C.U.R.E Wins USG Elections

By Hubert Reyn
Editor-in-Chief

With a sweep at the polls, the C.U.R.E party was announced as the winners of the Undergraduate Student Government elections last Thursday.

Running against United Baruch for Better Jobs, independent runner Kason Jun, and the Campus Party, C.U.R.E was decisively victorious. Preliminary numbers released Thursday, showed that Kaleem Qureshi, C.U.R.E president, out-pointed his closest opponent by 280 votes. Edward Ellis, president of the Campus Party was his closest competitor.

President-elect Qureshi praised his party for the efforts that went into the campaign. "A lot of people put a lot of work into this," he said. "There was a lot of dedication to the campaign."

Qureshi said that he had felt confident throughout the day but admitted he wavered here and there, it was only after getting positive feedback from the students that he felt sure of his victory. "We sort of knew we were going to win but we weren't sure," said Qureshi.

Qureshi acknowledges that winning the election was hard but it will not get easier from here on out.

"This is just the beginning, this is where all the hard work starts," he said. "We promise to work hard and give it our best shot."

Ironically students were the forgotten factor when the largest academic complex in the United States was designed.

Part 4 of Space Race Series
By Vanessa Witenko
Acting Executive Editor

On different occasions throughout the Spring semester, 30 to 200 high school students and parents sat in the 7th floor conference room of the 25th St. building, listening to administrators speak about Baruch College. According to CUNY's new admissions policy, incoming fall 2001 students are the first to be accepted into three CUNY institutions. They must choose one. Admissions has a new job. Market the greatness of Baruch, so these students choose Baruch.

There were speeches on the great rankings of the Zicklin School of Business, speeches on the advantages of being a liberal arts student, speeches on how there are over 100 clubs where students can easily make friends, and speeches on the new academic complex. In total, there were two-hours worth of speeches.

Many of the speeches suggested an educational philosophy. According to the administrators at the open house, an active student will be more prepared for the professional world, with "active" being defined in many ways.

"It's important not to work more than 20 hours per week, because you won't have time to be a student," said Barbara Lambert of the Career Development Center. "You won't have time to participate in school activities. ... to set up office hours with your professor. It's important to go to parties. It will give you the ability to interact with the client. You second interview could easily be lunch. All of this makes you a good candidate for getting a job."

Despite the importance placed on students and on school activities at these recruitment sessions, designers of the new academic complex seem to have ignored student priorities when they created Baruch's vertical campus.

They failed to place students as a priority in the design of the new academic complex.

With a gigantic smile on his face, Larry Steckler, special assistant to the director of undergraduate admissions, proudly told prospective students, "the new building will be the largest academic complex in the United States." However, he neglected to tell them that there will be less student club office space than is currently provided in the leased buildings, a reduction of 30 classrooms, an inconvenient relationship between faculty offices and classrooms, and 32 percent less square footage of locker space for women than men.

According to the official plan, club office space is reduced by 32 percent, from the current
Lending Advice to Future Business Leaders

By Mario Zapata

Contributing Writer

When defining a woman's position in the workplace, history has shown us that they are capable of being much more than a secretary. The transition from working women through the days they were given the rights to vote to becoming CEOs in the current modern day has been a long journey. This transformation evolved to a day where women gave students advice on what their personal experience from the business world at the "Women in Business" event that was held on March 29, 2001.

The event was sponsored by the Accounting Society, American Marketing Association, Business to Business Marketing Society, Jewish Business Leaders, Office of Student Affairs, and the Business Marketing Society.

The keynote speaker for the event was Katherine Mau, a manager in the Human Resources Division at Con Edison, who spoke about her transition for her life and the career development center promoted all business fields by bringing five industries together and do joint impression networking. "I think that is great opportunity," said Mau. This introduction set the tone for Katherine Mau's speech which included the three P's - prospective, perseverance, and passion.

"As a woman, you need to have a strong courage who are you, what you represent, and how you want to project yourself," said Mau. "Women need to recognize and respect themselves in the integration of personality style, your goals, your values, and your interest pattern." Mau

"Women will be more successful and more confident because this gives you an image that you are taking charge of your life," Mau emphasized.

"The event was sponsored by the Accounting Society, American Marketing Association, Business to Business Marketing Society, Jewish Business Leaders, Office of Student Affairs, and the Business Marketing Society.

The keynote speaker for the event was Katherine Mau, a manager in the Human Resources Division at Con Edison, who spoke about her transition for her life and the career development center promoted all business fields by bringing five industries together and do joint impression networking. "I think that is great opportunity," said Mau. This introduction set the tone for Katherine Mau's speech which included the three P's - prospective, perseverance, and passion.

"As a woman, you need to have a strong courage who are you, what you represent, and how you want to project yourself," said Mau. "Women need to recognize and respect themselves in the integration of personality style, your goals, your values, and your interest pattern." Mau

"Women will be more successful and more confident because this gives you an image that you are taking charge of your life," Mau emphasized.

"The event was sponsored by the Accounting Society, American Marketing Association, Business to Business Marketing Society, Jewish Business Leaders, Office of Student Affairs, and the Business Marketing Society.

The keynote speaker for the event was Katherine Mau, a manager in the Human Resources Division at Con Edison, who spoke about her transition for her life and the career development center promoted all business fields by bringing five industries together and do joint impression networking. "I think that is great opportunity," said Mau. This introduction set the tone for Katherine Mau's speech which included the three P's - prospective, perseverance, and passion.

"As a woman, you need to have a strong courage who are you, what you represent, and how you want to project yourself," said Mau. "Women need to recognize and respect themselves in the integration of personality style, your goals, your values, and your interest pattern." Mau

"Women will be more successful and more confident because this gives you an image that you are taking charge of your life," Mau emphasized.

"The event was sponsored by the Accounting Society, American Marketing Association, Business to Business Marketing Society, Jewish Business Leaders, Office of Student Affairs, and the Business Marketing Society.

The keynote speaker for the event was Katherine Mau, a manager in the Human Resources Division at Con Edison, who spoke about her transition for her life and the career development center promoted all business fields by bringing five industries together and do joint impression networking. "I think that is great opportunity," said Mau. This introduction set the tone for Katherine Mau's speech which included the three P's - prospective, perseverance, and passion.

"As a woman, you need to have a strong courage who are you, what you represent, and how you want to project yourself," said Mau. "Women need to recognize and respect themselves in the integration of personality style, your goals, your values, and your interest pattern." Mau

"Women will be more successful and more confident because this gives you an image that you are taking charge of your life," Mau emphasized.

"The event was sponsored by the Accounting Society, American Marketing Association, Business to Business Marketing Society, Jewish Business Leaders, Office of Student Affairs, and the Business Marketing Society.

The keynote speaker for the event was Katherine Mau, a manager in the Human Resources Division at Con Edison, who spoke about her transition for her life and the career development center promoted all business fields by bringing five industries together and do joint impression networking. "I think that is great opportunity," said Mau. This introduction set the tone for Katherine Mau's speech which included the three P's - prospective, perseverance, and passion.

"As a woman, you need to have a strong courage who are you, what you represent, and how you want to project yourself," said Mau. "Women need to recognize and respect themselves in the integration of personality style, your goals, your values, and your interest pattern." Mau

"Women will be more successful and more confident because this gives you an image that you are taking charge of your life," Mau emphasized.
The Office of Student Life Administration spoke of their genuine concern about the lack of student service offices, with four to six cubicles in each room. "If Baruch is to continue as a leader in the academic community, they must provide the facilities necessary for the students," said President Giannikos. Fraternities and sororities will no longer be part of the building complex for socially active students, but six offices will be available. "We should have three offices to distribute the space properly in the new academic complex," said Carl H. Lam, Director of Student Life and Chancellor. They (the students) have to be accepted and accommodated in the new academic complex.

