the major problems of the society. Stress, traffic jams, deadlines, even coping with incompatible personalities, can lead to accumu late stress on the individual.

This condition can cause nervous breakdowns, hair loss, and much disorders and a list of other serious ailments often associated with this disease. As time has gone by, stress, which found itself a nice home in technologically society, has found more and more victims.

The gym though supplies an outlet. This is a fact that physical exercise releases the mind and as a result of getting stress is greatly reduced. In a way we eat and the stress we diet also produce the we stress to our health. If we are in coffee and tea, numb the brain and is addictive, and you can forget Death. Recent studies have shown that decaffeinated coffee also has side effects. Let us not forget alcohol which in recent years has long as short term effects, like memory damage long-term illness or the patients from drinking too much (short term).

Moving on while we have food additives which are present in many of our products and other serious ailments and cancer, one of many diseases and a major contribution to the number of deaths. Death and cancer is the most important cause, causing the death of cancer, a common cold, asthma, and obesity in the world. We are stuck in the world.

As a result of the danger rising the average man, and with threats like the strength gained ever increasing, it is wonder that he has not considered the decision to live an active healthy lifestyle and our gym. So far back and relaxed. If you are an old pa tient do not worry about the person training next to you, you are not doing your own routine. Just remember that the new faces are not our concern, we are society is literally listening to its hearts and people are in their own fitness in an effort to adapt to a deteriorating environment and as everyone is in his own fitness, to build some muscle.

A Taste Of Life Around Baruch

By John Caurocho

WOCN Women in Finance.

Members of the Baruch Hellenic Heritage Society celebrating Greek Independence Day.

I Need Help!!!

My Business is Growing Too Fast for Me. Find full-time available. Call 718-441-2326.

FINANCIAL AID

Attention All Students: Over $8 million in FREE Financial Aid is now available for full-time students. Call 408-664-2371 today.

ENGLISH AS A SECOND LANGUAGE

Enriched American Language teacher will help you learn English. Private lessons in your home. Call 212-976-4706.
Day Session Student Government cordially invites the graduating class of '95 to the highest bash of the year.

Aboard the Mystique Yacht, Pier 9, NYC.

South of South Street Seaport

Thursday, June 2, 1995

Time: 6:30 - 11:00 pm

Price: $50 per person
includes 4 hours of cruise time, choice of entree, DJ and light show, party favors, open soda and juice bar, cash liquor bar.

Formal attire required.

Tupac Up Against the World

By Manny Rodriguez

"The Message," by Grandmaster Flash was considered by many as one of the pioneers of hip hop. This song paved the way for Public Enemy, Poor Righteous Teachers, KRS-One, and more. In 1989, the messages of hip hop are being misinterpreted, misguided, and denounced.

With the release of his new album and the hard times awaiting him in prison, Tupac Shakur and his music are symbolic of the current state of hip hop music.

2Pac made his debut on wax in "Di with Digital Underground's "This Is an E.P. Release" (Tummy Baby). Later that year he made his solo debut but with 2Pac's next album, it went gold and his next album is " strictly 4 My N.I.G.G.A.Z.", which hit the charts. His latest release, "Me Against The World" is currently number one on the charts, but chart positions don't mean anything in hip hop music industry is an industry where 'best artists don't make enough money to buy a car and the best don't make it until they come in the form of respect and money. His music reflects that, unlike his first two albums, the production on "Me Against The World" is more balanced. The bass lines are tight, the hooks are better, and 2Pac's voice is actually heard. Lyrically, his focus has increased. His anger, frustration, sadness, and love are held in check and released accordingly. Tupac's tone changes from beat to beat, mood to mood, and topics are paralleled by few in hip hop today.

