BODY OF MISSING HONOR STUDENT FOUND BEHIND 18TH ST. BUILDING

Disappearance Reported Monday Night; Body Discovered Late Friday

By Hwan-joo Moon
Managing Editor

The body of a Baruch College honor student was discovered in the back of the 18th Street building Friday night, the police said. She was missing since Monday, according to her family.

A witness thought she saw Huang on an outside ledge as the entered the 13th floor bathroom at approximately 1 p.m., Monday, but that Huang disappeared when she turned to look again, the police said. The witness first reported the incident to campus mediately later that night, sometime around 11 p.m., but security did not find the body then, the police said.

A campus security guard found the body of the student, Yan Kum Huang, 19, at 9:45 p.m., inside a stairway next to the 18th Street building after the witness came forward and notified campus security for the second time, the police said.

Campus security is now conducting an internal inquiry to determine whether their officers acted appropriately when first alerted by the witness, the police said.

Numerous attempts have been made to verify the witness account but campus security could not be reached by The Ticker.

Various newspapers have speculated that Huang may have committed suicide by jumping out of a window. But the police cautioned that a final determination would be made by the city’s medical examiner.

“We are not ruling anything out,” said Carmen Melenz, a spokeswoman for the deputy commissioner’s office of public information.

The results of an autopsy are scheduled for release by the end of this week, according to Ellen Barakovic, spokeswoman for the chief medical examiner’s office.

Huang’s parents became alarmed when she did not return home later that night. Her parents said Huang was shy and studious and that it was uncharacteristic of her not to come home.

The same friend who last saw Huang filed a missing persons report on behalf of Huang’s parents on Wednesday. 3:10 p.m., at the 62nd precinct, Brooklyn, the police said.

The next day, Interim President Lois Crenholm said that she received information that a Baruch College student was missing.

“I immediately called security to have them contact the family to help them with the inves-
DSSG-ESSA Union Passes Despite Low Voter Turnout

Interim President Cronholm Recognizes Referendum

By Shana Wu

The Undergraduate Student Government (USG) refers to the U.S. Senate and to students for their votes on the proposals. The USG is a group of students who are directly elected by the student body to represent their interests in the decision-making process of the university. The USG is responsible for the formulation and implementation of policies that affect the student body, as well as the allocation of funds to support student organizations.

According to the students of the USG, the proposal to merge the DSSG and ESSA unions was supported by the majority of students who voted on the issue. The merger proposal was supported by 50% of the total votes cast, with 50% of the total votes cast in opposition.

The USG is responsible for the formulation and implementation of policies that affect the student body, as well as the allocation of funds to support student organizations. The USG is also responsible for representing the interests of the student body to the administration and to the external world.

The USG is an important part of the university community and plays a vital role in the democratic process of the university. The USG is a group of students who are elected by the student body to represent their interests in the decision-making process of the university.

The USG is an important part of the university community and plays a vital role in the democratic process of the university. The USG is a group of students who are elected by the student body to represent their interests in the decision-making process of the university.

Activity Fees May Change Due to Merger

By Eileen Wu

After being out of school for more than six years, Raymond Green decided to return to Baruch. "I didn't want to have any lease fees and wanted to feel what I was starting," he says. (Photo/Ellen Wu)

By Eileen Wu

When Raymond Green went to his freshman orientation at Baruch College in 1985, he also joined the student government. The USG was said that very few people graduates in four years.

However, he didn't expect to graduate 17 years later. The 43-year-old said some people might be thinking that he was still in school. But he still took time out to be a preacher at his church.

To support his family, Green worked two jobs. He was a waiter during the day and a waiter at night. This schedule kept him busy but he still took time out to be a preacher at his church.

Continued on page 7

A Lesson in Self-Acceptance

One Man's Struggle with School, Identity and Life

By Sara Garibaldi

At Policy Breakfast

Social Security Is Hot Topic

At Policy Breakfast

Most young workers today, one can expect a negative return on their Social Security taxes, meaning that they'll pay more in taxes than they'll receive back in benefits. This is true for all workers. Social Security is a system of benefits that is paid by and to people who work and pay taxes.

The Social Security administration, in turn, pays benefits to people who have worked and paid taxes for a certain number of years. These benefits are taxable, and the amount of money that is taxable is determined by the Social Security administration.

The Social Security administration also determines the amount of money that is taxable for each person. The amount of money that is taxable is determined by the Social Security administration, and this amount is based on the person's earnings.

Social Security is a system of benefits that is paid by and to people who work and pay taxes.

The Social Security administration, in turn, pays benefits to people who have worked and paid taxes for a certain number of years. These benefits are taxable, and the amount of money that is taxable is determined by the Social Security administration.

The Social Security administration also determines the amount of money that is taxable for each person. The amount of money that is taxable is determined by the Social Security administration, and this amount is based on the person's earnings.
Financial Concerns are the Focus at Student Roundtable

By Brian Flack

Key CUNY administrators joined faculty leaders in the second annual Student Roundtable discussions, which centered this year on "Tackling the Financial Crisis: Options and Alternatives for Our Students." Chancellor Christopher J. Culliton revealed that the total CUNY budget recently approved by the Board of Trustees is $2 billion, representing a 3 percent increase over last year's $1.97 billion budget. The budget, the largest in the institution's history, provides the financial support necessary to continue to support the university's mission.