"We do not have enough physical space for the students," said Professor Carl H. Lam, Director of Student Life and Chancellor. "The different demands of the students and the space limitations will only get worse as the different units compete to be the best." There are more inadequacies in the new academic complex as the facilities are not designed to meet the needs of the students. Although more financial resources are allocated to the facilities, the results are not satisfactory. The facilities are not designed to meet the needs of the students.

The Office of Student Life Administration spoke of their genuine concern about the lack of student service offices, with four to six cubicles in each room. "If Baruch is to continue as a leader in the academic community, they must provide the facilities necessary for the students," said President Giannikos. Fraternities and sororities will no longer be part of the building complex for socially active students, but six offices will be available. "We should have three offices to distribute the space properly in the new academic complex," said Carl H. Lam, Director of Student Life and Chancellor. They (the students) have to be accepted and accommodated in the new academic complex.

"We do not have enough physical space for the students," said Professor Carl H. Lam, Director of Student Life and Chancellor. "The different demands of the students and the space limitations will only get worse as the different units compete to be the best." There are more inadequacies in the new academic complex as the facilities are not designed to meet the needs of the students. Although more financial resources are allocated to the facilities, the results are not satisfactory. The facilities are not designed to meet the needs of the students.

The Office of Student Life Administration spoke of their genuine concern about the lack of student service offices, with four to six cubicles in each room. "If Baruch is to continue as a leader in the academic community, they must provide the facilities necessary for the students," said President Giannikos. Fraternities and sororities will no longer be part of the building complex for socially active students, but six offices will be available. "We should have three offices to distribute the space properly in the new academic complex," said Carl H. Lam, Director of Student Life and Chancellor. They (the students) have to be accepted and accommodated in the new academic complex.

"We do not have enough physical space for the students," said Professor Carl H. Lam, Director of Student Life and Chancellor. "The different demands of the students and the space limitations will only get worse as the different units compete to be the best." There are more inadequacies in the new academic complex as the facilities are not designed to meet the needs of the students. Although more financial resources are allocated to the facilities, the results are not satisfactory. The facilities are not designed to meet the needs of the students.

The Office of Student Life Administration spoke of their genuine concern about the lack of student service offices, with four to six cubicles in each room. "If Baruch is to continue as a leader in the academic community, they must provide the facilities necessary for the students," said President Giannikos. Fraternities and sororities will no longer be part of the building complex for socially active students, but six offices will be available. "We should have three offices to distribute the space properly in the new academic complex," said Carl H. Lam, Director of Student Life and Chancellor. They (the students) have to be accepted and accommodated in the new academic complex.

"We do not have enough physical space for the students," said Professor Carl H. Lam, Director of Student Life and Chancellor. "The different demands of the students and the space limitations will only get worse as the different units compete to be the best." There are more inadequacies in the new academic complex as the facilities are not designed to meet the needs of the students. Although more financial resources are allocated to the facilities, the results are not satisfactory. The facilities are not designed to meet the needs of the students.

The Office of Student Life Administration spoke of their genuine concern about the lack of student service offices, with four to six cubicles in each room. "If Baruch is to continue as a leader in the academic community, they must provide the facilities necessary for the students," said President Giannikos. Fraternities and sororities will no longer be part of the building complex for socially active students, but six offices will be available. "We should have three offices to distribute the space properly in the new academic complex," said Carl H. Lam, Director of Student Life and Chancellor. They (the students) have to be accepted and accommodated in the new academic complex.

"We do not have enough physical space for the students," said Professor Carl H. Lam, Director of Student Life and Chancellor. "The different demands of the students and the space limitations will only get worse as the different units compete to be the best." There are more inadequacies in the new academic complex as the facilities are not designed to meet the needs of the students. Although more financial resources are allocated to the facilities, the results are not satisfactory. The facilities are not designed to meet the needs of the students.

The Office of Student Life Administration spoke of their genuine concern about the lack of student service offices, with four to six cubicles in each room. "If Baruch is to continue as a leader in the academic community, they must provide the facilities necessary for the students," said President Giannikos. Fraternities and sororities will no longer be part of the building complex for socially active students, but six offices will be available. "We should have three offices to distribute the space properly in the new academic complex," said Carl H. Lam, Director of Student Life and Chancellor. They (the students) have to be accepted and accommodated in the new academic complex.

"We do not have enough physical space for the students," said Professor Carl H. Lam, Director of Student Life and Chancellor. "The different demands of the students and the space limitations will only get worse as the different units compete to be the best." There are more inadequacies in the new academic complex as the facilities are not designed to meet the needs of the students. Although more financial resources are allocated to the facilities, the results are not satisfactory. The facilities are not designed to meet the needs of the students.

The Office of Student Life Administration spoke of their genuine concern about the lack of student service offices, with four to six cubicles in each room. "If Baruch is to continue as a leader in the academic community, they must provide the facilities necessary for the students," said President Giannikos. Fraternities and sororities will no longer be part of the building complex for socially active students, but six offices will be available. "We should have three offices to distribute the space properly in the new academic complex," said Carl H. Lam, Director of Student Life and Chancellor. They (the students) have to be accepted and accommodated in the new academic complex.

"We do not have enough physical space for the students," said Professor Carl H. Lam, Director of Student Life and Chancellor. "The different demands of the students and the space limitations will only get worse as the different units compete to be the best." There are more inadequacies in the new academic complex as the facilities are not designed to meet the needs of the students. Although more financial resources are allocated to the facilities, the results are not satisfactory. The facilities are not designed to meet the needs of the students.

The Office of Student Life Administration spoke of their genuine concern about the lack of student service offices, with four to six cubicles in each room. "If Baruch is to continue as a leader in the academic community, they must provide the facilities necessary for the students," said President Giannikos. Fraternities and sororities will no longer be part of the building complex for socially active students, but six offices will be available. "We should have three offices to distribute the space properly in the new academic complex," said Carl H. Lam, Director of Student Life and Chancellor. They (the students) have to be accepted and accommodated in the new academic complex.

"We do not have enough physical space for the students," said Professor Carl H. Lam, Director of Student Life and Chancellor. "The different demands of the students and the space limitations will only get worse as the different units compete to be the best." There are more inadequacies in the new academic complex as the facilities are not designed to meet the needs of the students. Although more financial resources are allocated to the facilities, the results are not satisfactory. The facilities are not designed to meet the needs of the students.
Film Screening Throws Light on Chinese Holocaust

By Yi Long
Contributing Writer

A heart-wrenching documentary film based on Chinese history during WWII, "In the Name of Nanking" newly emerged from the screen on Wednesday, March 14 at the Saint Alps Teahouse. A professor teaching history in a university in Japan explained that the critical reason for the Japanese government’s denial was the potential economic pressures of indemnity compensation. The educational department in Japan still deny the reality of the Nanking Massacre, which all the while distorting the truth. The educational department in Japan blinded the school children by revisions in textbooks. In 1967, a team of Japanese forces marched approaching Nanking, the former capital of China. The population dead last marked before the Japanese forces arrived, however, only 15,000 bodies and the government officially had the issue to research. The đã have no change to do. Thought there was a few foreign-sponsored non-profit called "Safeguarding," they could not figure out the numerous refugees Nanking immediately lost its last natural protection of a man-made normal town. After the Japanese army entered the city on December 13, the broad massacre began to open up.

"The reasons for the Japanese soldiers to kill and rape were simply for fun in obeying the orders from the top commanders," recalls a Japanese woman interviewed in this film. In order to realize有限公司 in the city, the Japanese soldiers summoned many Chinese people. They were never to come back. These soldiers were savage, cruel killers who had the desire of the entire city to be treated with fresh blood. Compared, comfort women provided breeding, and the desire to survive was nearly zero. These Japanese soldiers were all warriors. One of the issues addressed in this film was the "comfort women." These women were treated as sexual slaves in Japan’s military camp, and are currently living their remaining years with physical and psychological scars. Comfort women were destroyed into the military camp from Korea and forced to work in military positions to satisfy the sexual urge of approximately 50 soldiers a day, even when pregnant. These women remain afflicted with the after-effects of the sexual exploitation even today.