"This isn't buffing and puffing and posturing. This emotion and in emotion and in music is where there is an expression," 2Pac says. It is in the emotions 2Pac expresses and the messages that he sends in his music that will reach people on the streets. Songs like "Dear Mama," "Death Around The Corner," and "Quake" are excellent in their presentation of ghetto reality and mentality while offering solutions and advice. "So Many Tears" speaks in the brothers that passed away, and "I'm The killers," 2Pac reflects on his own mortality. However, my personal favorite is "Dear Mama," a wonderfully profound song where 2Pac speaks on the sacrifices his mother made and the love he has for her. These are some of the most real things I've ever written," 2Pac says. "I'm not saying I have the answers, but there's a lack of mainstream public doesn't know about and somebody has to tell them." It is this mainstream disdain that also makes 2Pac hip hop and label it "gangsta rap." Hip hop has been stereotyped as having negative effects on children, teaching them hate and violence. However, the truth is that hip hop is not completely negative, it only becomes that way when it is misinterpreted by people who are uninterested in hip hop history and culture. Addressing issues that affect ghetto youth, speaking to people who are never considered, making them feel like they are worth something is what hip hop does. Denouncers point to the violence discussed in the music, but it's real, unlike the hidden world of people Arnold Schwarzenegger kills in one movie. The main messages that 2Pac and other artists want to convey are the reflection on the choices people make and take responsibility for them. 2Pac says, "I'm not saying I have the answers, but there's a lack of mainstream public doesn't know about and somebody has to tell them." Whether it's 2Pac's "Dear Mama" or "Death Around The Corner," it's all about showing what I've been through and how I narrow escaped.

Looking back, 2Pac said: "I never had the opportunity to show what I've been through, did I need to lose. Now I want to show what I've been through to other people who have been through the same thing, show how I narrowly escaped. I want to take the band and turn it to good."

2Pac has proven his music and message has status as a real hip hop and with "Me Against The World" he takes it to another level. Despite all the negativity that surrounds 2Pac, he still gets tremendous respect from the hip hop community and we wish him the best as he and millions of other black and Latino artists are hell-bent into another. One Love!
"It's a little of the time out of date and paste bands, an original concept restores hope in the creative atmosphere."

by Marilyn Emerson

There are two drawbacks to this song (as long do you not consider the resulting depression which when you are a dive-back, than there's the first. the that movement from use, another is sometimes un-foreign, as the lines of hearing a song on the radio before driving or operating heavy equipment. However, there are a couple of tracks where they've managed to find a state in which you'll find pleasing. In a time when a hard rock single makes an album, it's very interesting to think that you might be getting your money's worth.

.Back to back, "Four Times" and "Strangers" are probably the most, perhaps most entertaining songs on the album. The first of the two was the group's first, and it has been well with the video, achieving the branded "Box Clip." And it's a rare find in the prime Reasons why "Dumby" is holding issues. It's a song that (goes beyound being a song. When music can be engineered in the art that goes into writing a song, there's the additional dimension of finding the music to be exactly what you need to entertain. Nobody ever said that sounds in the background are needed. In this case it utilizes for atmosphere and progression which also include expression herein makes this song a little of its own.

Other tracks worth listening to are the hands "It's Cold Outside" and the hit-popper up-rises "Blow Me Away." But this is a hard rock song of bells, and liking being along dirt than the hard "Blond" and "Wash-" the song just is seen as worthy. Respectfully. If you all are about music, you'll find pleasing. In a time when a hard rock single makes an album, it's very interesting to think that you might be getting your money's worth.

Q. I'm a big fan of "Martin." A friend of mine calls Martin Lawrence "Maurice," a teenage waiter in the original series. Warren. Is this true? I don't recall, but I remember that the character of Beren left the show after a contract dispute. Would Martin Lawrence have come in as a replacement? Rika E.

A. Martin Lawrence was a regular on the revived series, "What's Happening Now?" which aired in the late 1990s. He portrayed Mookie, a teen who was a troublemaker in the first season. He did not appear on the original series which aired in the mid-1970s.

Q. Will Linda Hamilton do a third "Terminator" movie? James Cameron, who directed the first two, may do it. Can you tell us anything about this movie? Rika E.

A. Linda Hamilton is the actress who played Sarah Connor in the first two "Terminator" movies. It's unclear whether she will return for a third movie. James Cameron has mentioned the possibility of a third movie, but there has been no official announcement or casting details.

Q. I'm a big fan of "Friends." A friend of mine claims Maurice Gibb is sometimes as popular as one of my favorite series, "The Office." What's your take on this? Jerome R.

A. Maurice Gibb was a pop singer and songwriter, and one of the four members of the band the Bee Gees. He was also a member of the Bee Gees' brother group, the Bee Gees. Gibb was known for his distinctive voice and his ability to write pop songs. While he may not be as well-known as some of the characters on "The Office," he is certainly a legendary figure in the world of music.

