Education Department

What is its Future?

By Ming Wong

Students of the Education Department have been working to draw the attention of the Baruch Community to their efforts to save the department from extinction. In recent weeks there has been public discussion of the future of the department and most recently, President Matthew Goldstein stated that no decision has been made.

There have been ongoing rumors swirling around for the past four years that the department was closing down but no definite answers have been given to questions regarding the department's fate. In the past two years the Department of Education has consistently been on the chopping block and in 1994 was reduced from the School of Education to the Department of Education.

There are many signs that the department is coming to an end. There are professors retiring early, certain classes are being offered only every other semester and the number of classes is being reduced. The education department is now down to only five full-time professors and a small handful of adjuncts. "Students are cramming in classes just so they can graduate on time," describes an education major.

There have been two public meetings with college administration regarding the issue but it appears that Baruch's decision to continue on page 3

President Goldstein Gives State of College Address

By Joseph M. Maldarelli and Dusan Stojkovic

At the college's first public discourse of the academic year, Baruch President Matthew Goldstein delivered the State of the College address to a sparsely filled Emanuel Saxe hall on October 31.

The speech centered on Baruch's committee to its students, "Our creed is, and must continue to be, our dedication to students," the President said.

Many members of the College community, however, have grave concerns about how strong the President's allegiance to this creed really is. Recent administrative decisions, such as the implementation of a rigorous remedial policy, the consolidation of a number of student services, including vocational placement and counseling, along with the impending termination of all education programs, seem to support such worries.

According to Goldstein, an essential factor in pursuing Baruch's creed is fund raising. "Since my arrival, I have made fund raising a top priority of this administration." He outlined three examples of how to "achieve the levels of distinction I know we are capable of reaching."

One is that the faculty should attract sponsors to help support any academic endeavors they might seek. In addition, Baruch would be involved in obtaining contracts that would allow faculty to use their skills in service to different communities, and be compensated at competitive market prices." President Goldstein's third example is the launching of Baruch's first major Capital Campaign. According to Goldstein, the campaign is comprised of five aims: "to enhance academic quality; attract the most promising students; cultivate public partnerships with institutions and industry throughout the City; expand (Baruch's) efforts in technology; enhance campus life continued on page 3

Administration Addresses Students During Leadership Weekend

By Dusan Stojkovic

As part of the Leadership Weekend held from November 8 to 10, Samuel Johnson, Vice President of Student Development and Counseling, spoke to student leaders concerning pertinent issues—such as the down sizing of the college and the year old scheduling grid—afflicting the College community.

A recurring theme among the students who rose to ask the Vice President questions was the extent to which they have a say in Baruch matters. A number of students indicated that they felt they did not have enough control in the shaping of their education.

Kyle George, President of the Evening Session Student Assembly, asked Johnson to clarify why Baruch does not allow students to sit on its Personnel and Budget Committee. Among other duties, the committee plays a pivotal role in accepting new faculty members.

"Oftentimes, the people on these committees are more eager to accept Harvard graduates than prospective employees holding CUNY degrees," George said, adding, "But for a student wishing to pursue ethnic studies, for instance, a CUNY graduate may be the better choice, since he probably has more applied knowledge in the field than someone who studied at Harvard."

Johnson asserted that students already have the power to continued on page 4

Contents

Editorial.................. 6
Letters/Op-Eds............. 7
Business..................... 11
Features..................... 13
Arts.......................... 21
Sports........................ 31

Next issue: Nov. 27
Ad Deadline: Nov. 20
ATTENTION 1997 GRADUATES

Important On-Campus Recruiting Information!

These mandatory workshops are a prerequisite for participation in on-campus recruiting (attend only one)

Monday, December 2, 1996
6:00 PM - 8:00 PM
Room 750
Seventh Floor Conference Center
151 East 25th Street

Tuesday, December 3, 1996
1:00 PM - 5:30 PM
Room 750
Seventh Floor Conference Center
151 East 25th Street

Wednesday, December 4, 1996
9:00 AM - 11:00 AM
10:00 AM - 12:00 PM
Room 750
Seventh Floor Conference Center
151 East 25th Street

Friday, December 6, 1996
10:00 AM - 12:00 PM
Room 750
Seventh Floor Conference Center
151 East 25th Street

Career Counseling and Placement

baruch college

INTERNSHIP FAIR
Thursday February 6, 1997
1:00 PM - 4:00 PM
Seventh Floor Conference Center
151 East 25th Street

CAREER DAY
Thursday May 1, 1997
1:00 PM - 5:30 PM
Seventh Floor Conference Center
151 East 25th Street
The Honors Institute Panel Discussions

Baruch Faculty Debate Presidential Politics and Issues

By Gonna Kim

Before last Tuesday’s general election, Baruch’s Honors Student Government held a panel discussion on October 31 to discuss issues absent from the President’s Presidential Debate. The panel included Baruch Economics Professor Robert M. Barusch, City College Professor of Economics John Roach, and Professor of Political Science at Queens College, John Grossman. The panelists discussed the following issues: the role of the media in the presidential election process; the role of money in presidential politics; the role of the media in the presidential election process; and the role of the media in the presidential election process.

Baruch Faculty Debate Presidential Politics and Issues

By Gonna Kim

Before last Tuesday’s general election, Baruch’s Honors Student Government held a panel discussion on October 31 to discuss issues absent from the President’s Presidential Debate. The panel included Baruch Economics Professor Robert M. Barusch, City College Professor of Economics John Roach, and Professor of Political Science at Queens College, John Grossman. The panelists discussed the following issues: the role of the media in the presidential election process; the role of money in presidential politics; the role of the media in the presidential election process; and the role of the media in the presidential election process.

Baruch Faculty Debate Presidential Politics and Issues

By Gonna Kim

Before last Tuesday’s general election, Baruch’s Honors Student Government held a panel discussion on October 31 to discuss issues absent from the President’s Presidential Debate. The panel included Baruch Economics Professor Robert M. Barusch, City College Professor of Economics John Roach, and Professor of Political Science at Queens College, John Grossman. The panelists discussed the following issues: the role of the media in the presidential election process; the role of money in presidential politics; the role of the media in the presidential election process; and the role of the media in the presidential election process.

Baruch Faculty Debate Presidential Politics and Issues

By Gonna Kim

Before last Tuesday’s general election, Baruch’s Honors Student Government held a panel discussion on October 31 to discuss issues absent from the President’s Presidential Debate. The panel included Baruch Economics Professor Robert M. Barusch, City College Professor of Economics John Roach, and Professor of Political Science at Queens College, John Grossman. The panelists discussed the following issues: the role of the media in the presidential election process; the role of money in presidential politics; the role of the media in the presidential election process; and the role of the media in the presidential election process.

Baruch Faculty Debate Presidential Politics and Issues

By Gonna Kim

Before last Tuesday’s general election, Baruch’s Honors Student Government held a panel discussion on October 31 to discuss issues absent from the President’s Presidential Debate. The panel included Baruch Economics Professor Robert M. Barusch, City College Professor of Economics John Roach, and Professor of Political Science at Queens College, John Grossman. The panelists discussed the following issues: the role of the media in the presidential election process; the role of money in presidential politics; the role of the media in the presidential election process; and the role of the media in the presidential election process.

Baruch Faculty Debate Presidential Politics and Issues

By Gonna Kim

Before last Tuesday’s general election, Baruch’s Honors Student Government held a panel discussion on October 31 to discuss issues absent from the President’s Presidential Debate. The panel included Baruch Economics Professor Robert M. Barusch, City College Professor of Economics John Roach, and Professor of Political Science at Queens College, John Grossman. The panelists discussed the following issues: the role of the media in the presidential election process; the role of money in presidential politics; the role of the media in the presidential election process; and the role of the media in the presidential election process.