"Being up close, they finally disclosed the story openly and asked for apologies as well as compensation from the Japanese government." Years after the war, many major political figures in Japan still deny the reality of the Japanese invasion of Nanking. More than 300,000 defenseless Chinese people were brutally slain by Japanese invaders. This, the Nanking Massacre has been ignored by many Chinese people. "The Nanking Massacre (also known as "the Rape of Nanking") spread chaos. Countless corpses pervaded Nanking, streets of the entire city coated with fresh blood. Countless refugees overran Nanking, and what should not? People can forgive but not forget what happened.

Film screenings on "In the Name of Nanking" were arranged by Shirley Mey, a senior at Baruch. hade objective is to put the spotlight on the Chinese Holocaust.

"It comes as no surprise that these students were greatly interested in the Holocaust," said Nicholas Alexander Lent, a senior at Baruch. "They were deeply interested in this historical event, it's still being very actively talked about. Furthermore, not too many people in the international community know the Asian history background in Asian history. Therefore, Japanese government needed to promote the current history based on the truth and apologize to Chinese among the international community.

The movie has a strong year-long history. People keep coming and going and everyone is different. However, we need to remind our descendants of shameful historical events, including the Holocaust or not, so that they will not make the same mistake.

A Worthy Cause Ignored

By H. Betty Semmens
Contributing Writer

On Thursday, April 5 2001, the Baruch Asian Student Union presented its annual Charity Dance Auction. The participating BASU clubs included the Asian Culture Exchange, the Asian Student Association, the Chinese Student Association, the Filipino American Club, and the Kappa Phi Alpha Sorority. 100% of the proceeds were donated to the Asian American Student Association (AASA). The purpose of the event was to raise awareness about the growing need of raising more Asian Pacific Islander and minority students for law school and newly endowed scholarships. The auction consists of eight uniquely graceful ladies and eleven eye-capturing gentlemen, all of whom were well-versed and adored themselves with grace and personal style. It came as no surprise that these students were greatly interested in the Holocaust, the former capital of China. The population dead last marked before the Japanese forces arrived, however, only 15,000 bodies and the government officially had the issue to research. The đã have no change to do. Thought there was a few foreign-sponsored non-profit called "Safeguarding," they could not figure out the numerous refugees Nanking immediately lost its last natural protection of a man-made normal town. After the Japanese army entered the city on December 13, the broad massacre began to open up.

"The reasons for the Japanese soldiers to kill and rape were simply for fun in obeying the orders from the top commanders," recalls a Japanese woman interviewed in this film. In order to realize有限公司 in the city, the Japanese soldiers summoned many Chinese people. They were never to come back. These soldiers were savage, cruel killers who had the desire of the entire city to be treated with fresh blood. Compared, comfort women provided breeding, and the desire to survive was nearly zero. These Japanese soldiers were all warriors. One of the issues addressed in this film was the "comfort women." These women were treated as sexual slaves in Japan’s military camp, and are currently living their remaining years with physical and psychological scars. Comfort women were destroyed into the military camp from Korea and forced to work in military positions to satisfy the sexual urge of approximately 50 soldiers a day, even when pregnant. These women remain afflicted with the after-effects of the sexual exploitation even today.

"Being up close, they finally disclosed the story openly and asked for apologies as well as compensation from the Japanese government." Years after the war, many major political figures in Japan still deny the reality of the Japanese invasion of Nanking. More than 300,000 defenseless Chinese people were brutally slain by Japanese invaders. This, the Nanking Massacre has been ignored by many Chinese people. "The Nanking Massacre (also known as "the Rape of Nanking") spread chaos. Countless corpses pervaded Nanking, streets of the entire city coated with fresh blood. Countless refugees overran Nanking, and what should not? People can forgive but not forget what happened.

Film screenings on "In the Name of Nanking" were arranged by Shirley Mey, a senior at Baruch. hade objective is to put the spotlight on the Chinese Holocaust.

"It comes as no surprise that these students were greatly interested in the Holocaust," said Nicholas Alexander Lent, a senior at Baruch. "They were deeply interested in this historical event, it's still being very actively talked about. Furthermore, not too many people in the international community know the Asian history background in Asian history. Therefore, Japanese government needed to promote the current history based on the truth and apologize to Chinese among the international community.

The movie has a strong year-long history. People keep coming and going and everyone is different. However, we need to remind our descendants of shameful historical events, including the Holocaust or not, so that they will not make the same mistake.

A Worthy Cause Ignored

By H. Betty Semmens
Contributing Writer

On Thursday, April 5 2001, the Baruch Asian Student Union presented its annual Charity Dance Auction. The participating BASU clubs included the Asian Culture Exchange, the Asian Student Association, the Chinese Student Association, the Filipino American Club, and the Kappa Phi Alpha Sorority. 100% of the proceeds were donated to the Asian American Student Association (AASA). The purpose of the event was to raise awareness about the growing need of raising more Asian Pacific Islander and minority students for law school and newly endowed scholarships. The auction consists of eight uniquely graceful ladies and eleven eye-capturing gentlemen, all of whom were well-versed and adored themselves with grace and personal style. It came as no surprise that these students were greatly interested in the Holocaust, the former capital of China. The population dead last marked before the Japanese forces arrived, however, only 15,000 bodies and the government officially had the issue to research. The đã have no change to do. Thought there was a few foreign-sponsored non-profit called "Safeguarding," they could not figure out the numerous refugees Nanking immediately lost its last natural protection of a man-made normal town. After the Japanese army entered the city on December 13, the broad massacre began to open up.

"The reasons for the Japanese soldiers to kill and rape were simply for fun in obeying the orders from the top commanders," recalls a Japanese woman interviewed in this film. In order to realize有限公司 in the city, the Japanese soldiers summoned many Chinese people. They were never to come back. These soldiers were savage, cruel killers who had the desire of the entire city to be treated with fresh blood. Compared, comfort women provided breeding, and the desire to survive was nearly zero. These Japanese soldiers were all warriors. One of the issues addressed in this film was the "comfort women." These women were treated as sexual slaves in Japan’s military camp, and are currently living their remaining years with physical and psychological scars. Comfort women were destroyed into the military camp from Korea and forced to work in military positions to satisfy the sexual urge of approximately 50 soldiers a day, even when pregnant. These women remain afflicted with the after-effects of the sexual exploitation even today.

"Being up close, they finally disclosed the story openly and asked for apologies as well as compensation from the Japanese government." Years after the war, many major political figures in Japan still deny the reality of the Japanese invasion of Nanking. More than 300,000 defenseless Chinese people were brutally slain by Japanese invaders. This, the Nanking Massacre has been ignored by many Chinese people. "The Nanking Massacre (also known as "the Rape of Nanking") spread chaos. Countless corpses pervaded Nanking, streets of the entire city coated with fresh blood. Countless refugees overran Nanking, and what should not? People can forgive but not forget what happened.

Film screenings on "In the Name of Nanking" were arranged by Shirley Mey, a senior at Baruch. hade objective is to put the spotlight on the Chinese Holocaust.

"It comes as no surprise that these students were greatly interested in the Holocaust," said Nicholas Alexander Lent, a senior at Baruch. "They were deeply interested in this historical event, it's still being very actively talked about. Furthermore, not too many people in the international community know the Asian history background in Asian history. Therefore, Japanese government needed to promote the current history based on the truth and apologize to Chinese among the international community.

The movie has a strong year-long history. People keep coming and going and everyone is different. However, we need to remind our descendants of shameful historical events, including the Holocaust or not, so that they will not make the same mistake.
This year's Most Outstanding Chapter Award goes to Baruch College! Seniors and alumni from around the country gathered at the hotel to celebrate. The Baruch chapter was acknowledged immediately because of their continuous efforts and dedication. They have been recognized for their outstanding leadership and contributions to the organization.