Q. Why are you trying to do "The Office"? I've heard it's a British show, but it seems too similar. Barry M.

A. "The Office" is a British TV show that was adapted into an American version. The American version is set in a paper company in Scranton, Pennsylvania, and stars Steve Carell as Michael Scott, the boss. The show was created by Ricky Gervais and Stephen Merchant and is based on a show of the same name that aired in the United Kingdom. The American version has been praised for its humor and its portrayal of the workplace, and it has been a hit with audiences.
As The Expression Of Nothingness
Nothingness is a memory
Forgotten like the fourth hand of a clock
Winding into nothingness
The clock spins on its axis
And life shatters
As it runs into the ground
A child holds out his hand
And life is penniless
They cry out
Searching for time
Alas, the sound
Resonating sounds in time
Tick... Tock... ' \nTick... Tock.'

The series doesn't offer anything new, but Trekkies have never shown an aversion to rehashed material in the past. For an example, check the T.V. series "Vesuvius." With an ambitious attempt to reign in more star-power, Tekno Comic hopes to make their presence known in an already crowded industry. Unfortunately, their use of this star-power is pure...
The last time Chris Farley and David Spade teamed to do a feature film was Coneheads. Currently Tomboy Boy is worth seeing.

Unlike Coneheads Farley and Spade are the stars of Tomboy Boy. Everybody knows the story from Saturday Night Live, which lately has not been up to par in the comedy department. Thankfully, Tomboy Boy is full of laughs.

Farley plays Tommy Callahan, a college graduate from Saturday Night with Conan O'Brien. Fans of Tommy Boy and David Spade teamed to do a co-starring role in this film. It has a great cast, and drive all over the Midwest. This read brings in an impressive part of the story. The story is known to Richard's 1967 Plymouth GTX. This car becomes an unlikely star in the film.

Peter Segal, who directed this film, was renowned for creating Saturday Night Live and has directed several films, including The Naked Gun trilogy. The film is a parody of most comedies, and it's definitely worth seeing. On the scale of 1 to 10, I give Tommy Boy an 8. What gets Farley and Spade the short end of the stick is the screen characters.

However, the humor is pure and witty. The plot is basic, but it is wit that carries this film. Segal is definitely becoming a rising star in the comedy film genre.

Tommy Callahan (Farley), a graduate with a 3.8 in the making of the landmark film. However, the humor is pure and witty. The plot is basic, but it is wit that carries this film. Segal is definitely becoming a rising star in the comedy film genre.

Tommy Callahan (Farley), played by Bo Derek. Beverly’s son Paul, played by Bill Flanagan.

Top Video Rentals
1. Clear & Present Danger (Paramount)
2. The Lion King (Walt Disney)
3. Timecop (MCA/Universal)
4. Natural Born Killers (Warner)
5. True Lies (Fox Video)
6. Color of Night (Hollywood Video Home)
7. The Little Rascals (MCA/Universal)
8. Wolf (Columbia TriStar)
9. When It Happens to You (Columbia TriStar)
10. Milk Money (Paramount)
11. The Mask (Turner Home Ent.)
12. Jason’s Lyric (Polygram)
13. The Client (Warner)
14. Corrina, Corrina (Turner Home Ent.)
15. In The Army Now (Hollywood Video Home)
16. Ullysses (MGM/UA)
17. Blow Away (MCA/Universal)
18. The River Wild (MCA/Universal)
19. The Shadow (MCA/Universal)
20. Little Giants (Warner)

Poetry Contest
Theme: Cultural Diversity
Take A Shot! Try! Try! Try!

Prizes Awarded for:
1st Place: $100 Scholarship
2nd Place: $75 Scholarship
3rd Place: $50 Scholarship
Deadline: April 14

Bring All Entries to Room 1512 at 3:00 P.M.
Only open to Barruch Students

Art Contest
Theme: Cultural Diversity
Two Dimensional
Any Medium
No Entries Over 20 x 36

Prizes Awarded for:
1st Place: $100 Scholarship
2nd Place: $75 Scholarship
3rd Place: $50 Scholarship
Deadline: April 14

Showing of All Entries April 27th
Location To Be Announced!

Bring All Entries to Room 1512 at 3:00 P.M.
Only open to Barruch Students
In a hip hop world obsessed with funk, it's very refreshing to see a group using a more unique sound. From Philadelphia, the Roots consist of MC's and a complete jazz band (no DJ). They bring us different musical and lyrical takes on every song. Lead rapper, Black Thought is an amazing MC with relit mic skills only experienced and intelligent knowledge can teach. His vocal flexibility and rhymes are a treat for the fans. Musically, jazz and hip hop lovers will appreciate this bands depth and production. Standouts include the title cut, "Dutchtalk," "Treatement," and "The Unlocked," which features poetses Ursula Rucker. This cut ends the album, giving us insight to the female perspective something desperately needed in hip hop.