However, CUNY leaders are concerned about the future. "Our students are experiencing a financial crisis," said CUNY President Lester Jacobs. "This is the most difficult year we have had in recent memory." The budget cuts, Jacobs said, have forced the university to reduce its funding for scholarships, grants, and other forms of financial aid. "We are doing everything we can to help our students," Jacobs said. "But we need your help."
Preparations for a Job Expo ‘99, March 12, Conference Center of 25th Street building: This was the first marketing Job Expo. (Photocall Max Dephts)

First Job Expo Tailored for Marketing Students

 By Omotola Laniyan

Only the best of the best got the opportunity to put on their best suit and go job hunting when, on March 12, members of the American Marketing Association and Business Marketing put together a marketing expo.

For students like Avery Mulligan, who is looking into advertising, it was a good way to gain some experience, and to see how various companies operate. She visited the video department of NBC, where she met with two video producers.

The chief executive officer (CEO) of ABC, Robert Rosenthal, said that the marketing expo was a great opportunity for students to gain valuable experience.

In addition, he added, individual companies were provided special assistance to new hires, since there was too much variation to determine if this would be a success or failure.

Rosenthal, CEO of the American Marketing Association, said, “Even though it was hard putting the expo together, I’m had for the opportunity to do so, as we’re marketing expo are planned at Baruch College in the future.”

Panelists: Cleve Langton, DDBN Worldwide

4:00 prn, opening reception 5:00-7:00 pm

Gallery Talk and Opening Reception for Sidney Dr. Marilyn Kushner, curator of prints and drawings, at the Streb Center of 25th Street buildings, 175 Lex / Skylight Room, Room 306

Organized by the Department of Modern and Contemporary Art, the gallery talk and opening reception will be held on March 12.

International Business Alumni (IBA)

Presented by the journalism and business journal chief, EI Diario; Mirta Ojito, The New York Times; Keynote speakers: Rossana Rosado, editor-in-chief, Reuters Journalism Lecture Series

260-0-1000 / Room 12-647-1966

by Thornton Studio

20 West 25 Street, 3rd floor between 5th and 6th Avenues

Spring Sale

25% off

[SELECT MERCHANDISE]

Call now for an appointment!
Cap and Gown provided $100.00 stitting charge
Clip this ad and save

20% off on any order with this advertisement
Call now!

Thorton Studio
20 West 25 Street, 3rd floor between 5th and 6th Avenues

Social Security Hot Topic At Policy Breakfast

Continued from page 3

The administration will remain a marketing expo, and open the event by introducing SEC Chair, professor and director of the American Marketing Association and Business Marketing, Art Washburn, Financial, ft 1st, the National Foundation, Torey Appliance City and WCBS.

Dr. Marilyn Kushner, president of American Marketing Association, and one of the planners of the expo, said, "very good it was well for the planning that the job fairs, the companies who were interested in recruiting, financial, and CI majors. It was a chance for the companies to see that the Baruch College, accounting, and also marketing, is a part of the school. Even though it was hard putting the expo together, (especially) getting acceptance and support, it was very good by the overall theme,” and Darren.

Kim Schlesinger, a representative from Torey Appliance City, commented that she was very impressed by the professional way that the students she met were presentable. She also stated that students were well prepared for the job fair, and that it was a great way to put together the expo, and that the work was an enjoyable experience for undergraduates. Students should know how important they are to their colleagues and what kinds of questions to expect. The workshop was more entertaining for the students than the job fair, and it was a way to strengthen and improve the career Social Security program.

“Very often the idea is different than the real thing. In the case of this situation, the solution will be efficient, according to Reischauer. If Reischauer believes any money must be spent in order to solve the problem, according to electronic moral society, according to Reischauer’s personal account. Reischauer asked, ‘How much will be collected and spent?’ “We need to know how much these costs will be.”

‘The Social Security system must be changed, and also an employer. Who will manage these individual accounts is a question that will be added to current social security costs’

Reischauer said, ‘If you do not have the opportunity to do so, as more marketing expo are planned at Baruch College in the future.’

260-0-1000 / Room 12-647-1966

by Thornton Studio

20 West 25 Street, 3rd floor between 5th and 6th Avenues

Spring Sale

25% off

[SELECT MERCHANDISE]

Call now for an appointment!
Cap and Gown provided $100.00 stitting charge
Clip this ad and save

20% off on any order with this advertisement
Call now!

Thorton Studio
20 West 25 Street, 3rd floor between 5th and 6th Avenues

Graduation portraits

CALL NOW!!
1-212-647-1966

Call now for an appointment!
Cap and Gown provided $100.00 stitting charge
Clip this ad and save

20% off on any order with this advertisement
Call now!

Thorton Studio
40 West 25 Street, 3rd floor between 5th and 6th Avenues

Social Security Hot Topic At Policy Breakfast

Continued from page 3

The administration will remain a marketing expo, and open the event by introducing SEC Chair, professor and director of the American Marketing Association and Business Marketing, Art Washburn, Financial, ft 1st, the National Foundation, Torey Appliance City and WCBS.