Baruch Faculty Debate Presidential Politics and Issues

By Gonna Kim

Before last Tuesday’s general election, Baruch’s Honors Student Government held a panel discussion on October 31 to discuss issues absent from the President’s Presidential Debate. The panel included Baruch Economics Professor Robert M. Barusch, City College Professor of Economics John Roach, and Professor of Political Science at Queens College, John Grossman. The panelists discussed the following issues: the role of the media in the presidential election process; the role of money in presidential politics; the role of the media in the presidential election process; and the role of the media in the presidential election process.

Baruch Faculty Debate Presidential Politics and Issues

By Gonna Kim

Before last Tuesday’s general election, Baruch’s Honors Student Government held a panel discussion on October 31 to discuss issues absent from the President’s Presidential Debate. The panel included Baruch Economics Professor Robert M. Barusch, City College Professor of Economics John Roach, and Professor of Political Science at Queens College, John Grossman. The panelists discussed the following issues: the role of the media in the presidential election process; the role of money in presidential politics; the role of the media in the presidential election process; and the role of the media in the presidential election process.

Baruch Faculty Debate Presidential Politics and Issues

By Gonna Kim

Before last Tuesday’s general election, Baruch’s Honors Student Government held a panel discussion on October 31 to discuss issues absent from the President’s Presidential Debate. The panel included Baruch Economics Professor Robert M. Barusch, City College Professor of Economics John Roach, and Professor of Political Science at Queens College, John Grossman. The panelists discussed the following issues: the role of the media in the presidential election process; the role of money in presidential politics; the role of the media in the presidential election process; and the role of the media in the presidential election process.

Baruch Faculty Debate Presidential Politics and Issues

By Gonna Kim

Before last Tuesday’s general election, Baruch’s Honors Student Government held a panel discussion on October 31 to discuss issues absent from the President’s Presidential Debate. The panel included Baruch Economics Professor Robert M. Barusch, City College Professor of Economics John Roach, and Professor of Political Science at Queens College, John Grossman. The panelists discussed the following issues: the role of the media in the presidential election process; the role of money in presidential politics; the role of the media in the presidential election process; and the role of the media in the presidential election process.

Baruch Faculty Debate Presidential Politics and Issues

By Gonna Kim

Before last Tuesday’s general election, Baruch’s Honors Student Government held a panel discussion on October 31 to discuss issues absent from the President’s Presidential Debate. The panel included Baruch Economics Professor Robert M. Barusch, City College Professor of Economics John Roach, and Professor of Political Science at Queens College, John Grossman. The panelists discussed the following issues: the role of the media in the presidential election process; the role of money in presidential politics; the role of the media in the presidential election process; and the role of the media in the presidential election process.

Baruch Faculty Debate Presidential Politics and Issues

By Gonna Kim

Before last Tuesday’s general election, Baruch’s Honors Student Government held a panel discussion on October 31 to discuss issues absent from the President’s Presidential Debate. The panel included Baruch Economics Professor Robert M. Barusch, City College Professor of Economics John Roach, and Professor of Political Science at Queens College, John Grossman. The panelists discussed the following issues: the role of the media in the presidential election process; the role of money in presidential politics; the role of the media in the presidential election process; and the role of the media in the presidential election process.

Baruch Faculty Debate Presidential Politics and Issues

By Gonna Kim

Before last Tuesday’s general election, Baruch’s Honors Student Government held a panel discussion on October 31 to discuss issues absent from the President’s Presidential Debate. The panel included Baruch Economics Professor Robert M. Barusch, City College Professor of Economics John Roach, and Professor of Political Science at Queens College, John Grossman. The panelists discussed the following issues: the role of the media in the presidential election process; the role of money in presidential politics; the role of the media in the presidential election process; and the role of the media in the presidential election process.

Baruch Faculty Debate Presidential Politics and Issues

By Gonna Kim

Before last Tuesday’s general election, Baruch’s Honors Student Government held a panel discussion on October 31 to discuss issues absent from the President’s Presidential Debate. The panel included Baruch Economics Professor Robert M. Barusch, City College Professor of Economics John Roach, and Professor of Political Science at Queens College, John Grossman. The panelists discussed the following issues: the role of the media in the presidential election process; the role of money in presidential politics; the role of the media in the presidential election process; and the role of the media in the presidential election process.

Baruch Faculty Debate Presidential Politics and Issues

By Gonna Kim

Before last Tuesday’s general election, Baruch’s Honors Student Government held a panel discussion on October 31 to discuss issues absent from the President’s Presidential Debate. The panel included Baruch Economics Professor Robert M. Barusch, City College Professor of Economics John Roach, and Professor of Political Science at Queens College, John Grossman. The panelists discussed the following issues: the role of the media in the presidential election process; the role of money in presidential politics; the role of the media in the presidential election process; and the role of the media in the presidential election process.

Baruch Faculty Debate Presidential Politics and Issues

By Gonna Kim

Before last Tuesday’s general election, Baruch’s Honors Student Government held a panel discussion on October 31 to discuss issues absent from the President’s Presidential Debate. The panel included Baruch Economics Professor Robert M. Barusch, City College Professor of Economics John Roach, and Professor of Political Science at Queens College, John Grossman. The panelists discussed the following issues: the role of the media in the presidential election process; the role of money in presidential politics; the role of the media in the presidential election process; and the role of the media in the presidential election process.

Baruch Faculty Debate Presidential Politics and Issues

By Gonna Kim

Before last Tuesday’s general election, Baruch’s Honors Student Government held a panel discussion on October 31 to discuss issues absent from the President’s Presidential Debate. The panel included Baruch Economics Professor Robert M. Barusch, City College Professor of Economics John Roach, and Professor of Political Science at Queens College, John Grossman. The panelists discussed the following issues: the role of the media in the presidential election process; the role of money in presidential politics; the role of the media in the presidential election process; and the role of the media in the presidential election process.

Baruch Faculty Debate Presidential Politics and Issues

By Gonna Kim

Before last Tuesday’s general election, Baruch’s Honors Student Government held a panel discussion on October 31 to discuss issues absent from the President’s Presidential Debate. The panel included Baruch Economics Professor Robert M. Barusch, City College Professor of Economics John Roach, and Professor of Political Science at Queens College, John Grossman. The panelists discussed the following issues: the role of the media in the presidential election process; the role of money in presidential politics; the role of the media in the presidential election process; and the role of the media in the presidential election process.

Baruch Faculty Debate Presidential Politics and Issues

By Gonna Kim

Before last Tuesday’s general election, Baruch’s Honors Student Government held a panel discussion on October 31 to discuss issues absent from the President’s Presidential Debate. The panel included Baruch Economics Professor Robert M. Barusch, City College Professor of Economics John Roach, and Professor of Political Science at Queens College, John Grossman. The panelists discussed the following issues: the role of the media in the presidential election process; the role of money in presidential politics; the role of the media in the presidential election process; and the role of the media in the presidential election process.

Baruch Faculty Debate Presidential Politics and Issues

By Gonna Kim

Before last Tuesday’s general election, Baruch’s Honors Student Government held a panel discussion on October 31 to discuss issues absent from the President’s Presidential Debate. The panel included Baruch Economics Professor Robert M. Barusch, City College Professor of Economics John Roach, and Professor of Political Science at Queens College, John Grossman. The panelists discussed the following issues: the role of the media in the presidential election process; the role of money in presidential politics; the role of the media in the presidential election process; and the role of the media in the presidential election process.
EDITORIALS

A Question About Education

It is time for President Goldstein to make a decision about the Department of Education. If he plans on supporting the department, let him publicly state so. Let all students concerned know that they will have a chance to graduate from college, now and in the future. If Mr. Goldstein plans on eliminating this department and thereby turning students living in a frenzy, we at The Ticker say, "DECIDE NOW!" It is not fair to the students in the Education Department to keep wondering if they will have a place to finish their degree.

President Goldstein our question to you is simple: will you give your support to the Department of Education, granting them the opportunity to become teachers here at Baruch?

Any display or advertisement in the Education Department, asking questions should be directed to the Advertisement Manager or Management at the above address.

Quote of the Fortnight

"The truth is that college is not a democracy."