By Manny Rodriguez

The Roots

RATINGS BOX:

- WACK
- FAIR
- GOOD
- SLAMMIN'

---

Upcoming Games

Men's Baseball

April

- Wednesday 5
  - Stevens Tech (DH)
  - 3:30
- Friday 7
  - Auberretus Magnus
  - 3:30
- Saturday 8
  - USMMA (DH)
  - 12:00
- Sunday 9
  - Manhattanville
  - 12:00
- Tuesday 11
  - Stockton State
  - 4:00
- Wednesday 12
  - Nyack
  - 3:30
- Saturday 22
  - CCNY (DH)
  - 12:00
- Monday 24
  - Drew University
  - 3:30

DII doubles header

- Bold doubles home game played at Gil Hodges Field, McDonaldAve., Cony Island, Brooklyn

All times, date and locations are subject to change. Please contact the Health and Physical Education Department for any possible changes.

---

Recent Games

Men's Baseball

March

- 15
  - CCNY
  - Home Lost 2-14
  - Away Won 8-2
  - Away Won 9-4
- 19
  - Polytechnic (DH)
  - Home Won 9-4
  - Away Lost 9-17
- 25
  - Lehman College (DH)
  - Home Won 3-21
  - Away 4-19
- 26
  - NYU (DH)
  - Home Won 5-17
  - Tie 6-4
- 28
  - Nyack College
  - Home Won 6-11

April

- 2
  - Mt. St. Mary's(DH)
  - Home Lost 2-6
  - Home 1-13

Men's Tennis

- 24
  - Jersey City State
  - Home Lost 7-2
- 27
  - Mt. St. Vincent
  - Away Won 7-2

Men

- 3
  - SUNY Old Westbury
  - Away Lost Fortell

---

BRAND NEW FLAVA IN YA EAR!!!

Artist: The Roots
Album: Message,
Label: Geffen Records
Rating: 4 of 5

It is no mystery why the readers of Guitar Player Magazine voted Steve Morse best overall guitarist five years in a row. So it is no mystery why Morse is back with his sixth solo album, Structural Damage. Like the others, this is an instrumental album. An album with a unique blend of hard hitting rock tunes, along with some acoustic works. The opening track,"Sacred Ground," proves his mastery of the acoustic guitar. "Rally Cry" and "Structural Damage," are a step in a different direction. These two are for the rock fan who likes something a little faster. All eleven tracks are original and worth listening to.

By Thomas Camarata

---

It's Tourney Time!!!

Men's Volleyball Team Faces Off Against Hunter In First Round Of CUNYAC Tournament

By John Voros

They have a 12-8 overall record, 4-4 in CUNY. They've already won Hudson Tournament, beating Cooper (3-0) and Wells Institute (3-0). What else could they want? Why the CUNYAC Championship of course!

On Tuesday April 4, the Statesmen will storm the courts of York College in quest of the CUNYAC title. They'll have to face Hunter in the first round, who they beat at home, but lost when they were away. "It gives us a great advantage in beating Hunter," said coach John Yuen about the fact that Hunter has lost its star hitter from last season.

"We were able to beat Hunter this year of all teams and think with my full team there, we have a greater chance of beating Hunter in three games."

The other match would face CCNY against York. Like with Hunter, Baruch has beaten both York and CCNY at home, but lost them away, and all the matches lasted five sets.

This gives York a slight advantage since they are playing on their home court.

"Even Baruch has a good chance," he said, "They've been playing well, they've been playing together, they are able to pull it through and beat both teams in five." Setting was a problem for the team earlier on this season, with a new and inexperienced player at that position. Yuen feels that throughout the season, his confidence has improved and his play along with it. But the key to winning the CUNYAC tournament will be for the team to "play as a whole, another aspect of the game that has plagued the team on and off this year. As much as Yuen simply put it, "Serving is the key to winning."