Dr. Marilyn Kushner, president of American Marketing Association, and one of the planners of the expo, said, "very good it was well for the planning that the job fairs, the companies who were interested in recruiting, financial, and CI majors. It was a chance for the companies to see that the Baruch College, accounting, and also marketing, is a part of the school. Even though it was hard putting the expo together, (especially) getting acceptance and support, it was very good by the overall theme,” and Darren.

Kim Schlesinger, a representative from Torey Appliance City, commented that she was very impressed by the professional way that the students she met were presentable. She also stated that students were well prepared for the job fair, and that it was a great way to put together the expo, and that the work was an enjoyable experience for undergraduates. Students should know how important they are to their colleagues and what kinds of questions to expect. The workshop was more entertaining for the students than the job fair, and it was a way to strengthen and improve the career Social Security program.

“Very often the idea is different than the real thing. In the case of this situation, the solution will be efficient, according to Reischauer. If Reischauer believes any money must be spent in order to solve the problem, according to electronic moral society, according to Reischauer’s personal account. Reischauer asked, ‘How much will be collected and spent?’ “We need to know how much these costs will be.”

‘The Social Security system must be changed, and also an employer. Who will manage these individual accounts is a question that will be added to current social security costs’

Reischauer said, ‘If you do not have the opportunity to do so, as more marketing expo are planned at Baruch College in the future.’

260-0-1000 / Room 12-647-1966

by Thornton Studio

20 West 25 Street, 3rd floor between 5th and 6th Avenues

Spring Sale

25% off

[SELECT MERCHANDISE]

Call now for an appointment!
Cap and Gown provided $100.00 stitting charge
Clip this ad and save

20% off on any order with this advertisement
Call now!

Thorton Studio
40 West 25 Street, 3rd floor between 5th and 6th Avenues
Suicide Awareness Sweeps College

By Bryan Heck

The suicide of a 23-year-old student at Baruch College this past Monday has prompted administrators to set up a workshop on Cultural Adjustment and Communication next week to train faculty and staff to recognize suicide signs and what to do if they are identified.

"Suicide is the second largest杀手 at New York City's colleges and universities," said Cheng, director of the counseling center. "We have created a workshop for faculty and staff, to recognize the signs of suicide and what to do about them.

"It's important to recognize the signs of suicide, and to know that there are resources available," said Cheng. "We want to make sure that everyone knows that there are resources available."
TICKER FEATURES MARCH 17, 1999

On The Pill

New Abortion Drugs Offer A Final Solution For Those Unwanted Pregnancies

By Qi Ying Zhong

Women IN Islam

It honours Women's History Month, the United Nations Association could be the opportunity to close some existing misconceptions or misrepresentations associated with women in Islam. The Qur’an, one of the primary sources where Muslims define their rights and obligations to women, contains several verses that specifically address women. Muslims believe that if they follow the Qur’an and the Sunnah (the teachings and sayings of the Prophet Muhammad), they will be rewarded in both the world of this life and the hereafter. For example, the Qur’an states: "Women are heirs andhave a right to inherit as much as men have" (4:11). This verse signifies that women have the same rights as men to inherit property. It also highlights the importance of considering women's needs and interests when making decisions that affect their lives.

Caribbean Corner: One Take On What It Means To Be Caribbean

As more and more people, particularly those in the Caribbean, recognize that there is a need to address issues such as gender equality, the importance of education, and the protection of human rights, the concept of being Caribbean is evolving. The Caribbean identity is not static; it is a dynamic and fluid concept that changes over time. The Caribbean is a region that is rich in diversity and culture, and it is important to celebrate and preserve this diversity.

Protecting the Internet From the Forces of Evil

By Usman S. Balbaki

The CDA criminalized on-line communication, which is deemed "indecent" or "obscene." Concerned parents fear their children may be exposed to inappropriate material on the Internet. The CDA also made illegal any on-line messages containing identifiable obscene or indecent "child pornography" images.

The United States, a world leader in Internet technology, currently has more on-line content than any other country in the world. Other nations look to the United States as a model for their own Internet policies. The billboards of the United States are already on-line. The Internet is a global phenomenon that has a profound impact on society. It is a powerful tool that can be used for good or evil. The CDA was an attempt to regulate on-line communication, but it was not effective in accomplishing its goal.

The Many Faces of the World Wide Web

The Internet is a global communication network that connects computers and users around the world. It is a powerful tool that can be used for good or evil. The CDA was an attempt to regulate on-line communication, but it was not effective in accomplishing its goal. The United States, a world leader in Internet technology, currently has more on-line content than any other country in the world. Other nations look to the United States as a model for their own Internet policies. The billboards of the United States are already on-line. The Internet is a global phenomenon that has a profound impact on society. It is a powerful tool that can be used for good or evil. The CDA was an attempt to regulate on-line communication, but it was not effective in accomplishing its goal.