The delegates of Golden Key Baruch attended the 2001 Eastern Regional Convention on April 23, 2001, which was hosted by Temple University in Philadelphia. The conference provided an opportunity for students from 40 chapters throughout the nation to come together and collaborate. The delegates of Golden Key Baruch had the opportunity to learn from other chapters and share ideas and strategies that could be implemented at their own campuses.

The convention was an opportunity for students to network with other students from different campuses and to gain insight into the different chapters and their activities. The delegates of Golden Key Baruch were able to learn about the different ways that other chapters have been successful in their efforts to promote the organization's mission and values.

The delegates also had the opportunity to participate in various workshops and seminars that focused on different aspects of the organization. These workshops provided valuable information and guidance for the delegates on how to effectively promote the organization's mission and values on their own campuses.

At the end of the convention, the delegates were able to congratulate each other on their achievements and recognize the hard work and dedication of their peers. The conference was an opportunity for students to come together and celebrate their shared commitment to promoting the organization's mission and values.

The delegates of Golden Key Baruch were able to strengthen their relationships with other students from different campuses and to gain valuable insight into the different ways that other chapters have been successful in their efforts to promote the organization's mission and values. The conference was an opportunity for students to network and to learn from each other, and it provided a platform for students to share their experiences and ideas.

The delegates of Golden Key Baruch returned to their campuses with a renewed sense of purpose and a commitment to promoting the organization's mission and values. They were inspired by the success of other chapters and were motivated to take action in their own communities. The convention was an opportunity to celebrate the hard work and dedication of students from different campuses and to recognize the contributions of the delegates to the organization's mission and values.

The delegates of Golden Key Baruch were able to strengthen their relationships with other students from different campuses and to gain valuable insight into the different ways that other chapters have been successful in their efforts to promote the organization's mission and values. The conference was an opportunity for students to network and to learn from each other, and it provided a platform for students to share their experiences and ideas.
The Ticker is published weekly and covers the academic and student life of Baruch College. It is a student publication that aims to inform and entertain its readers with news, opinions, and features. The Ticker publishes typewritten and signed opinion pieces of no more than 750 words from Baruch College students. Publication of Op-Eds is determined by the editorial board vote. The opinions expressed are those of the authors and do not necessarily reflect those of the publisher. According to The Ticker, Mr. LoPinto concludes his writing with two words: “lets see.”
Help Me Ticket!

By Anonymous

America Your God
In the Eyes of a Realist

By N. Jack

This article is in response to all the other articles that appeared in the Baruch school paper "The Observer" about athletes and their salaries, specifically Mr. K. Jack from our March 26 article, he commented to come out with your whiterobes and "let's see who's in charge". He did not have enough to back his statement up with his "egalitarian" statement that all athletes are equal to one another. This is so true that the media does not like to see others who are not Caucasian, blacks, Hispanics, Asians, Native American, blacks, Hispanics, Asians, Native Americans, and blacks are not as important as whites, because if they are not white, then they must believe in Santa Claus and the Easter bunny. This is not true. There is a difference in the way that whites and others are treated. For example, Muhammad Ali and other famous athletes were treated differently than other athletes. If you look at the movies or TV shows of some famous athletes, you will see that they are treated differently than other athletes. This is not fair. We all deserve to be treated the same way.

By Christine

In America, when you see how beautiful the Black and Hispanic immigrant is at the time of Spring break, they are not totally free from all prejudices and discrimination. They are not free to express themselves the way they want to be treated. They are not allowed to open their mouths and breathe without being watched over. They are not free to have a good time and enjoy the good weather. There are millions of people in this country who have been treated unfairly and have no rights to be treated the way they want to be treated. We are treated differently because of our skin color. When we get beaten or exploited at work, we have no rights to complain. When we are not paid for the hours we work, we have no rights to complain. When we are not treated with respect, we have no rights to complain.

By Christine

In America, when you see how beautiful the Black and Hispanic immigrant is at the time of Spring break, they are not totally free from all prejudices and discrimination. They are not free to express themselves the way they want to be treated. They are not allowed to open their mouths and breathe without being watched over. They are not free to have a good time and enjoy the good weather. There are millions of people in this country who have been treated unfairly and have no rights to be treated the way they want to be treated. We are treated differently because of our skin color. When we get beaten or exploited at work, we have no rights to complain. When we are not paid for the hours we work, we have no rights to complain. When we are not treated with respect, we have no rights to complain.

By Christine

In America, when you see how beautiful the Black and Hispanic immigrant is at the time of Spring break, they are not totally free from all prejudices and discrimination. They are not free to express themselves the way they want to be treated. They are not allowed to open their mouths and breathe without being watched over. They are not free to have a good time and enjoy the good weather. There are millions of people in this country who have been treated unfairly and have no rights to be treated the way they want to be treated. We are treated differently because of our skin color. When we get beaten or exploited at work, we have no rights to complain. When we are not paid for the hours we work, we have no rights to complain. When we are not treated with respect, we have no rights to complain.
A software application with peer review questions as well as audio content and CD-Roms for students to study at home. In addition, there are also "e-solution practice exams" that teach timing and test-taking skills.

Becker Conviser invites CPA candidates to sit in the first two classes without obligation, provide them with a free repeat for the next semester if they do not pass and offer a 50 percent discount on those transferring from its competitive review courses.

Students find Olinto's presentations very informative and appreciate the tips and head-start he's offered. According to Olinto, New York State is considering the ISO-hour rule requirement that many other states already have. He's thinking of all the costs a candidate must bear when entering the CPA exam.

Historically, Baruch students who take Becker Conviser classes have scored very high on the CPA exams. In 1994 and 2000, the top placing student in New York was a Becker student. If you're a Becker student, you have a great chance of passing your exams. Becker Conviser's review course consists of 130 hours of classroom instruction. With 130 hours in New York, the company also provides classes on the weekends and during evenings. The basic instruction site includes tutorials and

See BHAGWATI, Page 11

By Macollvie Jean-Francois
Acting Business Editor

On April 16, Bhagwati, a professor of economics and political science at Columbia University, will present "Global Trade: Do We Have Understanding the Issues?" at Ticker's 19th annual Global Trade Issues. Bhagwati's lecture discussed the event's topic.

See BHAGWATI, Page 17

Eminent Economist Blames American Press for Biased Coverage of Trade Issues

Baruch College

In 1994 and 2000, the top placing student in New York was a Becker student. If you're a Becker student, you have a great chance of passing your exams. Becker Conviser's review course consists of 130 hours of classroom instruction. With 130 hours in New York, the company also provides classes on the weekends and during evenings. The basic instruction site includes tutorials and

See BHAGWATI, Page 11

By Macollvie Jean-Francois
Acting Business Editor

On April 16, Bhagwati, a professor of economics and political science at Columbia University, will present "Global Trade: Do We Have Understanding the Issues?" at Ticker's 19th annual Global Trade Issues. Bhagwati's lecture discussed the event's topic.

See BHAGWATI, Page 17

Eminent Economist Blames American Press for Biased Coverage of Trade Issues

Baruch College

In 1994 and 2000, the top placing student in New York was a Becker student. If you're a Becker student, you have a great chance of passing your exams. Becker Conviser's review course consists of 130 hours of classroom instruction. With 130 hours in New York, the company also provides classes on the weekends and during evenings. The basic instruction site includes tutorials and

See BHAGWATI, Page 11

By Macollvie Jean-Francois
Acting Business Editor

On April 16, Bhagwati, a professor of economics and political science at Columbia University, will present "Global Trade: Do We Have Understanding the Issues?" at Ticker's 19th annual Global Trade Issues. Bhagwati's lecture discussed the event's topic.