-Samuel Johnson, Vice President of Student Development and Counseling

by Coby L. Heed

As I mentioned in the last issue, I asked a question in the opinion section, "Are we ready for finals?" . Many students are unsure about whether they are ready for finals. Sadly, many students are not ready for finals. What will you do when finals are over? I hope your response is positive.

Coby L. Heed
Editor-in-chief

TICKER

Established in 1992
Jeanne Goo
Editor-in-chief
Ira Michael Hersch
Managing Editor
Deirdre Huesser
Newspaper Editor
Kimbrel News editor
Coby L. Heed
Editor-in-chief
Wei Yan
Business editor
Brennan Marcus
Features editor
Anthony Gregory
City editor
Joseph M. Malabrenze
Cory editor
Paula Marocchi
Photo editor
Marlon Layton
Edward Rodriguez
Copy editor
Tim Wong
Advertising manager
Madelyn Tavern
Office manager
Roslyn Bernstein
Abroad Consultants

STAFF

Bradley Bally
Managing Editor
Kuen Chen
Newspaper Editor
Victoria Gonzalez
Michele Gross
Ivan Che M Stahlli
Ari Hiroto
David Ortiz
Juan Rapani
Valeria Umanoncio
Andrew Scott
Peck Wong
Eric Wright

The Ticker is published bi-weekly, eight times a semester by The Ticker, editorial staff at 360 Park Ave South, New York, NY 10010. The Ticker is distributed free of charge to CUNY students and faculty at 360 Park Ave South, New York, NY 10010. (Internet, E-mail the Ticker at news.editorial@baruch.cuny.edu). All work appearing in the Ticker is written by students and signed by the author. All opinions expressed are those of the writer and do not necessarily reflect the views of the Ticker editorial staff. The Ticker accepts only original and signed opinions printed on no more than 500 words, offering and signed. Unsigned letters will not be published. However, when appropriate, name will be withheld upon request. The Ticker reserves the right to refuse advertising space for any reason. All submissions are subject to editing for space and clarity. Address all opinion pieces and letters to the Ticker editor.

1. The Federal Government (DSSG) gets to fiddle with the Department of Education (DSSG) allocated $10,000,000.00 which was already over. Good news though, I was graciously invited to sit in on the weekly council session, where Treasurer Yojna Dividu up. Unfortunately, this little tid-bit told me about 2:45 on a Tuesday afternoon that the council meeting (which began promptly at 1:30 p.m.) was over. News though, I was graciously invited back the following week to ask any questions that I may have about the said budget and wonder of wonders, elicited the fact that the council meeting is open to anyone who has an interest. Well if finding out about the money isn't enough of an indication, than how about a free meal? I'm publishing this any student at Baruch College to lunch next week at 12:30 Thursday and let all students know that the bar will be open to hear Student Government's various reasons why.

2. $2,500.00 will be spent on a DSSG sponsored social function. The ISSU has even come.

3. Classical music at the student center.

4. According to ESIA's budget, the Evening Government BENT'S a copy machine on a 12-month lease is $2,100.00.

5. DSSG has expenses for similar items in the amount of $7,350.00. BAD DOG! BAD DOG! Stop peeing on the floor! A perfectly good copy machine located in the 11th floor, replaced by a new one. Bought the first week of the semester for the journalism department. What the hell is that thing doing down there? Bring that baby up here and put it off. paid the highest prices in the city of New York for their trophies. Bring Fuse for a comparative shopping. Obviously these students will be able to work ONLY for the Federal Government when they graduate because the Feds are the only ones to pay.

by Coby L. Heed

As I mentioned in the last issue, I asked a question in the opinion section, "Are we ready for finals?". Many students are unsure about whether they are ready for finals. Sadly, many students are not ready for finals. What will you do when finals are over? I hope your response is positive.

Coby L. Heed
Editor-in-chief

TICKER

Established in 1992
Jeanne Goo
Editor-in-chief
Ira Michael Hersch
Managing Editor
Deirdre Huesser
Newspaper Editor
Kimbrel News editor
Coby L. Heed
Editor-in-chief
Wei Yan
Business editor
Brennan Marcus
Features editor
Anthony Gregory
City editor
Joseph M. Malabrenze
Cory editor
Paula Marocchi
Photo editor
Marlon Layton
Edward Rodriguez
Copy editor
Tim Wong
Advertising manager
Madelyn Tavern
Office manager
Roslyn Bernstein
Abroad Consultants

STAFF

Bradley Bally
Managing Editor
Kuen Chen
Newspaper Editor
Victoria Gonzalez
Michele Gross
Ivan Che M Stahlli
Ari Hiroto
David Ortiz
Juan Rapani
Valeria Umanoncio
Andrew Scott
Peck Wong
Eric Wright

The Ticker is published bi-weekly, eight times a semester by The Ticker, editorial staff at 360 Park Ave South, New York, NY 10010. The Ticker is distributed free of charge to CUNY students and faculty at 360 Park Ave South, New York, NY 10010. (Internet, E-mail the Ticker at news.editorial@baruch.cuny.edu). All work appearing in the Ticker is written by students and signed by the author. All opinions expressed are those of the writer and do not necessarily reflect the views of the Ticker editorial staff. The Ticker accepts only original and signed opinions printed on no more than 500 words, offering and signed. Unsigned letters will not be published. However, when appropriate, name will be withheld upon request. The Ticker reserves the right to refuse advertising space for any reason. All submissions are subject to editing for space and clarity. Address all opinion pieces and letters to the Ticker editor.

1. The Federal Government (DSSG) gets to fiddle with the Department of Education (DSSG) allocated $10,000,000.00 which was already over. Good news though, I was graciously invited to sit in on the weekly council session, where Treasurer Yojna Dividu up. Unfortunately, this little tid-bit told me about 2:45 on a Tuesday afternoon that the council meeting (which began promptly at 1:30 p.m.) was over. News though, I was graciously invited back the following week to ask any questions that I may have about the said budget and wonder of wonders, elicited the fact that the council meeting is open to anyone who has an interest. Well if finding out about the money isn't enough of an indication, than how about a free meal? I'm publishing this any student at Baruch College to lunch next week at 12:30 Thursday and let all students know that the bar will be open to hear Student Government's various reasons why.

2. $2,500.00 will be spent on a DSSG sponsored social function. The ISSU has even come.

3. Classical music at the student center.

4. According to ESIA's budget, the Evening Government BENT'S a copy machine on a 12-month lease is $2,100.00.

5. DSSG has expenses for similar items in the amount of $7,350.00. BAD DOG! BAD DOG! Stop peeing on the floor! A perfectly good copy machine located in the 11th floor, replaced by a new one. Bought the first week of the semester for the journalism department. What the hell is that thing doing down there? Bring that baby up here and put it off. paid the highest prices in the city of New York for their trophies. Bring Fuse for a comparative shopping. Obviously these students will be able to work ONLY for the Federal Government when they graduate because the Feds are the only ones to pay.
GOOD JOURNALISM IS FACTS, DUMMIES!
Editor Should Shut Up!

To the Editor:
I take offense to the column in The Nation on October 30, 1995, by Robert Stein, especially in the week that we are celebrating the 250th anniversary of the French Revolution. To quote about Mark Crispin Glover: "The college final paper that runs for King while we labor and plod for page is the thousand-times-normally running for of-courses in which you have every good reason to say that you are making a joke out of it. Since the start of the semester the English Department is the only department that has a noticeably higher number of students here in Baruch as well as the whole of CUNY. Your left-wing zealots should be aware of this.

Frank T. Keck

Dear Editor: I want to thank you for an important lesson that I learned today. I found myself sitting in class today, and I realized that I was not paying attention. I was so focused on thinking about my own problems and what I wanted to do with my life that I didn't notice the professor speaking. I felt embarrassed and ashamed of myself for not paying attention. I promise to do better in the future.

Sincerely,

Robert Smith

THE SUNDAY TIMES REPORTED ON NOVEMBER 1995 THAT 10 OF THE MOST CREDITABLE CREDIT CARD PROFESSIONALS SAID THAT "YOU CAN'T GO ANYWHERE WITHOUT A CREDIT CARD." THIS IS A GREAT NOTION, BUT WHAT ABOUT THE PEOPLE WHO CAN'T AFFORD THEM?