The Many Faces of the World Wide Web

The Internet is a global communication network that connects computers and users around the world. It is a powerful tool that can be used for good or evil. The CDA was an attempt to regulate on-line communication, but it was not effective in accomplishing its goal. The United States, a world leader in Internet technology, currently has more on-line content than any other country in the world. Other nations look to the United States as a model for their own Internet policies. The billboards of the United States are already on-line. The Internet is a global phenomenon that has a profound impact on society. It is a powerful tool that can be used for good or evil. The CDA was an attempt to regulate on-line communication, but it was not effective in accomplishing its goal.
The referendum to merge the undergraduate governments into the official university administration has failed to garner the necessary votes from 15 percent of the student body. The vote was recognized and accounted for by Interim President Lois S. Gluck.

This raises a serious political concern: what to do now that our referendum process cripples the student and gives an inadequate amount of power to the president of our college?

First, it must be said, as students of Baruch College, we have put ourselves in this position by our pathetic voting record. Consequently, the referendum was ill-fitted and those opposing the measure had little incentive to send them their ballots. Half of the over 12,000 eligible students is an embarrassment to this institution.

What’s more, a dangerous amount of power is left in the hands of one person when we, as students, fail to take matters into our own hands. The bureaucratic system, where the student sees the decision makers on the bottom, the potential for a totalitarian system where one person can move without the input of the students who are potentially affected.

Therefore, one of two solutions must happen. Either students must turn out to vote, or the referendum process must change.

Regardless of how many are actually voting, the process that it stands that 15 percent of the students do not vote in these referendums, and that the students who will potentially be erased. Either lowering or eliminating the percentage of students needed to vote should be seriously considered.

The alternative is to give the president the power to recognize the decision of the referendums. The decision makers on the top of the system where the student sees the decision makers are left with the potential for a totalitarian system where one person can move without the input of the students who are potentially affected.

Therefore, on the basis of this optimistic process, we have a pathetic statement on student apathy, the bottom line is that 15 percent of the students do not vote in these referendums, and that the students who will potentially be erased. Either lowering or eliminating the percentage of students needed to vote should be seriously considered.

The alternative is to give the president the power to recognize the decision of the referendums. The decision makers on the top of the system where the student sees the decision makers are left with the potential for a totalitarian system where one person can move without the input of the students who are potentially affected.

The alternative is to give the president the power to recognize the decision of the referendums. The decision makers on the top of the system where the student sees the decision makers are left with the potential for a totalitarian system where one person can move without the input of the students who are potentially affected.
By Sergio Taboada

The fall of the Berlin Wall has a large number of political and economic implications. In the paragraphs that follow, we will examine some of these implications, focusing on the economic effects of the fall of the Berlin Wall.

The fall of the Berlin Wall has led to a number of economic changes in Germany. For example, the reunification of East and West Germany has led to a significant increase in both trade and investment. In addition, the fall of the Berlin Wall has led to a significant increase in tourism, as people from around the world flock to see the remains of the wall.

The fall of the Berlin Wall has also had a number of economic effects on the rest of Europe. For example, the fall of the Berlin Wall has led to a significant increase in trade between Eastern Europe and Western Europe. In addition, the fall of the Berlin Wall has led to a significant increase in investment in Eastern Europe, as investors look to take advantage of the opportunities that are now available.

The fall of the Berlin Wall has also had a number of economic effects on the world as a whole. For example, the fall of the Berlin Wall has led to a significant increase in trade and investment between the United States and Europe. In addition, the fall of the Berlin Wall has led to a significant increase in investment in the developing world, as investors look to take advantage of the opportunities that are now available.

Overall, the fall of the Berlin Wall has had a number of significant economic effects. These effects are likely to continue to be felt for many years to come.
Michael Paplikosky
Editor

U.S. Economy Defies Historical Trends and Global Pressures
Economic Learns to Get Direct Like Dell

When the United States fell victim to the 1990-1991 recession, few forecasters predicted its ability to rebound so quickly. This year they are againunderestimating the economy’s ability to adjust.

The world is awash in economic growth, reflected in both real estate and financial markets. In 1993, the Dow Jones Industrial Average closed above 3,000 for the first time in two years, and the Nasdaq Composite Index rose more than 30 percent. In 1994, the Dow climbed above 4,000 for the first time in nearly a decade, and the Nasdaq reached new highs.

However, the U.S. economy is not alone in its recent growth. Most of the world’s major economies are also experiencing impressive gains. In Europe, the stock market has soared, and in Japan, the yen has strengthened, reflecting improved economic conditions. In Asia, the trend is even more pronounced. In China, the economy is growing at an annual rate of 10 percent, and in India, the economy is growing at an annual rate of 8 percent.

The question is whether the U.S. economy can sustain its recent growth, or whether it will falter as interest rates rise and the global economy begins to slow down. While there are concerns about the future, the U.S. economy is still a strong performer.

Michael Paplikosky

U.S. Economy Defies Historical Trends and Global Pressures
Economic Learns to Get Direct Like Dell

When the United States fell victim to the 1990-1991 recession, few forecasters predicted its ability to rebound so quickly. This year they are again underestimating the economy’s ability to adjust.