See BHAGWATI, Page 17

Eminent Economist Blames American Press for Biased Coverage of Trade Issues

Baruch College

In 1994 and 2000, the top placing student in New York was a Becker student. If you're a Becker student, you have a great chance of passing your exams. Becker Conviser's review course consists of 130 hours of classroom instruction. With 130 hours in New York, the company also provides classes on the weekends and during evenings. The basic instruction site includes tutorials and

See BHAGWATI, Page 11

By Macollvie Jean-Francois
Acting Business Editor

On April 16, Bhagwati, a professor of economics and political science at Columbia University, will present "Global Trade: Do We Have Understanding the Issues?" at Ticker's 19th annual Global Trade Issues. Bhagwati's lecture discussed the event's topic.

See BHAGWATI, Page 17

Eminent Economist Blames American Press for Biased Coverage of Trade Issues

Baruch College

In 1994 and 2000, the top placing student in New York was a Becker student. If you're a Becker student, you have a great chance of passing your exams. Becker Conviser's review course consists of 130 hours of classroom instruction. With 130 hours in New York, the company also provides classes on the weekends and during evenings. The basic instruction site includes tutorials and

See BHAGWATI, Page 11

By Macollvie Jean-Francois
Acting Business Editor
Deferring taxes with TIAA-CREF can be so rewarding, you'll wonder why you didn't do it sooner.

One of the benefits to take a retirement roll-over is that the employer contributes 100 percent of the earnings. It's not a taxable event until you withdraw the money.

For example, if you contributed $10,000 to TIAA-CREF during the year you want to take a rollover, you get $10,000 in retirement savings.

And you get even more to re-serve because those contributions are tax-deferred. Today's $10,000 may mean more tomorrow if you can afford to put it to work right now.

For more information, please visit www.tiaa-cref.org or call 1-800-842-2776.

BELARUSHEALTH NETWORK PRESENTS
From The Swedish Institute
Jeffrey Yuen
Academic Dean, Educators of Chinese Healing Arts
And 88th Generation Taoist Priest

MEDITATION DISCIPLINE
for Good Sleeping
Do you have trouble sleeping? Come learn about the Art of Peaceful Sleep!

May 2nd - 12:00pm
360 Park Ave. South
Room 1202

BIZ BRIEFS
Continued from page 15

Car Price Likely to Rise Up For Summer

Bargaining power on the used-car market is likely to remain strong, with auto dealers forecasting a rise in prices. The National Automobile Dealers Association expects used-car prices to increase by 5% to 7% in the next few months. The association said dealers are likely to raise prices again in the fall.

China's exports of goods to the United States fell 6.6% in the first quarter of the year, according to data released by the Chinese government. The figure was down from the 9.3% fall in the fourth quarter of last year.

Bhagwati Insists on Broader Views
Continued from page 15

Bhagwati is abhreast of the issues concerning the press in India. "India's press is not free," he said. "The press is controlled by the government."

That is why, he said, it is important to have a "more round view of the issues, instead of just one perspective." Bhagwati said he hopes to bring the International perspective into the debate on free speech in India.

"There is a tendency to think that free speech in India is restricted," he said. "But the reality is that free speech is very much alive in India." Bhagwati said he hopes to bring this message to the United States.

Bhagwati said he hopes to bring the International perspective into the debate on free speech in India. "There is a tendency to think that free speech in India is restricted," he said. "But the reality is that free speech is very much alive in India." Bhagwati said he hopes to bring this message to the United States.

MOTIVATIONAL INSTRUCTOR PROMISES STUDENTS VICTORY OVER EXAM

Continued from page 17

BARUCH COLLEGE'S DEPARTMENT OF COMMUNITY RELATIONS

BERNARD BARUCH VAY STREET CO-NAMING

TUESDAY, MAY 8, 2001
10:30 am

The ceremony will take place at the corner of 3rd Avenue and 25th Street (Rain or Shine)

BARUCH COLLEGE'S DEPARTMENT OF COMMUNITY RELATIONS

'B是有 something to say about Bhagwati's lecture. As editor of The Indian Express, I always understand the need to have a perspective to the point of the press in India. But the reality is that free speech is very much alive in India," Bhagwati said. "However, it is important to have a "more round view of the issues, instead of just one perspective." Bhagwati said he hopes to bring this message to the United States.

"There is a tendency to think that free speech in India is restricted," he said. "But the reality is that free speech is very much alive in India." Bhagwati said he hopes to bring this message to the United States.

MOTIVATIONAL INSTRUCTOR PROMISES STUDENTS VICTORY OVER EXAM

Continued from page 17

BARUCH COLLEGE'S DEPARTMENT OF COMMUNITY RELATIONS

'B是有 something to say about Bhagwati's lecture. As editor of The Indian Express, I always understand the need to have a perspective to the point of the press in India. But the reality is that free speech is very much alive in India," Bhagwati said. "However, it is important to have a "more round view of the issues, instead of just one perspective." Bhagwati said he hopes to bring this message to the United States.

"There is a tendency to think that free speech in India is restricted," he said. "But the reality is that free speech is very much alive in India." Bhagwati said he hopes to bring this message to the United States.

MOTIVATIONAL INSTRUCTOR PROMISES STUDENTS VICTORY OVER EXAM

Continued from page 17

BARUCH COLLEGE'S DEPARTMENT OF COMMUNITY RELATIONS

'B是有 something to say about Bhagwati's lecture. As editor of The Indian Express, I always understand the need to have a perspective to the point of the press in India. But the reality is that free speech is very much alive in India," Bhagwati said. "However, it is important to have a "more round view of the issues, instead of just one perspective." Bhagwati said he hopes to bring this message to the United States.

"There is a tendency to think that free speech in India is restricted," he said. "But the reality is that free speech is very much alive in India." Bhagwati said he hopes to bring this message to the United States.

MOTIVATIONAL INSTRUCTOR PROMISES STUDENTS VICTORY OVER EXAM

Continued from page 17

BARUCH COLLEGE'S DEPARTMENT OF COMMUNITY RELATIONS

'B是有 something to say about Bhagwati's lecture. As editor of The Indian Express, I always understand the need to have a perspective to the point of the press in India. But the reality is that free speech is very much alive in India," Bhagwati said. "However, it is important to have a "more round view of the issues, instead of just one perspective." Bhagwati said he hopes to bring this message to the United States.

"There is a tendency to think that free speech in India is restricted," he said. "But the reality is that free speech is very much alive in India." Bhagwati said he hopes to bring this message to the United States.

MOTIVATIONAL INSTRUCTOR PROMISES STUDENTS VICTORY OVER EXAM

Continued from page 17

BARUCH COLLEGE'S DEPARTMENT OF COMMUNITY RELATIONS

'B是有 something to say about Bhagwati's lecture. As editor of The Indian Express, I always understand the need to have a perspective to the point of the press in India. But the reality is that free speech is very much alive in India," Bhagwati said. "However, it is important to have a "more round view of the issues, instead of just one perspective." Bhagwati said he hopes to bring this message to the United States.

"There is a tendency to think that free speech in India is restricted," he said. "But the reality is that free speech is very much alive in India." Bhagwati said he hopes to bring this message to the United States.

MOTIVATIONAL INSTRUCTOR PROMISES STUDENTS VICTORY OVER EXAM

Continued from page 17

BARUCH COLLEGE'S DEPARTMENT OF COMMUNITY RELATIONS

'B是有 something to say about Bhagwati's lecture. As editor of The Indian Express, I always understand the need to have a perspective to the point of the press in India. But the reality is that free speech is very much alive in India," Bhagwati said. "However, it is important to have a "more round view of the issues, instead of just one perspective." Bhagwati said he hopes to bring this message to the United States.

"There is a tendency to think that free speech in India is restricted," he said. "But the reality is that free speech is very much alive in India." Bhagwati said he hopes to bring this message to the United States.