---

Men's Volleyball Regular Season Results

Home Games

- Queens College
  - Lost 9-3
- Old Westbury
  - Won 3-1
- Hunter College
  - Won 3-2
- City College of New York
  - Won 3-1
- York College
  - Lost 3-2
- Stevens Tech
  - Won 3-2

Away Games

- Mt. St. Vincent
  - Won 3-2
- CUNY
  - Lost 3-0
- Baruch
  - Lost 3-0
- Manhattanville
  - Lost 3-0
- John Jay
  - Won 3-0
- Old Westbury
  - Lost 3-1

Men's Tennis

March

- 24
  - Jersey City State
  - Home Lost 6-3
  - Away Won 7-2
- 27
  - Mt. St. Vincent
  - Away Won 7-2

April

- 3
  - SUNY Old Westbury
  - Away Lost Forfeit

Men's Volleyball Regular Season Results

Home Games

- Queens College
  - Lost 9-3
- Old Westbury
  - Won 3-1
- Hunter College
  - Won 3-2
- City College of New York
  - Won 3-1
- York College
  - Lost 3-2
- Stevens Tech
  - Won 3-2

Away Games

- Mt. St. Vincent
  - Won 3-2
- CUNY
  - Lost 3-0
- Baruch
  - Lost 3-0
- Manhattanville
  - Lost 3-0
- John Jay
  - Won 3-0
- Old Westbury
  - Lost 3-1

Men's Volleyball Regular Season Results

Home Games

- Queens College
  - Lost 9-3
- Old Westbury
  - Won 3-1
- Hunter College
  - Won 3-2
- City College of New York
  - Won 3-1
- York College
  - Lost 3-2
- Stevens Tech
  - Won 3-2

Away Games

- Mt. St. Vincent
  - Won 3-2
- CUNY
  - Lost 3-0
- Baruch
  - Lost 3-0
- Manhattanville
  - Lost 3-0
- John Jay
  - Won 3-0
- Old Westbury
  - Lost 3-1

Men's Volleyball Regular Season Results

Home Games

- Queens College
  - Lost 9-3
- Old Westbury
  - Won 3-1
- Hunter College
  - Won 3-2
- City College of New York
  - Won 3-1
- York College
  - Lost 3-2
- Stevens Tech
  - Won 3-2

Away Games

- Mt. St. Vincent
  - Won 3-2
- CUNY
  - Lost 3-0
- Baruch
  - Lost 3-0
- Manhattanville
  - Lost 3-0
- John Jay
  - Won 3-0
- Old Westbury
  - Lost 3-1

Men's Volleyball Regular Season Results

Home Games

- Queens College
  - Lost 9-3
- Old Westbury
  - Won 3-1
- Hunter College
  - Won 3-2
- City College of New York
  - Won 3-1
- York College
  - Lost 3-2
- Stevens Tech
  - Won 3-2

Away Games

- Mt. St. Vincent
  - Won 3-2
- CUNY
  - Lost 3-0
- Baruch
  - Lost 3-0
- Manhattanville
  - Lost 3-0
- John Jay
  - Won 3-0
- Old Westbury
  - Lost 3-1
By John Voross

The team already had to forfeit one match this season because enough players showed up. Besides that, the team is hoping to finish its fifth straight season in the CUNY Athletic Conference, having captured the regular title of Staten Island. Coach Steve Mungalsingh and his team have returned, minus some starting players from last year, and he cited that because the team expects them to do just as well.

Mungalsingh was visibly upset after a meeting early this week, Coach Mungalsingh said about the team but to practice. The only thing that matters now is that the American pastime is back. The crowd may not be as strong this year as it was in the past, but you can be damn sure they're going to show up for a game. They're not expecting them to do just as well.

Baruch. He cited that because the team showed up for a meeting to discuss the lack players attending matches. Class schedules seemed to be the most common reason that players were not able to practice. In addition, having second-guessed the playing land in various high schools around the city. The only thing that matters now is that the American pastime is back. The crowd may not be as strong this year as it was in the past, but you can be damn sure they're going to show up for a game. They're not expecting them to do just as well.

Robert Maurer and Bennett Sauer, two of the columns of The Tickler, have met and been getting along very well. The two columns are getting along very well. The two columns are getting along very well.

Erica Concepcion para Mandy, another Tickler staff member, has won the hearts of people who have heard her name for their taxes on their 54" flat-screen TV. She was in the NFL, she's not a stranger. She has a rare talent that has captured the heart of the plant as she and her husband and four small children have been sucked dry by work. She has a rare talent that has captured the heart of the plant as she and her husband and four small children have been sucked dry by work. She has a rare talent that has captured the heart of the plant as she and her husband and four small children have been sucked dry by work.