The world is awash in economic growth, reflected in both real estate and financial markets. In 1993, the Dow Jones Industrial Average closed above 3,000 for the first time in two years, and the Nasdaq Composite Index rose more than 30 percent. In 1994, the Dow climbed above 4,000 for the first time in nearly a decade, and the Nasdaq reached new highs.

However, the U.S. economy is not alone in its recent growth. Most of the world’s major economies are also experiencing impressive gains. In Europe, the stock market has soared, and in Japan, the yen has strengthened, reflecting improved economic conditions. In Asia, the trend is even more pronounced. In China, the economy is growing at an annual rate of 10 percent, and in India, the economy is growing at an annual rate of 8 percent.

The question is whether the U.S. economy can sustain its recent growth, or whether it will falter as interest rates rise and the global economy begins to slow down. While there are concerns about the future, the U.S. economy is still a strong performer.

Michael Paplikosky

U.S. Economy Defies Historical Trends and Global Pressures
Economic Learns to Get Direct Like Dell

When the United States fell victim to the 1990-1991 recession, few forecasters predicted its ability to rebound so quickly. This year they are again underestimating the economy’s ability to adjust.

The world is awash in economic growth, reflected in both real estate and financial markets. In 1993, the Dow Jones Industrial Average closed above 3,000 for the first time in two years, and the Nasdaq Composite Index rose more than 30 percent. In 1994, the Dow climbed above 4,000 for the first time in nearly a decade, and the Nasdaq reached new highs.

However, the U.S. economy is not alone in its recent growth. Most of the world’s major economies are also experiencing impressive gains. In Europe, the stock market has soared, and in Japan, the yen has strengthened, reflecting improved economic conditions. In Asia, the trend is even more pronounced. In China, the economy is growing at an annual rate of 10 percent, and in India, the economy is growing at an annual rate of 8 percent.

The question is whether the U.S. economy can sustain its recent growth, or whether it will falter as interest rates rise and the global economy begins to slow down. While there are concerns about the future, the U.S. economy is still a strong performer.

Michael Paplikosky

U.S. Economy Defies Historical Trends and Global Pressures
Economic Learns to Get Direct Like Dell

When the United States fell victim to the 1990-1991 recession, few forecasters predicted its ability to rebound so quickly. This year they are again underestimating the economy’s ability to adjust.

The world is awash in economic growth, reflected in both real estate and financial markets. In 1993, the Dow Jones Industrial Average closed above 3,000 for the first time in two years, and the Nasdaq Composite Index rose more than 30 percent. In 1994, the Dow climbed above 4,000 for the first time in nearly a decade, and the Nasdaq reached new highs.

However, the U.S. economy is not alone in its recent growth. Most of the world’s major economies are also experiencing impressive gains. In Europe, the stock market has soared, and in Japan, the yen has strengthened, reflecting improved economic conditions. In Asia, the trend is even more pronounced. In China, the economy is growing at an annual rate of 10 percent, and in India, the economy is growing at an annual rate of 8 percent.

The question is whether the U.S. economy can sustain its recent growth, or whether it will falter as interest rates rise and the global economy begins to slow down. While there are concerns about the future, the U.S. economy is still a strong performer.

Michael Paplikosky

U.S. Economy Defies Historical Trends and Global Pressures
Economic Learns to Get Direct Like Dell

When the United States fell victim to the 1990-1991 recession, few forecasters predicted its ability to rebound so quickly. This year they are again underestimating the economy’s ability to adjust.

The world is awash in economic growth, reflected in both real estate and financial markets. In 1993, the Dow Jones Industrial Average closed above 3,000 for the first time in two years, and the Nasdaq Composite Index rose more than 30 percent. In 1994, the Dow climbed above 4,000 for the first time in nearly a decade, and the Nasdaq reached new highs.

However, the U.S. economy is not alone in its recent growth. Most of the world’s major economies are also experiencing impressive gains. In Europe, the stock market has soared, and in Japan, the yen has strengthened, reflecting improved economic conditions. In Asia, the trend is even more pronounced. In China, the economy is growing at an annual rate of 10 percent, and in India, the economy is growing at an annual rate of 8 percent.

The question is whether the U.S. economy can sustain its recent growth, or whether it will falter as interest rates rise and the global economy begins to slow down. While there are concerns about the future, the U.S. economy is still a strong performer.

Michael Paplikosky
THE OTHER SISTER
by Chie Cuz Ng

The Other Sister is a romantic comedy staring JULIETTE LEWIS as Carla, a family woman and stay-at-home mom, and HALLE BERRY as a psychic who moves in to be independent and host a "normal" life. GIOVANNI RIBISI, who played the role of Carla's best friend, accompanies the story. Friends as Phoebe's diminished brother, standing on the sidelines of this super-powered drama.

Tom Selleck and DWAYNE "The Rock" Johnson are Carla's parents, who get into trouble sending her to a school for "special children." The movie begins with the family preparing for Carla's escort from school after being picked up by the school bus. The daughter, a little girl with special needs, is being watched by the mother. Carla is always busy with her own interests, while the mother is busy with her own goals.