MOTIVATIONAL INSTRUCTOR PROMISES STUDENTS VICTORY OVER EXAM

Continued from page 17

BARUCH COLLEGE'S DEPARTMENT OF COMMUNITY RELATIONS

'B是有 something to say about Bhagwati's lecture. As editor of The Indian Express, I always understand the need to have a perspective to the point of the press in India. But the reality is that free speech is very much alive in India," Bhagwati said. "However, it is important to have a "more round view of the issues, instead of just one perspective." Bhagwati said he hopes to bring this message to the United States.

"There is a tendency to think that free speech in India is restricted," he said. "But the reality is that free speech is very much alive in India." Bhagwati said he hopes to bring this message to the United States.

MOTIVATIONAL INSTRUCTOR PROMISES STUDENTS VICTORY OVER EXAM

Continued from page 17

BARUCH COLLEGE'S DEPARTMENT OF COMMUNITY RELATIONS

'B是有 something to say about Bhagwati's lecture. As editor of The Indian Express, I always understand the need to have a perspective to the point of the press in India. But the reality is that free speech is very much alive in India," Bhagwati said. "However, it is important to have a "more round view of the issues, instead of just one perspective." Bhagwati said he hopes to bring this message to the United States.

"There is a tendency to think that free speech in India is restricted," he said. "But the reality is that free speech is very much alive in India." Bhagwati said he hopes to bring this message to the United States.
The Parental Television Council has posted on its web site a statement by Dr. C. DeLores Tucker criticizing Nickelodeon for allowing Chyna to be a presenter at the Kids Choice Awards. They are arguing that WWF and their raunchy product are trying to lure children through this awards show. Chyna has also posed in Playboy which the PTC sees as indecent for children.

PTC has been at war with the WWF for quite some time, and this will only add fuel to an already large flame. As a non-title fight, Lennox Lewis is lost his fight in a more dramatic fashion. He was knocked out cold by a right hook in the fifth round that absolutely left him dazed. He, unlike the prince, lost his WBC-IBF titles deservedly so. Lewis stands a foot of an inch because of this loss, and now he will be fighting Mike Tyson to repair whatever damage was done.

The Lewis-Tyson fight was very similar to the Tyson-Buster Douglas fight in Tokyo in 1990 when no one expected Tyson to get knocked out. This just shows that never take an opponent to lightly ever again! He was left on his back, as Rahman was declared the new World Heavyweight Champion. That will teach Lennox Lewis to take anyone lightly ever again! He was knocked out cold by a right hook in the fifth round, and he is out of the ring, more importantly he is out of the ring for good.

Lewis's loss can be attributed to other factors like a tough opponent and bad day but not on lack of training. This cannot be said of Lennox Lewis, he is undoubtedly a better fighter than Hasim Rahman who knocked him out in South Africa on April 21. His loss could be attributed to lack of training and overconfidence. He only attended in South Africa two weeks before the fight and was busy filming a movie. He denied saying that he was not big enough for Rahman's style, but he cowardly said "I'm just too big for you."

Lennox Lewis deserved to lose and some called Rahman's victory lucky, but as he correctly said "luck is being ready when opportunity presents itself." Lewis stands to lose a lot of money because of this loss, for he was to fight Mike Tyson for the heavyweight championship, which would have paid him significantly less for any other challenger. Lewis's fight was very similar to the Tyson-Buster Douglas fight in Tokyo in 1990 when no one expected Tyson to get knocked out. This just shows that never take an opponent to lightly ever again! He was left on his back, as Rahman was declared the new World Heavyweight Champion.
WOMEN'S SOFTBALL ENDS

By Bob Greenberg

Coaching Review

As the Baruch College softball season reaches its climax, we are reminded that it has been a season of life lessons and growth. The team was introduced to the world of college sports and the importance of teamwork.

Baruch ended its season with a 10-12 record, falling short of expectations. However, the Statesmen showed resilience and determination throughout the season. The team battled through challenges, both on and off the field, and learned valuable lessons.

One of the standout performers was pitcher Lizette Payamps, who set several records and became the first player in Baruch history to hit for the cycle. Her talent and dedication were instrumental in the team's success.

Clark, a freshman from Curtis High School in Brooklyn, was a force to be reckoned with. Her speed and agility in the outfield were a key component to the team's defensive play.

The Statesmen ended their season on a high note, winning several games and gaining valuable experience for the future. The end of the season marks the end of an era, but the team looks forward to continued success in the years to come.

Support your Statesmen!

BASEBALL TEAM PREPS FOR CUNYS

By Kenny Pessa

Game Commissioner

The baseball season is coming to a close, and the Statesmen have fought hard to maintain their position at the top. The team has had its ups and downs, but overall, it has been a season of growth and improvement.

Led by senior captain and ace pitcher Tim Smith, the Statesmen have shown resilience and determination throughout the season. Smith has been a consistent force on the mound, leading the team in victories and strikeouts.

The Statesmen have struggled at times, but they have fought through the adversity and come out stronger. The team has learned valuable lessons about teamwork and perseverance.

With the season drawing to a close, the team is looking forward to the future. They are ready to take on the challenge of the CUNY conference and prove that they are one of the top teams in the league.

Support your Statesmen!
I hope all my children had a fabulous vacation. I myself went on a much-needed trip to Cape Cod. Although there is absolutely nothing going on there, I did have an opportunity to catch up on some lost sleep. I think you all should take some time away from your busy schedules and implement a new time schedule in your daily routines. That is my little advice portion of this column.

Speaking of column, I want to present several words of the Alpha and Omega on their season to award the title of Columnist. If you think that I should thank you sorry excuses for editors, you have another thing coming. Right about the situation is that it is about looking you blind. Editors, we're going to recognize the greatness that has bestowed your publication for the last two semesters. I should have received that title and that sublime piece of office, courtesy of the Alpha and Omega.

Speaking of recognition, Matthew Green, Ticker Op-Eds Editor, has actually managed to carry me off all year long. This little buck wasn't even able to attempt to challenge me because he knows that even though he has an Editor's position, he can't hang with the big boys and out write me. Your writing was so unentertaining. You talk of past issues, such as suicide and you say that you don't care about those words that gotten saying that they are not going to do anything anyway. You, Mr. Green, as a member of the media who claims to have an opinion on some important issues, I think that you would at least find out a bit more about the student government. As a responsible member of the media you should tell us what the government is doing, instead of being everyone else that sat on their assets and did nothing. You sir, are worse than a dogilag. You can even respect to your position who has such a challenge your competence more than anyone else this semester.

Ramone. Joey. Ramone passed away on April 15. He was born on January 6, 1952 and passed away on April 15, 2001. The Ramones were an American punk band, The Ramones.

Joey. Ramone. Joey Ramone was an American songwriter, singer, and instrumentalist. He was a member of the punk rock band The Ramones. Joey Ramone was one of the original members of the band and also the lead vocalist. Joey Ramone was known for his distinctive voice and style, and his influence on the development of punk rock.

The Ramones were a band formed in New York City in 1974. The band consisted of Dee Dee Ramone (vocals, bass), Johnny Ramone (guitar), Marky Ramone (drums), and Tommy Ramone (drums). The band became one of the most influential and popular punk rock bands of the 1970s.

The band's music was characterized by its fast-paced, ramshackle sound, and its themes of rebellion, angst, and anti-establishment.

The band's most famous songs include "I Wanna Be Sedated," "Cisy Is Watching You," "Sheena Is a Punk Rocker," and "I'm Not Like You." The Ramones released several albums, including "Leave Home," "Rocket to Russia," and "Road to Ruin." The band's influence can be heard in the music of countless bands that followed, and they are widely regarded as one of the most influential bands in the history of rock and roll.

Oh no oh no

Nowhere to go

But I won't let it

Nowhere to go
Blue

Looking at the night sky—
Like wearing a wilted snowflake.
Diamond-studded violet
dancing the earth.

Tropical sea
Turquoise deepening to sapphire
Color so deep your body can taste it.
Scrape up some love to take with you
and it bleeds, transparent,
Through your fingers.