The Editors

HUMAN SOCIETY SHOWS MORE CONCERN FOR RATS THAN FOR THE MEDICINE

Editor Should Speak Up!

By the Editors

To Dr. Jonathan Bascombe of the University of California, Berkeley: You used the term "inexcusable" in your recent column. Do you still believe that "it is inexcusable for universities to use animals in research?"

Sincerely,

The Editors

EDUCATION A TOP PRIORITY FOR AMERICA

From the Editors:
Americans overwhelmingly support federal funding to help students go to college. In a survey by the Gallup Organization, 84 percent of Republican respondents and 92 percent of Democratic respondents strongly backed funding for continued federal aid to students. And 92 percent of both parties agreed that financing higher education is a "very important" or "important" issue. The same was true of 89 percent of respondents who professed themselves of conserv- ative views, 91 percent of moderates, and 90 percent of liberals.

Fully 90 percent of survey par- ticipants agreed that "paying college costs is a necessity for the future." And 89 percent thought that "the federal government has a moral and ethical responsibility to help all of its citizens get a college education." And 85 percent agreed that "paying for college is a job for all of us, not just the students." These results are consistent with the idea that education is an important asset for the nation's future.

Fully 90 percent of survey par- ticipants agreed that "paying college costs is a necessity for the future." And 89 percent thought that "the federal government has a moral and ethical responsibility to help all of its citizens get a college education." And 85 percent agreed that "paying for college is a job for all of us, not just the students." These results are consistent with the idea that education is an important asset for the nation's future.

Fully 90 percent of survey par- ticipants agreed that "paying college costs is a necessity for the future." And 89 percent thought that "the federal government has a moral and ethical responsibility to help all of its citizens get a college education." And 85 percent agreed that "paying for college is a job for all of us, not just the students." These results are consistent with the idea that education is an important asset for the nation's future.

Fully 90 percent of survey par- ticipants agreed that "paying college costs is a necessity for the future." And 89 percent thought that "the federal government has a moral and ethical responsibility to help all of its citizens get a college education." And 85 percent agreed that "paying for college is a job for all of us, not just the students." These results are consistent with the idea that education is an important asset for the nation's future.

Fully 90 percent of survey par- ticipants agreed that "paying college costs is a necessity for the future." And 89 percent thought that "the federal government has a moral and ethical responsibility to help all of its citizens get a college education." And 85 percent agreed that "paying for college is a job for all of us, not just the students." These results are consistent with the idea that education is an important asset for the nation's future.

Fully 90 percent of survey par- ticipants agreed that "paying college costs is a necessity for the future." And 89 percent thought that "the federal government has a moral and ethical responsibility to help all of its citizens get a college education." And 85 percent agreed that "paying for college is a job for all of us, not just the students." These results are consistent with the idea that education is an important asset for the nation's future.
Exercise Regularly and You Could Live Longer. Invest Regularly So You Can Afford To.

A new report has found that eating a healthier lifestyle, such as eating more fruits and vegetables, can reduce the risk of developing heart disease.

HELP WANTED

EXTRA INCOME FORMS

TCH INTERVIEW PREPARATION by Retired Assistant Examiner

City Harvest
Canned Food Drive

Please Donate Canned Food & Baby Food to the Needy Collection Bins are located in the lobbies of the 23rd, 25th, and 18th street buildings. The canned food drive will run through November. You can make a difference!

Business and The Economy

Subjection To The "Cross-Holding-Adjusted" Index:

By Wei Yan

In today’s financial world, Japan’s stock market appears to be a giant with one of the highest capitalizations. However, does its liquidity truly match with its apparent size of capitalization? The answer is not exactly.

Most of Japan’s capital is extensively tied up with long-term cross-shareholdings with one another. This character has created great disgruntlement for investors who want functional economies. It is not part of their social or political philosophy.

"Most of Japan's capital is extensively tied up with long-term cross-shareholdings with one another." This is because the system of cross-shareholdings is deeply entrenched in Japan, which ensures perpetuation close to the typical arbitrary assignment approach.

Ensuring the future for those who shape it.

To continue to maintain an adequate flow of income in the market. Very typically, a 50% knock-off is used. Such an arrangement according to The Economist is the first disadvantage.

"...The total capitalization of the Japanese stock market is reduced by 40% which comes surprisingly close to the typical arbitrary assignment approach."
Motivating Today's Workforce

"Today, machines..." continued from page 11

Company Report

By Hung Tran

Nike has made a new challenge to itself in the 1980s. Led by Chief Executive Officer, Mr. Colin Jackson, the company has expanded overseas and transformed itself from a shoe company into an international organization. Mr. Jackson himself is clearly evident in the U.S. market where both the Nikes and the Nike logo have expanded and are outselling shoes in retail outlets. In fact, this year alone, Nike's business grew by 48 percent, a record-breaking figure.

Nike has also signed international sponsorship contracts with the ones offered to Michael Jordan and Ken Griffey Jr. in the states.

"Nike has also signed international contracts, but the one’s contrastable to the ones offered to Michael Jordan and Ken Griffey Jr. in the states."

"No one is more and is currently looking for shoes in Germany, France, and England. These shoes are climbing walls and built in house.

"Nike and its newest product, the "Shoe-Maker" with an international perspective."

Nike: A Shoe-Maker With An International Perspective

By Brian Foley

As the day faded into the night in New York City, Mayor Richard "Dink" Hamatten, a select group of individuals in Baruch College's Emmanuel Saxe Hall Lecture Hall, there was nervous chatter and last-minute preparations as the crowd anticipated the induction of over 200 Baruch students into the Golden Key National Honor Society. Golden Key is an international honor society dedicated to long-life academic excellence and community service. The opportunity to become a member of GKNHS is one of the greatest honors a person may achieve. Soon, Baruch College President, Karen Holder approached the podium to begin the ceremony. Silence settled upon the room as a guitarist quietly played and the Society's crest glowed on the podium. Mr. Holder first congratulated the inductees on their outstanding academic accomplishments. Membership in the Society is only offered to those students who are either members of the senior class or in the top 15 percent of their class.

"Industry experts also question Nike's future. Is Nike's focus, is Nike running the risk of overstepping?" said Kurt Bould, a VISA consultant. "Nike's market is eventually going to control the whole world, from these people to another.

"I'm not sure about Nike's future. Is Nike's focus, is Nike running the risk of overstepping?" asked Kurt Bould, a VISA consultant.

Volunteers in the Feed the Homeless program serve food at a local soup kitchen once per month. In the Lunch for the Elderly, volunteers deliver pre-made food to homebound elderly on the upper east side who would otherwise starve over the weekend because food is only delivered to them five days per week. The Volunteer Income Tax Assistance Program is Baruch's specialty. In this program, volunteers fill out tax forms free of cost at various sites around the city.

The next person to speak at the ceremony was Z本平介, the Society’s eastern director. She pointed out that the Baruch Chapter has an outstanding reputation and has been five Key Club awards, an incredible feat. She also presented some history on the society, such as the fact that it was established 30 years ago, has 27 chapters globally, and is looked upon by the organization, as evidenced by its five awards in this brief time span.

"Mr. Jerome Berg is a member of the Board of Trustees of Baruch and has a long history of contribution to education. Dr. Sadler and Sadler's Ronald A. Rosen are the advisor for the Baruch Chapter. He obtained this position seven years ago when the Society changed its focus to Baruch and has seen it turn into one of the most active chapters in the country. During his presidency, the Deans introduced this concept of the corporate image of the School of Business at Baruch and has seen it through. The key is that we don't want to "superimpose" and there are many students with high grades who apply for positions with high standards and there must be a factor with which they can be differentiated.

"The Adopt-A-Shelter program volunteers to tutor less fortunate students" continued Assistant Professor James Ziliak of the English Department. "A student is assigned to the First Quarter net income totaled $226.1 million or $2.28 per share compared to 1982.1 million or $2.31 per share.