The letter not only finds CULP, who he is but also locates his whereabouts. At first, "he doesn't tell him she knows about him or the message. Her curiosity blossoms and is a constant source of difficulty. Being away for the past ten years. The first comedy starring TO. J. SKERRITT as Carla's parents, who feel guilty in trying to be independent and live a normal life. GIOV

The album, Shades of Technology, is a collaboration between DJ DB and one of the most respected drum-and-bass producers in the world, DJ Krush. This album features 12 tracks of relentless drum and bass that are often influenced by UK garage. The album also includes collaborations with some of the UK garage scene such as Dougie P's remix of "Chang and the Seven" and DJ Krush's remix of "Aftershock." The album is an excellent representation of the current state of UK garage and is highly recommended for fans of the genre.

THE BOWLING GREEN - One Pasted Note

By Simon Scott - Dough

When he's not making soundtrack music for successful films like "Drive" and "The Green Mile," HEIMHAUSEN KURTZ can be found frequenting his local bowling alley with friends. "I love bowling," he says. "It's a great way to relax and have fun with my buddies." The album features a mix of punk rock and electronic music, and is highly recommended for fans of the genre.

THE AUTUMN: The Angel Pool

Nanami Naoto

The AUTUMN are a mix of a-CURE CRANBERRIES hybrid. Nevertheless, the album does not disappoint. The Autumn brings an array of different styles, from electronic to pop and rock, and features guest appearances from some of the most respected artists in the industry. The album is a must-listen for fans of the genre.

MICHIELE LEWIS: Little Levitation

by Gurman Hall

It's a decade when anyone with enough hype and technology (i.e. computers and space travel) could change the world. It's a decade when music is at the forefront of the culture, with groundbreaking pop stars such as MICHELLE LEWIS, MIGUEL, and LITTLE LEVIATION. In this decade, the music scene is dominated by a new generation of artists who are pushing the boundaries of what is considered acceptable in mainstream music. This decade is also marked by the rise of hip-hop and rap, with artists such as EMINEM, 50 CENT, and LITTLE LEVIATION leading the charge.

Disneyland for Mystics

A CRAZY KID

A CRAYZY KID is a new hip-hop artist who is making waves in the music industry. His debut album, "Disneyland for Mystics," is a collection of songs that explore the complex emotions and experiences of the modern-day mystic. The album features a mix of upbeat and introspective tracks, and is highly recommended for fans of the genre.

SO WHAT FALLING!!!
All Songs Revealed!!!

By Hanno Kader

Contributing Writer

Athlete has already been identified that METALLICA has been performing in private circles and has cut its teeth on the road. The band has been described as "a collection of songs that capture the spirit of the era." The album features a mix of classic rock and metal, and is highly recommended for fans of the genre.

TO THE LAND OF ELACRA

by Chin Cal Ng

After watching this movie for a while, it becomes increasingly less important to rest Gump (finding a new love) as the future of mainstream music. This album was definitely a step in the right direction. The album also features a mix of live and studio recordings, and is highly recommended for fans of the genre.

R贐E YOU? What's up?...I'm not surprised to hear you mention the album "One Pound Note." This album is highly recommended for fans of the genre, as it features a mix of upbeat and introspective tracks that capture the spirit of the era.

ONE POUND NOTE

BY SPACEMAN SY

ONE POUND NOTE is an all-around masterpiece that is highly recommended for fans of the genre. The album also features a mix of live and studio recordings, and is highly recommended for fans of the genre.

CYTV - Part 3!

By Roland Parrish

ASSISTANT HOST

The episode features a mix of interviews and performances, with guests such as the lead singer of METALLICA, who talks about the songwriting process and the band's upcoming tour. The episode also features a mix of live and studio recordings, and is highly recommended for fans of the genre.

THE BOWLING GREEN

One Pasted Note

By Simon Scott - Dough

The album features a mix of punk rock and electronic music, and is highly recommended for fans of the genre. The album also features a mix of live and studio recordings, and is highly recommended for fans of the genre.

THE AUTUMN: The Angel Pool

Nanami Naoto

The AUTUMN are a mix of a-CURE CRANBERRIES hybrid. Nevertheless, the album does not disappoint. The Autumn brings an array of different styles, from electronic to pop and rock, and features guest appearances from some of the most respected artists in the industry. The album is a must-listen for fans of the genre.

MICHIELE LEWIS: Little Levitation

by Gurman Hall

It's a decade when anyone with enough hype and technology (i.e. computers and space travel) could change the world. It's a decade when music is at the forefront of the culture, with groundbreaking pop stars such as MICHELLE LEWIS, MIGUEL, and LITTLE LEVIATION. In this decade, the music scene is dominated by a new generation of artists who are pushing the boundaries of what is considered acceptable in mainstream music. This decade is also marked by the rise of hip-hop and rap, with artists such as EMINEM, 50 CENT, and LITTLE LEVIATION leading the charge.

Disneyland for Mystics

A CRAZY KID

A CRAYZY KID is a new hip-hop artist who is making waves in the music industry. His debut album, "Disneyland for Mystics," is a collection of songs that explore the complex emotions and experiences of the modern-day mystic. The album features a mix of upbeat and introspective tracks, and is highly recommended for fans of the genre.