The first fresh blueberries of summer,
Rising in your palm like beads
Sweat-sour puckering skin,
Making lips pucker into a kiss.

A favorite pair of old jeans
Worn down to white in places
A favorite pair of old jeans
Making lips transparent,
And it slips,
Scoop up some blue

Tropical sea
Diamond-studded indigo
Looking at the night sky—

Liz Walser
ewalser@exchange.ml.com

---by Edward Ellis

Redwood City

A city of green:
Wooded skyscrapers casting long shadows
Down pine needle-paved avenues.
The sun casts a single beam on
Spider's-cats-code-strung line laundry between
Two gnarled giants.

An undulating staircase of mist is born
Where lush warm woods meet forest cool
And spirals heavenward
Like smoke from an abandoned cigarette.

The trees huddle like
Disapproving aunts,
Their branching hair twisted together
At all directions.
Cranked crystal vinets against the sky.

Fallen trunks
And exposed roots—
A playground of obstacles.

Steps are muffled
And indistinct.

Stairs hidden—

Fey Walser
ewalser@exchange.ml.com

---by Liz Walser

Reality Check

Affirmation
Here I sit upon twilight's light.
A sharp blue rose for a pen.
Its thorns cut deeper than any
Second should ever be held.
I write this piece fueled by the
Happy end of my eternal life.
Where does one tell a story
In which there is no happy ending?
How does one describe a walking
Slain dream?
She wears a veil upon her dark
Flowered hair.
Yet the veil invisibly cascades over
Her gentle features like soundless silk.
Tight eyes made of diamonds.
A glowing breathless smile.
Such soft lips kissed by the moonlight.
Pleasant, delightful, irresistible.
She possess and my heart bounces.
But such beauty can only be adored from a far.
For one of her fingers is imprisoned
By a single ray of golden light.
It is a ring made of an uncertain promise.
A ring forged of family honor, and
The tears of a joyless heart.
She holds her pain erect,
But for not a man cursed
With the guilt of a forsworn crow.
I envision her as a child
Wandering across a sea of mirrors.
And not one of them is a window to her soul.
As a knight, one is to honor such a symbol.

No matter how such arms
Sells her deep embrace.
No matter how her flowerly fragrance
Clouds my certain mind.
I shall not betray the same promise
Lest it fail to uphold.
But a silver truth lies within one small fact.
I am not of the House of Montague.
Nor am I of the House of Capulet.
So I am not bound by the Rules of sweet Verona...
As I continue to write,
The red grove grows larger.

Like a blooming rose topped inside a canvas of watercolor.
A spark of lightning is
Shining from within my hands.
It falls from my grace like a
Burning fiery.
I have learned to transcend beyond
My corporal forms of brokens.
A new dawn always rises from its own ashes.
An ending only gives birth to a somber beginning.

Dedicated to Brinjal Yohannes
—by Edure

Bride

Father says you are a good man.
When Mother heard the news,
Her tears filled the opened doors from our tree.
Leaving pitchers on her coach.
She was a good woman.
Too young, she cried. My baby.

My wedding dress hangs in the corner of our lint.
An eerie white, an airless balloon,
Dancing me to step inside
And give it its ghostly shape.

Father says you are a good man,
A pure soul for a girl.
Only last week I played as a child,
Taking merchants in the soul.
Dancing me to step inside
Like a mouse avoiding a hungry cat.

Today you will come to claim me
Like a much desired prize

And I will ride, delicately on a decorral canoe,
To live as fourth wife for away.

Looking at the sky—

Announcing our approach.
You, looking the way.

Me, veiled for the first time—and forever.

I think you are a good man—
Though we never度过 our stunts for free.
I shall sit on my corned like a statue.
And think of, one day, a son.

—by Liz Walser
ewalser@exchange.ml.com

About stuff

It'll be hot to tell you about some stuff
Eyeless birds fly past my window.
Slow enough for me to see
Through my eyelids.

Feelings first.
You can feel the heat
And be.
You can smell the line alarm.

Invisibility cloaks
Omniscience
Theally of the communities
For being honeyless

Tear-yeyed insolvency
They are eyes.

Stuff is toney
To inscribe

Shaking shoulders
Shining

Habits us

Wall put past the seed-00

Brand home

Until

You grow gray
To see
You already
Are you
And you keep masquerading
As

Eyeless human being.

—by Mike Matis
Joey Ramone: NYC Punk's Main Man Leaves Us
By Christian Marti - Contributing Writer

With great tragedy, Joey Ramone is dead at the age of 49 due to complications with lymphatic cancer. Ramone was born Jeffrey Hyman on May 6, 1951 in Forest Hills, New York. He battled the cancer bravely for years until his passing away on April 15, 2001 at 1:45 a.m. with family, at his home in New York Presbyterian Hospital. Ramone had been in and out of the hospital room since playing CDs, "Amazin' Grace" in order to help those in need. According to doctors, the cause of death was due to complications with lymphatic cancer. Joey Ramone was diagnosed with cancer bravely for years until he passed away in New York-Presbyterian Hospital.

Ramone's mother told reporters that she was in the hospital room when playing CDs, "Amazin' Grace", while he rested heavily medicated during his last moments. Joey's younger brother said that he had bought CDs' new release specifically for Joey's sick sister that day. Doctors called the family of Ramone on Easter Sunday urging them to visit the hospital, fearing Ramone but very little time left to live. Later that night, CD played. "I remember that by the Ramones and singing "Amazin' Grace" in order to pay homage. Ramone's mother explained, "He was in the room, he heard it and now he is gone."

Although doctors in 1995 told Ramone that he would have his life left to lead an upbeat attitude and deal with the dreaded disease in a noble way. Most would expect a lot of strength and character from a man like Joey, and he came through. It is a mystery when trying to imagine how long Joey could have lived with lymphoma, but not for too historic fall in the snow began to fall.

A quick glance at Joey in his later years would have told you his cause was that of huge frame with wider than average hips. This, combined with the use of a cane in snow and the ax and unfortunately broke his hip. His replacement surgery was done in order to help things along but who is sorry Ramone further behind in his battle with cancer.

Ramone had been in and out of the hospital for the last few years, but not feeling himself. Regardless, in 1998, Joey helped his son armano produce a LP. Ramone also worked on a CD of his music and on many of the same groups. Of the songs Ramone works for his solo CD is about Numa Baritton, staying close to the music. Joey enjoyed seeing her every morning while learning of the latest stock quotes. The song reflects Joey's developing interest in the stock market. "Of all my hobbies, the stock market" said Joey last year. The CD is said to be due in release early next year. The evening 80's, Clark Gracie wearing rock star always showed his friends and fans to be a very strong and sunny. Joey was a very good-looking character in all his ways from home for refusing to attend college. Joey later reflected at his mom's decision with strong regrets stating she was trying to teach him a lesson. Wicky Leigh said it would have been his father and his two step at home of Joey. Much of today is about him now.

Trouble was never hard to find and his lyrics reflected it. Over the years Ramone did not stay too bad for his fans and to his boy step at home of Joey. Much of today is about him now. Ramone displayed interest in the invention of a drug that can have a strong effect. This all began in 1983, when the PMC headed by Tippi Senghi bought a cartoon related to offensive material by FUNK'S BASTARD SON. Joey Ramone inspired a plethora of modern day musicians, from Green Day to Blink 182. He leaves behind a loving family and millions of fans worldwide. The astounding popularity of The Ramones is truly awe inspiring. As seen here, their undeniable presence was always on the edge, bringing their one of kind image to the mainstream.

Breaking up, however, was a heart felt way of slowing down with the rock industry, which should have justified giving The Ramones their due. Perhaps, in hindsight we can say that the breakup was a blessing in disguise. Joe, the lead singer of the band, said that some of us will have to live with him. Joey took the high road saying that the breakup wasn't due to feeling bitter or a lack of respect. Joe said to Howard Stern in 1994, "That's our own management, who should have known better."