"In the Feed the Homeless program, serve food at a local soup kitchen once per month. In the Lunch for the Elderly, volunteers deliver pre-made food to homebound elderly on the upper east side who would otherwise starve over the weekend because food is only delivered to them five days per week. The Volunteer Income Tax Assistance Program is Baruch's specialty. In this program, volunteers fill out tax forms free of cost at various sites around the city.

"...volunteers deliver pre-made food to homebound elderly on the upper east side who would otherwise starve over the weekend because food is only delivered to them five days per week..."
BETAPSI Membership:

BETAPSI is an organization for students who are socially conscious. Alpha Beta Psi is open to all students who are interested in ethical conduct and the importance of character in business and personal conduct. Our goal is to encourage and reward academic excellence among our students. Our program includes workshops on different topics of interest, internships, mentors, volunteer opportunities for those interested in community service, and field trips.

UPCOMING EVENTS (Events are held at the 6th floor)

THE FINANCE AND ECONOMICS SOCIETY

The Finance & Economics Society is open to all those interested in the processes of the financial world. It provides members with information on current events and the future trends in the rapidly evolving financial world via various functions such as seminars, symposiums, and field trips.

We meet in Room 640, 2nd Street Building.

INTERVARSITY CHRISTIAN FELLOWSHIP

The purpose of the InterVarsity Christian Fellowship is to lead others to personal faith in Christ as Lord and Savior. We help students grow toward maturity in Christian faith by study of the Bible, by prayer, and by Christian fellowship.

3. To help students and faculty to discover God's role for their lives.

SAP is one of Baruch's newest clubs focused on Public Accounting. It will host Mock Interview, Resume and Cover Letter workshops on October 10th and November 17th.

THE SOCIAL AND POLITICAL FELLOWSHIP

The Social and Political Fellowship is an organization that promotes awareness and understanding of current social and political issues. We meet in Room 640, 2nd Street Building.

For more information, please go to the 6th floor of the 2nd Street building.

THE INTERVARSITY CHRISTIAN FELLOWSHIP

At the InterVarsity Christian Fellowship (IVF), we believe in the Trinity, that is, one God, Father, Son, and Holy Spirit. We believe that Jesus Christ was sent from Heaven to Earth to serve as a Saviour on the Cross for our sins. Believers are prompted by God's commandments to bring salvation. We are therefore in search of ways to bring God's Kingdom to an environment where they are needed.

SAP is part of Baruch's newest clubs. The goal of the Social and Political Fellowship is to provide a platform for discussion of current social and political issues. We meet in Room 640, 2nd Street Building.

LIFELINE OF NEW YORK AT BARUCH

Lifeline of New York at Baruch is a club that enhances academic knowledge and offers opportunities to gain valuable experience in the business world. We meet every Thursday between 12:25 and 2:20 in the 6th floor area.

The Lifeline of New York at Baruch club offers a variety of events throughout the semester, including:

- Career Development Workshops: Held in Room 640, 2nd Street Building, the Lifeline of New York at Baruch club offers a variety of career development workshops. These workshops are designed to help students develop essential skills for the workforce.

- Networking Events: The club organizes networking events for students to meet industry professionals and gain valuable connections. These events are held in Room 640, 2nd Street Building.

- Professional Development Workshops: The club offers professional development workshops to help students enhance their resumes and improve their interview skills. These workshops are held in Room 640, 2nd Street Building.

- Internship Opportunities: The club provides information on internships and job opportunities to students interested in the business field. These opportunities are posted online and in the 6th floor area.

For more information, please contact the club at 360 PAS, Room 1816. The club meets every Thursday during club hours.
Questions? Comments?
Ideas about Cyberspace?
Send them all my way!

Call Paola at 802-6800

More Cyberspace

http://www.discovery.com/
Good graphics and a wealth of accurate information are a perfect match that make this site a must-see.

http://www.ya2100.com/cgi-
bin/2k/year2000.cgi
Some of you may have heard about the Year 2000 problem already. For those of you who have not, but want to find more info on this topic, the year 2000 website is a perfect one to stop at. This is one of the most complete sites on the year 2000 problem. You can retrieve articles, become a member of a mailing list, and keep up with what Peter de Jager (creator of the page) is doing to inform companies, individuals, and the state about the millennium bug. Just check it out, would you?

http://www.cyberjury.com/
Imagine this, yes, you can be a juror and you do not even have to leave home!

http://www.ya2100.com/cgi-
bin/2k/year2000.cgi
Not only can you look at our First Lady's hairstyles, but you can also pitch in your vote. Are you bored? Entertain yourself giving Hillary a makeover.

To the Guy Who Came to Leadership Weekend and Did Not Attend Any of the Activities, Not Only Do We Think Your Action Was in Poor Taste, We Think You're Pretty Corny!

From the participants of Leadership Weekend '96

Golden Key Inducts Top Student

from page 13

Key authorities.
Each and every inductee was evidently very proud of this honor but nobody was prouder than Dean Aaron and the Officers. As they made their contributions to the ceremony, it was exceedingly obvious by the emotion in their voices and the looks on their faces that this is not somewhere they had to be but somewhere they were truly grateful to be. These new members represented the spiritual renewal and ongoing legacy of the Golden Key National Honor Society, a project to which the Dean and the Officers are wholeheartedly dedicated.

S.A.P. and Speech club members come together once again for a photo opportunity. Shown are Robert Faray President of the Speech Club (far left), Noe Garcia, Treasurer of the S.A.P. (center) and Janinez Danell, a committee member of S.A.P. (far right).

Golden Key Inducts Top Student

December 13, 1996 / Staff Writer

http://www.an.com/college

Your True Choice

To sign up for the A1&T, True Rewards Program, call
1 800 654-0471

Cheer up, at least you get free True Rewards from A&T.

Your True Choice

http://www.an.com/college

S.A.P. and Speech club members come together once again for a photo opportunity. Shown are Robert Faray President of the Speech Club (far left), Noe Garcia, Treasurer of the S.A.P. (far right), Oborme Ofyia, adviser to S.A.P. Speech Club (far left), Noe Garcia; Kendwant Kendate presi-

(1983x768)
Where in tarnation did I get these FREE movie tickets?

The last thing I remember was getting home about 45 minutes after I was supposed to call Jon. I was definitely in the doghouse. But I had used up my change trying to remedy a laundry fiasco where all of my tightie-whities were dyed pink by a single red sock. I couldn’t even call her to patch things up.

So I stopped at the store and bought a NYNEX Prepaid Calling Card. There were FREE movie tickets in the package. Then it hit me: Not only could I use my Prepaid Card to call and beg her forgiveness, but I could take her to a FREE flick, too. I know I had thought up something brilliant to win her back. I just couldn’t remember what it was. Hope she likes pink.

NYNEX Prepaid Calling Cards (with FREE movie tickets) are available at convenience stores near your campus.

NYNEX

What do you think of an armed guard being present at club parties?

Photos by Paola Marocchi

Angel Ramos
Lower Senior

“I think it’s very unnecessary to have armed guards because it creates a bad psyche around the parties. Students will feel threatened and find it hard to enjoy themselves.”

Darren Hartley
Upper Junior

“I have never been exposed to such strict security even at normal New York clubs. I think it’s ridiculous to have an armed guard, as if someone will come to a Baruch party packing heavy steel.”

Pamela Bruce
Lower Sophomore

“It really doesn’t bother me.”

Carmen R. Medina
Lower Freshman

“I hate the idea of having someone up on my ass constantly while I’m trying to have fun. That’s how I feel about the present security.”

Maritza Ocasio
Lower Junior

“I think that it is necessary for there to be armed security because the potential exists for trouble to start at a party. It’s just a precaution.”