SO WHAT FALLING!!!
All Songs Revealed!!!

By Hanno Kader

Contributing Writer

Athlete has already been identified that METALLICA has been performing in private circles and has cut its teeth on the road. The band has been described as "a collection of songs that capture the spirit of the era." The album features a mix of classic rock and metal, and is highly recommended for fans of the genre.

TO THE LAND OF ELACRA

by Chin Cal Ng

After watching this movie for a while, it becomes increasingly less important to rest Gump (finding a new love) as the future of mainstream music. This album was definitely a step in the right direction. The album also features a mix of live and studio recordings, and is highly recommended for fans of the genre.

R贐E YOU? What's up?...I'm not surprised to hear you mention the album "One Pound Note." This album is highly recommended for fans of the genre, as it features a mix of upbeat and introspective tracks that capture the spirit of the era.

ONE POUND NOTE

BY SPACEMAN SY

ONE POUND NOTE is an all-around masterpiece that is highly recommended for fans of the genre. The album also features a mix of live and studio recordings, and is highly recommended for fans of the genre.

CYTV - Part 3!

By Roland Parrish

ASSISTANT HOST

The episode features a mix of interviews and performances, with guests such as the lead singer of METALLICA, who talks about the songwriting process and the band's upcoming tour. The episode also features a mix of live and studio recordings, and is highly recommended for fans of the genre.
Under the Moonlight
Standing under the Moonlight
Waiting for my loved one
To spend our night
Hoping it will be fun.
We walk hand in hand
Towards the ocean bay
Sinkin our feet deep into the sand
Wondering what we would say.
I look up into the sky
As the wind blows my hair
And the stars above, fly by.
I spin there, in the sky we click.
He takes me in his arms
Looking into my eyes
With his voice so calm.
He spins his head right and left...
"We love" says he
"Standing here"...
Gasping in awe for me.
With the stars above,
"Chasing my head right and left"
I twisted each other arms
Quickly listening to the rhythm of our hearts.
The sounds of the ocean so calm
Believing we will never part.
Suddenly on my dark silky hair
He sees a beautiful white flake
Lifting it, it is snowing, it appears.
So I give my head a shake
To get the drifts out of my hair.
How we wished we could stay out all night
Just him and me
To share this wonderful moonlight
And snowy white drift with me.
-Sara Garibaldi

Rebirth
Teach me how to breathe again,
Enlighten me to open up my heart.
Inspire my soul to show itself.
Show me where to start.
A mindless reincarnation
My perplexed emotions seek
An inexperienced sense of feelings
That this time I’d like to keep.
I’ll give myself in, I’ll trust you
I’ll blindly follow you until the end.
Just promise not to fade away
And throw away the moments we will spend.
-Rafael Muniz

Ambushed
It all happened so fast.
I didn’t stand a chance
Ambushed in the dark.
I was locked in a trance
Nothing’s the same.
They’re trying to change my name.
Everyone is telling me like I don’t have a Brain.
Beating me, scaring me, all in attempts to dehumanize me.
My body caught up in a capture
While my mind keeps saying that I can’t be captured.
They fed us up, put me in the front.
Told us to walk, we were going on a hunt.
Three months later I hit the fucking coast
After six dungeons, and five fucking post
Throughout the continent of Africa.
While some pale face is saying get to the back of the boat
The chance to escape is remote.
Packed under the deck where I almost choked
On my breath, the stench is ridiculous
All the while I’m hoping, these strange faces keep sticking us
With their tools, inspecting the goods.
Taking us beyond where they say that we should make good money
On the auction block.
All the while I’m praying that the ship won’t dock
So tell me, should I stay on board or jump into the sea
Rather than to face what lies ahead of me.
-Diana Muniz
Open House/Young Professionals Career Evening 6

THE STEVEN L. NEWMAN REAL ESTATE INSTITUTE

Monday March 22, 1999
5:30-7:00 pm
OPEN HOUSE & CAREER EVENING

Held at 151 East 25th Street, Room 763
Come join the School of Public Affairs Open House for the B.S. in Real Estate & Metropolitan Development and a roundtable discussion on MORTGAGE BROKERAGE II

Newman Institute Young Professionals Career Evenings

A series of eight monthly hour-long presentations and discussions, over sandwiches and sodas, with young leaders of the real estate industry in New York. These evenings are especially planned for Baruch/Newman Institute students considering careers in real estate. Each presentation highlights a different component of the metropolitan area’s real estate industry.

• Learn about different kinds of real estate jobs
• Ask questions about what you would be doing on the day you start work
• Meet both recent college graduates and the prime young leadership of the real estate industry

YOUNG PROFESSIONALS CAREER EVENINGS
Monthly
5:30-7:00 pm September 1998 - May 1999

Watch for dates on each month’s poster announcement
For reservations and to RSVP
Contact Sara Hilska at 802-5940

Deadline to file: MON., APRIL 5, 1999

GRADUATION ELIGIBILITY: You must file an APPLICATION FOR DEGREE form with the Registrar’s Office in your final semester in order to be eligible to graduate and to be included in the commencement program.
Promising Season Ends In Disappointment

By Kenyatta Pious

Sports Editor

It's a strict rule of thumb that the writer always remains in the third person while covering sports. I am going to break this mold because I find that I cannot convey the disdain I feel without the voice of the first person. I'm confused and still not sure what I saw at the CUNY semi-final game that featured the Baruch Statesmen versus the College of Staten Island (CSI).