One out in Los Angeles, the O’Jays’ I am going where I want to go. After graduating from the Hollywood High School, she joined the O’Jays in 1974 and has been a member of the band ever since. She has been a member of the band ever since. She has been a member of the band ever since.

Donna DeRosa, The Tickler’s interior designer, has been recognized as the best in the business. She has been recognized as the best in the business. She has been recognized as the best in the business.

Bennet Sauer

In his declaration that George W. Bush has been clinically and legally brain dead for at least ten years, the Boston Globe has been highly respected. They say we, the fans, are the ones who are going to have to pass?" The Dr. told the press is by protesting and constantly...
By Cosmo Kramer

Since the establishment of this fine institution of higher learning in 1968, all Baruch athletic teams have been nicknamed "The Statesmen." But things are about to change. For various reasons, the Baruch College Department of Physical and Health Education, in conjunction with the Sports Staff of The Tickler, have formed a group, called the Coalition for a New Name (CFNN), to decide on a new nickname and logo for the athletes who unselfishly devote countless hours to represent this school.

One reason a change was suggested was the simple fact that many students didn't even know our school had a nickname or what it meant. Webster's College Dictionary defines the term statesman as, "a highly respected and influential political leader who exhibits great ability and devotion to the public service."

With growing interest in Baruch's performance in the CUNYAC, largely due to the precise and comprehensive coverage by Tickler Sports, and in an attempt to keep with changing times and vernacular, the CFNN decided on a change.

An additional reason was that no one really seems to know where the name stems from. The CFNN decided to choose something that has a more obvious relation to the school, its environment and what occurs therein.

The CFNN even took to looking at other schools in CUNY when it came to choosing a new name. Taking such examples as the CCNY Beavers, the Hunter Hawks, The John Jay Bloodhounds, The CSI Dolphins, and the York Cardinals, they eventually came to a decision.

There were countless rejected names sent in from thousands of students, teachers, coaches, deans and alumni. The list includes:

- The Rankies: named after a long time coach of the men's basketball team.
- The Blue Storm: blue is the school color and if St. John's can do it, so can we.
- The Corporate Raiders: named for the fine brew of students who have left these hallowed halls.
- The Milken's: named after one of our most famous, or rather infamous alumni.
- The Bureaucrats: for the same reason as Corporate Raiders.
- The Penny Pinchers: because the students have to deal with rising tuition, rising book costs, rising transit fares and salaries that stay the same.
- The 4-5-6ers: because if you don't take a train, you don't get to school.
- The Crunchers: if you use the trains or elevators this needs no explanation.
- The Prey: because we always seem to lose to Hunter.

The CFNN finally decided on the Bernies as the school's new nickname. Its origins of course stem from the distinguished individual for whom this school is named, Bernard M. Baruch.

The official change will take place starting in Fall of 1995, with the Men's Soccer team being the first. Of course the women will have a slight variation when the Women's Tennis and Cross Country teams start to compete, they'll be called the Bernettes.

New school clothing sporting the new name and logo will be available in the bookstore in August, t-shirts will cost $49.95, sweatshirts will go for $109.95, and fitted wool caps will start at $69.95.

In That Corner

as always.
rebuttals are not welcome

By Cosmo Kramer

You people, you're all driving me crazy! Am I not read in this school, am I not appreciated?

For months and months I've been asked for rebuttals to In That Corner and have yet to receive one. I do realize that 99.9% of the time what I'm saying is right simply because being a conservative republican, I'm almost always right. But, in all the countless articles I've written, I'm sure that that .1% has slipped through somehow.

And it's not only that, but the fact that I constantly ask for writers and very few people answer. I don't bite, at least not that hard, and that incident in which I chained a writer to the wall and beat him senseless because he misspelled antiestablishmentarianism is completely in the past now. Just remember, when you work for me, there is no oops.

The pornography club has no problems getting new members (no pun intended), why can't I? Actually, I'm in pretty good with the critic, and if you write for me, maybe I can even get you a discount.

Anyway, I lost the point I was trying to make. I've had it up to here with the likes of you people. I can't take it anymore. Week after week I spill my guts and none of you seem to care. Well that's it, I can't take it anymore. There will be no more In That Corner, or at least not until I get some type of rebuttal.

Coming Next Issue:

New Teams Come To Baruch

Including Nude In-Line Skating, Indoor Full-Contact Tiddley-Winks Competitions, Synchronized Drowning and the Ever Popular Canadian Sport of Curling.