Andre Correa
Upper Sophomore

“I think it’s a really bad idea.”
Across

Usual Suspects
Bodyguard
Alien II
Gang Ho
Halloween (original)
Rising Sun
A Time to Kill
Batteries Not Included
Gorillas in the Mist
New Jack City
Tremors
City Slickers
Trading Places

Down

Saturday Night Fever
Mad Max: Beyond the Thunderdome
Strange Days
Caddy Shack
Breakfast Club
The Gay Divorcee
Set It Off
Star Wars
Road Warrior
Revenge of the Nerds

Identify the actor/actress from the following movie:

Q: (directed to Elise) How was it working with veterans who have worked in movie already?

Elise: Oh, this was great for me. I have never worked with people who have been in the industry for so long. It was a great experience for me. It was kind of overwhelming at first, but it was a good experience overall.

Q: Did you experience any difficulties in carrying out these roles, especially for a young actress like you?

Elise: No, it wasn't hard for me. I don't think it was difficult at all. It was something that I was excited to do and I was able to do it well.

Q: How was it working with F. Gary Gray?

Elise: It was great working with F. Gary Gray. He is a very talented director and he made me feel comfortable while working on the set.

Q: What was the preparation like for this movie?

Gray: During rehearsals, what I wanted to do was create a realistic experience for the characters. The actors had to work hard to get into character and bring their roles to life.

Q: What did you think of the final product?

Elise: I was very happy with the final product. It was a great experience for me and I was able to showcase my talent.

Q: How did the cast and crew get along with each other?

Gray: The cast and crew got along very well. We all worked hard to make the movie a success and it showed in the final product.

Q: Do you think you learned anything from working on this movie?

Elise: Yes, I learned a lot from working on this movie. I learned about the industry and the importance of hard work.

Q: What was the most challenging part of the movie for you?

Elise: The most challenging part of the movie for me was the action scenes. I had to learn how to fight and use weapons.

Q: What was the message of the movie?

Gray: The message of the movie is about the power of teamwork and the importance of working together.

Q: How do you think the audience will react to this movie?

Elise: I think the audience will love this movie. It is a great story with great acting and it will keep you on the edge of your seat.

Q: Do you have any advice for young actresses who want to get into the industry?

Elise: My advice for young actresses is to stay focused and work hard. You will need to work hard to get your foot in the door and you will need to stay focused on your goals.

Q: What is your next project?

Elise: I am not sure yet. I am still working on this movie and I am enjoying every moment of it.

Continued on page 28

A Breath of Phresh Air for Phish

By Anthony Gregory

The Boys from Burlington Vermont are back with "Billy Breathes." Their latest studio release (Elektra) is like always the perfect culmination of their own brand of experimental music whichAfter all is responsible for whatever text they deliver an the virtuosity of Trey Anastasio. They are infamous for doing this for their own mystical cult all sing, and the album shows with "Sleep" serving as the lead in again. "Free" Of course you wanted to do was create something different. So I said yes to the script, let's become friends. So we went out to lunch, we went out to dinner. We had conversations with each other and got to know each other. So that whatever text I would write for them to do, it would be genuine. I could put any words up on their face, but as long as it came from the heart it would work. So instead of memorizing lines and something for them to act with, I wanted them to become friends. (Q: To Latifah) Was it uncomfortable for you to play a lesbian?

Latifah: Not really. I mean that's Cleo, that's her boyfriend. I think if you really commit yourself to something you have to commit yourself 100 percent. I felt like it was a blessing, I felt like I needed to do this. And that's the only way to do that, to really commit yourself to the character. Cleo is gay. There's no life, more or less about it. So I can't be Dana Owens' thoughts or Queen Latifah's image here with what Cleo has to do.

Continued on page 28
Ireland's history is an integral part of its identity, shaping the nation's culture and influencing its current affairs. The blending of history and contemporary issues is a recurring theme in Irish movies, highlighting the nation's struggle for freedom, social change, and identity.

1. The Snapper (1993): Directed by Stephen Frears, this film is set in working-class Dublin and explores the dynamics of a family during the annual Saint Patrick's Day celebrations. It delves into themes of class, family, and tradition.

2. The Commitments (1991): Directed by Alan Parker, this musical film based on The Commitments, a novel by Roddy Doyle, follows a young man's journey as he tries to save a local Dublin music venue amid social and economic challenges.

3. The Quiet Man (1952): Directed by John Ford, this classic film is set in Ireland and stars John Wayne and Maureen O'Hara. It tells the story of an American boxer who returns to his family home in Ireland to marry a neighbor.

4. The Boys of Summer (1994): Directed by Frank Yablans, this film is set in Dublin and follows a young man whose dreams of becoming a professional baseball player are shaped by the realities of life in Ireland.

5. Magdalena (1998): Directed by Jim Sheridan, this film tells the story of a young woman from a large Irish family who becomes pregnant in the 1960s and is sent to a Magdalene Laundry, a harsh institution for unwed mothers.

6. The Secret Scripture (2016): Directed by John Crowley, this film explores the story of an elderly woman whose past is revealed as she battles a powerful andyttant who strip her of her rights.

These films not only provide entertainment but also serve as a means to explore and understand Ireland's history, culture, and identity.
Behold Behind the truth of the world for what is known will leave your mind blown and your heart turned to stone.
GOLDEN KEY NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

NOV. 21st, CLUB HOURS

NOV. 22nd, 5:45

---

AT & T WIRELESS SERVICE

CAMPUSS REP.

$500/monthLY INCOME

FREE CELLULAR PHONE WITH NO MONTHLY CHARGES

A RARE OPPORTUNITY FOR THREE, 2ND,3RD, 4TH YEAR STUDENTS

FLEXIBLE HOURS

WILL NOT CONFICT WITH STUDIES

HAYE FUR NABBING EXTRA CASH

PLEASE CONTACT: Adele,

(909) 353-8000 OR FAX (909)357-3127

---

CONTACT LENS SURVEY

Subjects needed to participate in a lens usage survey. The purpose of this survey is to evaluate fitting characteristics of disposable contact lenses. All contact lenses and solutions will be provided. You will need to be examined twice over three months. Enrollment 10/1-12/1996.

Survey limited to acceptable fit with Acuvue, Focus or Focus Toric contact lenses.

The initial comprehensive exam to assess visual acuity, visual functioning and stability will be required. Participants will be paid $40. The fee for this comprehensive evaluation is $40. At that time the eligibility will be determined.

CALL 212-756-8515 FOR MORE INFORMATION.

---

Department of Fine & Performing Arts

PRESENTS

LUCKY STIFF

A musical Comedy/Mystery

By Lynn Ahrens & Stephen Flaherty

Show Times: Tuesday Nov.19 - Saturday Nov 23, 8:00 PM
Saturday Nov. 23, 3:00 PM

Tickets are $5.00 , on sale ate the box office

Seating is limited, buy your tickets now!!

For more information, call : 387-1345
Grateful Dead
Continued from page 29

The Deadhead dead

"Shakedown Street" from the album of the same name (1979) starts with a Motown Tower of Power or LTD Limited riff and segues into the Mooby Zigg Effect. It was influenced by "I Need a Miracle" and the 70's are over and than God for that cause is the best is yet to come...

The SMK 90's with "Alabama Getaway" that quintessential could be country or could be hot rock-n-roll, we don't know and we don't win but as good well just keep on listening song. Taken from the "Go to Heaven" album released in 1980, I sure hope this was prophetic cause I can't think of anybody more dangerous than Jerry Garcia. The cuts from "Go To Heaven," "Ragtime," and "To Be or Not to Be" more along at a steady pace and are the best we've ever heard. "Oh Jesus," the tune "Touch of Grey" among the most remembered from the airwaves. "Throwing Stones" using the rhythm "Ashes, Ashes, All Fall Down," add more fuel to the fire of the past.

On the whole the 3-CD set is great but the eighth cut sums up the Grateful Dead Experience for me. Hot Licks played light hoot with great harmonies all intertwined to remind me of the Lobotomy, the Rain, that champify and release from the clutches of the arms of an ash-powerd

Critics' Corner

M.O.P.

Continued from page 24

on 2353 2nd Avenue, New York, NY 10010. (212) 389-1000. Fax: (212) 389-1100.