This game was highly anticipated because CSI beat Baruch (70-61) in an earlier match-up and because our Statesmen, for once, were the favorite since they entered the game with the best CUNY record and only two conference losses. As I watch the individual achievements: Scott Holloway was named the MVP (most valuable player) at CUNY. Joseph Rankis and Holloway were both on the CUNY first team all-stars, Leonard Mitchell was named a CUNY second team all-star; and last but certainly not least, coach Ray Rankis was named the "Coach of the Year." So it was very clear that the team had a date with history and, indeed, won Baruch's first CUNY title. Afterwards, Baruch is the only team to not win a title! If all of these things were not incentive enough then I do not know what could have been.

The game opened with two quick baskets from Scott Holloway and in the half Baruch had a 37-33 lead over CSI. CSI seemed a bit dazed and I remember thinking that the Statesmen had just 20 minutes to glory. 20 minutes to becoming possibly the Promising Season Ends In Disappointment cheerleaders WIN AGAIN! This year the Baruch cheerleaders were named as CUNY first team all-stars: Leonard Holloway went into competition and, moreover, spoke between the plays during the season within the half-court set that led to a huge shock. Baruch was led by Dave Thomas who had 20 Pts and 12 rebounds. In the second round, the Statesmen lost to Mountain St. (56-53). The loss saw two of Baruch's seniors, Scott Holloway and Joe Liberato, leave the court with 12 Pts and 14 rebounds. Another real reason the team wins is that it has a dominant team. The Lady Statesmen are now a team that opponents want to play for an easy win. The challenge is to build off of this season and to not become complacent. Good luck to all the seniors and thanks for the memories.

By Kenyatta Pious

Sports Editor

Promising Season Ends In Disappointment

By Kenyatta Pious

Sports Editor

The worst part of this loss for me is that as a former Baruch Statesman, I know the kind of dedication that is involved in playing a sport. I know about the long practice hours, the team arguments, the days you put up in and the long weeks, the lack of sleep and lack of time for homework (seriously). But I also know about the friendships and the winning. I guess I am going to miss it for so long I have lived vicariously through this team. I have wanted to laugh just once at those times that beat Baruch repeatedly and this year with the chance to only laugh but to drown out all the other teams that tried to hard to win. In hindsight, my vote. If you can call it that, has been my thirst for the win and I have to keep the faith that it will come soon.

In parting, Rankis has said to me that the greater point to make is that Baruch has advanced to become a very good team. The lack of sleep and lack of time for homework (seriously). But I also know about the friendships and the winning. I guess I am going to miss it for so long I have lived vicariously through this team. I want to laugh just once at those times that beat Baruch repeatedly and this year with the chance to only laugh but to drown out all the other teams that tried to hard to win. In hindsight, my vote. If you can call it that, has been my thirst for the win and I have to keep the faith that it will come soon.

In parting, Rankis has said to me that the greater point to make is that Baruch has advanced to become a very good team. The lack of sleep and lack of time for homework (seriously). But I also know about the friendships and the winning. I guess I am going to miss it for so long I have lived vicariously through this team. I want to laugh just once at those times that beat Baruch repeatedly and this year with the chance to only laugh but to drown out all the other teams that tried to hard to win. In hindsight, my vote. If you can call it that, has been my thirst for the win and I have to keep the faith that it will come soon.

In parting, Rankis has said to me that the greater point to make is that Baruch has advanced to become a very good team. The lack of sleep and lack of time for homework (seriously). But I also know about the friendships and the winning. I guess I am going to miss it for so long I have lived vicariously through this team. I want to laugh just once at those times that beat Baruch repeatedly and this year with the chance to only laugh but to drown out all the other teams that tried to hard to win. In hindsight, my vote. If you can call it that, has been my thirst for the win and I have to keep the faith that it will come soon.

In parting, Rankis has said to me that the greater point to make is that Baruch has advanced to become a very good team. The lack of sleep and lack of time for homework (seriously). But I also know about the friendships and the winning. I guess I am going to miss it for so long I have lived vicariously through this team. I want to laugh just once at those times that beat Baruch repeatedly and this year with the chance to only laugh but to drown out all the other teams that tried to hard to win. In hindsight, my vote. If you can call it that, has been my thirst for the win and I have to keep the faith that it will come soon.

In parting, Rankis has said to me that the greater point to make is that Baruch has advanced to become a very good team. The lack of sleep and lack of time for homework (seriously). But I also know about the friendships and the winning. I guess I am going to miss it for so long I have lived vicariously through this team. I want to laugh just once at those times that beat Baruch repeatedly and this year with the chance to only laugh but to drown out all the other teams that tried to hard to win. In hindsight, my vote. If you can call it that, has been my thirst for the win and I have to keep the faith that it will come soon.