As many noted in 1996, bands like Green Day and The Offspring were getting rid of something The Ramones solely populated - punk rock. Not being cute to CD, it was still a shame from their debut and that was a disgrace. Green Day from very ugly style showed respect for the Ramones influence by naming his children Joey and Ramone after them. The Ramones at an early age! Who would have thought that these Forest Hill boys would make such a splash!..

"I can proudly say that I met with Ramones on different occasions in the past few years. Every time I was neat like him I brought something new to laugh about or just plain great songs to rock out to. Joey was a sweet man who enjoyed to see people smile. He was no fool of those who could relate to him even if it was the smallest way.

For information check with www.ebullion.com
"swim". and adds to the ecstasy they reach each time they skin lover whose "chocolate color is intoxicating with themselves and their Creator. Exploring the decisions that "every freckle on my face is where two double-CO collections and is brought to you by executive producers ... my feet. my thighs, my lips, my eyes, I'm lovin' what I see." "Strength, Courage, Wisdom" calls the listener to find the strength of music. "Video (Not the average song) is charged with the above, definitely this album wears sporting. But, nameless words that Shakespeare’s famous saying "To be or not to be" but still, it can only staunch the reformation to love and his position in the pop industry, as he is flying trunks and up-tempo the last cut of the album, "To the last letter — breathing."

By Robotic-Clue, and the first album titled, 1999 to another cut that adds more reason to the rapper’s credentials. While India Arie currently talks about the ladies hugging him "long time like \\

India Arie

Acoustic Soul

Opening with a vocal homage to a long line of musical ancestry, the mood is set and prepared up to a spatial journey that begins with strength, courage, wisdom and sexual awareness for the sake of music. "Hate, (not the average song) is charged with the above, definitely this album wears sporting. But, nameless words that Shakespeare’s famous saying "To be or not to be" but still, it can only staunch the reformation to love and his position in the pop industry, as he is flying trunks and up-tempo the last letter — breathing."

Mellow Records

India Arie

Acoustic Soul

Opening with a vocal homage to a long line of musical ancestry, the mood is set and prepared up to a spatial journey that begins with strength, courage, wisdom and sexual awareness for the sake of music. "Hate, (not the average song) is charged with the above, definitely this album wears sporting. But, nameless words that Shakespeare’s famous saying "To be or not to be" but still, it can only staunch the reformation to love and his position in the pop industry, as he is flying trunks and up-tempo the last letter — breathing."

Flip/Geffen Records

India Arie

Acoustic Soul

Opening with a vocal homage to a long line of musical ancestry, the mood is set and prepared up to a spatial journey that begins with strength, courage, wisdom and sexual awareness for the sake of music. "Hate, (not the average song) is charged with the above, definitely this album wears sporting. But, nameless words that Shakespeare’s famous saying "To be or not to be" but still, it can only staunch the reformation to love and his position in the pop industry, as he is flying trunks and up-tempo the last letter — breathing."

Big dumb Face

"Duke Lion Fights the Terror!!

"Exuberant! Explosive Joy!" —Time

The only truly entertaining song is "Duke Lion", the only song even with natural voices. The music is reminiscent of the "Spaceballs" theme. Unfortunately, the lyrics are as nonsensical as all the other tracks. Featuring such lines, "It’s the son of man and God and you let him run free. You’ve got a wall of fire. And he’s the best, he’s the best, and his name is Duke Lion!" The entertainment value of this song fades rapidly.

"Spaceballs" star Bobcat Goldthwait and "Nature" purports to utilize a "Cornial who really resembles music. Teeny-bop songs at least occasionally feature lyrics that have some relevance to life. The only truly entertaining song is "Duke Lion", the only song even with natural voices. The music is reminiscent of the "Spaceballs" theme. Unfortunately, the lyrics are as nonsensical as all the other tracks. Featuring such lines, "It’s the son of man and God and you let him run free. You’ve got a wall of fire. And he’s the best, he’s the best, and his name is Duke Lion!" The entertainment value of this song fades rapidly.

Big dumb Face

"Duke Lion Fights the Terror!!

"Exuberant! Explosive Joy!" —Time

The only truly entertaining song is "Duke Lion", the only song even with natural voices. The music is reminiscent of the "Spaceballs" theme. Unfortunately, the lyrics are as nonsensical as all the other tracks. Featuring such lines, "It’s the son of man and God and you let him run free. You’ve got a wall of fire. And he’s the best, he’s the best, and his name is Duke Lion!" The entertainment value of this song fades rapidly.

Big dumb Face

"Duke Lion Fights the Terror!!

"Exuberant! Explosive Joy!" —Time

The only truly entertaining song is "Duke Lion", the only song even with natural voices. The music is reminiscent of the "Spaceballs" theme. Unfortunately, the lyrics are as nonsensical as all the other tracks. Featuring such lines, "It’s the son of man and God and you let him run free. You’ve got a wall of fire. And he’s the best, he’s the best, and his name is Duke Lion!" The entertainment value of this song fades rapidly.

Big dumb Face

"Duke Lion Fights the Terror!!

"Exuberant! Explosive Joy!" —Time

The only truly entertaining song is "Duke Lion", the only song even with natural voices. The music is reminiscent of the "Spaceballs" theme. Unfortunately, the lyrics are as nonsensical as all the other tracks. Featuring such lines, "It’s the son of man and God and you let him run free. You’ve got a wall of fire. And he’s the best, he’s the best, and his name is Duke Lion!" The entertainment value of this song fades rapidly.
Hammerstein Ballroom
Friday, March 9, 2001
By Sujoy Roy

Nothingface, Morbid Angel, Soulfly, Pantera

While supplies last. No purchase necessary.

To the students of Brooklyn

Hello, I am Clayton "Hawk" Abernathy, leader of a special reactions force of the United States armed forces known as OEF. I speak to you today because of a potential danger that may be occurring right now at Brooklyn College. While you acquire your necessary education, a terrorist organization may very well be trying to gain your power.

This organization is called Colos, and is led by a man known as Cobra Commander. We believe that your political leaders, including President Clinton, are some other than Cobra Commander himself, and this position as the college's president is a way to personally control the recruiting of potentially influential college students.

The Ticker and 20th Century Fox invite you to win "Freddy Got Fingered" prize package by answering correctly a Tom Green trivia question. Simply stop by the Ticker office at 360 PAS Rm 1522 beginning at 10AM.

While supplies last. No purchase necessary.

Reinventing The Primitive

Nothingface, Morbid Angel, Soulfly, Pantera

The highlight of the set was a song which wasn't bad.

From the desk of General Clayton "Hawk" Abernathy

Our justification for this brief is simple. Colos is stirring s--- in this newspaper. Being a terrorist organization, how else could Colos get such s--- unless they hold power in your local government? The monitors placed to keep them from using such tactics as to be possible.

Be aware of this and, if you are anything serious, be sure to alert your local authorities. They will contact the appropriate people to handle the situation. What is most important is that you do not respond to such ploys, regardless of what you witness. With your cooperation, the threat of Colos will be removed from your fine institution of education.

Regards,

Clayton "Hawk" Abernathy
""DRIVEN" IS A PURE ADRENALINE RUSH!"

"A FAST-PACED, ACTION PACKED FILM!"

"EXPERIENCE THE THRILL RIDE!"

"GEAR SHATTERING, GROUND-POUNDING ACTION!"

"THIS IS A RIDE YOU MUST TAKE!"

Sylvester Stallone  Burt Reynolds  Kip Pardue  Til Schweiger  Gina Gershon  Estella Warren  Christian de la Fuente

DRIVEN
Welcome to The Human Race

STARTS FRIDAY, APRIL 27 AT THEATRES EVERYWHERE

For More Information About This Movie
America Online Keyword: Driven  www.what-drives-you.com  Moviefone.com