"Shakedown Street" from the album of the same name (1979) starts with a Motown Tower of Power or LTD Limited riff and segues into the Mooby Zigg Effect. It was influenced by "I Need a Miracle" and the 70's are over and than God for that cause is the best is yet to come...

The SMK 90's with "Alabama Getaway" that quintessential could be country or could be hot rock-n-roll, we don't know and we don't win but as good well just keep on listening song. Taken from the "Go to Heaven" album released in 1980, I sure hope this was prophetic cause I can't think of anybody more dangerous than Jerry Garcia. The cuts from "Go To Heaven," "Ragtime," and "To Be or Not to Be" more along at a steady pace and are the best we've ever heard. "Oh Jesus," the tune "Touch of Grey" among the most remembered from the airwaves. "Throwing Stones" using the rhythm "Ashes, Ashes, All Fall Down," add more fuel to the fire of the past.

On the whole the 3-CD set is great but the eighth cut sums up the Grateful Dead Experience for me. Hot Licks played light hoot with great harmonies all intertwined to remind me of the Lobotomy, the Rain, that champify and release from the clutches of the arms of an ash-powerd

Critics' Corner

M.O.P.

Continued from page 24

on 2353 2nd Avenue, New York, NY 10010. (212) 389-1000. Fax: (212) 389-1100.

"Shakedown Street" from the album of the same name (1979) starts with a Motown Tower of Power or LTD Limited riff and segues into the Mooby Zigg Effect. It was influenced by "I Need a Miracle" and the 70's are over and than God for that cause is the best is yet to come...

The SMK 90's with "Alabama Getaway" that quintessential could be country or could be hot rock-n-roll, we don't know and we don't win but as good well just keep on listening song. Taken from the "Go to Heaven" album released in 1980, I sure hope this was prophetic cause I can't think of anybody more dangerous than Jerry Garcia. The cuts from "Go To Heaven," "Ragtime," and "To Be or Not to Be" more along at a steady pace and are the best we've ever heard. "Oh Jesus," the tune "Touch of Grey" among the most remembered from the airwaves. "Throwing Stones" using the rhythm "Ashes, Ashes, All Fall Down," add more fuel to the fire of the past.

On the whole the 3-CD set is great but the eighth cut sums up the Grateful Dead Experience for me. Hot Licks played light hoot with great harmonies all intertwined to remind me of the Lobotomy, the Rain, that champify and release from the clutches of the arms of an ash-powerd

Critics' Corner

M.O.P.

Continued from page 24

on 2353 2nd Avenue, New York, NY 10010. (212) 389-1000. Fax: (212) 389-1100.

"Shakedown Street" from the album of the same name (1979) starts with a Motown Tower of Power or LTD Limited riff and segues into the Mooby Zigg Effect. It was influenced by "I Need a Miracle" and the 70's are over and than God for that cause is the best is yet to come...

The SMK 90's with "Alabama Getaway" that quintessential could be country or could be hot rock-n-roll, we don't know and we don't win but as good well just keep on listening song. Taken from the "Go to Heaven" album released in 1980, I sure hope this was prophetic cause I can't think of anybody more dangerous than Jerry Garcia. The cuts from "Go To Heaven," "Ragtime," and "To Be or Not to Be" more along at a steady pace and are the best we've ever heard. "Oh Jesus," the tune "Touch of Grey" among the most remembered from the airwaves. "Throwing Stones" using the rhythm "Ashes, Ashes, All Fall Down," add more fuel to the fire of the past.

On the whole the 3-CD set is great but the eighth cut sums up the Grateful Dead Experience for me. Hot Licks played light hoot with great harmonies all intertwined to remind me of the Lobotomy, the Rain, that champify and release from the clutches of the arms of an ash-powerd

Critics' Corner

M.O.P.

Continued from page 24

on 2353 2nd Avenue, New York, NY 10010. (212) 389-1000. Fax: (212) 389-1100.

"Shakedown Street" from the album of the same name (1979) starts with a Motown Tower of Power or LTD Limited riff and segues into the Mooby Zigg Effect. It was influenced by "I Need a Miracle" and the 70's are over and than God for that cause is the best is yet to come...

The SMK 90's with "Alabama Getaway" that quintessential could be country or could be hot rock-n-roll, we don't know and we don't win but as good well just keep on listening song. Taken from the "Go to Heaven" album released in 1980, I sure hope this was prophetic cause I can't think of anybody more dangerous than Jerry Garcia. The cuts from "Go To Heaven," "Ragtime," and "To Be or Not to Be" more along at a steady pace and are the best we've ever heard. "Oh Jesus," the tune "Touch of Grey" among the most remembered from the airwaves. "Throwing Stones" using the rhythm "Ashes, Ashes, All Fall Down," add more fuel to the fire of the past.

On the whole the 3-CD set is great but the eighth cut sums up the Grateful Dead Experience for me. Hot Licks played light hoot with great harmonies all intertwined to remind me of the Lobotomy, the Rain, that champify and release from the clutches of the arms of an ash-powerd

Critics' Corner

M.O.P.

Continued from page 24

on 2353 2nd Avenue, New York, NY 10010. (212) 389-1000. Fax: (212) 389-1100.

"Shakedown Street" from the album of the same name (1979) starts with a Motown Tower of Power or LTD Limited riff and segues into the Mooby Zigg Effect. It was influenced by "I Need a Miracle" and the 70's are over and than God for that cause is the best is yet to come...

The SMK 90's with "Alabama Getaway" that quintessential could be country or could be hot rock-n-roll, we don't know and we don't win but as good well just keep on listening song. Taken from the "Go to Heaven" album released in 1980, I sure hope this was prophetic cause I can't think of anybody more dangerous than Jerry Garcia. The cuts from "Go To Heaven," "Ragtime," and "To Be or Not to Be" more along at a steady pace and are the best we've ever heard. "Oh Jesus," the tune "Touch of Grey" among the most remembered from the airwaves. "Throwing Stones" using the rhythm "Ashes, Ashes, All Fall Down," add more fuel to the fire of the past.

On the whole the 3-CD set is great but the eighth cut sums up the Grateful Dead Experience for me. Hot Licks played light hoot with great harmonies all intertwined to remind me of the Lobotomy, the Rain, that champify and release from the clutches of the arms of an ash-powerd

Critics' Corner

M.O.P.

Continued from page 24

on 2353 2nd Avenue, New York, NY 10010. (212) 389-1000. Fax: (212) 389-1100.
Sports Updates For The Fortnight

CUNYAC/WOMEN'S VOLLEYBALL FINAL STANDINGS

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>TEAM</th>
<th>CUNYAC</th>
<th>OVERALL</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1. Lehman</td>
<td>8-0</td>
<td>17-8</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2. John Jay</td>
<td>7-1</td>
<td>22-9</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3. Kean</td>
<td>6-2</td>
<td>14-17</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4. CCNY</td>
<td>6-2</td>
<td>14-16</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5. Baruch</td>
<td>6-2</td>
<td>14-15</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6. York</td>
<td>5-3</td>
<td>12-14</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>7. Brooklyn</td>
<td>2-6</td>
<td>6-10</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>8. Staten Island</td>
<td>2-6</td>
<td>6-16</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>9. Medgar Evers</td>
<td>0-8</td>
<td>2-21</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

CUNYAC TOURNAMENT: Baruch loses in the semi-finals to eventual champion Hunter. Marsha Friedman makes All-Tournament Team.

END OF SEASON

CUNYAC/ SOCCER QUARTERFINAL

BARUCH 3 CUNY 4 LOSS

Baruch finishes the season at 10-2-1 (5-1-1 in conference play)

END OF SEASON

There is Help

at

The Counseling Center

for

Test Anxiety, Time Management, Difficulty with Academic Achievement, Stress, Feelings of Inadequacy, Loneliness, Depression, Family Problems, Relationship Difficulties, Eating Disorders, Anxiety, and Conflict, Substance Abuse, Adjustment to a New Environment, and more...

call (212) 684-6804

drop by 1745 in 360 PAS

We're Open

9am - 6:30pm Monday
9am - 8:30pm Tuesday
9am - 5:30pm Wednesday
9am - 8:30pm Thursday
9am - 5:00pm Friday

Our Services are Free and Completely Confidential

Look for Support Groups and Specific Workshops to be announced throughout the semester.

Baruch

Revised Men's Basketball Schedule

Home Court: Xavier High School Gym
30 West 16th Street

Bold Denotes Home Games

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>DATE</th>
<th>OPPONENT</th>
<th>TIME</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Nov. 22 Fri.</td>
<td>SUNY Purchase</td>
<td>7:00 PM</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Nov. 29 Fri.</td>
<td>Molloy Tournament</td>
<td>TBA</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Nov. 30 Sat.</td>
<td>Molloy Tournament</td>
<td>TBA</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dec. 2 Mon.</td>
<td>Polytechnic (L.I.)</td>
<td>8:00 PM</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dec. 4 Wed.</td>
<td>USMMA</td>
<td>7:00 PM</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dec. 6 Fri.</td>
<td>Emerson Tournament</td>
<td>TBA</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dec. 7 Sat.</td>
<td>Emerson Tournament</td>
<td>TBA</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dec. 9 Mon.</td>
<td>Yeshiva</td>
<td>8:00 PM</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Jan. 3 Fri.</td>
<td>CCNY</td>
<td>6:00 PM</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Jan. 8 Wed.</td>
<td>John Jay</td>
<td>5:00 PM</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Jan. 14 Tue.</td>
<td>Lehman</td>
<td>8:00 PM</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Jan. 17 Fri.</td>
<td>St. Joseph's (Patchogue) Tournament</td>
<td>6:00 PM</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Jan. 18 Sat.</td>
<td>St. Joseph's (Patchogue) Tournament</td>
<td>6:00 PM</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Jan. 21 Tue.</td>
<td>CCNY</td>
<td>7:00 PM</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Jan. 23 Thu.</td>
<td>Steven's Tech</td>
<td>7:00 PM</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Jan. 30 Thu.</td>
<td>Lehman</td>
<td>7:00 PM</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Feb. 1 Sat.</td>
<td>Mount St. Vincent</td>
<td>6:00 PM</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Feb. 3 Mon.</td>
<td>Brooklyn</td>
<td>7:00 PM</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Feb. 5 Wed.</td>
<td>John Jay</td>
<td>7:00 PM</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Feb. 7 Fri.</td>
<td>Hunter</td>
<td>6:30 PM</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Feb. 12 Wed.</td>
<td>Staten Island</td>
<td>7:30 PM</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Feb. 15 Sat.</td>
<td>SUNY Old Westbury</td>
<td>2:00 PM</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Feb. 17 Mon.</td>
<td>Medgar Evers</td>
<td>7:00 PM</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Feb. 19 Wed.</td>
<td>York</td>
<td>7:00 PM</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Feb. 23 Sun.</td>
<td>CUNY Tournament</td>
<td>TBA</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Feb. 25 Tue.</td>
<td>CUNY Tournament</td>
<td>TBA</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Feb. 28 Fri.</td>
<td>CUNY Tournament</td>
<td>TBA</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

There is Help

at

The Counseling Center

for

Test Anxiety, Time Management, Difficulty with Academic Achievement, Stress, Feelings of Inadequacy, Loneliness, Depression, Family Problems, Relationship Difficulties, Eating Disorders, Anxiety, and Conflict, Substance Abuse, Adjustment to a New Environment, and more...

call (212) 684-6804

drop by 1745 in 360 PAS

We're Open

9am - 6:30pm Monday
9am - 8:30pm Tuesday
9am - 5:30pm Wednesday
9am - 8:30pm Thursday
9am - 5:00pm Friday

Our Services are Free and Completely Confidential

Look for Support Groups and Specific Workshops to be announced throughout the semester.

John Percodani

Guard

Ht: 5' 10" Wt: 195

Major: Accounting

Andy Petrou

Guard

Ht: 5' 11" Wt: 145

Class: Sophomore

Major: Business Management

John Rivera

Guard

Ht: 6' 0" Wt: 170

Class: Senior

Major: Accounting

Gerald Thomas

Guard

Ht: 5' 7" Wt: 195

Class: Junior

Major: Unknown

Perry Tulinianakis

Guard/Forward

Ht: 6' 0" Wt: 150

Class: Freshman

Major: Business Management
By Ming Wong

The small fitness center in the 23rd Street building is a place where some Baruch students go to work out their bodies, break a sweat, or relieve some of the stress from their studies. It is also the place where Coach Ray Rankis met me for a chat about the upcoming season.

Coach Rankis has been the Baruch Men's basketball coach for the past twelve seasons, since 1983-84. A former player at Lehman College from 1971-74, Coach Rankis' resume includes an eight year stint as assistant coach at John Jay College.

Coach Rankis is not alone in his duties. His assistants include Gary Siano, a former player at Baruch, and Stan Simmons, a "quintessential basketball junkie," as Coach Rankis puts it.

Last year's squad went 17-10, however it is unknown how this year's version of the Statesmen will fare. Of the fifteen players on the roster, only six are returning from the previous campaign.

"We have a lot of new faces this year. We're a little smaller this year but we have a lot of good, new talent," said Coach Rankis of this year's basketball team, "We have good leadership from the returning players. I expect something comparable from this year's bunch. We have a legit shot at this year's CUNY championships."

A main concern for Baruch this year is the lack of size. The team is basically a lot of guards and a only handful of big men. This is also a reason to worry for Coach Rankis, but he sees things differently. "Our new players bring a fresh dimension of quickness and athleticism that we have lacked in the past. We expect a lot more pressing and trapping and definitely a lot of running and pushing the ball up court," replied Coach Rankis, "but we are still going to be a man to man defensive team, concentrating on out-rebounding opponents, shooting 5-10 more free throws than the opposition, and at the same time be an aggressive team."

Coach Rankis fields all these questions regarding the team while still pedaling away on a stationary bicycle. From first glance, he seems like a coach who would chew his players' heads out if they made a mistake, but this is not the case. "I would describe my coaching style as firm, but with a gentle hand," answered Coach Rankis.

A lot of Baruch's success this year will be dependent on the veterans on the team. Although Coach Rankis declined to make public his starting five, he did reveal his key players for the 1996-97 season.

Rich Paul, the center for the Statesmen will be counted on for leadership as well as big play for a team that is already small in size. Mike Kotronos, who Coach Rankis describes as not quite a power forward, is a physically strong small forward. Joe Liberato, is a small forward who averaged 15 points and 8 rebounds as the sixth man for Baruch last year and finally, Gerald Thomas, the leading scorer for the Statesmen for the past three seasons, was unavailable last year because he participated in a foreign exchange student program and is currently recovering from knee surgery.

"I am only worried about a lack of size and depth up front. We have ten to eleven potential starters. All of them would do a terrific job. The next three and a half-" continued on page 30

1996-97 Men's Basketball Roster

By Ming Wong

Ray Rankis: Head Coach
Gary Siano: Asst. Coach
Stan Simmons: Asst. Coach
Mahmut Bayazit: Forward
Ht: 6' 4" Wt: 215
Class: Senior
Major: Accounting
Niall Bernard: Psychology

Coach Ray Rankis: Guard/Forward
Ht: 6' 1" Wt: 150
Class: Freshman
Major: Undecided

Mike Kotronos: Forward/Center
Ht: 6' 6" Wt: 210
Class: Sophomore
Major: Business

Anthony Hamilton: Guard/Forward
Ht: 6' 1" Wt: 153
Class: Freshman
Major: Business

Andres Jimenez: Guard
Ht: 6' 3" Wt: 190
Class: Freshman
Major: Business Management

Leehins Mondesir: Guard
Ht: 5' 9" Wt: 150
Class: Freshman
Major: Undecided

Richard Paul: Center/Forward
Ht: 6' 6" Wt: 215
Class: Senior
Major: Accounting

continued on page 30